Haliburton Congregation Returns Talent Money More Than Hundred-fold

Minister Who Borrowed $1,000 From Bank And Gave $5.00 To Every Member Receives Back $2,575.83 In Two Months

By PETE McGILLEN

HALIBURTON, June 21.—A clergyman's confidence in the pioneer spirit and faith of his parishioners was amply justified Sunday night in the small frame United Church in Haliburton village. Truly this flock is the present-day example of the "good and faithful servants" mentioned in the gospel of St. Matthew.

The clergyman is Rev. Gordon Smyth, who gave the parable of the talents a modern application in an effort to obtain funds, badly needed for church renovation. His plan worked for the congregation and a few friends boosted an original investment of $1,000 to the magnificent total of $2,575.83 in a little over two months, and the returns are still incomplete.

Borrowed $1,000

The story starts back on April 4 of this year, when Mr. Smyth told his congregation he had borrowed $1,000 from the village bank on his own signature and wihout security. He explained that each member of the congregation would receive a crisp new $5 bill on leaving the church. Then he went on to preach a sermon on the parable of the talents, St. Matthew 25: 14-30, in which the Master gave talents to each of his three servants, two of whom doubled the amount, while the third buried his. Mr. Smyth told his flock that on June 20, he would look for double the amount handed each member.

That briefly is the history of this unusual experiment, and last night after the collection had been counted, that original ~1,000 had grown into a stock of bills and silver totalling $2,575.83. In other words the minister had realized a profit of $1,575.83 from the venture with sevecal parishioners still having to report.

Rev. Dr. R. C. Chalmers, associate secretary of the Board of Evangelism and Social Services, Toronto, was the special speaker at the report service, and his audience numbered more than 400. The tiny church with a capacity of about 120 had an overflow crowd. A loud speaker carried the service to a couple of hundred others who occupied benches on the church lawn. Dr. Chalmers spoke on enduring investments, listing the Church, character, and DOUBLED HIS INVESTMENT—The Rev. Gordon Smyth, Haliburton United Church, invested $1,000 in his congregation and it paid off to the tune of $2,575.83, a profit of $1,575.83. He invoked the parable of the talents, gave each member a $5 bill and told them to double it, which they did. Top Left, Mr. Smyth's father shows a hooked rug made by a parishioner to Rev. Dr. R. C. Chalmers, Toronto, guest speaker. Top Right, Miss Elda Weedmark, Left, and Mrs. A. S. Gillin arrange flowers for the in-gathering service Sunday night. Bottom Left, a view the trim church. Bottom Right, the Rev. Gordon Smyth, Right, shows Frank Hodgson where the thermomoter total was before the result of the talents became known. The thermometer was set up in front of the church.

Convict Stabs Guard At Kingston Pen

KINGSTON, June 21 — (CP).—Cecil M. Kemp, a guard at Kingston penitentiary was stabbed twice in the stomach Sunday by a convict. The wounds were not serious and Kemp is resting easily at his Point Pleasant home near Portsmouth, today.

Kemp was taking the convict's dinner to him in his cell when the convict, whose name was withheld by authorities, jumped at him.

The knife used is believed to have been fashioned by the convict. One of the two thrusts of the knife pierced to a depth of an inch and a half although the blade did not penetrate the inner lining of the stomach.

The convict swung the knife a third time but it struck the guard's leather belt and bent. When the convict found himself without a weapon, he returned to his cell. Before leaving to receive medical attention guard Kemp locked the cell door.

Fortunately a doctor was at the prison at the time and the wounded guard was given prompt attention. One stitch was required for each wound.

24 New Fires Raging In Bush

(By The Canadian Press)

Bush workers and forestry officials, who today began their 27th consecutive day of fire-fighting, had 24 new fires to contend with in Northern Ontario. Fire hazard throughout the province was described as "high".

The main Mississagi and Chapleau fires, which have burned through more than 800 square miles of mixed pine, spruce, balsam, birch and poplar, were giving fire-fighters "some difficulty."

Eleven new fires have broken out in the Sudbury district but all are under control.

A blaze, started by lightning Friday, 28 miles northwest of Espanola, was brought under control Sunday after burning only four acres. Forestry officials feared the fire might prove dangerous since there were no nearby lakes on which men and equipment might be landed.

Clear William Hume Of Dangerous Driving

TORONTO, June 21 (CP) — William G. Hume, 22, of Toronto, was cleared today of a dangerous driving charge, arising from an accident last April 14 in which a CCF member of the Ontario legislature was killed, and a second injured.

William G. Robertson, member for Wentworth, was killed when struck near the Parliament Buildings by an automobile driven by Hume. Garfield Anderson, member for Fort William, was severely injured.

Asks Commons To Ratify Wheat Stabilization Pact

OTTAWA, June 21 — (CP). — Trade Minister Howe today asked the Commons to ratify a five-year international agreement under which 36 countries guarantee to stabilize world wheat prices.

He moved the adoption of the multilater pact, drafted at Washington earlier this year, which would provide a $2-a-bushel ceiling and a sliding scale of floors for the five-year period beginning Aug. 1 this year.

John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, promptly termed the agreement "inadequate" and "imperfect" but conceded that it probably would pass the House unanimously."

Mr. Howe said the agreement will be inoperative if it is not approved by the United States Congress before July 1.

He reviewed the provisions of the agreement, which would cover the sale of 500,000,000 bushels of wheat annually by the three major exporting countries of the world—Canada, the United States and Australia. Canada's share of the annual sale would be 230,000,000 bushels, which equals here exportable surplus.

He said the Government has supported international efforts to stabilize the world wheat price since the end of the war.

The agreement would require no additional legislation as long as present authority exists under the Canadian Wheat Board.

He said the agreement in no way would affect surpluses available for export over Canada's quota of 230,000,000 bushels. Nor would it affect the four-year wheat agreement with Britain covering the sale of 600,000,000 bushels.

13 Seamen, Cabbies Beaten

GRAVENHURST, June 21—(CP).—Thirteen members of the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union and two Toronto taxi drivers were beaten as they slept Sunday in a tourist camp near Gravenhurst. Police said they were the same 13 seamen who were attacked in Toronto's around two a.m.

Police said men wielding clubs drove the CLSU men from their cabins and then damaged the taxis. Two CLSU men returned to Toronto for medical treatment; the others continued to Parry Sound to man a strike-bound vessel.

$75,000 Fire In Lindsay Razes Business Block

LINDSAY, June 21—(ENS).—Three Lindsay stores were gutted and six families made homeless when a $75,000 fire swept the Martin block during the early hours of Sunday. All of Lindsay's fire equipment was taken out to fight the blaze, which was first noticed in Geo. Williamson's radio electric Union Station Saturday, when they attempted to board a train for Parry Sound.

"The smoke was so thick at first," said Chief Clifford Campbell, "that you couldn't see where the fire was—until the explosion which blew the front of the radio store and shattered plate glass across Lindsay's 100-foot front street.

"The explosion knocked several of us over," said the Chief, "and then the fire swept westward through the Torrance bike and sports shop to the Lamantia fruit store." Five lines were used before the 13-man brigade, with the help of the local police force, were able to bring the fire under control about five a.m.

Forced to the street with only a few belongings were Mr. and Mrs. W. Graham and child, Mr. J. C. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Endicott, Mrs. Olive Stewart, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bradburn.

Art Sylvester and Jack Neal, English immigrants employed at the Lindsay Arsenal, had just moved into an apartment above the stores Saturday. All they saved was one radio and a val-

70,000 In Greek Offensive Try To Smash Reds Again

ATHENS, June 21 —(AP)—An estimated 70,000 Greek troops slugged their way into the northern Pindus mountains today in an effort to smash the Communist rebellion.

Six divisions, backed by planes and artillery, jumped off Sunday night in the greatest offensive of the long civil war. The operation is aimed at wrecking the guerrillas of Markos Vafiades at their main base.

Seven thousand rebels — the Greek army calls them bandits—are reported in a 1,000-mile-square Grammos mountain area along the Albanian border.

The army, in its offensive, is trying to sew up this rebel pocket on three sides, on a line roughly south from the Albanian border to Loannina, from Ioannina east and north to Grevena and from Grevena north to Nestorion and the Albanian border.

Before the operation could start, 28 heavily-fortified machine-gun posts north and west of Nestorion had to be taken.

The army tried to blast them with 25-pound artillery shells and 250-pound aerial bombs. That proved futile and infantrymen were sent in and cleaned the position out with bayonets. The army said guerrilla casualties were heavy.

Two of the three squadrons in the Greek air force are backing the army's play and 100 pieces of artillery are pounding rebel positions on the Mount Grammos approaches.

Best available estimates are that Markos has some seven brigades and several independent battalions under his command in the fighting zone

Blast Felt In City Over 50 Miles Away Windows Shattered For 10 Miles; Second Explosion At Plant In 8 Years

KENVIL, NJ, June 21—(AP).—A powerful explosion rocked most of northern New Jersey today and Morris county hospitals said they had been notified by the big Hercules Powder Company plant here to send all available ambulances and physicians. State police blocked off highways in the Hercules plant area. The blast was felt over a 50-mile radius. State police said it sounded like a "clap of thunder."

Yellow-reddish smoke billowed high in the sky over the Hercules area. Soot and burnt paper fluttered near Dover, about 10 miles away.

Robert Hewitt, of Dover, reported that windows were smashed in Dover, while in East Orange, many miles away, windows shook violently.

The Hercules Powder Company was the scene in September, 1940, of a blast that killed 52 persons.

The Hercules plant telephone operator said that no information could be given by phone.

The Morristown state police barracks reported the first loud blast at 1:36 p.m. EDT. Reports from as far east as Jersey City said there were two smaller explosions after the first big rumble.

The first explosion "almost kicked me out of my chair," said a police officer at North Arlington, many miles from Kenvil.

Blame Arsonist In Church Fires

TORONTO, June 21 — (CP). — An arsonist is believed to have been responsible for the altar fires in two Roman Catholic churches set within a half-hour of each other Sunday.

Both the fires were quickly extinguished by parish priests, but a close watch is being kept on other church premises.

Police believe the same arsonist set both fires. Unsuccessful in two attempts, its feared he may try again.

Four Children Lose Lives In N.B. Blaze

NEGAUC, N.B., June 21 (CP).—Four children were burned to death and their mother suffered critical burns when their home in this Northumberland county village was destroyed by fire early today.

Dead are: Simone, eight, Jacqueline, six, Leola, four, and a two-month-old baby, children of Mr. and Mrs. Elzear Breau.

The blaze was said to have started after the kitchen stove exploded when Mrs. Breau attempted to light a fire in it with kerosene.

Mrs. Breau was rushed to hospital at nearby Tracadie. A fifth child was away from home when the fire started.

The flames swept rapidly through the wooden house and spread to a nearby barn.

Damage was estimated at $10,000.

The premier's secretary said no details were available and the report of the flood was "a surprise."

Say Guerrillas Kidnap 8,000 Greek Children

NEW YORK, June 21 (CP) The New York Times says in a newspage story today that Queen Frederika of Greece has charged that between 8,000 and 10,000 Greek children have been kidnapped by Gen. Markos Vafiades, leader of the guerrilla army, and sent to camps in neighboring Russian satellite states.

The Queen, who heads all aid to Greek children, said that between 2,000 and 3,000 of the children are being housed in three camps in Czechoslovakia. Others, she said, are in Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Hungary, Albania and Yugoslavia.

Overtake Stolen Taxi After 75 MPH Chase

KINGSTON, June 21.—(CP).—Two alleged taxi thieves were captured today after a wild 75-mile-an-hour chase by police. They were in the police cells 19 minutes after police first got the report that the taxi was stolen.

The stolen car stopped after it struck two poles and a bicycle stand. Two of the five occupants were captured after an officer fired a shot. The others escaped. Damage to the stolen car amounted to $300.

Names of the arrested men were withheld. Police said they expected to round up the others later in the day.

Fire Razes Capital In Caribbean

Thousands Homeless In Island City As Flames Unchecked

CASTRIES, St. Lucia, Windward Islands, June 21—(CP).—Food and shelter became enormous problems today in what remains of this island capital of 24,000.

A fire that broke out at 8 p.m. Saturday and raged unchecked for eight hours all but wiped out the city. No lives were lost.

Thousands were left homeless by the blaze and food was scarce because all grocery stores and most warehouses were destroyed. Nearly all light and telephone service was knocked out and it would be weeks before it could be restored.

All ordinary business came to a standstill because stores, small industries, banks, the post office, law courts, the Castries Town Board, the daily newspaper, hotels and all government buildings were razed. Damage will run into millions of dollars.

As many persons as possible were quartered in homes not caught in the path of the fire. Others huddled in tents and makeshift shelters on the edge of town or in open fields.

Truckloads of food were being rushed to the capital from the outlying parts of the 233-square-mile island. Appeals went to other British Caribbean colonies for help.

The fire spared the dock area and the Canadian National steamships freighter Canadian Challenger unloaded a small cargo of foodstuffs Sunday. A British warship was expected with relief supplies.

The blaze broke out in an uptown business block—its origin was unknown—and raced through the city practically unchecked. A long drought had lowered water pressure in the mains so that hoses were almost useless. United States troops brought in fire-fighting equipment from nearby Beane field but it could not stem the holocaust.

Royal Family Will Register

LONDON, June 21—(CP).—The King and Queen and other members of the royal family will register for free medical attention when the Government's new national health scheme becomes effective July 5.

"The King and Queen set the example for the nation in any authorized national plan," a Buckingham Palace official told The Canadian Press. "They were, in fact, among the first to have national registration cards and ration cards."

Under the health scheme Their Majesties will hand their registration forms to Dr. E. C. Malden, the King's physician at Windsor. Dr. Malden will be entitled to about 18s ($3.60) a year for each.

All members of the royal family who register will receive normal as well as specialist services, a Ministry of Health official said. The bill will be charged to the State, as in the case of all other British citizens.

This will put the King and Queen's consultants in a rather novel position. They will be paid for a service which hitherto they have regarded as an honorable duty, for no doctor's bill is ever sent to Buckingham Palace. It is perhaps the only service they accept free.

The lockmaster at Farran's Point, near Cornwall, said no shots were fired although the captain of the Maple Heath threatened to shoot. He said the boarders were repelled by live steam.

Michael Jackson, C.S.U. Great Lakes director, denied today that any of his men had attempted to board the vessel. He said three pickets will swear out a warrant charging the captain of the Maple Heath with attempted murder. He said the men who will swear the warrant are: R. Burton, Vancouver, L. One CSU man who said he was present during the clash early Sunday told reporters some CSU men crept aboard the Mapleheath and fought with the crew until driven of with live steam.

The incident, which brought a CSU threat to call a one-day general strike on the Great Lakes, was the liveliest week-end development in the dispute between the CSU and four shipping lines which refuse to sign contracts with it on grounds it is Communistled.

At Ottawa pickets wearing gas masks and carrying placards paraded on Parliament Hill today to enforce demands of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) for a government-enforced settlement of the Lake Shipping dispute.

Twenty CSU picketers, led by two with gas masks, circled quietly around the front entrance to the Commons building while union officials tried to arrange interviews with Labor Minister Mitchell and Justice Minister Ilsley.

MORE ABOUT—

Haliburton

Jesus Christ. Clayton Rogers, a former warden of the county, read the lesson, and the prayer of thanksgiving for the offering was given by the minister, Mr. Smyth.

Visitors Helped

Members of the Board of Stewards took up the collection, and it was obvious from the start that few if any of the talents had been buried. Envelopes indicated the returns of the parishioners, each accounting for the five dollar investment, but besides there were bills ranging in denomination from ones to 20's from visitors in the district, anxious to help this energetic clergyman.

Norman Grose, bank manager at Haliburton, headed a committee including Ron Curry, Frank Hodgson, and Gilbert Windsor who counted the money, and it took them almost half an hour to complete the work.

At the conclusion of the thanksgiving prayer, Mr. Smyth raised a smiling face to his flock, and said, "The original $1,000 has now grown to $2,575.83."

Some of Methods Used

Originality and ingenuity were apparent in the methods used to stretch the five dollar bills into double the amount. Berkeley Feir and Roy Hanna, two newspapermen sold fountain pens and hair cream. They turned in a total of $10.62. Gilbert Windsor, clerk of Dysart township, planted potatoes and will bring the profits along when the crop is harvested.

Four women, Mrs. Jack Robertson, Mrs. Wesley Baker, Mrs. A. S. Gillin and Elda Weedmark, staged a play "Plain Jane." This produced a total of $35. Bob Chambers and Stuart Baker didn't invest the money but saved what they made mowing lawns and doing delivery work. Mrs. Norma Snider knitted sweaters and socks and sold them.

A Sunday School class made a deal with Lou Consky, manager of the Molou theatre to sponsor the picture "Carnegie Hall." The venture netted $40. Mrs. L. B. Windsor, an elderly woman made hooked rugs and sold them.

Tanned Deer Hides

Cecil Watt, decided selling dew worms was the best means of raising money. Randolph Taylor, tanned deer hides and sold them to a glove manufacturer. Mrs. Morris Roberts used the $5 to buy materials from which she made clothes for her family. Then she sold this clothing to herself, and turned the money back to the minister. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bishop, who operate the Highlander Hotel found that help was scarce so they did the work themselves in the hotel, paid each other a salary, which found its way into the church fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brohm sold spaghetti dinners and more than doubled their $5 talent money, though at first it was a losing proposition. Betty Hodgson, 12, doubled her starting capital selling candy. Mrs. W. H. McKnight turned in $10 she made by washing dishes and baby sitting.

That is a cross-section of the efforts of how the people of this northern hamlet met the challenge of their minister, but many others still have to report and perhaps even more unusual stories will then be told.

Men prominent in public life, and many tourists from Ontario and United States who summer in Haliburton, also received the $5 talents by mail. Most of these returned the money doubled or trebled.

Native of Pembroke

Rev. Gordon Smyth is a native of Pembroke. He studied at Queen's University, graduating in Arts in '42 and in theology in 1944. Haliburton is his first charge, and he occupies the parsonage with his wife and two children.

He is 27, medium height, and build, with a pleasant face, and he has the crisp, direct manner of a successful business man. A friendly sociable person, he has endeared himself to this hard-working community of about 500 people.

Haliburton United church was a mission church when he arrived back in 1944, and finances were at a low ebb. Moreover he has two other mission churches to service Ingolsby and Lochlin. Soon the driving power, and business vision of this young man kindled a spirit of determined co-operation within his congregation. Repairs were made to the parsonage and paid for. Plans were made to redecorate the church, inside and out, a new organ was needed, a new chancel at the rear of the church was a necessity. Re-wiring was desirable, but all this costs money, in fact $8,000 was the sum estimated to meet all requirements.

A thermometer was placed outside the church door, and the donations started to roll in. Soon $4,500 had been collected, and at that point there was a lull, so the minister invoked the parable of the talents to boost the total.

Formerly this United Church took a mission grant for support, but since the Rev. Gordon Smyth entered the picture, the church became independent of the grant, and the people are now giving as much to missions of the United church as they formerly received for their own church.

6 Bushworkers Sentenced To Jail Terms

HORNEPAYNE, June 21.—Two men were snatched from their bunks and thrown through a partition by rioting bushworkers, Magistrate Willard Cooper was told yesterday at the trial of seven men charged with unlawful assembly and assault.

The trial was the aftermath of Thursday's pitched battle when a group of bushworkers attacked sleeping DP's at the Marathon camp. The two men were in the bunkhouse at the time.

Railton Trowbridge said that he was seized and thrown bodily through the partition. A bed spring was hurled after him and hit his body.

"I ran into the bush and spent the night there," he said "All I had on was a T-shirt and shorts"

Victor Reynolds said he was thrown from his bunk and received a black eye when hit by a light bulb. He hid in an outhouse.

Ernest Ridout and Kenneth Graves, University of New Brunswick students, were beaten as they lay in their bunks

Magistrate Cooper sentenced Harvey Tanguay, Lucien Lavoie, Sylvio Bouchard, Reginald Leclair and Valmont Duguay to two months apiece. Alfred Turpin, said to be the ringleader, received four months. Robert Bellavance was given suspended sentence.

Rosare Chamberlind, foreman at the Marathon Camp, told the court that his gang of 40 bushworkers had been conscripted to fight forest fires, along with a gang from the Stevens camp. The seven DP's were in the Stevens gang. Chamberlind said that when the fires were put under control all the men crowded into the Marathon camp and there were more men than beds.

"The DP's returned first, so they got the beds in the bunkhouse," Chamberlind said.

Fire Breaks Out Twice In Shed

MILLBROOK, June 21 (ENS) —Fire of unknown origin broke out in the woodshed back of Miss Marjorie Skitch's house, King St. east, about 9 o'clock Saturday evening. The blaze was discovered by neighbors in its early stages, and the alarm rung in. The fire company responded promptly, and were able to leave shortly feeling the fire had been extinguished. A quantity of "junk" was in the shed, and a good deal of this was burned.

A second alarm was rung in at 10:30 p.m when E. J. Powell on his way home noticed the flames starting up again. Another response from the fire company soon had these under control, but some of the neighbors kept an intermittent watch during the night lest there might be another outburst. The possibility of spontaneous combustion is suggested in view of the nature of the material stored in the shed.

Since her father's death, Miss Skitch has not been occupying her home, but at present is boarding with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Powell nearby. She and Mrs. Powell had been at the house about an hour before the fire, but were down town when the first alarm was given, and at first were ignorant of the fact that the fire was at her property. She has just had Hydro installed in the house, and the interior redecorated. Frame buildings in the vicinity made the fire hazardous.

Crashed Jet Plane Still Not Located

BOWMANVILLE, June 21 — (CP). — Preparations for diving operations continued today and the RCAF continued attempted to locate the spot in Lake Ontario where a jet Vampire sank early last Thursday.

Sqdn. Ldr. S. Y. Broadbent of St. Thomas was carried to his death when the speedy craft hurtled into the water about a mile offshore.

A scow to be used as a base for air pumping equipment is being towed from Trenton and is expected to reach here today.

Six Families

uable violin.

Three Firemen Hurt

Led by Mayor Charles Lamb who was on duty throughout the fire, the evicted families were given coffee and sandwiches in a nearby coffee shop.

Injured by flying glass were firemen Mel Eakins, Charles McDonald and Bruce McArthur. This trio along with other firemen continued on the job until the fire was brought under control.

As citizens wended their way to church in the morning firemen were still pouring water on one spot in the Radio Electric Chop while Board of Works cleaned debris off the main street. Owned by Mrs. A. K. Martin of Lindsay, the two storey brick-frame building was situated on the south side of Kent street between the Post Office building and another business block. The Post Office on the east side was untouched and the next business block was separated by an alleyway with overnead apartments. Although the fire was at its height shortly after the explosion, Chief Campbell denied that the whole south side of Kent street was endangered and that they were ready to call the Peterborough Fire Department. Besides the big Metropolitan truck and the Fargo truck the old horse drawn ladder wagon was brought out but said the chief "The old relic didn't see action."

One evicted resident after watching the blaze for a number of hours thought of his wallet which he had left under his pillow. After the fire was brought under control he made his way back to his apartment in the west end of the building and retrieved the wallet and $300. So heavy was the force of water brought on the building that oranges from the Lamentia fruit store were found piled up in the gutter a block away.

Five Arrested

Shortly after the fire had been brought under control, five Toronto youths were arrested at Bloor and Bathurst Sts. in Toronto on charges of theft from the sporting goods store. The five are: Joan Prodeus, 17, of Roxton Rd.; William Robertson, 17, Montrose Ave.; Howard Ray, 16, of Roxton Rd.; Nick Sproaka, 17, of Shaw St., and Donald Dunham, 22, of Markham St.

Police stopped the quintet, who had been bringing a load of lumber through Lindsay, when PC Reulens of No. 11 Division, spotted a pair of field glasses with the price tag on them. A search turned up other loot, including fishing tackle, police said. Chief Lawlor from Lindsay went to Toronto to investigate

US Membership Said Necessary In Security Pact

OTTAWA, June 21 (CP) — Canada's official views on any proposed regional security pact under the United Nations Charter were on the parliamentary record today.

In the first Saturday night sitting of this dying session, External Affairs Minister St. Laurent told the Commons the government felt Canadian adherence to Europe's Western Union would be "very little use" unless the United States also entered the pact.

If war should break out, there might be "great value" in a regional pact in which the Western European countries, the U.S., the United Kingdom and Canada guaranteed each other's security.

Mr. St. Laurent also dealt with the Newfoundland question and expressed hope there would be a 'clear-cut" vote in the second referendum to be taken July 22 on the question of whether the Crown colony is to have responsible government or union with Canada.

The House opening was quiet. Justice Minister Ilsley said he was not in a position to answer questions about a reported loyalty test aimed at screening Communists from three key government departments.

In the External Affairs debate Mr. St. Laurent said Canada was being careful not to "prejudice" the chances for a peaceful solution in Palestine.

"Smoke-Filled Room" Or Convention Floor?

It was still anybody's race when the U.S. Republican Party's National Convention was called to order this morning in Philadelphia at eleven o'clock. Managers of the various candidates for the Republican Presidential nomination had been jockeying for position and making decisions on convention tactics since last Thursday, but nothing in the news since then eliminates even one of half-a-dozen possible results of Wednesday night's voting. And while literally millions of words will be written and read between now and 9 p.m. Wednesday, predicting the outcome may still be guesswork at an early hour Thursday morning.

One prediction that may be made with reasonable assurance is that the successful candidate will be chosen in the traditional "smoke-filled room", and not on the convention floor. There is no popular demand for any candidate, as there was when the late Wendell Willkie's followers stampeded the 1940 convention and virtually forced his election from the floor and the galleries. It is almost certain that the campaign manager who can pick the right time to ask for a recess to negotiate a switch in votes will gain the nomination for his candidate.

• • •

Actually, there is nothing inherently wrong about the "smoke-filled room". When deadlocks and near-deadlocks are reached at U.S. political conventions—and they are by no means uncommon—state leaders must necessarily confer about diverting their support to end the deadlock. In order to do so, they meet in rooms; since many smoke, the rooms are soon filled with smoke. It is undoubtedly unpleasant, but not necessarily evil. It is true that the evils of the Harding Administration had their genesis in such a room, but unless all observers are at fault, there is neither a Harding nor a Daugherty at Philadelphia today. As far as the interests of the U.S. people are concerned, the method of choice used at this convention seems unimportant.

• • •

Wednesday night's — and possibly Thursday morning's voting—will not end the convention, but it will be the climax. The anti-climax will come Thursday at eleven a.m., when the convention will nominate and elect a candidate for Vice-President. In all likelihood, this will be a mere formality, for the identity of the candidate will probably be settled the night before, during negotiations for the higher office. The result on Thursday, however, may provide interesting evidence on which to base deductions about the vote-trading—if any—that preceded the final ballot selecting the Presidential candidate.

The People To Whom Accidents Happen

At a convention of the Canadian Transit Association last week Dr. W. A. Tilman suggested that motor accidents do not happen through sheer perversity and mischance, but that many of them are the outcome of the personality of the car-driver. "Studies completed on a group of taxi-drivers tend to indicate that the high-accident drivers possess impulsive, immature living habits in distinct contradiction to the mature, stable personalities which appear in the low accident drivers", he said.

There is a weight of evidence to support what Dr. Tilman said, and to carry it further. The National Safety Council in the U.S.A. has been studying this matter for several years; a German scientist named Marbe first advanced the concept of "the accident-prone personality" in 1926; in 1934 an Austrian, Alexandra Adler, carried investigation to the point at which such accident-prone personalities could be detected with reasonable certainty. It is high time that these scientific findings bore fruit in decreased accidents on the roads.

According to the U.S. Safety Council accidents kill more people than any diseases except heart diseases, strokes and cancer. Between the ages of 1 and 29 accidents kill more people than any other cause. Accidents, indeed are the particular bane of the young. A young person who makes a habit of getting into trouble by breaking bones, getting caught in machines, or falling off things, should be watched, for an accident-prone personality is in the process of formation.

Like so many psychiatric findings, this is apt to sound strange, and therefore untrue, to people who are unaccustomed to the psychiatric outlook. But anyone with his eyes open must have noticed that some people have many accidents, whereas others have none at all, though both are engaged in the same sort of work. Nor can clumsiness or stupidity be blamed for accidents. Many a clumsy workman never loses a finger, or tumbles from a scaffold, whereas his deft companion does so two or three times in a few years.

What kind of people have accidents? The psychiatrists tell us that they are usually very decisive—so much so that they give an impression of impulsiveness. They give little thought to the future, and are keenly concerned with their daily pleasures. They do not burden themselves with family cares, but they take good care of their own health, and are ill less often than people who live safer lives. In their family background there is usually a history of severe bringing-up, and in adult life this shows itself in a strong resentment of authority; very often the accident-prone person has a history of persistent lying, stealing or truancy in childhood. He makes a great point of his independence and self-reliance.

Such a man as this may be an excellent mechanic and a good driver, yet he gets into accidents which are avoided by less gifted drivers. It is not hard to see what is wrong with him: he is still, deep in his heart in rebellion against the authority which he so much resented in childhood. Anything which challenges him makes him act impulsively — and often fatally.

Of course there is more to it than this. The fine points of psychiatric investigation are not the province of newspaper editorials. But it is a fact that there exist people who are fated, by their own personalities to have accidents, and the sooner we develop some generally applicable means of recognizing them and keeping them out of danger, the sooner our appalling accident records will be improved.

Suburban Peterborough Development

The citizens of both the city and the surrounding rural areas will be pleased that the Otonabee Township Council is preparing a bylaw to set up an urban development area in the parts of the township bordering the city and the chief roads. It is one of the necessary developments to give authority to the new Urban Development Area Commission composed of county and city members. It is hoped and expected that Douro, Smith and North Monaghan Township Councils will shortly follow suit.

The purpose of the project is to prevent helter-skelter building development in the suburban fringe of Peterborough. The city is concerned in the matter for eventually suburban areas now under development may be incorporated into the city. The township residents and land-owners are more immediately concerned. If the area is exploited by short-sighted profiteers who buy up an acre or two and parcel it out into forty-foot building lots it could and almost certainly would become an unhealthy shanty-town slum district.

Land values would go down to almost nothing, sanitary conditions could be abhorrent, and future development into residential streets and shopping areas would be impossible. In many of these suburban areas sewage facilities from the city will not be available for many years. Meanwhile, septic tanks must be installed. Pollution cannot be prevented if there are septic tanks or outdoor out-houses every forty feet. Actually, regulations devised by the Ontario Department of Planning will prevent this, but it is for the purpose of bringing order out of developing chaos, and to prevent deplorably "ribbon development" along our highways (rows of jam-packed houses hugging the highways miles beyond city limits), that the Suburban Area Planning Commission has been created.

The Township Council of Otonabee, the councils of the other townships which have the matter under consideration, and the Suburban Area Planning Commission are to be thanked for getting down to the business of protecting the suburban and outlying district from vicious exploitation. They have an ear to the ground and an eye to the future.

"Of Cabbages And Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

ONE of his hostesses (writes Frank Harris in his biography of Bernard Shaw, published in 1931) having remarked that Shaw was a most dangerous man, was being asked how and why (in the hope of eliciting some scandal). She explained: "You invite him down to your place because you think he will entertain your guests with his brilliant conversation; and before you know where you are he has chosen a school for your son, made your will for you, regulated your diet, and assumed all the privileges of your family solicitor, your housekeeper, your clergyman, your doctor, your dressmaker, your hair dresser, and your estate agent. When he has finished with everybody else, he incites the children to rebellion. And when he can find nothing more to do, he goes away and forgets all about you."

IN his beautiful Diary, Henry Crabb Robinson has given us an insight into the great influence which nature exerted over Wordsworth. "This evening," he writes—date January 7, 1864—Wordsworth related a pretty anecdote of his cookmaid. A stranger, who was shown about the grounds (of Rydal Mount—where Wordsworth lived), asked to see his study. The servant took him to the library, and said, 'This is the master's library, but he studies in the fields.'"

"WHEN the demand for the work had assured success to Jane Eyre, (wrote Mrs. Gaskell in her Life of Charlotte Bronte) her sisters urged Charlotte to tell their father of its publication. She accordingly went into his study one afternoon after his early dinner, carrying with her a copy of the book, and two or three reviews, taking care to include a notice adverse to it. She informed me that something like the following conversation took place between her and him. (I wrote down her words the day after I heard them: and I am pretty sure they are quite accurate.)

'Papa, I've been writing a book.'

'Have you, my dear?'

'Yes, and I want you to read it.'

'I am afraid it will try my eyes too much.'

'But it is not in manuscript; it is printed.'

'My dear, you've never thought of the expense it will be! It will almost sure to be a loss, for how can you get a book sold? No one knows you or your name.'

'But, papa, I don't think it will be a loss; no more will you, if you will just let me read you a review or two, and tell you more about it.'

So she sat down and read some of the reviews to her father; and then giving him the copy of Jane Eyre that she intended for him, she left him to read it. When he came in to tea, he said:

"Girls, do you know Charlotte has been writing a book, and it is much better than likely?'

AN interesting ramble in Homer Croy's Country Cured which pictures that excellent story of boyhood on an American farm. As a youth he was raised rigorously in the tradition of hard work and simple faith. When he became a writer his life changed. He not only sold an u[illegible]ished novel to the film for a fabulous price but his hesitancy was interpreted as bargaining and additional dollars were added to the previous sum.

Croy has some recollections of the late Will Rogers. Rogers was the son of a rich banker, a bright and successful student, and very particular about his wardrobe. When he realized that it payed he went to great trouble to dress badly, to talk illiterately and, of course, to spell worse and worse.

Sir George Reid, Australia's first Prime Minister, was a "wonderful old fellow" with a very large "tummy" (reminisces that great soldier, Field Marshal Lord Birdwood, in his In My Time — stories of India and other places going back some fifty years).

During the war he was sitting in his car in Piccadilly when a girl came up and waved a white feather at him, saying:

"Why aren't you out at the front?"

He toddled out and delightedly spreading his hands on his large waistline, said: "Look at me, my dear young lady; I'm all out at the front!"

✧ ✧ ✧

INDIAN courts were not quite so dry as one would imagine and Birdwood remembers a humorous incident. A judge, sentencing a Hindu in lengthy, formal language—"Prisoner at the bar, it is with the greatest regret that I find a man from a distant country like yours before me, charged with the crime of which you have rightly been found guilty," etc., etc.—concluded with "three months' imprisonment." A planter of few words, who had volunteered to act as interpreter, told the prisoner briefly: "Listen, you son of a low-bred. Three months' imprisonment. Get out of this!" The astonished judge thereupon asked if the planter had interpreted all he said. "Certainly, my lord," he was told. "Dear me", said the judge, "what a very comprehensive language Hindustani must be!"

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS reminded Lord Birdwood of an experience which Sir Ian Hamilton had while in Japan, when he was waited upon by a pretty little Geisha girl. Hearing, through his interpreter, that her name was "Sparrow," he cried with ardor: "Oh, you beautiful bird! You are so lovely, I wish you could be put in a golden cage and travel all round the world with me!" This was no sooner translated than the girl tossed her head indignantly and left the room, and a man sitting near Sir Ian came over and said: "I say, you need not have been so unkind to that girl!" The rather amazed and puzzled Sir Ian told the man what he had said. The reply was:

"Well, what your interpreter said was, 'As you are a bird, you ought to be shut up in a box!'"

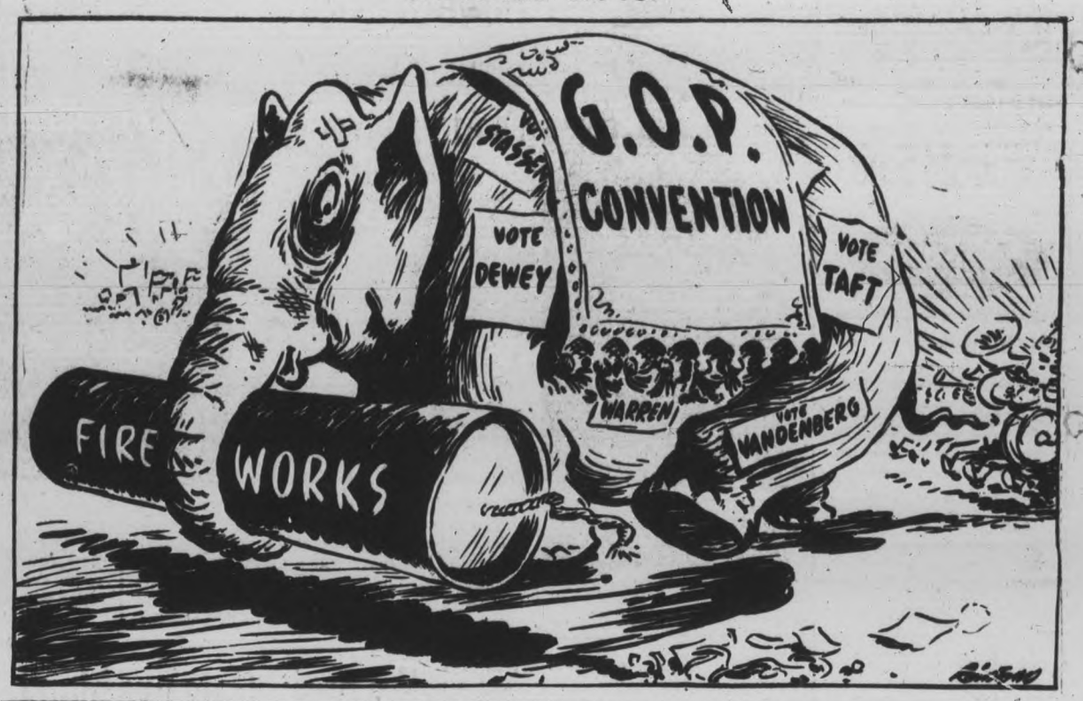
OFF TO THE "BIG TOP"



A Day At Lake Success

By PHYLLIS GILLING
(Mrs. W. J. Gilling of Peterborough)

AT the meetings of the Security Council at Lake Success, there is no waving of the arms, no ranting, no eloquence, in the accepted sense of the word. The tones of the voices are the tones of diplomacy, gentle and persuasive, but occassionally through the gentle sound of a foreign tongue one senses the rasp of a determined and suppressed rage.

One afternoon when I was present one of the most dramatic sessions, on the Palestine question took place. The Syrian delegate, as President conducted the meeting, and only once did he retire as President to make a short protest as a delegate.

The translators sit in front of the delegates and at the end of every speech it is translated into English and French. These men do a difficult task with effortless ease. There are also translators, in sound booths, who translate as a delegate is speaking, and some reporters in the Press section were wearing headphones, and a few of the visitors. There was a constant coming and going in the visitors' section; it is remarkably easy to procure a ticket and native New Yorkers as well as foreigners and tourists take advantage of the privilege.

The adoption of the agenda was very quickly dealt with, and as soon as the second item came up, the Palestine question, the Russian delegate argued fiercely about a point the chairman had already made quite clear. Count Bernadotte, the Mediator in Palestine, had asked for authority to use his own discretion about referring local problems to the United Nations. It was evident that if either the Jewish Agency or the Arabs were not satisfied with the Mediator's decision, they could refer the problem to the Security Council. It was equally evident that the Russian delegate was passing the ball to the Jewish Agency representative, who eventually made a very short speech, in a clipped English accent, to the effect that he was perfectly satisfied with the arrangement. In his speech he referred to the State of Israel, rather than the Jewish Agency. He was a guest at the Council table as Israel has not yet been invited to join the United Nations.

The chief discussion arose as result of a long speech by Gromyko, complaining that it was illogical and unfair for the Truce Commission to be allowed to send 21 military observers from each country represented on it, the U.S.A., France and Belgium, to Palestine, while the USSR had not been invited to send any. He would be reasonable in his demands, he said, all he asked for was permission to send five military observers. He then proposed a resolution incorporating his demands, but in his resolution he specifically excluded Syria from sending any military observers. There was a slight exchange between the Syrian and Russian delegates, and the latter refused to change his resolution. The delegate from the Ukraine made a long speech supporting the argument, but it was a surprise to find that in the councils of the world the Ukraine is no longer part of Russia, but is a separate state.

The delegate from the Argentine opposed the resolution as he considered it untimely. If, he said, the discussion had arisen at the previous session, when the question of the Mediator and the Truce Commission had been settled, he would have been more sympathetic, but now, everything was settled, and working well, and a change of plan might easily move the Mediator to go as far as to resign, and they would have to start all over again. He observed that they should not let political motives affect them in this matter, and said that, in effect, this was a private quarrel between the Great Powers, namely, the USA and the USSR.

DURING the translations of this speech into English, and then into French, the Russian delegates had their heads together, and when the vote was taken, two for (Ukraine: USSR), none against, and nine abstentions (which are equivalent to against, but do not lead to a veto). Mr. Gromyko's voice was heard again. As there are very few delegates or reporters who understand Russian, there was no increase of tension, but as the voice, nervous but incisive, of the young man translating the speech was heard, every head lifted and every back stiffened. This was not the language of diplomacy, the boy's voice conveyed much more clearly how undiplomatic and how unfriendly were the sentiments than Mr. Gromyko's gentle Russian phrases. The latter listened attentively to the translation, and corrected the translator on more than one occasion, in fact, it is possible that he improved on the original. He made it abundantly clear that he disassociated the USSR from the USA's "zig-zag" policy over Palestine, and referred to the USA's stubborn resistance to his resolution, which, of course, was far from the truth, as the USA delegate had kept silent all afternoon. However, if the abstention from voting could be called stubborn resistance, the US delegate was in good company, with eight other delegates. The speech was violent and abusive, and smelled strongly of propaganda.

No visitor to New York should miss going out to Lake Success; a short railway journey, and a bus ride will get you there in an hour, and while you are in the Council chamber, you are witnessing the making of history, and never again will you pass over the editorials on international affairs with a shrug, and the comment, that it is all too far away to be of interest. Nothing that happens in the world today is too far away—it affects us all.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Seek the Lord, and his strength: seek his face evermore. Remember his marvellous works that he hath done; his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth; O ye seed of Abraham his servant, ye children of Jacob his chosen.

He is the Lord our God: his judgments are in all the earth. He hath remembered his covenant for ever, the word which he commanded to a thousand generations. (Ps. 105: 4-8.)

And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all nations be blessed . . Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to thy seed, which is Christ. . . . And if ye be Christ's then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise. (Gal. 3: 8, 16, 29.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined. (Isa. 9: 2.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And there appeared a great wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars. . . . And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne. (Rev. 12: 1, 5.)

Howe Outlines Development Of Atom Power

OTTAWA, June 21 (CP) — A recent steel price boost was authorized to keep the industry in operation, Reconstruction Minister C. D. Howe told the House of Commons Saturday night. The government had held the steel price two years while increases in wages, freight rates and scrap iron had gone into effect.

Clarie Gillis (CCF-Cape Breton South) protested against the price jump and said it was a mistake.

A side debate on Wartime Housing developed and Mr. Howe said he believed municipalities have the right to increase taxes on houses built by the Crown-owned Wartime Housing Ltd.

E. D. Fulton (PC-Kamloops) suggested the government pay half the increased taxes on Wartimes houses in his riding. The government should take this step if it was interested in low-rent housing.

Atom Development

On appropriations for atomic energy, Mr. Howe gave fresh information on the development of the new power.

He told the chamber he could hold in his hand a small cylinder of metallic uranium containing as much power as could be developed from 500,000 tons of coal.

However, many problems would have to be solved before commercial atomic power became an economic reality. Meantime, atomic developments were reaping dividends in medicine, biological research and industrial application.

CCF and Progressive Conservative members pressed again for government action to develop Canadian coal resources, but Mr. Howe said the shortage of qualified miners was the main stumbling block.

Howard Green (PC-Vancouver South), Angus MacInnis (CCF-Vancouver East) and Garfield Case (PC-Grey North) called on the government to lead the way in construction of a paved trans-Canada highway.

Mr. Howe replied that the Federal government had no responsibility for highways except to open new areas in such places as the Northwest Territories.

Bill Of Rights Jolliffe Plea

TORONTO, June 21 — (CP). — E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario CCF leader, Saturday called for reintroduction of a bill of rights in the Ontario Legislature when the provincial House next opens.

Such a bill failed to obtain passage at the last session, he said in a speech prepared for delivery at a garden party.

"Yet a few day ago we find a justice of the Supreme Court of Ontario upholding the validity of a restrictive convenant—a convenant which bars certain people from purchasing certain land, solely for racial reasons . . .

"In fairness to the judge I must point that he emphasized it is for the most competent legislative bodies to discuss and determine what is best for the public good and to provide for it by the proper enactments!' In other words the judge puts the whole problem right back where it belongs—in the Legislature."

OTTAWA, June 21 —(CP)— Twenty-nine-year-old Helen Barclay of Kingston, Sunday took a costly $50 ride in a car and landed in the hospital.

Canada Has Nearly Two Billion In Goods Available For ERP

OTTAWA, June 21 — (CP) — As the fate of the European recovery plan hung in the balance in Washington, Canada hopefully announced to-day that she had a roughly estimated $1,600,000,000 worth of goods available for the 16 countries that would participate.

Trade Minister Howe, tabling a statement and pages of statistics in the Commons, gave what one official described as "a rough idea of the order of magnitude" of Canada's part in the program up to June 30, 1939—if it survives in its original total.

Canadian officials are watching with concern the Congressional tussle in Washington, which has the House of Representatives and the Senate $11,000,000,000 apart on the final day of the session.

From the Canadian standpoint alone, the effect of the slash proposed by the House of Representatives in the $6,000,000,000 would not be great. Canada's supplies lie largely in the essential recovery goods that would have to go anyway, regardless of the slash.

First Action

Meanwhile, Mr. Howe said Canada has already committed goods valued at more than $250,000,000, either by government contract or private trade agreements to specific countries. This represented about 17 per cent of the availabilities.

A breakdown in the trade department magazine Foreign Trade disclosed that the great bulk of them are slated for Britain.

In his reference to availabalities, Mr. Howe said there is no way of telling what percentage of exports would be borne by ERP dollars.

The minister declared the estimated quantity might vary with a number of factors, including farm production, availability of steel and prior commitments by manufacturers.

Of the goods expected to be available, Mr. Howe said, products worth more than $250,000,000 already have been committed to specific countries, either by government contracts or by private trade arrangements.

Of Minimum Nature

Mr. Howe said the figures listed "are of a minimal nature, as it is reasonable to suppose that other commitments have been undertaken by Canadian exporters."

Contracts had already been made for provision of $67,000,000 worth of wheat and flour to the United Kingdom and $2,608,000 to other ERP countries. Beef contracts called for $7,040,000, bacon for $21,600,000, cheese for $15,870,000, shell eggs for $18,560,000, sugar egg powder for $495,000, and frozen melange for $1,750,000, all to Britain.

Britain also has contracted for $34,320,000 worth of softwoods, hardwoods, and railway ties; $4,812,000 worth of pit props; $7,900,000 worth of pulp.

The total availability list included $495,000,000 worth of bread grains, $253,000,000 worth of coarse grains, $102,000,000 worth of meat, $28,000,000 worth of fish, $12,600,000 worth of tobacco, and $134,000,000 worth of timber.

Bata Shoemen Beat Petes In Neat 4-2 COBL Contest

Batawa Shoemen handed the Petes their first COBL reverse of the season here Saturday when they triumphed 4-2 before a big crowd. The loss did not shake the homester's loose from top spot but it gave the Bata bunch a firmer grip on second place. Playing errorless ball behind four-hit flinging by Gordie Muffitt, the visitors hit Bill Edger in timely fashion in the early innings to earn the victory. But the score on earned runs should have been 2-1 for them.

Three runs scored for Batawa in the initial inning and the Petes came back for one in their half. The visitors added their fourth in the third and were held down from then on. The homesters threatened a ninth-inning rally but could count only one run. Kevin Kennedy led the winners at bat with a double and two singles in four. Dick Bridgeman got two for four, as did Mac Watson. None of the Petes had more than one safety.

Tallied Three

Spencer led off with a single, followed by Kennedy's safe blow, a fielder's choice, two miscues and a hit by Watson and a fly for three first-frame Bata markers. Dalton drew a walk for the Petes, raced to third on Garvey's double and jogged in on a scratch hit to first by Starr. In the third, Kennedy doubled and scored on a single by Bridgeman, Edger cutting off the throw-in to throw Bridgeman out going to second. Watson's double then was wasted. A fast double-play, Pagett to Garvey to Edwardson, cut off a Bata threat in the fifth and Edger hed them well in check then.

The Petes found Muffitt's sharp curves and change of pace puzzing as they got one man as far as first from the first frame till the ninth as he fanned eight. Bob Crowe went in as a pinch-hitter to open the ninth and he promptly doubled. He moved to third on a passed ball and scored on a fly. Foley doubled but was left on second. It was a rather snappy struggle throughout.

P-W Cricketers Win Match Over The Grove

On Saturday the Peterborough-Whitaker Cricketers went to Lakefield to play against a side which the school authorities suggested might be called the Grove School Vacation Club. The school term is over but some elder boys have to stay on for examinations, including members of the school regular first eleven. These with three members of the staff, G. W. Smith (headmaster), W. Rashleigh and H. Ketchum, made up a good team on Saturday.

Earlier in the season the all-boy first eleven beat the P-W's twice, on May 1 56 to 47 and on May 24 74 to 52. However on Saturday they had an easy win, their first this season, final score being Grove 80, P-W 95 for three wickets.

Grove batted first to the bowling of F. Dyer and H. Pyle and made a disastrous start losing 4 wickets for 6 runs. H. Ketchum came in second wicket down to play a great innings for his side scoring 43 runs out of the Grove total of 80. His best partners were his son, R. Ketchum 8, and S. Pompagnon 7, but when he was bowled by Pyle the innings soon closed for 80.

H. Pyle had a great day with the ball for in 18 overs he took 9 wickets, 6 clean bowled at a cost of 29 runs.

The locals opened with S. Jennings and W. Dyer. The latter was out with the total at 10, but then the former and W. Wright took it to 59 for 2 wickets. H. Pyle then joined Wright and they won the game taking it to 90 before Pyle was out for 18. Jennings played good cricket for 20 but Wright took top honors with 50 not out. He played confident cricket and was at the wickets while 85 runs were scored. His half-century was the first scored by a local player for many years.

Following is the score:

Grove: P. Wilkes 2, D. Reeve 0, W. Rashleigh 0, H. Ketchum 43, F. Stirling 0, G. W. Smith 5, J. Easson 3, R. Ketchum 8, R. Despecker 0, W. Ross 4, S. Pompagnon 6, B. Milner 2 (not out). Extras 7. Total 80.

P-Ws: W. Dyer 2, S. Jennings 20, W. Wright 50 (not out), H. Pyle 18, B. Roberts 1 (not out). Extras 4. Total 95 for 3 wickets.

The following did not bat, F. Dyer, G. Collie, F. Honour, J. Morrison, R. Harvey, H. Dibben and F. Roberts.

Players are reminded that there will be practices on Tuesday and Thursday evenings as the Oval is not available on Wednesday.

Western U. Sweeps Olympic Track Trials

LONDON, Ont., June 21 (CP). —Led by the big McFarlane brother, University of Western Ontario tracksters more than fulfilled fondest hopes of Coach Murray Monie in the Olympic trials and Ontario track championships here Saturday.

The Westerners took six championships and broke two Dominion records.

Bob McFarlane did the 400 in 47.3, clipping .2 from his own record. The team, composed of the two McFarlanes, Jack Parry and Bob Pierce, chalked up a 42.3 record in the 400 relay, three-tenths better than the previous mark.

Western began to show its form early in the day when Hill Larochelle finished the 400-metres hurdles with a time of 54.8, eight-tenths of a second off the mark set in 1936 by Alumnus Johnny Loaring.

Londoners finished one-two in the 100 metres. Ted Haggis, West Track Club member, took the event in 10.5, with Parry of Western at his heels.

Don McFarlane had little trouble in the 800 metre race, handily defeating Gord Haight of Hamilton in 1.56.

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

The windup pro mat bout of the season here—and, like Colonel Puff, we say this for the third and last time—is Wednesday p.m. at the Brock Arena. A return team match between Whip Watson and Earl McCready on the one side and the Masked Marvel and Lee Henning on the shady side. With Jack Sharkey, former world's heavy boxing champ, as referee. And two good supporting bouts. It will probably pack 'em in again as these guys stage a furious finale. Imagine four tough gees, averaging some 240 pounds, plus a pro pug all in there together and shooting the works. There's just nothing like the modern team mat bout for terrific action, and the customers love it.

Comes a publicity plug from Kalamazoo, Mich., stating that Bev Goulding of the PCVS attended the first annual football coaching school there June 14-15-16. The instruction was headed by Paul Brown, coach of the championship Cleveland Browns of the all-American pro football conference. Coaches attended from the midwest and a few from North Dakota, New York, Ontario and New Mexico. The three-day grid clinic went into high school football thoroughly and dealt at length with the "T" formation and defensive systems used by the Cleveland Browns. Mr. Goulding doesn't miss many coaching schools and PCVS teams benefit thereby.

Too Much Muffitt

Petes finally ran into a COBL reverse Saturday when Gordie Muffitt of Batawa muffled their maces most effectively. So they took the skinny side of a 4-2 score in a tidy tussle before a good crowd. New bleachers were up and comfortably filled, and they are comfortable, with special foot-rests. A minute's silence was observed in memory of Gunner Whitehill's mother, who died recently in Iowa. Fine day for a game and it was a neat number, even if the locals lost. They're still in first place and Batawa has a firm grip on the second rung. Hugh Campbell saw his first game of the season, following an operation.

* * * * * *

Muffitt's curves baffled the Petes and they got but two hits for a run in the first frame and two in the ninth for another. As the Bata boys bunched blows early in the game for four runs, and two of them were unearned at that. Still, some smart fielding on both sides. Edger got better as he went along and his buddies tightened up after the first frame. Kennedy led the visitors with three lusty blows. Bob Crowe, who is coming up from the local intermediates, doubled as a pinch-hitter, while Garvey and Foley also conked out two-baggers. And there was a fast Pagett-Garvey-Edwardson twin killing. Weather was ideal.

Two For Oshawa

Oshawa Merchants revamped their lineup somewhat Saturday at home and came up with two COBL wins over Kingston Locos. Took the first of the twin bill by a 6-4 count and the last 6-3. Michael won his game against McTaggart, though Kingston outhit the Merchants, while Hill had a hurling edge on Young and McTaggart in the other fray. A homer with two aboard won each game for nifty finishes, Bill Dell and Fred Bidgood coming through with the money belts. So now the Petes have five wins and one loss, Batawa have four and three, Oshawa three and four with Kingston one and five. Shoemen go to Kingston tonight, Oshawa is at Belleville tomorrow and Petes play in Oshawa on Wednesday, according to the schedule.

Couple of colleens' softball fixtures at the Bowl tonight, barring rain. Marines play Westclox at seven, both being undefeated in loop play up to date, so something will have to give. And then Ashby's and Lindsay mix it, and this ought to be a fair one, also. Over at the Bowl on Saturday eve, Young Motors of Toronto took an exhibition win 7-2 o'er the Outboards before a nice gathering—we mean a nice-sized gathering as we can't vouch for how nice every fan present was! Marines were held to three hits in a neat tilt but looked a bit outclassed most of the route. M. Behan and V. Mitchell, however, looked in a class with the opposition.

Soccer Clubs Tie

Legionnaires and the CGE-ers battled to a smart 2-2 soccer draw on Saturday aft in King Edward Park. Next number listed is on Wednesday on the same pitch between O'Halloran's and Legion, with Asa Downer refereeing. And there's an executive soccer meeting tomorrow e'en at 7.30 in the YMCA. All players who have been ordered off the field so far this season must appear at this meeting. By the way, the classy touring Liverpool footballers won over the good New York Swedish team 3-2 before 20,000 fans in New York the other day. They also met stiff opposition but won in Brooklyn previously.

Jack Kramer dethroned Bobby Riggs as United States professional tennis champion on Saturday. Kramer, who defeated Riggs decisively in their cross-country indoor series, turned back the two-time title-holder 14-12, 6-2, 6-3.

Liverpool soccer team completed its 11-game tour of the United States and Canada Sunday and kept its unbeaten string intact with an 8-0 win over Kearny All-Stars in Newark.

Bob Feller announced Saturday he is cancelling all of his public appearances off the field for the rest of the summer in an effort to get back into the winning column. "I have notified my commercial sponsor that for the rest of the summer I will be unable to appear at their various awards, luncheons, or any other public functions."

New York Giants have released outright veteran pitchers Bobo Newsom and Thornton Lee and announced the recall from Minneapolis of southpaw Monte Kennedy.

Hailstorms and heavy rain flooded the Queen's Club courts and caused the abandonment of the finals of the London tennis championships Saturday. All titles and prizes were shared. California's Bob Falkenburg split the men's singles crown with Eric Sturgess of South Africa. Miami's Doris Hart and Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont of Wilmington, Del., shared the women's title.

Marines Lose To Toronto In Girls' Fray

Young Motors of Toronto took a 7-2 exhibition girls' softball game from Outboard Marines before a large crowd Saturday night in the Bowl. The winners showed class with 14 solid hits and but one miscue behind three-hit hurling by R. Hayden and R. Sounders, as D. Smith and J. Fisher shone afield. J. Patraluk led them at bat with a triple and three singles in five. J. Childerley hit a homer. M. Behan and V. Mitchell turned in a good game for Marines, who weren't quite in the visitors' class. The teams:

Watson, McCready, The Mask, Henning, Mike Sharpe, O'Connor, Flanagan, Moore And Sharkey On Wednesday's Mat Card

The team wrestling bout to end all team bouts (at least for this season) goes on in the Brock Arena ring on Wednesday. The former heavyweight boxing champion, Jack Sharkey, will be the official when the team of Earl McCready and Whipper Billy Watson meet the team of Masked Marvel and Mike Sharpe Henning. The match will have no time limit and the Mask must unmask if his team loses.

Bringing in Jack Sharkey to referee ensures proper enforcement of the rules. The big Boston Gob is tough and determined and the dynamite he still carries in both fists may make even the Mask hue the line.

As for the Whipper and Earl, they are more than willing to make it a clean fight if their opponents would. The Canadian team appear to be definitely the better matmen and both are confident they will wipe the slate perfectly clean this time.

Jim Laidlaw promised an all-star card for this week and he will have Mike Sharpe in against Dangerous Dan O'Connor in the semi-final and Pat Flanagan versus Big Jack Moore in the first bout.

CGE And Legion Draw 2-2 In Soccer Fray

Legion and CGE tied 2-all in a soccer match Saturday at King Edward Park. After ten minutes of keen play, McPhat centred across and Attard connected with a first-timer. Legion changed their attack and Jack Downer was brought down by Wilson in close. George Downer found the opening under the cross-bar. Jones did some fine stopping as CGE threatened, especially Welland.

They returned to the close battle and kept the pace up. Strong finally banged home a beautiful centre by McPhate on the run. Grant hit the bar and Legion forwards missed the rebound. Cotton dribbled neatly and Jack Downer three times broke through but missed the mark. Attard gave a smart exhibition of evasive work as T. Foster and Al Downer held off the steady pressure. In a last-minute drive, G. Downer carried the ball upfield and shot it up centre where Jack Downer sent the ball home for a draw.

Canadian Legion— Art Jones, goal; T. Foster and Al Downer, full-backs; Bert Woodcock, Bert Grant and C. Murduff, half-backs; H. Foster, H. Murduff, J. Downer, G. Downer and T. Foster, forwards. Sub, A. B. Smith.

Oshawa Takes Two Tilts Over Kingston

OSHAWA, June 21 (CP)—Oshawa Merchants shook off Kingston's threat for third place in the Central Ontario Baseball League race here Saturday afternoon when they took both ends of a double header from the Limestone City Locos, 6-4 and 6-3.

A home run, with two men on base was the winning blow for the homesters in each game. Stan McTaggart hurled six-hit ball for the Locos in the first game and deserved a better fate, leading all the way until the ninth with a man out.

His infield played poorly behind him, Red Knight having four errors at shortstop and the other three infielders dividing four other errors. In the ninth pinch hitter Gord Hanna opened with a single. Beefy Bathe, another insert, grounded to Lorne Ferguson, who threw low to second, leaving both safe. Then Bill Dell slashed a home run drive over Ferguson's head, to score three runs for the last-minute victory.

McTaggart had to relieve Cy Young early in the second game. Locos played much better afield, but this time the Merchants had a big edge in hitting. It was Freddie Bidgood's homer in the sixth with two men on base due to a walk and Kingston's only error that turned a 3-3 tie into a 6-3 win for the Merchants.

Indians Grab Doubleheader Red Sox Bounce Tigers 8-3

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bill Veeck, major league baseball's No. 1 showman, is a happy guy today.

Cleveland fans set a major league attendance record yesterday to fulfill one of Veeck's pet ambitions.

A total of 82,781 fans paid to see the American League's front-running Indians take both ends of a doubleheader from Philadelphia Athletics. The crowd topped the previous high of 81,841 set May 30, 1938, for a twin-bill between Boston and New York Yankees in New York.

Wednesday night the Indians will have a program celebrating the second anniversary of Veeck's purchase of the club and outside of a victory over the Yanks, Veeck would like nothing better than to set a fresh attendance mark.

The Athletics jumped on Bobby Feller for a 3-0 lead but the Indians staged a four-run seventh inning rally and went on to score a 4-3 triumph. The Indians breezed home in the nightcap, 10-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Bob Lemon. The victory was Feller's first since May 19.

In the nightcap, the Indians scored seven runs in the first three innings against Phil Marchildon of Penetanguishene, Ont., who went the route for the Mackmen.

In Third Place

The defeats dropped the A's from second to third place as New York Yankees moved into the runner-up slot by taking both ends of a twin bill from the Browns in St. Louis 4-2 and 6-2.

Boston's fast climbing Red Sox trounced Detroit Tigers 8-3 to move over the Tigers into fourth place. It was the Sox's fifth victory in a row and 13th in their last 16 starts.

At Chicago, Washington Senators divided a doubleheader with the White Sox. The Sox won the opener 8-5 and the Senators the nightcap 4-1 to end an eight-game losing streak.

Sweep Doubleheader

The National League's pace-setting Boston Braves also swept a doubleheader, beating Cincinnati Reds 5-4 and 4-1 in Boston The victories boosted Boston's margin to 1½ games over the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates who divided a doubleheader with the Phillies in Philadelphia.

The Pirates, after Dutch Leonard beat them, 9-0 on four hits, collected 11 to win the second tilt, 7-5. Ralph Kiner clouted his 18th and 19th homers of the year to feature the Pirate attack.

Locke Captures Chicago Open

CHICAGO, June 21 — (AP). — The boys dusted off the record books today after Bobby Locke captured the Chicago victory championship with a 72-hole total of 266—18 strokes under par and a margin over Ellsworth Vines of 16.

The chipping and putting wizard from South Africa fired a final round 66 over Midlothian's par 35-36—71 layout. He posted a pair of 65s to break the course record in his two trips of the tournament and added a third round 70.

This 16-stroke winning edge was the best since 1945 when Ben Hogan blasted 281 to beat Byron Nelson by 17 strokes in the Portland, Ore., open.

The 266 tally of the 30-year-old Locke was the best ever carded in the Chicago victory meet. Hogan's 270 last year was the previous record.

Bisons Crush Syracuse With 11 Homers

By The Associated Press

Not even the New York Yankees of Babe Ruth's and Lou Gehrig's heyday can boast of the slugging feat written into the International League's record book by Buffalo Bisons yesterday.

The Bisons belted 10 homers in crushing Syracuse Chiefs 28-11 in the first half of a doubleheader and added another roundtripper in outslugging the Chiefs 16-11 in the second game.

Anse Moore, former Detroit Tiger, was the heaviest Bison mauler. He banged three four-baggers in the first game including one with the sacks jammed and drove in nine runs. Moore hit another in the second game.

Outfielder Johnny Groth, and relief pitcher Saul Rogovin hit two four-masters apiece in the first game slaughter and Johnny Bero, Larry Barton and Chet Laabs socked the others. Laabs' blow was his 18th, tieing him with Baltimore's Howie Moss for the league leadership.

Previous Record

Available league records show that the previous high for most homers by one club in a game was seven, by Baltimore, Buffalo and Newark. The major league record is eight, set by the Yanks.

Frank Davis homered for the Chiefs in the first tilt and Clyde Vollmer whacked two and Jodie Beeler one for the Chiefs in the nightcap making it a total of 15 for the day. The two teams walloped 20 doubles and one triple in the two engagements for a total of 135 bases.

Rochester Red Wings beat Jersey City Giants 7-4 in the first game, thanks largely to two circuit blasts by rookie Frank Gravino.

In the finale the Giants turned back the Wings 7-4 when Sal Yvars exploded for a grand-slam homer in the seventh and final inning.

Five homers, four of them in the third inning by Lou Welaj, Al Gionfriddo, Duke Snider and Jimmy Bloodworth sparked Montreal Royals to a 9-5 win over Newark Bears. The Bears came back to take the nightcap 3-2 to remain a half game behind the front-running Royals.

Toronto Maple Leafs divided a twin-bill with Baltimore Orioles. The Orioles took the first game 6-4. Toronto won the second tilt, 1-0 with veteran Jim Konstanty outpitching rookie Lyman Linde.

Shortages Blow To British Car Industry

By MICHAEL O'MARA.

STRATFORD - ON - AVON, England, June 21 — (CP).—The story of post-war production in the British automobile industry is a success story, yet executives are far from happy.

Export figures have soared to all-time highs, total production is nearing pre-war figures and rising rapidly, and there is little major labor difficulty.

But rising production costs and material shortages have raised considerable doubt whether the industry can continue to expand its overseas trade.

"In the question of costs and prices....we are still driving with the brake on," F. I. Connolly, president of the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders, told correspondents touring motor factories in the Midlands.

Steel Shortage

Shortages, notably of steel, have slowed many production lines. The Jaguar Cars Ltd. factory in Coventry, which turned out 200 units weekly before the war, now is geared to handle 250 —but only 110 are driven off the lines.

The Ministry of Supply says that steel is lacking for a program of 315,000 cars yearly for export and 160,000 for home sales the original target. Supplies probably would restrict the total production to about 400,000 with the domestic market sacrificed to overseas sales.

Among other shortages which plague the industry are building supplies. Factories, especially in battered Coventry, find it difficult to get construction permits. At Dagenham, Essex, a spokesman said the Ford Motor Company factory is "desperately short of space" because of building restrictions.

TREAT FOR CHILDREN—Fourteen pupils, seven boys and seven girls, made the trip to Niagara as guests of the Dufferin Old Boys' Association. They enjoyed their first train ride, first look at Niagara Falls, first boat ride to the foot of the falls, first tunnel trip and first full-scale dinner, frogs' legs and all, in a hotel. From the dining room of one of the hotels, Bob Forbes, Old Boys president, indicates points of interest.

Senate Approves Experiment Of Having Cabinet Ministers

OTTAWA, June 21 — (CP). — The Senate experiment of having Commons Cabinet ministers enter the Chamber to introduce legislation will be revived next session, says Senator Wishart Robertson, Government Senate Leader.

It was tried once this session, when Transport Minister Chevrier explained the bulky Bill to redraft the Canada Shipping Act.

Senator Robertson, father of the idea, says plans were made to have other ministers introduce Bills, but were delayed.

The purpose of the change is to redistribute the parliamentary load more equitably between the two Chambers and to hasten the lgislative process.

Income Tax

The Commons is expected to debate the government's new Income Tax Bill next Friday.

The new Bill abolishes many of the discretions now left in the hands of the Minister of National Revenue. It provides for the establishment of an income tax Appeal Board to hear appeals against income tax assessments.

To bring an appeal before the Board, the taxpayer will have to deposit only $15. A $400 deposit is required to bring a similar appeal before the Exchequer Court.

Newfoundland

In the event that Newfoundland votes to enter confederation next month, Canada is planning to send a mission to that country to look into the question of the future of its defence facilities.

Choice for the head of the mission is reported to be C. M. (Black Mike) McEwen of Montreal, who as an Air Vice-Marshal commanded the All-Canadian No. 6 Bomber Group in Britain during the Second World War.

PAUDASH LAKE, June 21 — (ENS).—John McCracken, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Wright McCracken, is very fond of small animals. He hoards cookies and scraps of all kinds to feed the chipmunks which come to the back door of his home and eat out of his hand.

Recently, he came back for more crumbs to feed "a lot of lit. the chippymunks" and his mother followed him to the door, where she was amazed to see three baby skunks eating John's offerings.

Mr. and Mrs. McCracken are now wondering how to discourage the baby skunks from returning for more scraps before they come of age.

85,000 hp. Generator Proves Big Attraction To Citizens As CGE Holds Open House

The multitudinous CGE motor family in all its members down to the pony sizes that do light domestic chores silently greeted some thousands of Peterborough citizens who accepted the company's open house invitation on Saturday.

The visitors saw in the fractionel motors department juniors of ⅛ of a horse power that keep home fires burning by automatic operation of furnace blowers. Nearby was the ¼ h.p. motor that does the family washing, untiring successor to the old tub-scrubbing board combination. Probably these juveniles were recognized apart from their eventual and familiar appliances.

Larger Group Of Motors

A more robust group is born in the induction motor department. They range from approximately ¾ h.p. up to 500-750 h.p., with heftier ones in the background. The adults of the whole family are put together in the synchronous motors department, the full-sized machines that are required for all kinds of industrial jobs throughout the country, steel mill drive, mine hoists, paper mill grinders, lumber mills, flour mills, in fact in all manufacturing plants, a vast field of major utility. From little to big, the motors turn electrical energy into mechanical energy. As obvious example, the motor in the washing machine is driven by electricity of water power origin, delivered through the Hydro-Electric and Utilities Commission lines into the household, and that electrical energy is converted into mechanical energy. The housewife turns a switch and the machine works. And that is typical of all the motors that come out of those big CGE departments. They deliver power where it is needed.

In another category of original power source is the diesel oil-burning engine. Theirs is mechanical energy which can be transformed into electrical energy through a generator and back to mechanical energy by means of a motor. An industry beyond Hydro-Electric power transmission can hitch a diesel to an electric generator, and then can put its electric current to whatever uses are required—light and power.

Bell Telephone probably keeps diesels as standbys to switch into their lines in an emergency of a cut-off in Hydro-Electric power. The diesel engine that is coming into greater use on railways develops mechanical power that is turned into power through a generator, and back to mechanical power by a motor, as a means of conveying the original energy to the axles of the engine.

500 Different Sizes

Motors, generators, switchgear, these are the separated but allied branches of CGE through which directive sight-seeing lines were indicated for the guidance of the public in Saturday's tour of the acres of buildings.

One of the bits of information heard along the way was that the induction motors department can turn out more than 500 different sizes and types of its specialty.

In the big machine shop where they make electric generators there was an 85,000 h.p. job on the floor. That one is big enough to supply the electrical requirements of three cities the size of Peterborough. The plant is replete with contrasts. Some of them have been merely mentioned in the motor departments. This perambulant observation of the tour of the shops could not begin to delve into details of production and planning, the science and technics of this huge electrical industry.

GENERATOR PROVES

MORE LIGHTS NEEDED

Although the number of traffic lights have increased to such a point that motorists are jokingly saying that driving around Peterborough is as bad as trying to get down the Danforth in Toronto when the lights are against you most citizens who drive a car admit that yet another set is needed The corner of Aylmer and Hunter Streets at rush hours, especially, has become a sort of nightmare for the motorists going east and west.

COMPLAIN OF GARBAGE

Somehow the gas was turned on and fumes rapidly spread throughout the house.

LOOK AFTER PHEASANTS

More than a thousand pheasant pullets will be released in late June and early July by the Elgin Fish and Game Protective Association. The young pheasants will be given a "gentle" release which means they will have to scratch for their food and locate it under branches. This is to train them to fend for themselves when they are given outright release.

LARGE MARKET SATURDAY

A large outside market was reported on Saturday. Prices were: strawberries, 40 cents a quart; chicken, 38-40 cents a pound; eggs, 45-48 cents a dozen; asparagus, 30-35 cents a bunch, and some old potatoes at a maximum of $4.50 a bag. There were lots of cut flowers; better class peonies sold for $1 a dozen, and they went well. Lettuce, radishes, green onions and a number of box plants were also popular.

Farm Laborers Not Available; Haying Started

"Scarcity of farm labor in this district was never so serious as it is right now, at least in my experience," said W. H. L. Mellis of the federal employment service this morning.

"We must have had about 100 farmers in here Saturday looking for help, and we simply hadn't anyone to send them. We may get some relief from the west, but right now I have no definite assurance that any men are coming here. They may be coming, and we haven't heard about it yet."

Reports of county agricultural representatives in nearly all parts of the province, referring for the last two months to this increasing plight of agriculture have been using the qualifying word "desperate."

The haying season is at hand with every prospect of a big crop, and there is no extra help to call up.

"Some of the westerners told me last year they wouldn't be back again because the wages they received here were away less than the money the eastern helpers got when they went west to help take off the grain," Mr. Mellis said. "They told me the easterners were paid up to $7 a day and board, and all they had to do was work at the grain, but lads from the west were paid here $70 a month and board and they might have to do any kind of work around the farm including all the stable work. I am only mentioning one of the comments they made to me.

"In regard to our local situation the demand for labor has held up so strong and steadily that we have no one getting employment insurance except some elderly men all the way from 65 years to 75 and 78. Factories have been busy and have been taking men and women, the bush work requires as many as usual, and to make the long tory short we have had work all along for any men who were willing and able to do it. So, there has been no help for our farmers from the local standpoint. How they are going to handle the harvest is more than I can imagine right now."

Effects Found DVA Patient

Personal effects of a DVA hospital patient here two years ago were recently found intact by Mr. A. English, 743 Dufferin St., in clearing up debris of the fire that levelled the buildings.

The patient was J. L. Ireland now of Smithfield, Ont., and the incident was related to the Examiner by Mr. John I. Adams of the CGE staff who said the papers and other articles had come through effects of the weather in good condition. The two CGE men got the address of the former patient, wrapped up the articles and Mr. English forwarded them The reply was as follows:

Dear Mr. English:

Your letter and package containing my service badge and papers arrived yesterday, to my surprise and pleasure. I am very grateful for your thoughtfulness and kindness in sending them to me. As you surmised I was a patient at the DVA hospital in Peterborough at the time of the fire in Nov. 1946

At that time I was assured by the hospital officials and some of my friends who searched ruins of that part of the buildings that all my possessions were destroyed. The things you forwarded to me are the only ones I received. so you can imagine how pleased I was. It is a fine thing to know that a veteran is so thoughtful of another veteran that he will take the time to do a favor like this I wish to extend to you my sincere thanks.

The Wrong Address

G. H. Roper, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A., said today that Donald Culp, who gave his address as the Y.M.C.A. at the police court on Saturday morning when fined for a liquor offence, had never lived at the Y.M.C.A., but had only spent two or three days there several months ago.

Today Is The Longest Day Of The Year Summer Solstice Marks End Of Spring

This is Canada's longest day of the year, June 21, with the arrival of the sun above the tropic of Cancer. The year has reached its midway. In the school books its was the beginning of the summer solstice, a period of a few weeks when the sun appears to loiter at its northern bound before turning back in its beat toward the equator.

Petals of the syringa bushes are beginning to fall as did the flowers of the apple and cherry trees and more recently the bloom of the spirea. Ox-eye daisie dapple green fields that are left out of the planning and calculations of farmers.

Today both the year and the moon are at the full. Last night the moon and Jupiter kept company across the southern sky their golden light subdued to the duller burnish of copper by the thin haze of smoke in the higher atmosphere from the bush fires in northern Ontario. Continuing presence of this smoke of disaster in a vast acreage of woodland was noticed Sunday in a film upon the sun and also in the sweet pungency of burning cedar and spruce. By night the moon seemed to reflect the fire of the last month's burning, casting a depressing sense and shadow of inestimable loss of the timber resource of the whole community of Ontario.

WILL SPEAK TONIGHT — Miss Edith Elliott of the Consumers' Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, who will speak to housewives and others at the Collegiate auditorium tonight on home canning methods. She will show colored movies to illustrate her remarks and display containers.

Charges Man Set Fire To Park Building

The preliminary hearing was held today on a charge of attempted arson laid against Ernest McFadden, 32, 336 Braidwood Ave. He was bailed for trial.

Giving evidence, Ross Moncrief, 248 McGill St., said that about 9 p.m. on June 9 he saw smoke coming from a building on the south side of the Exhibition grounds, and entered the grounds through a hole in the fence to investigate.

When he entered the grounds, he said he saw the accused coming towards him from the direction of the smoke. Going to the building, he said there was a fire large enough that he could not stamp it out. His evidence was substantiated by Mrs. Margaret Westwood, 256 McGill St. Moncrief put the fire out.

A statement made by McFadden to Constable Gordon Trennum and Det.-Sgt. W. Clark was ruled inadmissible by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C. Clark and Trennum both said that the statement was given voluntarily.

Magistrate Philp said that the accused would go on trial before the next court having criminal jurisdiction. McFadden was released on bail of $500.

Car Hits Train Two Injured

A car owned and driven by Norman Moffatt, RR 9, Peterborough, with passenger Jean Jackson, 433 Wellintgon St., Peterborough, crashed into a CNR switch engine at the Concession St. Crossing, Lakefiedl, on Saturday evening at 7.15. The car struck the right hand side of the engine's cow-catcher, was carried along for several feet but did not upset. Both received several cuts on their faces and were attended immediately by Dr. H. G. Gastle who had them rushed to St. Joseph's hospital. The car was a complete wreck.

C. D. Ferguson, of Toronto, was conductor and the engineer was Martin Fox, of Lindsay. The engine and tender were pulling of the switching spur on to the main line where the body of the train was waiting to be hooked up and taken south to Peterborough. The engine was creeping along the spur and over the intersection when the collision took place The engine was brought to a stop in its own length.

The two passengers were released from hospital Sunday afternoon after 24 hours of attention and observation.

48 Club Members Attend Camp Party

First young adults camp to be held in the Peterborough district took place last week-end when the 20-Plus Club went to Camp Inglestane on Stony lake. Forty-eight members of the club attended the highly successful venture, which was organized by Dave Hatherley, Hilda Northey and Annabeth Riedel, of the YWCA staff.

Sunday morning, a special open air service was conducted by the Rev. C. A. G. Spence, of Apsley Don Gynane organized a camp fire on Saturday night and Howard Dunphey ran the dances on Friday and Saturday evening Bill Piercy was in charge of archery, badminton and volleyball.

Also assisting in the organization of the camp were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lupton, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pruner, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kirkwood and Gordon Minty, aquatic director of the Y.M.C.A. A similar camp is to be held next September.

42 New Homes Underway In Minden-Haliburton; Tourist Area Flourishing

Haliburton is enjoying an unprecedented building boom not only in new resorts and summer cottages but in new homes. At least 30 homes are in the course of construction at Minden village, which straggles the Gull River, 50 miles north of Lindsay on Highway 35. At Haliburton village, 15 miles east of Minden, 12 new homes have been started.

Further indication of the importance and development of this vacation district is shown by the arrival of two building contractors who have taken up permanent residence in the area. W. Bailey, who formerly operated a construction firm at Niagara Falls, has formed the Haliburton Construction Company with headquarters at Minden. Already he has men employed on several new cottages. W. S. Holland, formerly of London, has sold his lumber and construction business in that city and is now operating in Haliburton. He has three houses underway at the foot of Head Lake, on the outskirts of the village.

A new laundry is now doing business a mile west of Haliburton, but so far there are so signs of a dry-cleaning establishment. All such work goes to Lindsay, 50 miles away.

Mrs. Edith Walsh, Minden, is building a tea room, and there are two snack bars being built, one at Carnarvon, by William Irwin of Niagara Falls.

Haliburton Ski Club headed by Robert Bishop, has leased the hill at the north end of the village, and an electrically operated ski tow will be set up. The slope will be graded this summer and skiing will be started next winter.

Six long distance telephone lines have been completed from Haliburton to Fenelon Falls, and once the Bell Telephone makes the connections on their own lines there will be none of the former delay and embarrassment caused by inadequate telephone service. Plans are underway to build telephone lines from Haliburton to Wilberforce, Tory Hill and Gooderham, bringing this essential service to the three villages for the first time.

The high voltage power line from Stony Lake has now reached Haliburton, and spur power lines will be extended to Wilberforce, Tory Hill and Gooderham before the year is out.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. J. Maher of St. Michael's Catholic Church, Cobourg.

The bride wore a grey wool suit with navy blue trimmed grey hat, navy blue shoulder bag, navy shoes and wore a corsage of pink roses. She was attended by Mrs. Eugene Bolster, wearing a mauve dress and mauve hat. Her flowers were a corsage of pink roses. The groomsman was Mr. Eugene Bolster. They will live in Cobourg.

Barbara Stuart Is Bride Of Norman B. Courtney In All-White Wedding Scene

Tall standards of white daisies and peonies banked in the chancel of St. John's Anglican Church were the background for the all-white picture wedding on Saturday in which Barbara Anne Stuart and Norman Blythe Courtney pledged nuptial vows. The bride is the only daughter of Lieut. Colonel Claire H. Stuart, E.D., and Mrs. Stuart, and the groom is a son of Mrs. N. S. Courtney and the late Mr. Courtney, all of Peterborough. Archdeacon C. W. Balfour performed the ceremony.

Mr. F. C. Mann played the wedding march and beautiful organ selections. Simple floral decorations were at the altar and guest pews were marked with daisies tied with white satin bows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and attended by Miss Evelyn Roberts of Brantford, as maid of honor, and Miss Barbara Cook of Peterborough as bridesmaid. The groomsman was Mr. Jack Brown and ushers were Robert Stuart, brother of the bride, and Robert Rooke.

A heavy white satin gown, designed with charming simplicity, was the bride's choice for her wedding. The slim skirt had a fishtail peplum at the back, ripping to a point at the hemline, and the monlded bodice was cut out in a square at the neckline and had tight wrist-length sleeves. She wore an heirloom with carved gold chain and turquoise stone, worn by her grandmother, Mrs. Tarleton Cuffe, at her wedding. Princess Elizabeth veiling, falling to finger - tip length, formed a shirred cap that was trimmed with lily of the valley, and she carried a white prayer book with gardenias and bouvardia and white satin streamers.

The bride's attendants were frocked alike in white dotted Swiss, fashioned with full skirts on a short-sleeved bodice with sweetheart neckline. Large flowers of yellow organdie tied with blue velvet ribbon peeped beneath shirred peplums that came from the centre front and formed old-fashioned puffed bustles at the back. The touch of color was accentuated with picture hats of yellow organdie, roped in blue ribbon velvet and yellow mittens, and they carried fans of cornflowers and yellow carnations.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Stuart chose a gown of blue faconne, a hat created of tulle in rainbow colors and a shoulder bouquet of orchids. Mrs. Courtney wore grey crepe with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses and sweet peas.

Following the reception in St. John's Parish Hall, the couple left to spend a honeymoon in the Haliburton Highlands. For going away the bride donned a navy bengaline dress with wide-brimmed crownless hat of navy felt and navy accessories, and carried a short topcoat of red wool.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney will live in Peterborough.

MRS. ALICE J. SPENCER observed her 89th birthday last Saturday at her home in Havelock. She received the congratulations of many of her friends who were delighted to see her in such good health.

CGIT Re-affiliate With St. Paul's WMS

Re-affiliation of the CGIT group with the Missionary Society was a highlight of the meeting of St. Paul's Auxiliary WMS. Friday in the YWCA recreation room. Those taking part in the service were Mrs. C. G. Boyd, girls' organization secretary for the Presbyterial; Mrs. C. Alex. Sollitt, union organization secretary of the St. Paul's Auxiliary; Misses Ruth Curtis and Doris Johnston, CGIT group leaders; Miss Norma Ball, secretary, and Josephine McMeekin, Joan Chamberlain, June Freeman and Jean Smith, CGIT members.

Mrs. Boyd explained the work of the WMS and the meaning of affiliation of CGIT with the senior body. Mrs. Sollitt led four girls in devotional exercises, and at the close of the candle-light service pinned the badges of affiliation on their sleeves.

The topic, "Formosa," from the study book, was discussed by Mrs. Boyd. Her account of the life and work of George Leslie Markay, first missionary to Formosa, and of the work among the "head hunters" was very interesting. She also showed slides of "Formosa Today" with some great cities, untouched by war, and with some almost shambles from bomb destruction. Miss Grace Veals operated the projector.

Mrs. D. T. Diplock presided at the meeting, and thanked Mrs. Boyd. Miss Jean Smith voiced the appreciation of the CGIT for kindness of the WMS. Miss Joan Chamberlain was pianist for a closing hymn.

Refreshments were prepared by a committee with Miss A. Little as convener, and the CGIT girls served.

Doyle-Maloney Vows Pledged In Marmora Church

MARMORA, June 21 (ENS)—A pretty wedding was solemnized at Sacred Heart Church, Marmora, at 9 a.m. on Saturday, when Marjorie Berneta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Maloney, Marmora township, became the bride of William Joseph Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Doyle, Marmora township. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. Pickett. The church was beautifully decorated with pink and white peonies and other spring flowers. The wedding music was played by Miss Rita Deacon, and Mrs. H. Brady sang Gaunod's 'Ave Maria' and "O Salutans". The children's choir sang "On this day, O Beautiful Mother".

Her veil of embroidered silk net, ending in a slight train, was held in place by a coronet of bridal blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses and lily of the valley.

Theresa Doyle, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, wore a gown of daffodil yellow with brocaded taffeta top and nylon marquisette skirt, Miss Margaret Doyle, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, wore a gown of aqua marine with brocaded taffeta top and nylon marquisette skirt. Marion A. Hope Married In Presbyterian Ceremony

Decorated with large baskets of early summer flowers and fern, the Presbyterian Church in Westwood was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday afternoon when vows were exchanged between Marion Aline Hope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Hope and William Percival Adamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adamson of Keene. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles G. Boyd of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Peterborough. The organist, Miss Doreen Graham, played traditional wedding music, and accompanied Miss Clarice Atkinson as she sang "O Perfect Love" while the register was being signed.

The bride's father gave her in marriage and she wore a gown of French imported satin, fashioned on simple lines. The fitted bodice had a scalloped insert of faconne crepe, and the high neckline was rounded. The skirt fell into a short train, and her finger-tip veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of American Beauty roses and bouvardia.

Mrs. James McBride of Peterborough, was matron of honor for her sister and Miss Mary Brealey was bridesmaid. They wore similar gowns of embossed organza de soie in blue and yellow, fashioned with off-the-shoulder neckline, puff sleeves and deep peplums over over full skirts. They wore matching flower bandeau and lace mittens.

Little Jane Mortlock was flower girl, wearing a dainty frock of pink organdie with matching net headdress. Each attendant carried a nosegay of mixed roses and sweet peas.

Mr. William McIntyre attended the groom, and Dave Hall and Raymond Hope were ushers.

A reception was held in the Green Room of the YWCA where Mrs. Hope received the guests wearing grey crepe, navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother whose dress was of pale printed crepe, the accessories were white and her corsage also of pink roses.

During the reception the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. James McBride of Peterborough, sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

Mr. and Mrs. Adamson left later for a motor trip through eastern Ontario, and plan to stop at points along the St. Lawrence river. The bride was wearing a grey suit of fine wool crepe, black accessories and a corsage of red roses. On return they will reside at Keene.

Avoiding Home Quarrels When Husband Drinks

Dorothy Dix

DEAR MISS DIX: We are three sisters who live in a house of discord and unhappiness. We cannot recall a day when there has not been a quarrel between our father and mother. He drinks heavily and has ruined my mother's life and has caused the entire family deep humiliation.

The result is that are all getting morbid and pessimistic. What can I do to comfort my mother and sisters and get myself out of this bog of woe?—UNHAPPY GIRL.

ANSWER: Perhaps if you girls would talk the matter over frankly with your mother and make her realize how the atmosphere of your home is ruining your lives, you could work out some plan that would at least lessen the gloom that darkens your girlhood.

If your father is a habitual drunkard, there is practically nothing that you can to do change him. He probably is a victim of his vice and cannot escape from it if he would, so you will have to accept him as just one of the fixed facts you cannot alter.

Give Soft Answer

But your mother is in full possession of her faculties and she can refrain from quarreling with him and precipitating daily scenes that make your home a place of strife and turmoil. It takes two to make a quarrel and if she will refuse to be party to one, there will be no dispute.

I grant you that it is pretty hard to give the soft answer that turneth away wrath to a drunkard. It requires a lot of forbearance to keep from telling him what she thinks of him, and it takes real heroism to refrain from telling him of all that he has made her suffer.

But it can be done, and it seems to me that a mother should be willing to make the effort and the sacrifice to save her young daughters from having their whole lives darkened and saddened by the quarrels that are perpetually taking place in their home.

Parents seem to think that their quarrels concern themselves alone, but in this they are sadly mistaken. The father and mother fighting like cat and dog are a profound shock to their children which colors their whole lives, often causing them nervous disorders from which they suffer as long as they live. And this is a pretty high price to pay for the daily family spat.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am an attractive young man of 23. Dress well, am a liberal spender and I am most popular.. While I like women fairly well, I cannot endure their running after me. They are constantly calling me on the phone asking me to take them places and I am sick unto death of them.

What's to do, Miss Dix? I really need help.—JOHN R.

ANSWER: No matter how nimbly a woman runs after a man, he can always outsprint her if he really desires not to be caught. The trouble with men like you is that while they do not wish to be caught, it tickles their vanity to have the poor things kowtowing before them and they haven't the heart to take themselves entirely out of reach of the hands that clutch at them.

However, if you really and truly want to rid yourself of the parasites, just cut off your telephone, sell your car and decline their inivtations. They will soon take the hint and pass you up for an easier mark.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My boy friend's mother will not allow him to take part in football games because she is afraid her baby will get a scratch or two. In fact, she will not let him take part in any athletics for fear of his getting hurt. This attitude on his mother's part is turning her son against her. Can you blame him?—MILDRED.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: No mother makes a greater mistake than when she ties her boy to her apron strings so tightly that she keeps him from all clean, healthy, normal sports of youth. Every healthy boy is bubbling over with energy that has to find some expression, and the wise mother is the one who gives her son all the freedom and pleasure that she can. No mother's darling who is reared a milksop and who is kept in cotton wool for fear he might get a bump or two ever amounts to anything in the world. He can't stand the gaff when he meets real life.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, June 22

The energies and faculties are under excellent stimuli for creating and putting over large and important projects or objectives. This will occur in such a dynamic manner as to attract cooperation from influential sources disposed to push with capital and initiative in worthwhile propostions. While strenuous and aggressive tactics may give sturdy impetus to creative urges, yet misplaced confidence, curious entanglements or sinister intrigue may undermine most ambitious endeavors. Keep alert to all such subtlety and treachery.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may stand at the brink of a most productive and constructive opening for large enterprise, with talents, energies and spirit of initiative keyed to high performance. This will be evident to such degree as to win the practical support and financial backing of those in high places. But an element of trickery, fraud, bribery, or strange propositions may result in loss, distortion, or intrigue, finally reaching the public ear. Be alert to all sorts of suspicious circumstances, entangling alliances or traps.

A child born on this day is energetic, aggressive and zealous for important endeavors, but may be easily victimized by putting trust in treacherous, queer or designing personages.

THEY WENT THATTAWAY—King George seems to be pointing out something of interest to the evident amusement of Queen Elizabeth (both above) as they sit in an open landau during the pageantry of the Royal Ascot race meet. The opening of this year's meet was highlighted by the new look in ladies' fashions and recaptured some of its pre-war glory.

Meals To Carry With You When You Eat Outside

With hot weather the desire for outdoor meals becomes preponderant. Call a meal a picnic, whether it is on the back porch, in the nearby park or deep in the woods and everyone will be enthusiastic. The small fry enjoy the freedom from formalities of a picnic but any meal in the fresh summer air is soul-satisfying to most adults as well.

If the picnic is planned in advance, it is a nice gesture to make things that are special favorites with the family. If the idea for the picnic comes an hour or so before meal time and the basket must be packed in a hurry, the lunch may be just what would have been served in the dining room. It is well, however, to have a few prize packages on hand and ready for such emergencies.

Sandwiches are always good picnic fare. Fillings which may be made ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator are excellent summer standbys. There are also many fillings which are made from supplies on hand such as eggs, cheese, left-over meat or poultry mixed with a good dressing. Picnic sandwiches should have generous amounts of fillings.

Cookies for picnics may be large and thick rather than thin and dainty. Cup-cakes are also well adapted to picnic menus. They may be cut and filled with either a sweet or fruity filling. This way they carry better than when the icing is on the top.

Home economists suggest a sandwich filling, a special bread and a cake that will satisfy all comers to the picnic.

Western Europe Soon Begins Military Talks

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP). —Representatives of the western European countries soon will begin military talks with United States defense chiefs.

Officials said the conversations in a sense, would be based on the United States Senate-approved resolution drafted by Senator Arthur Vandenburg (Rep.-Mich.). It put the Senate on record as favoring United States support of regional defence alliances where they served this country's security interests.

One such regional alliance is the still-developing western European union of Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

These countries have laid down plans for broad political, economic and military co-operation which the United States government hopes will provide the nucleus of a united states of Europe.

The prospective talks will give the American high command its first information on the results of the defense of Western Europe studies.

It is expected that political talks will follow eventually. The objective will be to associate the United States with the union in someway that would assure the members of United States support in event of armed aggression.

Any such defence agreements would have to come within the framework of the United Nations and be approved by congress.

MORE ABOUT—

But, reverting to contrasts, the shaft of one of the small induction motors is about an inch in diameter, a foot or more in length and weighs a few pounds. But the rotor shaft of one of the mammoth generators may be 28 tons or 34 tons, forged in Sheffield, by the English Steel Corporation. Visitors unaccustomed to the interior of the big machine shop probably were amazed at these huge parts that have to be designed, tooled, tested. The forging of that gigantic cylinder of steel would probably be an interesting story in itself.

Fred Collins, operating bill mill in the machine shop, pointed out a series of micrometers. They appear to be used in measuring diameters of shafts, in this case the shaft of a giant generator. The series extend from one inch to 42 inches, and are used in determining the exactness of diameter required. One big job called for a tolerance of .0005 (1-2000) of inch. A spectacular 40-foot boring mill was working on a stator frame of one of three generators that are being made for a power plant at Shawinigan.

Visitors saw the progress that has been accomplished on the steel skeleton of the new building that is being erected for the increased space and equipment that is needed for the expansion of this heavy department in which the largest machines are manufacturned.

Huge Spark Gap

Visitors wandered through the switchgear department, virtually an industry in itself, probably unaware that they knew more about the principle of switches than they realized. They are turning them on and off in all their homes. That button in the living room wall is of the same family of switches as the switchboards that are being put together for use in the power producing plants.

Householders have noticed at times a little spark after turning off the switch in the 110 volt current that is wired into their homes. Saturday's visitors saw the brilliant, snapping flash of a 200,000 volt current jumping like a minor display of lightning across a wide gap in an arranged display. It was different only in degree from the domestic spark on a switch that probably needs some repair. It signifies a tendency for the electric current to persist in its course. The switch is a current-breaker and the greater the voltage of the current, the greater the engineering job of doing something about it. They have to provide for the after-effect of the interrupting of that flow of the curent, also for faults or surges in a circuit. The commonest protective agency is the fuse in every domestic circuit. It burns out with shorts and surges, or whatever the current fault may be.

The big black-painted tanks the visitors saw in the switchgear department are oil-breakers that are hooked up with switchboards on the heaviest transmission lines generally as a means of preventing gap-flashes. They have to do a fast job in interrupting a current.

Those who noticed the great quantity of punchings that are used in the assembly of most of the induction motors probably came away with new appreciation of the punch press department. The assembly line method of production in induction motors was pointed out to the Examiner step by step by Harry Helson and Leo Collins, but it is entirely a procedure that requires objective demonstration.

Most people may not know that the CGE have maintenance department of 70 employees and machine repair in the same building with 50 or 60 or more. They do all kinds of jobs around the plant that can be conceived under those headings of maintenance and repair.

Chief Art Parker has his own building for the shop's volunteer fire department of 24 men. Their equipment includes 35 hydrants placed in and around the property, 6,500 feet of 2-in. hose, 1,800 feet of 1½-in.; 560 portable hand extinguishers, and their water system has two pumps, one steam and one electric, apart from the city's pressure.

"We are always ready to cooperate with the city any time we are needed," Chief Parker said, "and Chief Smith drops around every now and then to keep in touch with [illegible]."

The brig[illegible] has an hour's drill every two weeks. Then, there is the power plant that heats the buildings and provides steam for various uses through the industry. It employs 20 men under Wm. Gaskin. They have three boilers to attend to, and can turn up 32,000 hp for auxiliary production of electric power. Their coal pile is 25,000 tons a year.

This looking around the big plant does not wish to overlook the highly important tool department where tools and dies are made. One machine was working Saturday afternoon, fashioning the die for the door of a new design of refrigerator. There is also a grounds crew who look after the lawns and the rest of the property, and last but not least it should be said that the sweepers evidently do a thorough job. Floors were attractively clean, and the entire housekeeping was plainly a recommenadtion for those who look after that important aspect of shop management.

The order has, of course, caused untold hardship to those who were en route to Berlin when the order was issued. Chinchilla Breeders Name Officers

The Trent Valley Chinchilla Breeders Association held a meeting recently at the Department of Agriculture, 164 Hunter St., to discuss the business of the association and to elect a new executive. J. R. Turnbull was re-elected president, G. F. Milliken as vice-president, F. G. Leahy as secretary-treasurer, G. R. Schwab and M. G. Martin as directors.

Mr. Turnbull spoke of the wonderful progress made by the association and the gratifying increase in membership during the past year. A constitution which was previously studied by the members was again presented for discussion and adopted, a copy of which will be forwarded to the National Chinchilla Breeders of Canada. G. R. Schwab, G. F. Milliken and F. G. Leahy gave a judging demonstration on chinchillas and explained the points of quality preferred by the leading fur judges in Canada and the United States, when selecting animals for pelts and breeding purposes. Mr. Schwab also gave a very interesting talk on the proper method of increasing the quality of chinchillas by a well-planned program of selective breeding as done by other livestock breeders.

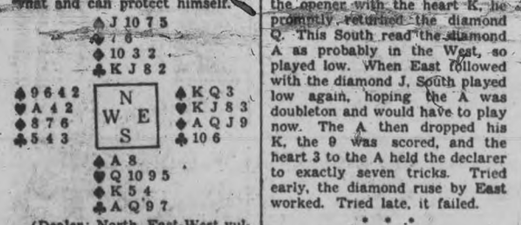
EARLY AND LATE PLAYS

SOME plays are essentially late ones, which should be postponed as long as possible in order to obtain maximum information first. Among these are finesses which a declarer may take in either direction. Other plays should be tried at the earliest possible chance. Chiefly these are efforts to steal a trick before the other side has too much information. Most of these efforts depend on an illusion which could not be created at a late stage, when the intended victim knows what's what and can protect himself.



(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	1 ♥	Dbl	Pass
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT

Considerably different bidding came on this deal at the various tables of a pair duplicate, but the two tables which brought South into 1-No Trump furnished a most interesting contrast in the play after West led the 2 of his partner's hearts. At both tables East won that with the K. Then came the variations.

In one instance East returned the heart 3, South's 10 falling to the A and the 4 coming back to the J and Q. That South led to the club K, offered the spade J and won the covering Q with the A. The spade 8, 9 and 10 went to the K and the diamond Q was returned. South here could read easily that West almost surely did not have the A. He had already shown the heart A and, if he had another topper he would have been certain to bid. So South won with the K. He followed with the club A, club J, spade 7, club Q and heart 9, then gave up a diamond at the end, having scored a couple of overtricks.

At the other table a canny East put one over on South. Winning the opener with the heart K, he promptly returned the diamond Q. This South read the diamond A as probably in the West, so played low. When East followed with the diamond J, South played low again, hoping the A was doubleton and would have to play now. The A then dropped his K, the 9 was scored, and the heart 3 to the A held the declarer to exactly seven tricks. Tried early, the diamond ruse by East worked. Tried late, it failed.

His life is a beautiful memory,
His death is our silent grief.
He steps in God's beautiful garden,
In the sunshine of perfect peace.
So leave him in God's keeping,
The rough road safely o'er,
And the one we loved so well
Has only gone before.

Westclox Move To Front With 13-7 Win

Westclox took over first place in the Girls' Softball League at the Bowl last night when they defeated Marines 13-7 before a good-sized crowd. It was their seventh win in as many starts and Marines' first reverse of the season. The hitting was about even but Marines fielded badly to come up with nine errors as Westclox had none. M. Downer fanned two and walked four, while E. Whittaker struck out two and issued two free tickets. N. Kennedy went in in the sixth and whiffed nine while walking three.

For the winners, N. Whetung, returning to action, and M. Hawthorne looked good defensively, while B. Larmer and M. Connolly were the pick of the losers. M. Hawthorne led her side at bat with a triple and two singles in five tries, as M. Connolly had three hits in five for Marines, and B. Larmer smashed out two homers. Both sides started off strongly but the runs tapered off in the late frames.

The teams:

Marines—V. Mitchell, 3b; M. Behan, ss; B. Larmer, c; A. LaPointe, 2b; M. Downer, lf; M. Connolly, cf; M. Cheel, rf; H. Stephenson, rf; M. Hill, 1b; S. Curtis, 1b; E. Whittaker, p.

Westclox—A. Anderson, cf; B. Morrow, ss; J. Vass, 3b; M. Hawthorne, c; N. Whetung, 1b; V. Dorsett, 2b; B. Rome, lf; J. Hardy, rf; N. Kennedy, rf; M. Downer, p.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Another one of those popular men's doubles tournament is on the program for next Friday night. Here's the set-up: A skip and a lead or a vice and a second, fee $1.00 a pair. Should there be more than 24 entries, a sixth prize will be added. Give your entry to C. Mowry.

Tomorrow evening at 7.30 o'clock there will be a mixed rink tournament. Draw from the board.

As far as we know, there are no entries yet for the provincial playoffs. There are three competitions — singles, doubles and rinks.

Well over three-score and ten bowlers took part in the first stage of the club singles held Monday evening. Some of the boys played two games and when you consider each game goes to 21 points, that's a lot of bowling.

As is always the case, where so many games are under way, at one time, there was some real high class bowling and some not so good. All three greens were in use and it made a real picture, especially when the lights were on and if you were standing up on Monaghan Road and looking down over the greens.

The next stage in this contest is set down for Monday, July 5.

Groups No. 1 and No. 2 of the men's section continue the schedule this evening.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Folks must think we belong to that breed known as fight experts. As they keep asking us who is going to win Wednesday. We haven't the haziest, but will stick the neck out and pick Joe Louis. Maybe within six rounds, at that, as we figure Louis has to win fairly fast or Walcott will take him over the route. If we're wrong, we won't be alone as most of the so-called experts—guys who have a chance to watch both in training and have seen them in other fights—are naming the champ this time, despite his close call when they met before. And the odds are favoring Louis. The gamblers usually aren't too far out. Anyway, we like Louis in this one.

The intermediate Lakeshore Baseball League game betwixt Petes and Whitby on latter's diamond was called off last p.m. for some reason or other. And now Newcastle plays Jack Billingsley's Petes at 6.15 in Riverside Park tomorrow night. A regular loop fixture, with the return joust in Newcastle on Saturday. Don't know who will do the home hurling, possible Armour or Sullivan, but it ought to be a pretty fair tussle. The locals have lost a few players this semester and haven't done as well as they'd hoped but will be meeting a club they should take on the morrow. Some good ball has been seen lately in the Lakeshore League.

* * * * * *

Off For Two Games

Arrangements were completed whereby the senior Petes play a COBL double-header in Kingston tonight, with the Locos back here for a twin bill on July 1. Eddie Murphy's bunch then have to play in Oshawa tomorrow night and back here Saturday. It looks like a busy week for his only two available twirlers, Loucks and Edger. Dalton says he can pitch, too, and we wouldn't doubt it—he fits in so well everywhere else! Joe Stewart may be out all season with that injured knee. His doctor is to let him know this week-end what chances he has of getting back in the game this campaign.

* * * * * *

In men's softball at the Bowl tonight, Comstock's play the Knights at seven, followed by Legion and R-E Combines. At the moment, Comstock's and Combines are tied on top, with Legion next and Knights last. Anything is liable to happen in this twin duel, if the weather is okay, and two scrappy struggles may be expected. At that, there may be several absentees in the lineups as the baseballic members of these clubs make the trek to the Limestone City for COBL play. But not too many of them. On Thursday eve, Comstock's play Legion, while Knights mix it with Combines.

Clockers In Front

Westclox defeated Marines 13-7 and Ashby's won from Lindsay 6-1 in girls' softball struggles at the Bowl last gloaming in two neat numbers. And now the Clockers, who have Nona Whetung back in the fold, are alone in first place ahead of Marines, while Ashby's have moved up into a third-place tie with the CGE-ers. Lindsay are next just barely ahead of Lakefield, while Woollens and Lock Co. aren't far behind. Those perennial champs, Westclox, are gradually building up and will be tough to stop this semester again, but the race is by no means a runaway. Wednesday tussles are: Ashby's vs. Westclox, and Lock Co. vs. the Electrics.

* * * * * *

Breaking out in a rash of base-hits in the final frame last p.m. in Riverside, the westend juves took a City Baseball League squeak o'er northenders 14-13. After trailing throughout. It was loose as six apples in a barrel but a nice one to take and a toughie to drop. The southend midgets meet East City at Riverside tonight while the east peewees play westenders at the Ex. at 6.30. The N-E juveniles have an exhibition in Cobourg on Saturday aft following our junior Bees' tilt there. The Bees and the N-E juves drill tomorrow at 6.30 p.m. in Morrow Park, while the westend juveniles practice there at six that evening.

Gutted-Stick Setup

Local senior "B" lacrossers are off for Oshawa tonight, and the scribe there predicts they'll find the strengthened Motor City squad mighty tough onions this time on the arena floor. Petes then ca- rest a few nights before they meet Brampton's "A" crew here in Friday exhibition at Miller Bowl. Meantime, two juvenile jous- -the-thic e'en, commencing at seven. Scouts play Comstock and players who have been ordered off the fie.d will appear ....Whip Watson, who wrestles here on tomorrow's card, said the Marvel—whom he unmasked briefly a week ago—looked like King Kong Cox....We stand corrected — Joe Watson of the Peterborough Club holds the nine-hole Haliburton course record, going around in 30 two years ago.... Civic Arena canvassers' meeting at 7.30 p.m. Thursday in the Council Chambers; no excuse now for not kicking in when canvassers call as the rink is started...Stan McBride speaks on the civic arena at 5.45 tomorrow p.m.....Church and industrial softball games go again tonight....Grafton's beat Firemen and Nicholls Cartage took Post Office in civic play; tomorrow, Police meet Bankers at King Edward Park and Bell Telephone tackles Busmen at Armour Field at seven.... Club 72 and the R-E Combines have a men's Bowl exhibition Saturday night to aid the rink....Bowmanville edged Cobourg and Newcastle beat Colborne in intermediate ball while Whitby Jrs. took Cobourg 7-5...Junior Aces walloped Lindsay 12-0 in exhibition ball....And Omemee took Lindsay Brakeshoes....All.

Hutton Children Can Act Betty Decides

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 22 (AP).—The old cry of "I didn't raise my girl to be an actress," doesn't go with Betty Hutton. "That's a lot of slush," says she.

"I've 'had a ball' being in show business all my life. I've met the President of the United States and I could meet the King and Queen if I went to England. In what other line of work could I do that? And why shouldn't I want my daughter to get as big a kick out of life?"

Betty said she doesn't intend to force her children into the acting profession. The desire has to come from within them. So far, Lindsay, 19 months, has shown theatrical tendencies, but Candy, six weeks, hasn't yet displayed much acting talent.

Betty started in the hard way—dodging vegetables at amateur nights in Detroit 3.2 beer gardens.

Today's Feature: Nostalgia Alley

Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray are doing their seventh film together, "Family Honeymoon." It hasn't always been a winning combination, Claudette observed, citing "Maid of Salem," one of her two flops (the other: "Zaza.") "It was awful," she said. "I remember how Fred and I danced the minuet in an apple orchard, looking like a couple of jerks . . ."

Mary Astor gets a twinge of nostalgia playing Marmee in MGM's "Little Women." Her first job was a lead in the same opus for a Chicago Stock Company—Ray Bolgert, who dances with Marilyn Miller (June Haver) in "Silver Lining," never appeared with the great dancer, but he recalls practising a few steps with her in her kitchen years ago. They were going to appear in "On Your Toes" together. Three days later she died . . .

WHAT WELL-DRESSED OLYMPIANS WILL WEAR—Here are the official uniforms that will be worn by the men and women of the U.S. Olympic teams when the 1948 Olympiad opens in England. The women's outfit consists of navy-blue flannel jacket with Olympic shield on breast pocket and special Olympic buttons, grey flannel skirt; white tropical skirt, white wool, sleeveless sweater, banded with red, white and blue at the neckline; tailored white broadcloth blouse; natural poplin hat with Olympic emblem, and nylon hosiery. For the men: navy bue flannel blazer with Olympic shield and buttons; grey flannel slacks; white tropical slacks; white wool sleeveless sweater, banded in red, white and blue; white oxford shirt; silk tie, red, white and blue striped; natural poplin hat with mblem, and navy blue leather belt with silver buckle that bears Olympic emblem.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Gerard Cote, the St. Hyacinthe marathoner who will represent Canada at the Olympics next month, is picked to finish fifth in the London long-distance event by Dean Cromwell, head coach of the United States Olympic team. Cromwell made the prediction in Popular American magazine.

Slugging Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cards holds a 33-point margin over Tommy Hughes of Boston Braves in the latest averages of the National League batting race. Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia Phils is next in line with .344. Andy Pafko of Chicago has .341; Wally Westlake of Pittsburgh .338; Sid Gordon of New York .333; Johnny Blatnik of the Phils .331; Carl Furillo of Brooklyn .325, and Frankie Gustine, Pittsburgh .321.

Thumpin' Ted Williams of Boston Red Sox went on a hitting rampage last week to host his American League batting mark to a gaudy .411, 42 points higher than runner-up Lou Boudreau, of Cleveland. Al Zarilla of St. Louis Browns holds down third spot with .342. He is followed by Bobby Brown, New York, .340; Johnny Lindell New York, .331; George Kell, Detroit, .320 and Hoot Evers, Detroit, 3.19.

Marjorie Row of Riverside, Ontario, shot in 85 Monday in the qualifying round of the United States women's western open golf tournament to land comfortably among the top 32 scorers at the Skyerest Country Club in Chicago.

Quakers Defeated By Drafting, 7-6

CGE Drafting edged out Quakers 7-6 last night in a nifty Industrial Softball League encounter. Hinton hurled six-hit ball for the victors while his team got 10 off Shine, who fanned four, as Hinton whiffed a dozen, though he walked eight to two by Shine. The fielding was pretty even. Shine and Wesenberg each got two hits for Quakers, and Whatley had a pair for CGE, one a triple. Teams:

Quakers: Lomax, c; Hay, 3b; Fisher, lf; Dixon, cf; Mantel, ss; Kingdon, 2b; Ash, 1b; Horton, 1b; Wesenberg, rf; Shine, p.

Drafting: Doughty, c; Bedford, 2b; Correll, 3b; Whatley, rf; McCurrach, 1b; Quigley, ss; Greatrix, lf; Murduff, cf; Hinton, p.

Ashby's Climb With Win Over Lindsay

Turning back Lindsay losers 6-1 at the Bowl last evening, Ashby's climbed into a third-place tie with CGE in the Girls' Softball League as Lindsay dropped back. Ashby's finished strong with four runs in the last two spots to break up a nifty ball game. They had an 11-8 edge in hitting and the fielding was quite even, walks and timely clouting toward the end swinging the balance. And an Ashby double play, off a late threat by Lindsay, and a catch by P. Richard were fielding features. Six of the losers went down on strikes and but three of the winners.

D. Callan and B. Manley turned in a good fielding game for the victors, with P. Graham and H. Hunter best for the other team. D. Manley and E. McFadden topped Ashby's with the willow, getting three safe blows apiece. M. Dawkins and D. Hunter of Lindsay had two safeties each, one of the latter's being a two-bagger. It was a good game to watch throughout.

The teams:

Ashby's: E. McFadden, 2b; J. Reynolds, c; E. Simmonds, 2b; M. Freeman, lf; G. Dracup, cf; D. Callan, rf; P. Killen, 1b; B. Manley, ss; D. McFadden, c; B. Reid, p.

Lindsay: H. Deyell, 2b; A. MacDonald, lf; D. Hunter, c; P. Graham, 1b; D. Madill, 3b; G. Woods, ss; P. Richard, rf; M. Dawkins, cf; J. Bryan, p.

Westenders Take Juvenile Victory

In a loose juvenile City Baseball League game last night in Riverside Park, the westend squad pulled out a 14-13 victory over the north juveniles. The latter had a 13-6 lead when the winners went on an eight-run rampage in the seventh to yank out the decision. Walks, hits and errors combined in wild fashion to account for the rally. Each side used two twirlers and there were plenty of miscues with the winners having more of them than the other side. The winners also had more hits. Grainger and Griffin had three hits each for the west, and Bradley got three for the others. A dozen of the losers went down on strikes.

North: Manbeck, Bradley, Wilson, Morgan, Pollack, Carseth, Buckton, Hanwell, Nicholls, Fontaine.

West: Robinson, Corkery, Allen, Berwick, Moore, Griffin, Grainger, Killingbeck, Doria, Kerchen.

Umpires, Borland and Holyman.

Former World's Boxing Champion Sharkey To Handle No Time Limit Team Match

If that Brock Arena ring holds up when the Tag Team Match goes into high gear to-morrow night the fans are apparently due to see the biggest night of grappling action of the whole season. Former world boxing champion, Jack Sharkey, will officiate between the team of Whipper Watson and Earl McCready and the team of Lee Henning and the Masked Marvel.

Pat Flanagan

When the fearsome foursome tangled last week the badmen won but in the melee afterwards the Masked Marvel had his mask ripped off and for several minutes he was uncovered except for the protection his hands could give.

Tomorrow night there will be no time limit and with Sharkey riding herd there seems a pretty good chance that the big feud will be settled for good. In any case this is definitely the last match of the season. If the Mask is finally de-hooded he will have all summer to pretty up his mysterious countenance before the fall season begins here.

Mike Sharpe comes in against Dangerous Dan O'Connor and Pat Flanagan will meet Jack Moore to start off the wind-up card of this season.

Sauer Ties Homer Record As Reds Nip Phillies 4-3

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hammering Hank Sauer, in his first full year in the major leagues, gave promise today of blossoming into the greatest home run hitter in Cincinnati baseball history.

The 29-year-old outfielder yesterday tied a club record for the most home runs hit by a right-handed batter when he blasted his 20th four-bagger of the young season. The blow enabled the Reds to nip the Phillies 4-3 in a night game in Philadelphia.

Until yesterday, Ernie Lombardi, in 1939, and Frank McCormick, in 1944, were the only righthanded batters in Cincinnati's long history to hit 20 home runs in one season.

Sauer, who now is one up on Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner for the National League home run leadership, needs 10 more to tie the club record by any batter. Ival Goodman, a southpaw swinger, slammed 30 home runs for the Reds in 1938.

Cards Triumph

Alpha Brazle bested Warren Spahn in a brilliant southpaw pitching duel to give St. Louis Cardinals a 1-0 victory over the league-leading Braves in a night game in Boston.

The Braves, however, maintained their 1½-game margin on the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates who were defeated by the Dodgers in night game in Brooklyn 5-2.

Ralph Branca, Dodger right-hander, allowed the Pirates eight hits to register his eighth victory of the season and his sixth in a row. Branca also snapped a four-game losing streak for the sixth-place Dodgers. Jackie Robinson got two of the Dodgers' five hits off losing pitcher Vic Lombardi.

Allie Reynolds, who came to New York in a trade with Cleveland, pitched the Yankees to an easy 13-2 triumph over his former Indian mates in a night game in Cleveland. The victory cut Cleveland's first-place lead over the Yankees in the American League pennant race to 2½ games.

The Yankees accumulated 18 hits. They included home runs by Joe DiMaggio and George Stirnweiss. It was DiMag's 15th.

Three consecutive doubles after two were out in the last half of the ninth inning drove in four runs and gave the Browns a 9-8 victory over Philadelphia Athletics in a night game in St. Louis. Joe Coleman, fourth Athletic pitcher, was charged with the loss.

Both Joes Sure Of Winning Bout

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP). — Confidence radiated from both camps today as champion Joe Louis and challenger Jersey Joe Walcott enjoyed a brief lull before their 15-round heavyweight title bout tomorrow night at Yankee Stadium.

"I'll get him quick," was the cold prediction of the Brown Bomber, who announced this 25th defence of his crown will be his "last" ring outing.

"He's ceady" was the tag handlers put on Walcott, the amazing comebacker who almost snatched the title last December.

Odds favoring the champion remained firm at 5 to 13.

Ticket sales continued brisk but promoter Mike Jacobs' hopes of a $1,000,000 gate appeared certain to fall short. The Twentieth Century Sporting Club is counting on a turnout of around 55,000, a gate of approximately $900,000.

Behrman Leads Royals To 7-3 Win Over Bears

By The Associated Press

Although he prefers to pitch for Montreal Royals, big Hank Behrman continues to demonstrate that he could be of use to the parent Brooklyn Dodgers.

Behrman was recalled by the Dodgers recently but when he voiced his preference for the Royals the Dodgers left him with their International League affiliate.

The 26-year-old righthander turned in his eighth victory of the season last night, pitching the first-place Royals to a 7-3 conquest of Newark's Bears. He has lost only two games.

The triumph increased the Royals' margin to 1½ games over the Bears.

Syracuse's third place Chiefs turned back Rochester Red Wings 4-2 although collecting only three scratch hits off southpaw Ken Johnson. Johnson was wild, walking nine men and four of them figured in the Syracuse scoring.

Buffalo Bisons continued their heavy slugging, trouncing Baltimore Orioles 10-4. The Bisons collected 11 hits including round-trippers by Anse Moore, Larry Barton and Johnny Groth.

Scoring four times in the ninth inning, Jersey City Giants snapped a 6-6 tie and beat Toronto Maple Leafs 10-6. Sal Yvars' three-run four-master was the big blow in the Giants' winning rally. Oscar Judd of Ingersoll, Ont., making his first start since hurling a no-hitter against Syracuse on June 14, went the distance for the Leafs while Tex Kraus worked the complete game for the Giants.

Lewis Bird Retires Honored At School Picnic

On Saturday afternoon the North Monaghan Grove School and community picnic was held on the banks of the Otonabee River. It was under the joint auspices of the Home and School Association and the Athletic Society. Members of the committee in charge were Mesdames W. Sheppard, E. Drury, W. Wood, and H. Bowler and Mr. D. Brown, Fred Sanders, Eric McKinstry and Jim Joiner.

A well-stocked booth manned by Mesdames J. Coit, W. Heard, A. Johnston, L. Bird, C. Barnes, B. Smith, E. Drury, Miss V. Rose and Mrs. Neil, Mrs. Dowdell and Mr. L. Bird was most popular.

Mrs. Fred Sanders, the president of the Home and School Association, was general convener of the grounds.

Special thanks were offered to Ben Smith, who gave his time and truck to convey the tables, equipment and supplies for the booth to and from the grounds.

During the afternoon presentations were made to three members of the teaching staff who are leaving. Addresses were read to Mr. L. Bird by Mrs. E. McKinstry and to Mrs. L. Bird and Miss V. Rose by Mrs. J. Coit. Mrs. W. Sheppard presented each with a gift.

Mr. Lewis Bird, who has been principal of the Grove School since its beginning, was the recipient of two books. Mrs. Lewis Bird was given a cup and saucer, and Miss V. Rose, teacher of the junior room, received a china pin.

Free tickets were distributed to the children for use at the booth and for motor boat and horseback rides. Two motor boats operated by Walter Wood and Wm. Higgins did a booming business. Those assisting at the landing were Mesdames J. Joiner, W. Wood, E. McKinstry and H. Bowler.

Mrs. Wm. Higgins lined up the rides for the two saddle horses, which had been rented for the afternoon.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 22 (AP)—Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer and acting president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), said Monday night the union has rejected a wage offer by the Ford Motor Co. He said the company's offer to raise wages 11 to 14 cents an hour "does not meet our requirements."

WOODSTOCK, June 22 (CP)—In a day long hearing in which six of 17 witnesses were heard by C. W. Casky, deputy fire marshal, Toronto, in a public inquiry here Monday into the fire which destroyed a warehouse and contents in East Oxford last November, "In my mind it was definitely a case of arson."

Teresa Heath, N. Gilmour Win Top Picnic Awards

The Field Day held on Sacred Heart Church grounds on Saturday, sponsored by the Home and School Association, proved a most successful day and will long be remembered by the pupils of Sacred Heart School.

The grounds, gaily decorated with many colored flags, showed signs of much previous preparation. A variety of events for all age groups were run off without delay or interruption.

Valuable prizes were proudly carried off by many of the children. Two special trophies donated by Robert Creighton for the girl and boy with the highest number of points, and presented by J. Creighton, Sr., were won by Teresa Heath and Norman Gilmour.

There is one chance of getting a new coal agreement before the miners' vacation starts. Judge T. Alan Goldsborough has announced he will rule tomorrow on major points involved in the Miners' Welfare Fund legal tangle.

Cruiser Pilot Annoyed At Poor Service

It's a case of water, water, everywhere and not a drop to drink for American cruiser tourists who spend months of winter planning for a vacation jaunt through the Trent Valley water system, especially in the city of Peterborough. Last June there wsa a great to-do when A. R. Lindsley of Miami, Fla., experienced trouble in getting his cruiser's fresh water tanks filled at George St. wharf. The city officials, with red faces, rushed to correct the situation; there had been a pipe line installed five years ago before from the Utilities supply point on George St., to a spot on the wharf site, property of the Department of Transport.

The branch line was out of working order, it had frozen through lack of care, so there was no water last year and there is still no water this year. What is a poor tourist to do?

R. O. Roberts of Rochester, N.Y., in his cruiser Roma V, resorted to the elementary technique of hiring small boys with buckets to fill the ship's tanks as she berthed overnight in Lakefield on Monday night at the foot of Smith St.

'Is this all the service you can give tourists?" asked one of the passengers as he watched a long line of young lads struggling from a well a block away with heavy buckets. He was told that the village had no water system and that it was the only service it could offer. Did he try getting water at the Lift Lock? Yes, but they had no fresh water pipe.

Mr. Roberts and guests, Mr. and Mrs. George Babcock and Mr. and Mrs. McKellar, left Rochester a few days ago and will cruise as far as Georgian Bay and back to arrive at their home port on July 10. Last year he toured the Rideau chain. Everyone at the dockside wished Mr. Roberts a pleasant trip and voiced hope that they would see him again next year. He did not say he would be back and from his silence one wondered if he felt Canadians really wanted him.

NEW BLEACHERS IN USE—The above shot was taken Saturday before the ball game in Riverside Park and shows some of the fans sitting in the new bleachers put up there by the parks committee. Music Teachers Hold Garden Tea

The home of Mrs. G. Wilson Craw, 774 Aylmer St., was the scene of a delightful garden tea held by members of the Ontario Registered Music Teachers' Association on Monday afternoon.

The association president, Mrs. Ross Williamson, assisted Mrs. Craw in receiving the guests into the garden, where the lovely lily pool and rockery provided a charming setting around which the guests grouped themselves.

Mrs. Ford Turner presided at the tea table, and the social convener, Mrs. Charles Allen, assisted by Mrs. Keith Braund, Mrs. Holman and Miss Margaret Widdess, served delightful refreshments.

Wallace Point Club Plans To Buy Two War Canoes

The Wallace Point Canoe Club held its first meeting of the year on Monday night with quite a large attendance. Presentations of Red Cross awards, junior and intermediate pins and certificates, were made by Mr. A. Payne of Millbrook Red Cross, and Mrs. J. Forbes of Peterborough Swimming Club assisted. The Wallace Point Canoe Club, which always had a large percentage of seniors, had 80 juniors last summer, and most of these passed their swimming tests, enabling them to begin canoe lessons.

This summer the swim program will again be sponsored by the Millbrook Red Cross, and transportation to and from the swimming area will be taken care of by the Millbrook Lions Club.

Miss Joan Patterson, qualified Red Cross instructor, and members of the Peterborough Ornamental Club, will also instruct at Wallace's Point this summer with Mrs. Forbes and Mr. Herb Cardwell. Classes wil be held two nights a week.

Plans were discussed to raaise money for the purchase of two war canoes and it was decided to have a raffle and a dance in the near future.

The officials of the Wallace's Point Canoe Club are Mr. Herb Cardwell, president, Don Forbes, vice-president and Craig Eason, sec.-treasurer.

Those who received the junior rewards were Jane Stinson, Marilyn Palmer, Peter Crowley, Arthur B. Dawson, Colleen Dawson, Mary Jackson, David Stewart, Dorothy Jackson, Audrey Jackson, Jane McEroy, Donald A. Stewart, Betty Slattery, and Marina M. Armstrong.

Successful in the intermediate tests were Robert Cardwell, George H. Cardwell, Marjorie Crowley, Lorena M. Crowley, Lois M. Jones, Phyllis L. Jones and Anna B. Johnston.

CDS Gives $200 To Civic Arena

Fourteen volunteer typists are busy every night this week preparing lists for the canvassers who will work on the drive for funds for the Civic Arena.

The girls recruited by Dick Oulmet and Stan McBride will move into the second lap of their work this evening, and it is expected they will have the lists completed in time for the final campaign meeting Thursday night. Mr. McBride reports he has obtained pledges of co-operation from 25 workers from the Western Clock Company, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Canadian Legion and the Lions club have all promised to provide quotas of canvassers.

Latest donation came from Herb Jamison, manager of the CDS store who handed the committee a cheque for $200.

The meeting Thursday starting at 7.30 is slated for the headquarters on George street, and at this meeting it is hoped to set the three days believed required to cover the city in the final canvass. Volunteer canvassers are badly needed, and to date only the one service club has shown any indication of giving the arena canvass a boost.

Charlotte St. pedestrians will no longer have only the music of their own footsteps to listen to. One thoughtful resident of this street has set three cages of canaries on his verandah. At noon on Monday they were singing merrily.

FLIES ARE SCARCE

Lumbermen and fishermen are pleased to report that black flies and mosquitoes appear to be fewer in number this year. At this time of year the hungry pests are usually at the height of their attacks and for some unknown reason their ranks have been thinned.

[illegible] gram to Wm. J. Hickey a license for a used car lot on the east side of Stewart St. immediately north of the service station at the Charlotte St. corner.

The committee had mentioned a temporary license to the end of the year, but in presenting the finance report Ald. M. J. Swanston, chairman, moved its adoption with the omission of the licensing clause.

"I think the council has been generous in handing out used-car lot permits, especially in that area," said Ald. Grant Miller. "Property owners in that neighborhood have been improving their houses, and I move that Mr. Hickey's request be refused."

Ald. Dodds seconded the motion. Sentiment of the council agreed that a used car lot detracted from values of nearby property.

"If a store was built there," said Ald. Sands, "I can't see that the neighbors could do anything about unloading. The sooner people know where the planning zones are the better."

City Clerk Outram said Charlotte St. was zoned as a commer[illegible] [illegible] property on Stewart St.

Refused Others

Supporting the motion, Ald. Herbert Young commented: "We refused licenses for lots on George St. that were in the commercial area."

Ald. Swanston explained that last week when the application was considered he understood that Mr. Hickey had the service station on the northwest corner of Stewart and Charlotte streets. "I found out that was not the case. I don't think the Stewart St. lot is big enough or the street wide enough for used car purposes. Residents of that neighborhood realize that they are on the fringe of the business area, but they have improved their properties and have added value to the location. I don't think a used car lot would be an asset to the neighborhood. Besides, I think we should notify British-American company that his lot should be cleaned up. They have let it grow in weeds."

A motion by Aldermen Raine and Armstrong asked town planning committee to survey that area and submit a recommendation to the council.

Soft Drink Firm Wants To Buy Industrial Site

Coca-Cola Ltd., interest in buying the former Denoon property at the southeast corner of Erskine Ave. and Lansdowne St. as a factory site was referred to its industrial committee by the council last night.

The property comprises about six acres. It was bought 18 months ago from Kenneth Denoon with money voted by the people for the acquiring of prospective industrial properties.

City Clerk Outram said the company was not an industry "in the true sense." It was hard to find other suitable properties, and they were now coming to the council seeking a site "which the council should seriously consider before selling."

"I don't see any objection to it," said Mayor Ovens. "I told them to write the council."

Mr. Outram commented that the council was not in the real estate business. "I don't know where they could get such a suitable highway site for $3,500. That is just what we paid for it. What worries me is that we could have sold the property months ago. We had eight or ten enquiries for it. One was from a bread company who wanted to build there. Now, if we sell to Coca-Cola these other people are going to think that we held out on them and did not treat them fairly. I don't see why we should make a gift of it to Coca-Cola."

"I think the Clerk is right," said Ald. Swanston. "There are very few good sites left. Coca-Cola is a good company, and will put up a nice building, but I think the public would like to see a company that employed more people."

Ald. D. Miller said they gave employment that supported 25 families.

Ald. Raine: "I understand they employ 30 at their present plant."

Ald. Swanston: "If the council wants to sell, then open it up for bids."

Ald. Anglesey: "We're not prepared to say how large the plant would be and how many they would employ."

Ald. Dodds: "They are already here, and if there is any chance to help them I think we should do so. It's like a new industry locating here."

Ald. Grant Miller remarked that if the council was going to sell the Denoon property, it should get highway value for it.

The proposal which was phrased in the words that the property be made available for purchase by Coca-Cola Ltd., was sent to the industrial committee on Ald. Sands' motion, seconded by Ald. Armstrong.

750 On Holidays

Wednesday night, June 30, will see quite an addition from Peterborough among the throng of vactioners at resorts, cottages and on trips. The whole 750 employees of The Western Clock Co., with the exception of a minimum maintenance staff in the office and shipping department, leave for holidays. 60 per cent. of the staff are girls, and practically all of these will be spending vacations at resorts.

RAIN NEEDED

Recalling the favorite and undiluted corn of the late Roland Denne, this afternoon's rain should spoil a lot of little strawberries, swell them to sizes that require fewer to the box. Comes the sun after this long delayed moisture, and the berry crop should look like one of those bright pages from a seed and nursery catalogue. The price eased Monday to 35 cents in some spots and 34 in others, good looking fruit, too, without benefit of thte rain the farmers and gardeners have been expecting for weeks. Potatoes, pastures, timothy, asparagus and spinach should take on a new look before the end of the week when today's sprinkling hits the spot.—H.T.

MAYBE HE LIKES HORSES

Half a dozen boys, not far beyond the short-pants stage, were intently watching the various events at the recent Horse Show held in the Exhibition Grounds. Excitement touched fever pitch as the end of a race approached. Suddenly the familiar sound of a fire siren broke in above the hubbub of the crowd and the firetruck wheeled east along Lansdowne. Immediately a large number of the gang left their seats and ran to see where it had stopped. One of them whipped back as fast as he could to the sole remaining member of the gang who was watching bug-eyed as the horses went into the final stretch. "Hey, Johnny," said the breathless messenger, "you're house is on fire." Johnny kept his eyes on the track and said: "That's all right—Mom and Dad are there."—D.W.

Camp Kawartha To Open July 3

An executive meeting of the Camp Kawartha organizing committee was held at the YMCA on Monday evening, when a final check was made of the program equipment and stores prior to the opening of the camp on July 3.

Registration is filling up rapidly, but there are still vacancies for the first two weeks and last two weeks of camp. To date, local registrations and out-of-town registrations are about equal.

The camp counselling staff have received a training course through talks and discussions with N. C. "Cooks" Munro, Donald Duncan and A. J. Hill. Gordon Minty has instructed them in water safety and life saving techniques. Jack Richardson gave a lecture on the use and care of boats, and Cecil Osborne lectured on outboard motors.

The counselling staff will consist of George Phillips, Alastair Fettes, Bob Jameson, Ted Cuffe, Jim Cary, Roy Armstrong, Jerry Lane and Peter Bailey. From out-of-town there will be Bill Nixon of Windsor, Ron Bisset of Port Hope and John Duhan of Brantford.

Council Suggests $13,632 For O'Connell Property, Owner Asks For $21,000

Acceptance of $21,000 for his south-end property which the city is about to occupy for the construction of veterans' houses was proposed by John T. O'Connell in a letter to the Council Monday night. The city's ideas of value of the property was suggested in a motion by Aldermen Armstrong and Raine to offer $13,632 to Mr. O'Connell and $4,208 to Mrs. Mary Scott, administratix of the W. G. Scott estate, for a smaller area in the same district.

Ald. Armstrong said the city's proposed price was $4 a foot frontage, an offer being made for annexation proceedings. He said it was arrived at from various purchases the city had made in the last six to 12 months, generally around $3 to $3.75 a foot.

Mark St. Church Not Opposing Service Station

Application of McColl-Frontenac Oil Co. for a permit to build a service station on the lot west of Mark St. United Church was referred by the council last night to the Board of Works for discussion at its meeting next Monday night.

This property was considered several years ago as a neighborhood theatre site, but that project stirred objection of the congregation of the adjoining church. City Clerk Outram reported that he recently informed its officials of the new interest, and enquired whether the church wished to buy the land. The answer was to the effect that officials were not interested and would not oppose the service station.

Hunter St. east is zoned in town planning as a commercial area.

Ald. Doug Miller said of the lot near Mark and Hunter Streets that it appeared to have a potential value in keeping with the rest of that business area now being enlarged by two blocks of stores. "I don't think a service station would add to the business attraction of that locality."

For the purpose of "looking into the matter a little further" a Swanston-Sands motion to refer the proposal to the board of works carried.

"I think it should go to town planning committee first," said Ald. Herb Young.

"I'll draw it to their attention," Mayor Ovens said.

Legion Holds Final Meeting

Invitations were received from the Lindsay branch to attend the opening of its new club rooms on July 1 and a rally on Warriors' Day, July 10 to be held in connection with its Old Veterans' Home Week. Other invitations were received from Cobourg to attend a district drumhead service on August 1, during a four-day civic celebration, and from Frankford to attend a memorial service and parade on August 15. Women Shoppers Saving Pennies As Prices Rise

By DOROTHY CAREW

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP).—Women are counting their pennies these days.

They still are buying the things they need for their families, themselves and their homes, but they aren't frittering away any of the family income.

Shortages have all but disappeared. This means there are more places to spend money. As a result each expenditure must be weighed carefully.

So women are going back to basement stores in droves, they are cutting corners where they can. Mothers of small children and infants have revived the art of hand-me-down in answer to the high cost of children's clothes. That leaves more money for other needs.

Business observers generally give this picture of where the housewife currently is spending money:

On funiture—if she finds what she wants at what she considers the right price. For this reason furniture clearance sales have been wellreceived.

Selective Buying

She is buying good quality bedding and moderately-priced rugs. In linoleum she is inclined to bypass the low-priced types in favor of better grades.

Clothing of all types is selling if the consumer feels the price is right, an International Statistical Bureau spokesman said. He added, however, that "soft goods are suffering from diversion of money to durable goods."

The housewife is buying porch furniture and moderate priced tableware.

But she is not spending her money currently on vacuum cleaners, expensive coffee makers, oriental rugs and decorative household goods to any extent.

In radios, small appliances and many other types of goods the consumer's reluctance to buy has resulted in price concessions, trade observers said.

Julian Elfenbien, editor of the home furnishings division of the Hare Publications, trade magazines, said reactions from retail buyers at the recent housewares show at Atlantic City were that inventories were backing up because of consumer resistance to high prices.

"Small electrical items are moving, but major appliances are not moving in volume," Elfenbien said.

Good Grooming Will Boost Morale, Make Home Happier

Dorothy Dix

From various statistical reports I gather that more and more men are frequenting beauty shops and spending millions a year on having themselves furbished up. Certainly the world will be a more attractive place in which to live when every man counts his calories and takes up improving his appearance in a serious way.

And why shouldn't men pretty themselves? Goodness knows they need it. Most of us need to circumvent Nature and supply through art the deficiencies that she has left out of our make-up. But while women have always painstakingly, and with suffering and prayer and fasting, striven to make themselves easy upon the eyes of the public, men have been content to remain as they were created.

Women endure the agony of starvation in order to retain a girlish figure. The undergo the tortures of being scalped to have a permanent wave put in their hair. They spend far too much thought on the lines and colors they can wear.

But men cheerfully let themselves get bay-windowed. They make no effort to camouflage their bald pates. Why they devote so little personal intelligence to their appearance, nobody knows. Sometimes one thinks it is because they have so little vanity that they never look in a mirror. Perhaps it is because they are so superhumanly conceited that they consider themselves so ravishingly handsome just as they are that they don't need any aids to their beauty.

Romance At Stake

One of the main things that makes wives tired and causes them to wonder why they married the ones they did is because they get weary of looking at a husband who looks like something that came off the bargain counter. We are constantly advising a bride that if she wants to keep her husband she must keep herself tidy and fresh and sweet and clean and all dolled up, and that no love will survive soiled kimonos and run-down-at-the-heel slippers and cold cream.

It is all true enough. A woman who looks as if she needed to be run through a washing machine is a repulsive object, and no one can blame the man who turns his eyes away from her to one who looks like she had just stepped out of a bandbox. But it doesn't seem to have occurred to the man, who is so critical of his wife's looks, that she is equally sensitive to hsi, and that she doesn't any more enjoy spending an evening looking for a fat man with a two day's stubble of beard on his face that he would contemplating a fat woman in a dirty housecoat with cream smeared all over her face and neck.

So when men begin to keep themselves fixed up for their wives and come home all shaven and shorn and spruced up in clean attire, as they used to do in their courting days, why, it is going to usher in a glad new day in domesticity and stop a lot of divorce.

And certainly it is going to brace men up and put fresh energy and more pep into them to devote more time and money and thought to beautifying themselves, for there is a great moral support in knowing that we are looking our best.

For Wednesday, June 23

The danger of treachery, duplicity, loss and scandal holds over, menacing important plans and objectives in which higher-ups are vitally interested and ready to advance toward events of major proportions. Such seem beset by subtle undercurernts of a fraudulent, subtle, and curious nature, difficult to put the finger on. However, this craftiness or collusion may so distort affairs as to reach the public ear, resulting in ill-report, gossip and discredit, in personal as well as business affiliations. An alert and prudent course of action might defeat such baneful machinations. Be wise in making all contacts.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may feel the drive of heightened energies and a keen spirit of initiative urging them on to [illegible] or the launching of bold projects, possibly in new fields or in experimental lines, and the weight and potency of such aggressiveness may attract ambitious supporters. Herein lies a danger of wrong judgments, misplaced concidences or unfortunate alliances, serving to circumvent, defeat, and involve the individual in eventual scandal and material loss as well. Keep all moves and contacts open and above board and avoid damage.

Municipal Group Plans To Raise $500 A Share

KIRKLAND LAKE, June 22 — (CP).—Three men were appointed as a committee Monday to find the easiest and quickest way to raise $500, the sum of which will be the share of the Ontario Chapter of the Municipal Finance Officers' Associations in the formation of a joint organization.

The committee, comprised of W. W. Gardhouse, treasurer, York County; F. F. Weldon, clerk treasurer, Victoria County; and L. J. Macpherson, auditor, Kingston, is the first committee nominated at the three-day convention of municipal officials which opened Monday.

It was learned that a gathering of four provincial bodies will be held in Toronto Friday to discuss the possibility of joint action for the development of practical study material for those in municipal office.

The four associations which may join together for this purpose are the Association of Rural Municipalities, the Association of Assessing Officers, the Ontario Municipal Association, and the Ontario Chapter of the Municipal Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada.

Professor J. Crawford of Queen's University, Kingston, acting as secretary of the convention, said there were a number of elected officers and members of municipal staffs who would like to learn more about their jobs.

He said proper study material will be compiled to assist those individuals to get a better grounding on municipal government and affairs.

Council Throws

Another clause (5) affirmed: "Any such shops which have been open and have maintained complete 24-hour emergency road service for 365 consecutive days prior to April 1, 1948, shall be entitled to obtain a permit to remain open 24 hours a day of every day of the year so long as such shop continue to maintain a complete emergency road service."

The bylaw was to take effect June 30. Penalty for infraction was a fine not exceeding $50 for each offence.

Toward the end of the council's discussion of the bylaw, Ald. Sands asked what would happen if it was not passed. City Solicitor W. F. Huycke answered that the Attorney-General of Ontario might take action against the city.

John A. Russelle, one of the dealer opponents of the bylaw, told the council two of the signatures were no longer genuine because those men were out of the gasoline business. However, it transpired that they had pumps when the petition was signed. Mr. Russelle said five or six of the major proprietors on the petition were interested in the selling of automobiles, parts, repair work and painting and bumping. Gasoline sales stood fifth on their business list.

Infringes On Rights

Some of the objections presented by those who were against the bylaw were that it infringed on their right to work in their own interests, that it was legislation aimed at a minority of dealers and was thereby undemocratic, that tourists during the long summer season arrived often during the night and needed gasoline here to continue to their destinations.

Mr. Fair emphasized the Examiner's editorial disapproval of the bylaw, representing the voice of the whole community and of the service to tourists "whom we invite here and we expect to give them what they require".

"There is one man here who has a gasoline station near Club Aragon," Mr. Fair said. "He is within the city, pays large taxes. Across the road is another service station in the township, and it will be able to run all night, but this bylaw would close up the city man if he wished to stay open during the night.... The majority of our own public want gasoline stations open at night so they can fill their tanks when they need it. They have a right to stay open and if there was a vote taken on it you get 999 out of every 1,000 to say yes."

Harry Tudhope, supporting the bylaw, said 87½% of the dealers wanted the early closing. "We have made provision for tourists to get gasoline and service by a rotary system. Stations can keep open until 10 p.m. That is better accommodation than you get from barber shop and other bylaws. This is a provincial law, and all we are asking is that the council put it into effect. It has gone through in Toronto, and it is going through in a lot of other places. All we want is to make working conditions better."

Mr. Fair commented that there must be a demand for gasoline after 10 p.m. "or it would not make any difference, and if there is the demand there should be the service."

Lawyer Explains

As the council moved into committee of the whole for the second reading of the bylaw, Mayor Ovens suggested that City Solicitor Huycke explain its legal sanction and also the position of the council.

"The authority for this bylaw is in the amendment by the Legislature this year to the Factory, Shop and Office Building Act," Mr. Huycke said. "It requires municipal councils to pass a bylaw to close shops if three-quarters of the occupiers ask for it. The council's powers are not unlimited. Councils take their authority under the Ontario Municipal Act. So, the municipal council derives authority from the Ontario Legislature. The Legislature has passed this Act, and as such the duty of the council is to follow the requirements of the Ontario Act.

It is a truism to say that the bylaw restricts the common law right of a man to labor. Ordinarily he has the right to work any time he feels like it. There have been a number of these bylaws. One was passed on the application of hair dressers and barbers. The courts realize that they limit a man's right to work, and they scrutinize them carefully if a case comes to court. So, to find out whether an application is reasonable and in good faith it is required to be signed by at least 75% of the ocupiers of these shops.

Something was said by Mr. Arthur Fair that this Act was ultra vires. There has been a number of cases over the last 30 years. If bylaws were passed under this Act, and if the Act was ultra vires that objection would have been taken before. (The reference to the phrase ultra vires signified that the legislation was beyond the power to compel the passing of a municipal bylaw.).

"The Act is on the statute books," Mr. Huycke said, "and the council has a duty to perform. The Act says a council shall pass a bylaw. It is hardly fair to say that the council is a rubber stamp. After all, the elected representatives of the people passed the Act. The remedy is to turn the Legislature out."

Minority Opposed

"Those who oppose the bylaw are a minority. Seventy-five per cent of the occupiers of the gasoline and service stations have signed the petition. So, it is the duty of the council to pass the bylaw. This application has been very carefully drawn. I understand it was drawn in Toronto. The bylaw, drawn by myself, has followed the application. The council has not the right or the authority to make any changes if they don't think some of the clauses are right and proper."

Mr. Huycke mentioned the case of a Toronto shoemaker who objected to a closing bylaw. "He remained open after the hour required for those shops to close, and he was successful in his complaint. His counsel was able to show that the Toronto bylaw had varied from the terms of the application for closing. So out went that bylaw. I mention that to make plain that the council has got to pass the bylaw as it stands. The council acts on the petition. If some clause does not appear proper, it should be sent back to the petitioners, and they should be asked to make the proper changes. It should be taken up with the people who signed the petition, and an endeavor should be made to show them their wishes are unreasonable. An action against dry goods stores that remained open, contrary to a closing bylaw, was dismissed because the application for the bylaw was not well drawn, and did not follow literally the terms of the Act."

Properly Drawn Up

Mr. Huycke recalled that about 14 years ago a bylaw was passed by the council that was in effect a procedure bylaw, requiring that certain things must be done as condiitons to the passing of a closing bylaw. All those conditions were complied with in the present form of application and the drawing of the bylaw.

Ald. Herbert Young asked whether the council had the right to ask the petitioners to change their petition.

Mr. Huycke's answer was that the council was required to pass the bylaw within one month from the date of receipt of the petition. In this instance the petition was received by City Clerk Outram on June 1, "and 21 days have now passed."

Ald. Anglesey said Peterborough spent money in publicizing this district as a tourist centre at the Cleveland Sportsman's Show. One of the questions frequently asked was whether visitors could be certain of getting food and gasoline when they arrived here, and the assurance was given that they could. Previous difficulty was a wartime measure.

"I asked Chief Constable Thompson about the number of enquiries received at night during the tourist season, especially from people asking where they could get gasoline. He mentioned 25 to 30 a night. It appeared to be that the bulk of that business was on the outskirts of the city. That shows the business is actually there. If we are going to close off that service it seems to me we already have a dictatorship. If a group of dealers want to close, let them do so; if others want to stay open, let them stay open."

Read the Names

Ald. Armstrong asked for the reading of the names of the service station occupants who signed the petition.

Ald. Raine: "The Business Men's Association, the Chamber of the Commerce and the council assumed the expense of our going to Cleveland to attract tourists into the Kawarthas. We changed our slogan from the gateway to the hub of the Kawarthas. I am not holding a brief for any gasoline station, but after spending money to bring people here I feel that we should provide for them the ordinary things they need. I think we should have some of those stations open at night and at least one on the main street, because that is where people generally look for them. We should also have some open on Sundays. As the bylaw stands now I wouldn't feel right in voting for it."

City Clerk Outram suggested as one means of aiming at the desired solution that, after the bylaw was passed, the petitioners could bring in a request for an amending bylaw to provide for the proposed periods during which gasoline and service stations might be open.

"I don't like seeing the bylaw go through," said Ald. Raine, "because we might not get the other one."

After listing the names of the petitioners, Ald. Armstrong came up with the observation "that there must be something wrong with the mathematics of the petition. We were told that there are 47 gasoline stations in the city and 42 signed. That means only five did not sign."

7 Not on List

Ald. Armstrong named seven stations that were not on the list. "I move that the petition be sent back to the legal committee to establish the exact facts."

City Clerk Outram, on that point, explained the procedure of dealing with such petitions. The Chief Constable was asked to prepare a list of all those engaged in the business to be affected by a closing bylaw. That was done, and it then devolved to the Clerk to make public the fact that a petition had been received, and to advertise to all those concerned to call at his office and scrutinize the list, and generally examine the petition. They were asked to ascertain whether names were properly on the list, whether there were some not on it that should be there, and others on the list that should not be there. If there were any objections on these matters, they would be reported to the council. Mr. Outram said all those details had been carried out, but no objections had been received from any dealers during the prescribed time.

Ald. Raine seconded Ald. Armstrong's motion to send the petition back to the legal committee.

"Is that motion in order?" Mayor Ovens enquired. "If it is I would have to call another meeting of the council in a week to pass the bylaw."

Mr. Huycke: "The occupiers of the shops must know what they want. It does not matter that they do not agree with the council in any question of policy about the tourists from the United States."

Mayor Ovens: "I don't think we can do it. As I see it the Act says we shall pass the bylaw, and we have no alternative."

Ald. Swanston remarked that the Ontario government spent annually a large sum to attract tourists. 'Since they passed this Act, the council should go after them. They are as interested in the tourist business as we are."

Ald. Sands: "If we disregard the 30-day permitted for passing the bylaw, what would happen?"

Mr. Huycke: "There is a gentleman in Toronto known as the Attorney-General. It is duty to see that the laws are enforced. He can bring an action against the city if he wants to."

Ald. Armstrong: "We have till the end of the month. We could pass the byla.wnext Monday, and in the meantime we can find out whether there is any inaccuracy in the police count of 47 shops."

City Clerk Outram said he performed all the requirements of giving notice to the gasoline dealers and asking them to state objections to the petition if they had any. "That list cannot be changed unless you change the bylaw."

Just Wasting Time

Ald. Waddell: "We're just wasting our time. If the association wants to get together and draft another petition, that is about the only way out."

Mr. Huycke said any time 30 p.c. of the occupiers were opposed to the continuing of the bylaw in effect the council "may repeal it," and if 75 per cent were opposed then the "council shall repeal."

Ald. Doug Miller, presiding, finally called for the vote on the Armstrong-Raine motion to send the bylaw back to the legal committee. It was defeated apparently by a 5-4 division. The four were Aldermen Sands, Young, Raine and Armstrong.

The next step was Ald. Miller's question: 'All those in favor of the bylaw in its second reading?"

The council split evenly, five ayes and five nays, and laughter greeted the young chairman as he paused to announce his decision.

After a moment, Ald. Miller said he had given the question lot of thought, knowing that it was coming before the council. "Of course I didn't think that I would be in this position. I tried to make up my mind which was the best way to move in the best interests of everybody and the city. I declare the bylaw defeated."

Those who voted for the bylaw were Mayor Ovens, Aldermen Swanston, Dodds, Grant Miller and Waddell; and those against it were: Aldermen Raine, Armstrong, Sands, Anglesey, Young and Doug Miller.

Rule Labor Union Publications Can Take Sides

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP). —Labor union editors dipped their pens in political ink today without worrying about the Taft-Hartley labor law.

The United States supreme court gave its approval Monday by ruling unanimously that the act does not keep Republicans financed by unions or corporation funds from taking sides in a political campaign.

The nine justices agreed that if the law did ban such publication of union or management views, there would be grave doubt as to its constitutionality.

But the court said that there was no need to decide the constitutional issue now since the CIO did not violate the act by endorsing congressional candidate in the CIO News.

With the political campaign gathering momentum, the court ruling left unanswered the question of just how far unions can go in backing candidates without violating the act.

The major labor organizations already have seperate agencies to handle political warchests, which are not covered by the ban. Almost $15,000,000 in contributions is expected from union members.

Among other things these funds would be used to finance a fight against the Taft-Hartley Act and those congress members who supported it.

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP

THERE is such a thing as being a quick thinker and also such a thing as being a thorough thinker. Each attribute has its value upon occasion. But when it comes to opening the bidding, there is really no substitute for adequate mental effort. At that vital stage of the auction, when one has yet to [illegible] tempo for all the [illegible] will pay any player to have the [illegible] estimating his hand from as many standpoints as he can. If he considers opening with a suit bid, when he holds two biddable suits, he should look forward to his probable decision if his partner bids two of another suit which would necessitate his own calling of three to show his second suit. Is his hand good enough for that, or not?

East struggled around in that contract, with just about a queen more than half of the high-card strength on his side, but couldn't quite make it, being down one. With a bit different play, the defenders might have taken more than the five tricks they got, since not a single suit was in really good shape for the declarer.

West's risky bid was his last one. With a hand just slightly above the bare minimum for an opening bid, he should have determined in advance what his whole course of action might be, following the various developments most likely to ensue. If [illegible] his call should be [illegible] to be 2-Spades, he could of course raise. If it was a spade raise, he might try 3-Spades if he felt strong to ascertain if East had a really good raise or a thin one.

But his plan also should have included provision to avoid bidding 3-Diamonds if East responded with 2-Hearts. His call then should have been 2-Spades, which should have been left in by East and probably made despite the bad trump split.

What contrasting styles of play are available if the diamond A is led against 4-Spades by East, and two spades led against 4-Diamonds doubled for South?

Funeral Attendants Capture Fugitive

ROME, June 22 — (AP). — Black-clad policemen carrying flowers and imitating a funeral arrested a fugitive wanted for attempted murder Monday. He had been hiding for three weeks in a grave.

Palermo dispatches said the police, looking for Gioacchino Montesano on charges that he tried to kill his wife and sister-in-law, traced their man to a cemetery.

Day after day they visited the cemetery, dressed in mourning and carrying wreaths so as not to alarm the fugitive. Monday they went to the cemetery.

From 10 feet under the ground, where he had been reclining on the bones of some long-departed residents, Montesano emerged and surrendered.

Three Cases Heard

Police court docket was light this morning, as only three cases came before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC.

W. W. Edgar, a transient, pleaded guilty to charges of illegal consumption of liquor and vagrancy, and was fined $10 and $2.50 costs on the first charge, and $5 and $2.50 costs on the second, or 10 and 7 days to run concurrently. He went to jail.

Wilbert Switzer, Fenelon Falls, entered a written plea of guilty to a charge of speeding and was fined $10 and $4.60 costs.

Clinton Magee, 207 Murray St., was fined $5 and $2.50 costs for failing to produce a driver's license.

Mountbatten Leaves India Self-Government Complete

NEW DELHI, June 21—(AP).—Earl Mountbatten retired as Governor-General today and free India's self-rule by her own people became complete. Oriental splendor and Western pageantry blended as elder statesman Chakravarthi Rajagopalachari took the oath as Mountbatten's successor.

A slender figure in white homespun national garb, Rajagopalachari, 69, stood against a background of rich, red velvet drapes embroidered in gold and swore to perform the duties of his own office.

An advocate of communal harmony and secular government, he then delivered a message to the people saying that "what disturbs the peace of India is internecine discord, pure and simple, and it is utter folly."

Less than three hours earlier, Earl Mountbatten, attired in the gleaming white uniform of a rear-admiral, bade farewell to the land whose people called him "one of us." Then he took off for England with his wife and daughter.

About 100,000 persons thronged the municipal grounds Sunday night to say goodbye.

One of his last official acts was to commend India's draft agreement for compromising the question of Hydrabad's accession to the Indian Union. Dispatches from Madras Sunday night said the Nizam of the princely state had turned down the action "politely, but firmly."

Rajagopalachari, popularly known as C.R., came here by plane from Calcutta on Sunday night, landing in a rain. According to Hindu teachings that means he brought peace and prosperity to his new assignment.

Faces Driving Charge In Death Of Guide

BROCKVILLE, June 22 (CP).—Walter Seward, 50, of nearby Portland, Ont., will appear in court next Monday on a charge of dangerous driving which resulted in the death of a fishing guide. He was released Monday from police custody on posting $1,000 bail.

Police said Seward was driver of a car which last Thursday struck and killed D. E. (Jack) Hockey, a fishing guide who was cleaning fish on the bumper of a parked car off the highway about 30 miles northwest of here.

Howard Mustard of Smiths Falls, owner of the parked vehicle, was pinned to the bumper by the crash and sent to Kingston hospital with a fractured leg.

Cattle Breeders Hear Talk On Insemination

"Artificial insemination of cattle" was the subject of an address by Dr. J. A. Henderson of the Ontario Veterinary College, at the Rotary luncheon on Monday at the Empress Hotel.

He said that the basic principles of artificial insemination had been known for about 150 years, but it is only recently that it has been put to commercial use, particularly by dairy farmers. The Russians are the pioneers in the development of this science. The Russian scientist Ivanov, who had worked for the Imperial Government, was encouraged by the Soviet Union after the Revolution to continue his research work, particularly in the field of sheep, cattle and other livestock.

Not much was known of Russian work until a report was published in England in 1933. In 1936, Denmark started an artificial breeding unit and was the first country to follow Russia's example.

It was not until 1938 that the first of such units in America was opened in New Jersey by Dr. Henderson. Today, approximately one and a half million cattle a year are bred through these organized units, which provide relatively cheap bull service to dairymen. It is now possible to breed 500 cows to one serviceable bull.

Dr. Henderson said that artificial insemination is not the complete answer to the farmers' breeding problem. It is not the answer to sterility. "Dairy cattle improvement," he said, "is no: simply a problem of breeding, disease control and improved feeding go hand in hand with it."

Dr. Henderson was introduced by Dr. Harold Worton and thanked by Frank Paterson. Members of the Maple Cattle Breeders Association were guests at the luncheon.

YMCA Clubs Flourish In Poland Since War

OTTAWA, June 22 — (CP) — Christianity does not recognize an iron curtain and today an increasing number of YMCA clubs in Poland are proving that point, Hartley Fowler of the international committee of the YMCA said Sunday.

Before the second world war, Mr. Fowler told an eastern Ontario-Quebec regional conference of the Young Men's Christian Association, here were only three YMCA associations behind the "so-called iron curtain" in Poland. Today there were 14 and 11 boys' camps.

"My only regret," said the speaker who recently concluded a tour of Europe in connection with the world youth fund, "is that we can't get into Russia."

Senators Approve New Labor Code

OTTAWA, June 22.—(CP). — The government's labor code was approved in principle Monday night by the senate.

Senator Arthur Roebuck (L-Ontario), piloting the bill through second reading, described it as a move otward uniform labor legislation for the whole Dominion.

It affects directly only the estimated 300,000 employees under Federal jurisdiction — in industries such as shipping, railways and aeronautics. But it provides for any province to adopt its principles in whole or in part, with the Dominion paying the cost of any such provincial administration.

Radio Studies Controlling Price Mention

LONDON, Ont., June 22 (CP).—Sugested means of controlling price-mention advertising in radio were approved here Monday by the Ontario regional organization of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters. Representatives of 28 leading Ontario radio stations attended.

To-day the CAB's national management committee will correlate recommendations of regional boards across the country and prepare them for presentation to the CBC.

Mention of prices in radio advertising comes into force for a six-month trial period starting September 1.

The Ontario regional group recommended the following:

"That stations be very cautious in accepting business from transients; misrepresentation of prices, relative to local merchant or local situation should be carefully avoided. In the markets where better business bureaus are located, careful checking with this office is suggested. The mention of prices on the air is going to open a new field with transients who may be fly-by-night operators, and unless they are controlled they are going to have serious repercussions on your local market."

"That wherever possible all accepted continuity be in the hands of the station by 3 p.m. local time the day preceding the broadcast."

Regarding frequency of price-mention announcement, the Ontario group decided that on participating programs (presented by the radio station itself) there should be three price mentions per quarter-hour, and not more than one repeat of the price in each announcement; in sponsored programs there should be one announcement in five minute period, two in a 10-minute period, three in 15 minutes, and five in an hour.

Wilberforce Ore Body Rich But Ottawa Says Hush-Hush

By AUSTIN F. CROSS

OTTAWA, June 23.—Radio-active material is to be found all over the Wilberforce area in Central Ontario, it was learned from the Department of Mines and Resources today. What the government has failed to reveal up till now is how much there is, and how concentrated it is. Meanwhile, the officials are maintaining a discreet silence while quietly giving the whole area a re-survey.

The Dominion Government is making haste slowly, however, so as to avoid any premature optimism. It is, however, watching with interest, the activities of a company known as Fission Mines Limited. They know that this organization has been discussing a proposed development program with the Ontario Securities Commission but at this writing had not heard how things were coming out.

The plain truth is—and likely no government official will stick his neckout so far as to say it—that the administration of Mackenzie King would be just as well satisfied if nobody ever said anything, and nobody ever wrote anything about the Wilberforce country. Its high policy anent the Wilberforce area is that of hush, hush. Just as during the war, nobody even mentioned Chalk River nor the word "atoms" so now is the phrase "fissionable material" apt to draw involuntary shudders.

How Times Change

Until the dropping of that bomb on Hiroshima, no one cared much about the word atom, and it was loosely used by everybody. For instance, Aurel Joliat, one of the alltime greats at left wing for Les

Russian Soldier Shoots Officials

VIENNA, June 23 — (CP). — A Russian soldier with three submachine-guns Tuesday night killed a French member of the Vienna international police patrol, wounded Russian and American members, and forced a British lance corporal to drive him to American police headquarters, a British statement announced today.

An international patrol jeep carrying a four-power patrol was called at 9:30 by an Austrian policeman.

The patrol was told a Russian soldier was firing at everyone he saw with a tommy-gun. The patrol found the Russian dressed in private's uniform but bareheaded and barefoot, with two tommy-guns slung on his back and one in his hands.

The man opened fire, the report said, fatally wounding the Frenchman, Mescais, wounding the American, Cpl. Robert Perryman, with splinters from the windscreen, and shooting the Russian member, Boriskov, through the arm.

The Russian then pushed his tommy-gun into the ribs of the Briton, L. Cpl. Basil Levy, and ordered him in German: "Drive me to America."

Russ Money To Be Void Allies Rule

New Soviet Reform Violates Pact Western Powers Say

BERLIN, June 23 — (AP). — The western allies, in defiance of the Russians, declared today that a newly proclaimed Russian currency will be void in the western sectors of Berlin.

They said, in a proclamation to the people of the city, that a separate currency will be introduced in the three western sectors.

The three western commandants for the city ordered all banks and business institutions except food and drug stores closed. A moratorium on debts was ordered.

The Russian order for currency reform in Berlin, announced early this morning, "violates the rules of four-power government," the western power proclamation said.

The Berlin magistrate, executive body of the city government, decided at a special meeting a short time before not to accept the Russian order for the entire city. It ruled that an occupation commander can issue orders only for his own zone.

New Currency

The Russian military administration announced early today a new currency for Russian-occupied eastern Germany. The action followed by four days introduction of a new mark in the western zones occupied by Britain, the United States and France.

The result is that this city of 3,000,000 persons will have two kinds of money—an eastern type and a western type. Just how this financial mess will turn out, no one could be found brave enough to hazard even a guess. Everyone agreed on a one-word deescription: "chaos."

The Russians agreed to four-power negotiations on currency for Berlin Tuesday. But after five hours of deliberating the negotiators adjourned without decision. Within two hours the Russians issued their proclamations announcing the new Russian currency.

Crew Believes Jet Plane Found

BOWMANVILLE, June 23 (CP) —Crew using grappling hooks reported late Tuesday they may have found the resting place of a crashed R.C.A.F. Jet Vampire plane.

They warned against over-optimism but said they held a reasonable hope their chains may have touched the craft 201 feet below the surface of Lake Ontario. The location is 4½ miles off-shore, almost directly in front of this town.

A start will be made today on the ticklish operation of raising the speedy aircraft that carried Sqdn. Ldr. S. Y. Broadbent of St. Thomas, to his death early last Thursday. Experienced lakefront crews said they felt sure by the feel of the lines the obstruction encountered was not a rock.

Dragging is in charge of Wing Cmdr. Fred Sharp of Central Flying School, Trenton, the base from which the jet-propelled plane took off on a routine flight. With him is FO M. Laroche of No. 6 Repair Depot, Trenton.

Suspend Constable

OTTAWA, June 23—(CP). —Constable Raymond Dowe has been suspended from the Ottawa police department following the escape of John W. Attfield, 31, of Toronto, it was disclosed today. Constable Dowe was in charge of Attfield and four other prisoners Tuesday when the Toronto man, charged with obtaining clothing from a local store on false pretences, made his getaway. The escape took place almost at the gates of the county jail, as the prisoners were being taken from a police van.

Father Of Six Murdered In Taxi Office

MONTREAL, June 23 (CP)—Police today listed as a murder and suicide the shooting of Mayor J. P. Cardinal, 38, of Montreal North by Treffle Provencher, 40-year-old taxi driver, who afterwards turned the gun upon himself.

Provencher was said to have had an argument with Cardinal with whom he had been in disagreement for several years. Office employees heard a loud voice, then someone shouted "I've had enough . . ."

There was a shot. Cardinal walked out of his office as a second shot struck him in the back and he fell to the floor.

Then, as police were summoned to the Mountain street address, the place became a bedlam. While employees rushed to and fro and crowds gathered outside, one member of the staff continued to accept calls for taxicabs.

Cardinal served overseas in the Second World War. A former president of the Montreal North Chamber of Commerce, he resigned from the office in May to run against ex-Mayor Archambault Desy in Montreal North. He won by 128 votes and only Tuesday morning, Desy started action to unseat Cardinal, charging him with irregular practices.

Fred Allan, 35 Drown In Scugog

LINDSAY, June 23. (ENS) — Murky waters of the Scugog River have claimed a second victim this year. Around 5:45 Tuesday afternoon the body of Fred Allen, 35, of Oakwood was pulled from the government locks.

Noticed by a person passing over the Lindsay Street Bridge, the body was removed by members of the Lindsay Fire Department and was for a short time unidentified. It was later taken to the funeral home of John Anderson Ltd.

Missing since Saturday, Allen was a laborer on the farm of W. B. Graham, Oakwood, and was a regular Saturday night visitor to town for the past 12 years. When he did not return, Mr. Graham of Oakwood reported to the Lindsay police through his son, Harvey A. Graham, 41 Sussex St. S. Provincial' Police were also informed and notices sent out.

Last March, the body of Joseph McMahon, who had been missing a number of weeks was pulled from the locks at almost the same spot. In 1947 the Scugog also claimed the life of Andy Metherel whose body was also found near the locks.

19,071 Men On Strike In Dock Area

Union Men Refuse To Handle Goods Moved By Soldiers

LONDON, June 23 — (CP). — The Labor Government to-day ordered troops to the London wharves to unload food cargoes tied up for 10 days by a wildcat strike of dock workers. Prime Minister Attlee said the strike will cut off millions of dollars of British export earnings.

The soldiers began unloading the food ships at noon. The decision to use troops was made by a special emergencies committee of the Cabinet following failure of a back-to-work movement this morning.

The dock workers walked out 10 days ago in a wildcat strike. They demanded reinstatement of 11 dock workers who were penalized for refusing to handle a "dirty cargo" of zinc oxide without extra pay.

Official figures showed 19,071 men idle to-day. About 950 men went back to work this morning in response to a union appeal. At least 7,000 dock workers never joined the strike.

The Labor Government has used troops several times to restore strike-bound essential services since it came to power in 1945.

Hundreds Ready

Three hundred troops of Britain's famed Coldstream Guards, dressed in working overalls, rolled across London in police-escorted trucks to the docks at noon. Hundreds more waited on the parade ground at Wellington Barracks, a few hundred yards from Buckingham Palace.

Attlee will make a statement to the Comomns later to-day and Food iMnister Strachey will disclose whether the 10-day-old stoppage will affect the food rations.

Trade union officials appeared at the docks early today to reiterate earlier appeals to end the strike, but they left in less than a minute when greeted with jeers and catcalls.

As troops took up their positions, 1,500 bargemen and lightermen stopped work and this new movement was developing.

A trade union organizer at London's Smithfield Meat Market — where workers always have refused in the case of strikes to handle goods moved by troops—said there would be no automatic "walkout" today. The question of Smithfield joining the strike would not arise until the men were asked to handle meat known to have been moved from the docks by soldiers, he added.

Before the decision to use troops was announced, the unofficial central strike committee was reported in conference at a secret east end rendezvous to decide on a plan of action.

One of their spokesmen stated that a strike call will be sent to all ports in Britain. Southampton, main port for transatlantic liners, has already wired sympathy and pledged support.

CGE And Union Negotiations Are Deadlocked

Intimating that a deadlock had been reached and negotiations temporarily held up between the Joint Union Committee and the Canadian General Electric Company, Murph Chambers, union president, said today that membership meetings had been called for Thursday night.

Negotiations have been going on for several weeks in Toronto between the committee, which is composed of union members from the various CGE plants, and the company. Mr. Chambers said that the company had offered a four-cent an hour general wage increase in response to 20-cents per hour increased request by the union. Other reports said that the company had offered 10 cents but Mr. Chambers intimated that if such had been the case the negotiatons would still be continuing.

The Union is also asking for improvements in the collective bargaining agreement such as master contract, union security and 40-hour week. But as yet no progress has been made on any of these issues the president said.

The Joint Committee will make its report to all CGE union members at the various plants on Thursday night when it is contemplated, according to union officials, to take strike votes as a further step towards securing the demands being made by the union.

Confirms Vote

TORONTO, June 23 (CP)—C. S. Jackson, District President of the United Electrical Workers (CIO) said today a strike vote will be taken tomorrow among some 5,000 U.E.W. members employed at Toronto and Peterborough plants of the Canadian General Electric Company.

Mr. Jackson said the decision to hold a strike vote followed breakdown of negotiations with the company on contract revisions. He added that the union asked for a 20-cent wage increase and the company offered four cents. He said negotiations had been going on for some days previously, but Tuesday was the first time figures were mentioned.

The company had not acted on other union requests for contract changes, Mr. Jackson said. The expected result of the vote would be announced Friday.

Officials of the company could not be reached for comment.

Vandenberg Gives Consent For Name To Be Placed On Presidential Ticket

Not Actively After Nomination He Asserts But Will Let Name Stand; Stassen-Taft Forces Unite For Dewey Blow

PHILADELPHIA, June 23—(CP).—Senator Arthur Vandenberg gave consent today for his name to be placed formally in nomination for the Presidency at the Republican convention. His move cheered those presidential hopefuls—led by Senator Robert Taft of Ohio and Harold Stassen of Minnesota—who were trying desperately to halt Governor Thomas E. Dewey's blitz bid for the nomination on an early ballot. They figured Vandenberg's name before the convention would hold from Dewey some votes which otherwise might race to him.

Vandenberg stuck by his stand that he is not actively seeking the nomination. But Gov. Kim Sigler of Michigan said he had obtained the Senator's consent for him to put up his name.

Asked if he was nominating Vandenberg in the belief Vandenberg can win or as a gesture of respect, Sigler replied, "If I didn't honestly believe there was real hope of winning I would not nominate him."

Taft and Stassen invited California's Governor Earl Warren and Pennsylvania's Governor James Duff to chip in with their forces.

Some idea of the task that lay before these disjointed, if determined legions, was furnished by an Associated Press survey of state delegation intentions.

Based in many cases on official delegation polls and in others on the best guess of responsible members, this survey indicated that if Dewey throws in his full strength he may have from 374 to 407 votes on the first ballot.

Still Short

The survey also showed that, if delegates do not change their present intentions, he might get 80 additional votes on later roll calls. This still would leave him short of the 548 needed to nominate.

Taft's first ballot figure was estimated in the survey at between 207 and 217 on the first count, with a net backlog of 60

Hagana Mortar Fire Blasts Munitions Ship

TEL AVIV, June 23. (AP)—Israeli mortar fire blasted a munitions ship beached by Irgun Zvai Leumi rebels Tuesday night as civil strife shook the new Jewish State of Israel. The munitions-laden vessel burst into flames, throwing a four-hour battle between Irgun and Hagana into confusion. Thousands of Tel Aviv residents fled the central water front, scene of the fighting in which some 40 persons were reported killed or wounded.

The ship—an LST (landing ship tank)—was carrying 600 tons of munitions in violation of the terms of the four-week United Nations truce.

Later, persons watching from distant rooftops, said they heard 12 or 15 explosions. Clouds of smoke arose, obscuring the whole area.

An Irgun announcer said Menachen Beigin, commander of the former underground organization, had a "narrow escape" from the burning ship.

Flee Explosions

There were no further reports of Irgun-Israeli fighting on Tel Aviv beach after both sides fled the battle ground in fear of explosions.

A little later, truckloads of unarmed Irgun fighters appeared on the city's main streets. Some interpreted this to mean that a

Heavy Rains Halt Spreading Bush Fires

By The Canadian Press

All of northern Ontario was opened to travel today as fairly heavy rain halted the spread of costly forest fires.

Forestry officials said today Tuesday night's rain had made possible the opening of the last remaining restricted areas of Kapuskasing, Geraldton, Sault Ste. Marie, Port Arthur, Fort Frances and Kenora. These areas now are accessible to travel under a permit system. Most of northern Ontario's bush area was closed June 1 when fire hazard became high. Districtos have been gradually re-opened as reduced hazard warranted.

Heaviest rain fall was in the Port Arthur district where about two inches of rain drenched raging blazes. In northwestern Quebec rain which began to fall early this morning, helped bring fires under control.

Youth Believed Fire Victim

GORE BAY, June 23 (CP) — Elmer Gordon, 16-year-old Kagawong youth, was believed burned to death early this morning in a fire that razed the general store and residence of Neil McDougall, six miles west of this Manitoulin Island town. Mrs. McDougall and two of her small children escaped through a rear window onto a shed while her six-year-old son, Lyal, leaped from an upstairs window to safety. The fire is still burning.

Fire apparently broke out about 6 a.m. and spread rapidly through the frame building. Reports stated that the Gordon boy was up after the fire started but he was not seen leaving the flaming [illegible]. Low lying fog delayed the assembly of a bucket brigade which fought the fire in vain.

Surprise Parley In Warsaw For Russian Satellites

WARSAW, June 23—(CP). — Russia called a surprise conference of her eastern European satellites to Warsaw today which may map a battle against the Western allies' plan to set up a west German state.

Summoned to the conference were: Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Romania and Hungary. All of these countries were among the signers of the Cominform (Communist international Information Bureau), organized in Poland last September to fight the Marshall plan.

There was no indication whether Communist leaders of France and Italy, who also signed the Cominform, were attending.

(Reuter's News Agency said that Molotov and political leaders from all Slav countries had arrived here for talks which will be the prelude to a joint Slav declaration on Germany's future.

(Informed Warsaw quarters, Reuters added, believed the conference would announce an agreement about establishment of a separate government for western Germany.)

Police officials closed all normal information channels and declined to say who was attending the conference or what its purpose might be.

The Polish vice-premier, Wladislaw W. Gomulka, recently said the Cominform signers would be called together whenever the international situation "makes it necessary."

Foreign observers said that apparently the necessity had arisen. The Communist set-back in the recent Italian elections and the power being put behind the European recovery program are known to have caused Russia and her satellites concern.

Snatch $1200 Payroll From Bookkeeper

TORONTO, June 23 — (CP)— Two robbers today attacked the bookkeeper for the Queen City Bedding Co. and made off with the firm's $1,200 payroll.

The bookkeeper, Sam Madonick, 20, told police he was returning from the bank with a bag containing the payroll when he was accosted by two young men. The pair grabbed the bag and fled down a nearby alley.

A few minutes later police reported a stolen car containing three men was seen speeding away from the scene. A short distance down the road, the company's payroll bag was found, empty.

Ideal Canadian City Has 50,000 People Neighborhood Planning Key To Success

HALIFAX, June 23—(CP).— The ideal Canadian city of the future would have a population of about 50,000, have service roads for local traffic, boundary highways for through traffic, dwellings would be within easy reach of primary schools, parks and stores and plants would be at the doorstep of workers' homes.

This concept was given to a Canadian Federation of Mayors conference here today by D. W. Jonsson, provincial architect for New Brunswick.

"The key to the whole system," he said, "is neighborhood planning—self-contained neighborhood units."

Mr. Jonsson emphasized that a basic population limit objective should be selected, even if it should take 90 years to reach it.

Having established the population objective it was easy to decide on land areas on a basis of 40 per cent for dwelling units. This would allow for 25 to 38 people per acre.

Mr. Jonsson said he did not subscribe to the theory that all industries should be placed outside and at the leeward section of the town.

G. K. Fraser Suggests ChangingCheeseForm

OTTAWA, June 23 — (CP). — G. K. Fraser (PC-Peterborough West) said yesterday in the Commons he believes Canadian cheese factories would benefit if they would press their cheese in rectangular form rather than in circular form.

Speaking during a study of agriculture department estimates, Mr. Fraser said he knew of a factory which is successfully operating with rectangular presses. The rectangular shape made it easier to cut up the cheese into small pieces for the retail or wholesale trade.

Robert CcCubbin, Parliamentary Assistant to Agriculture Minister Gardiner, said the Department has not carried out any experiments recently with rectangular presses.

Rural Health Services To Get Boost Martin Says

TORONTO, June 23—(CP). — The Federal Government's new $30,000,000 health program should "raise greatly" the level of health services for rural Canada, Health Minister Martin said today.

In the larger centres, he told the Canadian Medical Association, in a speech prepared for delivery, it "will stimulate retarded hospital construction and alleviate many acute shortages of hospital beds."

The Minister described those as two of the advantageous factors in a program that will "give a tremendous impetus to research, to preventive medicine, to the rapid expansion of hospital accommodation and to better health services generally."

Federal-Provincial co-operation enabled Canada "to press on towards our ultimate goal—a positive state of good health for every Canadian."

Mr. Martin, outlining the three-fronted program for health survey grants, national health grants and hospital construction grants, said the $30,000,000 annual outlay equalled Federal health expenditures during the last 27 years. In most respects, on a per capita basis, Canada's health program "far exceeds that of the United States."

On this basis, Canada would spend twice as much on hospital construction and nearly four times as much on public health. Canadian cancer grants were 14 times as large as those in the US.

No Butter Shortage This Year

Say Production Down From Year Ago; No Cause For Worry

OTTAWA, June 23 — (CP). — Agriculture Department officials indicated in the Commons Tuesday that they are hopeful no butter shortage will develop in Canada this year.

Robert McCubbin, parliamentary assistant to Agriculture Minister Gardiner, said production and shortage stocks are lower than they were a year ago, but "I have every reason to believe that production in Canada will take care of the consumption for next winter."

A. L. Smith (PC-Calgary West) said there have been forecasts that Canada now is 30,000,000 pounds short and that a serious shortage will develop in November.

Mr. McCubbin replied:

"I am not in a position to dispute what the member has just said, but I do not think anyone can say how much we are short at the present time.

"I am not saying we are short. The consumer is getting all the butter he wants now—and at the ceiling price, a curtailed price for which he should be thankful. The producer is not kicking; he is getting a fair price. When you have the producer and the consumer satisfied you have gone a long way.

High Hopes

"As far as next winter is concerned, we still have seven good months ahead of us, and I hope production will be high enough to take care of consumption next winter, though of course I am not a prophet and do not wish to prophesy."

The Parliamentary Assistant said the Department has not yet received any representations about a butter cubstitute which Hon. Earl Rowe (PC-Dufferin-Simcoe) said can be made from milk.

Mr. Rowe said he understands the substitute would not meet such opposition as the dairy industry is showing to requests for the lifting of the ban on oleomargarine. He said the product is made with milk. He could not give it any name because it is not being manufactured.

In the warm humid air cloudiness is variable and scattered thunderstorms occur, for the most part in late afternoon and evening.

Gromyko Vetoes A-Plan Again

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, June 23 (CP)—A big battle in the United Nations assembly between Russia and the western powers over atomic energy control is certain this fall.

That was assured late Tuesday when Andrei Gromyko, Russian deputy foreign minister, overrode a majority of the security council with Russia's 26th veto.

His act killed the approval by nine council members including Canada of an atomic control scheme based on the original plan offered June 14, 1946, by Bernard Baruch, then the United States delegate. The Soviet Ukraine also voted against the majority.

The majority followed previously laid plans and followed up the veto, which had been expected, with a Canadian-sponsored resolution calling for the dispatch of records of the two-year atomic deadlock to the assembly.

Ungraded Potatoes Bring $10 Fine

Charged with offering ungraded potatoes for sale, Ralph Veals, Omemee, was found guilty on Tuesday by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, and fined $10 and costs.

Earl Walton, inspector for the Dominion Department of Agriculture, said he inspected the potatoes offered by Veals, and found them below grade. He warned Veals that the potatoes would have to be re-graded and inspected before they left the market Veals took the potatoes back to Omemee. A second charge of removing the potatoes while under a detention order was withdrawn.

deal had been made with the government to end the strife.

The battle began early Tuesday when Irgun gun runners beached their munitions ship within a block of the hotel occupied by United Nations truce observers. Irgun refused to surrender the ship to government custody, and the Israeli army rushed platoons of infantry to the waterfront.

About mid-afternoon, as Israeli guns shelled the vessel, an order was issued over the ship's loud speakers to "cease fire". A few minutes later four shells hit the deck and port side of the craft in rapid succession. Smoke poured up from the deck.

The general feeling of jitters was increased when air raid sirens sounded in Tel Aviv. It was the first night in six weeks the city's blackout had been relaxed.

FISHING? . . . LOTS OF IT

The fish population of the lakes has been rapidly increased lately as four thousand fingerling maskinonge were placed in local waters last Friday, and another 750 into Sturgeon lake on Monday. Wild Life Inspector, A. M. Hodgson, gave this report and added that the raising of the fish in hatcheries had been much more successful this year than before.

Wilberforce Ore

Canadiens, was called The Mighty Atom. The word had a different significance then than now.

Just as away back at the turn of the century, Dr. Charles Camsell had discovered something that was potentially radium away up in the frozen rim of the Arctic, so has the government known for a long time about radioactive material in back of the Peterborough area. But it came under the heading of: So what.

Now the government knows it has got radioactive deposits, but isn't prepared to talk much about it. They talk about "periodic reinvestigations." Some of these are going on now, but with a greater degree of urgency, and a higher sense of secrecy, then heretofore. Even platinum is something somebody can talk about, but fashionable material is clearly a topic on which the gag is applied early and often.

The government denies there is any opposition from Eldorado, since this is another Crown company, and it would not be in a position to fight another government agency.

The official, if unexpressed opinion, is that the administration would be very happy if Wilberforce area proved to be many times as rich as the Eldorado sector.

Important Discovery

From the Peterborough area is word that a geologist has discovered thorium oxide, which is a radioactive compound used for the same purpose as uranium. Since there is not believed to be a commercial ore body of thorium oxide in the world to-day, such a discovery, if authenticated, would be of first-rate importance. Up till now, the government insists that there has not been found enough radioactive material for the finds to have commercial value.

"The raisins in the cake are too thinly distributed," said an official to the Examiner.

The government points to the report of Dr. Hugh Spence, geologist who made a report that was printed by the Department of Mines and Metallurgy about 20 years ago. There the geologist claimed that Wilberforce had uranium in commercial quantities. The government admits thtat this report is available, and that it is true.

New Importance

What the officials do not stress is that this report can now be read in the light of new developments in the atomic bomb in general, and fissionable material in particular.

The plain truth is that there is more in Wilberforce than meets the eye. The government sticks to its story that there is nothing to get excited about, but then, that's the way governments are. They probably hope that the public will forget all about this until the time is ripe, when they will be able to make their own announcements.

Every year brings these ore bodies of radio active material closer to commercial possibilities, nearer proper exploitation. Behind the scenes, research chemists, geologists and others are working in their own slow but painstaking way, trying to make what is non-commercial today, highly profitable tomorrow. Like the Chinese who discovered steam and didn't know what to do with it, so has the government got hold of some fissionable material here, it and nobody else seem to know how to handle.

It is significant that the government with all its far flung press facilities, its public relations officials, and its many ministeries, has not yet put out a readable document about Wilberforce. Wonder why?

Grasshoppers, Drought Menace Crops

REGINA, June 23 (CP)—Relentless hordes of grasshoppers and serious drought conditions today are throwing body blows at Saskatchewan's 1948 grain crop—already jeopardized by a late spring and delayed seeding.

Showers forecast for today in many areas hold out the best hope of halting the destruction caused by drying of the soil and the biggest plague of grasshoperps since 1938.

Both menaces are striking in an area that was hard-hit last year by drought—stretching from the extreme southwest corner nor to the North Battleford-Prince Albert area.

Only in south-central and east-central districts--comprising some of the heaviest grain-producing areas of the province—were crops reported "fair to good."

Heavy clouds have partially blanketed the province for two days, but have failed to bring the needed rain.

Many fields seeded early in the season when the soil still was damp were holding up well under the dry spell, reports said, but even these would deteriorate rapidly if a period of hot dry weather set in.

Braund's Food Markets Observe 50th Anniversary

For half a century the name of Braund has been associated with the retail grocery business in Peterborough. From the modest grocery store opened by J. T. Braund at Parkhill Road and George Street the enterprise has expanded into five modern, efficient, self-serve groceterias.

On Thursday, the fifth and latest will open in East City, on Hunter Street, just east of the bridge. This will give added emphasis to the slogan, ::There's a Braund Home Food Market near You."

Founder of Chain

The founder of this chain was J. T. Braund, husband of Mrs. Jessie Braund, and father of Ernest Braund, present owner and operator. He came to Peterborough from near Pickering 54 years ago, at the invitation of his brother, R. C. Braund, and worked for a while in the wholesale grocery store of Matthew (Matt) Carton on Simcoe Street.

He then started in business by opening a small store on the River Road near the Peterborough Golf Club, on the premises now occupied by Fred Bell.

After a year and a half he rented the present North End store from E. F. Mason, buying the stock as it stood on the shelves. Shortly afterwards he bought out the butcher business of C. B. Thornton who was located at Parkhill Road and Water Street. Mr. Thornton came to work for Mr. Braund and ran the meat department of the store.

Became a General Store

At first Mr. Braund sold only groceries, but then the meat department was added, and finally he branched out into boots, shoes, furniture—becoming a general store in keeping with the times. He had then purchased the building and enlarged the premises.

Mrs. Braund recalls those day with nostalgia, despite the fact that the store remained open daily until 10 p.m. and midnight on Saturdays. She confesses that she much preferred working in the store and meeting the many customers to doing housework.

Ernest, present owner; Eldon, a Toronto dentist, and Phyllis, a Toronto optometrist, were all born in the residence over the store. Stanley, a dentist in Peterborough, was the only one of the children to be born in East City.

Butter 17 Cents a Pound

In a scribbler dated 1898 purchases are recorded in Mr Braund's handwriting, and the prices would seem like a dream to a housewife today: bread, six cents a loaf; rice, five cents a pound; gum, two cents a package; butter, 17 cents a pound; eggs, 18 cents a dozen; soda biscuits, five cents a box, and lard 10 cents a package. Those were the days when a dollar would buy a whole basket of edibles.

Commenting on her experience in business, Mrs. Braund observed: "Any person can make a success by fair dealing." And she added the philosophy of her late husband: "Mr. Braund always used to tell the children, 'Play fair that's the only way you'll get on'."

Ernest took over management of the store in 1930 when his father's health began to decline. The elder Mr. Braund died 12 years later.

Expansion Period

It was under the skilled business management of Ernest Braund that the large expansion took place. In 1935 he purchased the Park St. store where Evan (Sam) Chamberlain is manager. following year the Charlotte St. branch was opened and Allen Found was installed as manager. R. H. Brown is manager of the Lock St. branch which was opened in 1946. Allen Clarke looks after the North End branch.

Tomorrow the new self-serve food market will open in East City and it will be managed by Roy Penrose. Ernest Found was in charge of design and layout.

Joseph Jebson is in charge of all stores and is described by Mr. Braund as "my right-hand man." Mr. Found is general supervisor.

In addition to looking after his five retail stores Mr. Braund, at 39 years of age, is a director on the board of a large insurance firm, president of the Peterborough Business Men's Association, and an active member of the Rotary Club and Peterborough Chamber of Commerce.

Accommodate 6,000 Chicks

One of Mr. Braund's special prides is his poultry hatchery which is in a building adjacent to the North End store. In two large rooms there is a battery brooder and the hatchery. The brooder can accommodate 6,000 chickens for a couple of days before they are sold, and just after they have emerged from the shell.

Fred Bell has been in charge of the hatchery since it was started in 1940. He said that the last hatch of hen eggs for the season were hatching now and the turkey eggs would be ready by early July.

To replace the warm body of the hen, science has devised a machine that looks very much like an over-sized refrigerator. But with this difference: when the trays of eggs are tucked away inside, the temperature is boosted to between 99 and 100 degrees fahrenheit with 84 degrees of humidity.

17 Setting Machines

There are 19 of these huge thermostatically - controlled machines stationed around the room Two of them are "hatchers" and the other 17 are "setting machines." The difference is that the setters have trays intended merely to contain eggs which are kept there for 18 days of the 21-day hatching period. The other two contain different trays that allow the chicken to break out of his shell and stand up, which occurs sometime in the last three days of the period.

Before the eggs are transferred from the setter to the hatcher however, they are "candled." That is, they are put over the top of strong light which allows the silhouette of the chicken to be detected inside the shell.

One of these setters containing 15 trays will hold 2,700 chicken eggs or 2,000 turkey eggs. Chickens are hatched over a six-months period, while the turkeys are hatched in May and June. One of the reasons for this is that while a large number of chickens are consumed the year around, the big demand for turkeys comes at Christmas. To keep a flock of these hungry birds for several months while waiting for Christmas would be considered uneconomical by a poultryman.

Commenting on his business, Mr. Braund said: "We strive to have clean, upto-date stores, with fresh merchandise priced right and as full a variety of goods as possible."

Braund's believe that their stores have struck an ideal medium: they have the advantages of self-service which allows operating costs to be scaled down to a minimum, and yet the "personal touch" between customer and retailer has not been lost.

The tradition of a family business is important to Mr. Braund. He says, "We feel we know the people dealing with us. Peterborough has been very good to us and we want to continue to warrant their support and friendliness."

FOUNDER AND SON — Fifty years ago the late J. T. Braund (right) started in the grocery business for himself. The last 18 years it has been under the able management of his son Ernest C. (left) and has expanded until now there are five stores in Peterborough.

The Defeat Of The Gasoline Bylaw

The City Council has given very serious consideration to the proposed bylaw to limit the hours of gasoline sale in Peterborough, and has defeated it. We receive the impression that the people of Peterborough are, upon the whole, well pleased with the Council's action, and are encouraged to know that a matter which deals, essentially, with the rights of a minority, has been the subject of a long and closely argued debate. The Council, if it had been so minded, could have declared itself helpless in the face of a provincial statute, and passed the by-law without comment; but our aldermen were not prepared to take the easy way out of the difficulty, and they defeated the bylaw by a majority of one. The next move will have to be carefully considered, but the protest of the Council is upon record.

* * *

There is a distasteful hint of injustice about the bylaw; it suggests an attempt to prevent a minority from doing what the majority does not want to do in a matter in which no ethical or business principle is involved. A majority of gasoline stations do not want to trade after seven o'clock; a minority of stations are anxious to do so. We do not doubt that the majority have excellent reasons for their decision, but we cannot see why it should therefore be made binding on a minority which does not share their opinion. Nor can we understand why a provincial statute should have the power to make the City Council perpetrate a local injustice.

* * *

It was suggested on Monday night that if the Council refuses to pass the bylaw the Attorney General of Ontario may take steps to force the Council's hand. We do not think that any such fear need be entertained. The Attorney General is a very able man, with a great deal of political and legal experience, and he will not be likely to take an arbitrary tone with a City Council. The Council are not, after all, children, and when they act according to the dictates of their consciences (which is what we elected them for) Mr. Blackwell will not act hastily to reverse their decision. The type of bylaw which is giving trouble to the Peterborough City Council is at present giving even greater trouble in Ottawa, and has caused dissatisfaction in several municipalities in the Province. The City Solicitor reminded the Council on Monday night that it derives its authority from the Ontario Legislature; that may have been true for a few decades, but local councils antedate such legislatures as that of Ontario by several hundreds of years, and in a showdown, in which a Council opposed the Legislature on a local matter, we would not like to bet on the Legislature. The overreaching ways of the Legislature in municipal matters are not so popular as the gentlemen of Queen's Park sometimes imagine.

* * *

The Aldermen who opposed the bylaw argued most ably and convincingly. The obvious solution to the matter was offered by Alderman Anglesey, who said: "If a group of dealers want to close, let them do so; if others want to stay open, let them stay open". Is there anything wrong with that? If there is, it has not yet been put before either the Council or the public.

Eskimo Scenes At The Library

The exhibition of paintings of Eskimo life hanging on the gallery walls of the Public Library during the last weeks was of exceptional interest. The artist, Winifred F. Fitchey (Mrs. D. B. Marsh) is the wife of the Archdeacon of the Arctic and has lived for several years among the wastes and waters and snows of the far north. The forty water-colours are proficient as interpretive paintings, but their special value is in the visual record they form of Arctic landscapes and Eskimo life.

Commerce, transportation and science are changing the way of living of the Eskimo as of ourselves. As the paintings of Paul Kane and Cornelius Krieghoff of a century ago are prized partly for their portrayal of scenes and modes now dissolved, so will Mrs. Marsh's studies of Padlemuit Eskimo, of sleeping benches, cooking porches, ice windows in igloos, drum dances (this painting is particularly vivid), and caribou skin tents be valued. They are documentary, and the detail as well as the subjects make them already unique historical records.

It is to be hoped that the collection will not be broken up piecemeal. The gallery or museum which might acquire it by gift or purchase would indeed be fortunate. Peterborough people who have delayed visiting this exhibit will be able to see the paintings in the National Museum at Ottawa, to which they are on loan for the summer. The Peterborough showing closed this morning.

The Unification Of Germany

Two unification movements are under way in Germany. One is the formal British, French and American plan now under diplomatic study, the other is ostensibly German but really Russian-inspired.

The triparty Benelux plan is to unite the three zones of occupation and set up some sort of central German government not under direct control and supervision of the three powers but with armies of the three powers in limited occupation. A unified Germany is considered essential to the economic recovery of Europe. Even France agrees to this, though it is desperately anxious that a central German government should be weak so that there can be no possibility of Germany becoming strong enough again to wage war against it.

The German people want a unified country. Outsiders can appreciate one reason for this desire if they compare maps of pre-war Germany with the present political divisions and extent of the country. The Germans would like all Germany to be united, including the Soviet zone. This has become impossible except on absolute Soviet Russian terms —which are, basically, that a united Germany be open for annexation into the Communist Russian group of countries.

The Russian tactic in Germany is to make the Germans believe that Soviet Russia is altruistically in favour of a complete, strong unification and will do its best to achieve this, whereas Britain, France and the U.S. want a weak Germany, permanently dismembered of a third of its territory. It is baiting susceptible Germans with suggestions that, if it had its way, all armies of occupation would be withdrawn. If all armies were withdrawn, Russia would profit. As Drew Middleton of the New York Times points out, a general withdrawal would put the Soviet army at an advantage. The Russian divisions would withdraw 40 miles and the American divisions 4,000 miles. Germany would lie fallow for Russian overlordship. It could be "handled" as was Czechoslovakia by Russian pressure from neighbouring states.

It is to be hoped that the German people know what lies behind the Russian policy and will accept with good grace, even thankfulness, the partial union which the six western nations are now trying to formulate. If things go well, the country need not be occupied by foreign armies for the 60 years which the French now think necessary.

An Embarrassing Question

An embarrasing question was asked in the British House of Commons recently: the questioner wanted to know why it was that the Labour government had not been able to publish anything of the history of the Second World War, although Winston Churchill had been able to publish the first volume of his memoirs?

It was a good question, though not really a fair one. Government histories are written by committees, and every student of history knows that histories written by committees take longer to produce, and are less valuable when published, than those which are written by individuals. The literary style of committees, similarly, rarely rises above mediocrity.

All governments insist on hodge-podge histories written by committees. But we venture to predict that, however far socialism and co-operative effort may go, the best histories will continue to be written by individuals, possessed of powerful talent, and sometimes of genius.

A report from London says that, in spite of rationing, English women are growing larger; their waists are smaller, but their hands and feet are decidedly bigger than before the war. Whether this constitutes a recommendation for a monotonous and barely sufficient diet we really cannot say.

Hugh Maclennan's "Precipice"

By T. J. ALLEN

HUGH MACLENNAN'S third novel, "The Precipice" (published last Saturday by Collins, Toronto) has a larger theme and a greater contemporaneity than his other novels. The theme is eastern Canadian puritanism, interpreted through portraits of an Ontario town and half a dozen individuals; the time is the war years. Only a sure observer like Mr. MacLennan, with a disciplined sensitivity to the currents of history and an accomplished novelist's skill could successfully have developed such a theme against the setting of the so recent war years.

The novel analyses not merely people and places but national undercurrents and society in flux. The title of the book recalls Arnold Toynbee's image (in his "Study of History") of civilizations on a ledge on a mountainside, with a precipice below and a precipice above, halted for a moment between the two in their unending climb.

NO Canadian author is better equipped than MacLennan to present a Canadian theme against a broad background. The experience of too many Canadian novelists is too restricted to Canada. Canada is not an island, the problems of its individuals and the nation are not isolated. Every business and person in Canada has an American cousin. Hugh MacLennan has given expression to this interrelation in his novel. That is part of its theme, part of its importance. Some of the chief figures are American, half the setting is in the United States.

The Canadian locality is Grenville.

"Grenville was such a safe place, so stubbornly sure of itself and so full of humour when one knew it well.

"Certainly not a single one of the madmen who were making current history could support himself within its limits.... Grenville was also a town of eight thousand people who had been stiff-necked from the day the first United Empire Loyalist had marked out his lot a century and a half ago, constantly right in its judgements but usually for the wrong reasons. Here was lodged the hard core of Canadian matter-of-factness on which men of imagination had been breaking themselves for years. Grenville was sound, it was dull, it was loyal, it was competent—and oh, God, it was so Canadian!"

Grenville could be Peterborough, Brantford, Port Hope, parts of N.D.G., Westmount, Ottawa or Kingston; it could be a hundred places from the Annapolis Valley to Guelph. It is likely that much of physical Grenville is Cobourg, for there Mr. MacLennan two summers ago did what writers call "field work".

PETERBOROUGH is mentioned by name. A young R.C.A.F. flier from Peterborough is immured in Halifax. His encounter with the husband-hunting Nina shows that Peterborough men can know the ways of the world and its Ninas.

Sex does not rear its ugly head in the way in which opinionated readers accused "Two Solitudes" and even "Barometer Rising" of transgressing. Some critics of MacLennan's women in his other two novels complain that they have been two-dimensional. It is therefore interesting that in "The Precipice" he has boldly given major roles to Lucy and her two unmarried sisters. Lucy's portrait is credible and the interpretation intuitive.

This is a marked development in MacLennan. Another indication of his developing breadth is the range of his terms of reference: Lucy's garden, (an off-cropping from his summer home in North Hatley, P.Q., where he and his wife, Dorothy Duncan the writer, garden), New York, the western American plains, the perspicuity in things military. Bruce Fraser of Grenville is in New York:

"It was almost a shock to see such grace of design in buildings used for earning a living. The astonishing thought occurred to him that there must be people here who considered that business itself was beautiful."

THE two principal male characters are Bruce Fraser and Stephen Lassiter, an American. They live and have being. They speak as individuals and reflect the universal traits in them. But somehow, like Lucy herself, they are not completely engrossing. It may be because they are themselves not vivid people. Perhaps they are too good and there is not enough of the seven deadly sins in them. Carl Bratian, Lassiter's friend, who knows where he is going and what he wants from the American materialistic world, is more interesting than Lassiter. He is a wicked man, according to Presbyterian tenets. It is only when Bratian is introduced that the novel really begins to move.

Brief sketches like those of Bratian's mother and Lassiter's father stand out forcefully. Lassiter's father was in the tradition of American neolithic business men. He would "never hire a man for anything but a routine job unless he was sure he had an edge. In time, he made it a principle to hire no man with a happy face".

LUCY'S renegade Uncle Matt is a strong character. So in "Barometer Rising" was Colonel Wain vivid, so in "Two Solitudes" were the priest and Huntley McQueen. MacLennan's good, mild people lack the interest of his dogmatic, wicked or colourful people not because the good and the mild are more difficult to portray (as they are). They cannot be done with poster paint, of course, but the author has subtler colours on his palette. Perhaps he is too sympathetically allied with people like Neil Macrae of "Barometer Rising", Paul Tallard of "Two Solitudes" and Stephen Lassiter and Bruce Fraser of this novel. Perhaps the author has too strong a puritan respect for the devil, and a fascination for his ways which amounts to a sinful admiration.

OCCASIONALLY the author's art obtrudes; for instance, in the first two chapters, in the recurrence of the word "cicada". It has an exotic un-native sound, though it refers to our common "heat-bug". Remarkable interpretive passages are numerous. Lucy, the small-town Canadian girl who elopes with the divorced Stephen Lassiter and removes to New York to live in society and comparative luxury, thinks of Americans:

"They were mostly like Stephen himself, living in the present, forgetful of the past, taking their chances with the future. It wasn't that they were more generous than Canadians at heart; the difference depended, she knew, on the fact that Canada was a harder country than the United States, chances were fewer, and people had to be more cautious. It was easy to forget about caution in New York."

Or this reference to Churchill and Roosevelt at the war's end:

"The great voices, one by one, were beginning to fall silent. Roosevelt was gone, Churchill soon to retire from Downing Street by a will other than his own; these last great human voices which had been tempered in the sunshine of warm valleys no longer warmed the people or gave them a sense of fellowship with an older, richer and mellower age. In the new tones arising was the chill of the ice-cap".

The one-and-a-half page essay which prefaces this novel has the quality of greatness.

There can be no question that the novel is important. This reviewer has the feeling that emotion is too distilled and the story too subjugated by the philosophic treatment for it to rank as a great novel.

ARC DE TRIOMPHE

Faith In Canada

(THE WINNIPEG FREE PRESS)

MR. Graham Towers, Governor of the Bank of Canada, is above all a realist. Yet in his address to the National Convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in this city at lunch on Thursday, he stepped out of his role of banker to make an unqualified declaration of faith in Canada. After explaining the origin and gravity of the present crisis in our reserves of gold and U.S. dollars and urging the junior chambers to exert every effort in behalf of their campaign to stimulate the tourist trade and to conserve the dollars thus gained, he likened Canada today to the United States of forty years ago. At the prospect, Mr. Towers' imagination was fired.

OUR hydro electric power is five times that of the United States and is increasing rapidly. Power is the base of industry.

We have oil in abundance, natural gas, forest wealth with all its by-products.

We are the world's largest producer of nickel, platinum and asbestos.

We are a leading producer of copper, gold, zinc, silver and lead.

Production of aluminum has increased ten fold since 1937.

We are one of the two major producers of uranium.

We have iron at Steep Rock, developed during the war, and we have vast iron reserves on the Quebec-Labrador boundary.

Forty years ago immigration was flooding into the U.S. Today Canada's population is being supplemented by a similar tide at a rate approximately two-thirds of our natural increase. We have in hand today a vast and varied capital development.

"I have mentioned these things as examples of opportunity and development which deserve a place in the thoughts of young Canadian business men as they assess their position, and which appear to more than offset demands which the present has made upon us.

"Perhaps I can sum up by saying, as a not-so-terribly-old Canadian myself, that when I think of Canada's future possibilities I remind myself that we are a nation of twelve million active, well-fed, reasonably intelligent human beings, inhabiting a vast area, capable of great feats of industrial and social organization, and eager to develop to the utmost the great riches with which the present generation has been endowed.

"I ignore the dark clouds, originating elsewhere, which now seem to fill the nearby field of vision and inspired by a glimpse of the brightness beyond begin to talk something like a member in good standing of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. And it is an interesting fact that, at least on this continent, Chamber of Commerce boosters have, on the whole, been justified by history. In any case I think it is the part of sanity and health every now and then to look beyond the immediate difficulties, to assume that somehow, with hard work and goodwill, we shall surmount them."

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ: according as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love.... Having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he hath purposed in himself: that in the dispensation of the fulness of times he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth; even in him: in whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will: that we should be to the praise of his glory, who first trusted in Christ.

In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that holy Spirit of promise, which is the earnest of our inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory. (Eph. 1: 3, 4, 9-14.)

It's Not Peanuts

John Strachey, Britain's minister of food, at present in Nairobi, British East Africa, has become peanut-minded in a big way. For this is the centre of what Britain hopes will be developed into the greatest and most profitable oil production area in the Empire. His impressions after a tour of the district were that all that is needed are imagination, money, organization and labour—all of which are available. "The only Britain that can survive," he said, "is a Britain which has the courage, imagination and vitality to carry through major new enterprise."

The chief problem of vegetable oil production in East Africa will be transportation in time of war when the Suez Canal would be out of action. It will necessitate transportation across Central Africa and the use of West African ports. It means a brand new alignment of Empire economy, new trade routes and new food lanes. It means a great adventure in a new form of Empire and it's not peanuts though it may be based on peanut oils.—London Free Press.

"If you're the lady who lifted mother face," said the small boy at the beauty parlor, "you'd better come round and lift father's. He's just got your bill."

GILES ON BROADWAY

"You'd have thought eight million population in New York was plenty."

TRAIN HIT DAIRY TRUCK—One man lost his life and six others were injured when a fast moving train struck this dairy truck outside Montreal. The dead man, William White, was on his way to the station when the accident occurred.

Bartenders Go To School Taught How To Draw Beer

NEW YORK, June 23 — The class in beer drawing will please come to attention.

You think I'm kidding? Are there really classroom courses on how to draw a glass of beer?

Sure. I just—bu-u-r-r-r-rp—flunked the first lesson.

I took it in a demonstration room at the Jacob Ruppert brewery, in New York. The one that used to own the New York Yankees and kept them—so to say—hopping.

The professor was 55-year-old Hal R. Hoffman, the dean and effervescent Rembrandt of beer drawers. The class consisted of students in a bartenders' school. A number were veterans studying under the G.I. Bill of Rights.

Bottled Beer Out

The professor, a consultant to many breweries and hotels, went right to the heart of his subject—how to teach the man behind the bar to draw a proper glass of beer. Draft beers. Bottle beer, he feels, is better for pigeons.

"There's a lot of kidding on this subject—but it's important," he said, adding ominously:

It's An Art

"There even have been cases of murder over whether beer was being drawn right. I got the clippings right here in my pocket.

"You gotta be a diplomat. Some customers act up after just smelling the bar rag."

To draw a glass of beer that'll malt in your mouth is as much of an art as drawing a landscape, and even more soul-filling—according to the professor. He told the class that beer is getting better but that tavern keepers are getting worse.

"Too careless," he said. "In the old days bartenders paid more attention to how beer was kept."

For an hour and a half Hoffman explained how important it was to keep the keg in a pre-cooler, flush the coils regularly, and adjust the pressure so the customer would get the beer in his glass instead of a spray in the face.

Teacher Works

Then the professor began to draw some beer himself. The class perked up at once.

"There is no such thing as wild beer, flat beer, or green beer," he lectured sternly, "if you keep it cool—below 40 degrees — and draw it right."

"It oughta have a collar," he continued, drawing a glass himself with an inch-deep necklace of suds. "It oughta leave a ring on the glass every time you take a sip."

The professor takes big sips himself. He left only six rings. The class looked thirsty.

Don't Use Soap

"But you gotta have control. It's like shifting gears in a car. Pull the faucet down fast. If you throttle it, you get too much foam.

"Always wash the glasses in water. Don't use soap. It kills the head. And don't dry the glasses with a cloth. Use 'em wet. If you use a dry glass, the customer will see bubbles settling on the sides. If he drinks it and it's a hot day—well, what happens maybe?"

Everybody flunked that one.

"He burps maybe," said Roffman patiently. "Right away he starts blaming the beer. Says it's got too much gas—says he saw the bubbles himself."

The professor then invited the taproom scholars to draw a sample. Everybody quickly sidled up to seidel. Each rinsed his seidel in a pail of water before drawing his beer. I forgot this part of the ceremony.

Head O.K.

"Nice collar," said the professor genially, "but look at the bubbles. You used a dry glass."

I nosed into the glass. It was a warm day. Something happened.

HEART NEUROTIC: "What is creating the new high in heart ailment deaths? Why is it that so many victims of heart diseases have no warning and in many cases have been certified as healthy by examining doctors?"

The medical director, Canada Life Insurance, was contacted with your questions. Here are his answers: Deaths from heart ailment are on the increase particularly in the older age groups. To counter-balance this, more people are living longer. Also, says the medical director, a sudden heart ailment may strike down an apparently healthy person without any warning. This is explained by the doctor as being similar to an electric light bulb suddenly snuffing out. Both heart and light are conductors. Even an exhaustive medical examination previous to the seizure would have shown no heart ailment. However, a heart condition usually shows definite symptoms. Regular periodic examinations are indicated.

VACUUM CLEANER: "I've been told that strawberries should not be washed before canning. Is this true? If so what about the sand?"

On most fruit farms strawberries now are ripened on straw beds, hence there is not so much sand in them. Washing does destroy the brilliance of the berries and makes them watery. We spread ours in a colander then whizz the vacuum cleaner over them. Sand, fluff, and bits of stems are whisked off leaving the berries beautifully clean. Hulled, they're ready for canning and preserving.

MUSICIAN: "I am a musician and have spent 10 years of my life getting where I am. My friends are continually asking me to sing at their houses and charity functions for nothing. They never seem to think that this is the way I earn my living. What should I say in reply?"

Your friends will understand if you say you have made it a rule to not take engagements without a fee. It can be said without getting annoyed or fussed. Then everything is in the clear.

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Something unique in Canadian sports is announced in a letter from Toronto. It is the Father and Three Sons Golf Association tourney to be held Aug. 27 at the Lambton Club course in Toronto. It is open to family foursomes in Canada. A team may consist of a father and three sons or sons-in-law, with the provision that, in the event of death of a father who has played in such a tournament, four sons or sons-in-law may continue play as a team. Eighteen holes of medal play for the trophy for low gross and the cup for low net. A Toronto father and his sons defend the Timmins Trophy this year and a Montreal quartet will try to retain the Rankin Trophy. Any such golfing family here?

And the mailman brings this letter: "The Commercial Travellers' annual lawn bowling tournament and get-together will take place Friday, July 16, on the greens of the Boulevard Club, Toronto. The committee expects a full entry list of 64 rinks. The first 64 entries received will be accepted. Holders of active or honorary commercial travellers' certificates are eligible, also ex-members and sales managers employing our members. Each skip is responsible for the eligibility of his players. All bowlers for the first draw are to be on the greens at 8.30 a.m. and in the second draw 10 a.m. The day will end with a bangup banquet, fine entertainment and the presentation of prizes."

Newcastle Plays Here

Weather permitting, the intermediate Petes play Newcastle at 6.15 tonight in Riverside Park, a regular Lakeshore Baseball League fixture. Armour, Sullivan and Crary all available for home hurling, we hear, and the Billingsley bunch will be out to take this one. This schedule has one more month to run, and then comes the various playoffs and provincial playdowns. Tonight's game here might be an interesting tilt. Meantime, the City Leaguers are going on different fronts nightly and some close counts have been registered lately. Our two junior Lakeshore Loop entries swing back into action again this Saturday with the Aces at home and the Bees on the road. More on the minors again.

Petes split a COBL twin bill last e'en in Kingston, winning 7-5 and losing 10-9, while Batawa beat Oshawa 4-3. Locals go to Oshawa tonight. The Bata-Kingston tilt Monday was postponed. Petes still lead with six and two, but Batawa are closer now with five and three, as Oshawa has three and five, and Kingston two and six. Jaquith and Edger toiled on the mound in the second game last night but the Petes were loose afield. Loucks went well in the first fixture to give eight hits and whiff seven. Howie Dalton was plenty tough up at the plate to get three hits for four in the opener and four for four in he nightcap. You can't do much better than that, huh?

Field Is Strung Out

Results of last night's men's softball scraps sort of—in race-track parlance—spread the field out. Combines beat Legion 13-7 so they're out in front a bit by themselves. Knights edged Comstock's 6-5 so the latter have dropped back to second place, with Legion third and Knights a close fourth. In other words, they're all in there again very much in the running. First fray was good with Knights holding a lead throughout but having to fight off a late rally by Comstock's. Terry Woods is having a good year, while Reg. Gordon is doing okay, too. Poor fielding by Legion may have cost them their game as Combines went just so-so. Small crowd stayed during the drizzle. Tomorrow eve it's Comstock's vs. Legion and Knights vs. Combines.

Midget lacrossers got away to a fine start at Miller Bowl the other p.m. with a close double-header. And last night saw Comstock's take a 7-3 juvenile win o'er Scouts as Queen's nosed out Legion 6-5. One player was suspended indefinitely for rough tactics. The juvenile Scouts have a drill in the secondary box at 6.30 tonight. It'll be Legion vs. Comstock's in a juvenile joust Thursday at eight p.m. in Miller Bowl. And a midget double-header in the secondary box Friday, first fray commencing at 6.15 o'clock, Cavanagh's vs. American, and McGillis vs. Comstock's.

Redhot Lacrosse Fray

A big Oshawa crowd in the arena last eve saw a sizzling OLA senior "B" struggle with the Petes eking out an 11-10 verdict. Fastest and roughest fray of the season as the strong Motor Citizens fought desperately to crack the Peterborough jinx. Three fist fights and a lot of slashing and bumping in every quarter. First half was quite close, the visitors showed superiority in the third, and then Oshawa drove hard to outscore the Petes 5-1 in a furious final frame. Too close for comfort. Horton was cut up a bit, having been in two fights, as was DePippo, who was stepping into his old teammates throughout. Yeah, a hot battle. Brampton's "A" crew play the Petes a Friday exhibition here.

Petes Nudge Out Victory In OLA Against Oshawa

The Petes jerked out an 11-10 OLA senior "B" decision over Oshawa before a large Motor City Crowd last night in the fastest and roughest game of the season. They were cutting and slashing at each other throughout in the speedy going and three fights featured. DePippo and Lou Vitarelli threw punches in the second quarter, Horton and McAdam slugged it out in the third and again Horton mixed with DePippo in the furious fourth to draw majors. The Petes had a good lead going into the fourth out Oshawa drove hard and almost tied it up. Dugan's late goal clinched it but Sanders came back for one more near the end.

It was quite even in the first quarter with only a goal apiece scored. Petes tore in for three in the second but Oshawa bounced back with two. The visitors had a margin in the third but Oshawa outscored them 5-1 in a sizzling windup frame. All the winners went good, with Lou Vitarelli, Dugan, Foote, Magee and Jack Breakspear outstanding, and Hill solid in goal. Sanders, DePippo and Hilson shone for Oshawa.

Kingston And Peterborough Divide In A Central League Twin Bill

(Canadian Press)

The Central Ontario Baseball League held the spotlight last night as four senior Ontario games were played in two leagues.

Peterborough Petes and Kingston Locos broke even in a COBL twin bill, with Petes wining the first game 7-5 but losing the second 10-9. Meanwhile, Batawa Shoemen staged a Merriwell finish to defeat Oshawa Merchants 4-3 in the ninth inning to keep their second place spot in the Central League. The only other tilt of the night was in the Nickel Belt circuit where Frood Tigers and Copper Cliff Redmen played to a seven-inning 3-3 tie. Rain forced cancellation of the last two innings.

Kingston appeared to be heading for victory in the first game of the doubleheader, leading 3-1 at the end of the fourth. But Petes forced a deadlock in the fifth, added another run in the sixth and then clinched their 7-5 win with three more markers in the seventh. Locos got two more runs in the final frame.

Dalton Hits

Howie Dalton paced the Peterborough hitters with three safeties, while John Mackness, Larry Edwardson and George Walton each had two. Don Padgett and Doug Loucks scored the other Petes' runs. Loucks struck out seven men and issued three walks.

In the nightcap it was turnabout, with the Petes seemingly headed for victory. Locos, however, staged a three-run rally in the sixth inning to win 10-9. Locos used three pitchers in the tilt with Jack Stone, who started as catcher, finishing the game as winning pitcher. However, he went the route on the mound in the opener and was charged with the loss.

Howie Dalton again was the big gun, banging out four hits and scoring twice to lead all attackers. Carmen Jaquith, hurling for Petes in the nightcap, issued eight walks before being relieved by Edger in the eighth.

Batawa went into the last inning trailing by two runs but they put together a single, a triple, a walk and a double for three runs and a 4-3 victory over Oshawa. Solmes was the game's hero when he doubled home Spencer, who had tripled, and Muffit, who had walked and stolen second.

Muffitt, twirling for Batawa, gave up 11 hits, but struck out 10 batters and walked only one. Tony Romaniski worked for Oshawa and held the Shoemen to five hits until the ninth. He fanned seven and gave up only one free ticket.

Final Mat Show At Brock Tonight

Whipper Watson Earl McCready

This is the night in the Brock Arena when the Masked Marvel and his henchman Lee Henning meet the team of Whipper Watson and Earl McCready. There will be no time limit on the match and Jack Sharkey will have the important task of officiating.

The four big matmen are well aware of the importance of this fracas and it is expected the action will set an all-time record here in the way of mat thrills. It the Marvel and Henning lose the deciding fall the Mask must expose his face and that is a climax that will be expected with great gusto by the fans.

A sellout crowd is expected for the last show of the season. The fight result will be announced.

Mike "The Body" Sharpe meets Dangerous Dan O'Connor and Pat Flanagan takes on Jack Moore to start off the gala evening.

Musial Sparks Card Drive As Redbirds Whip Braves

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

National League clubs are finding out that a team blessed with a .400 batter and an .800 pitcher is tough to beat.

It was this combination that paved the way for the 5-2 victory St. Louis Cardinals hung upon the National League-leading Braves in Boston.

The first half of the combination—slashing Stan Musial—stroked five consecutive singles to zoom his league-leading batting average to .403. His fifth hit came in the ninth with the bases loaded to drive in a couple of mates and snap a 2-2 tie.

The other half—Harry (the Cat) Brecheen—won his eighth game of the year. He has lost two. It also marked his seventh victory in eight decisions under the lights this year.

The triumph put the third-place Cards 1½ games behind the league leaders.

Whip New York

The American League pacesetters, Cleveland Indians, whipped New York 5-2 to increase their margin over the runner-up Yankees to 3½ games. Joe DiMaggio whacked three hits including his 16th home run, tying the American League home run leadership with Ken Keltner of the Indians.

Danny Litwhiler's 10th-inning home run with Hank Sauer on base gave Cincinnati Reds a 6-4 victory over the Phillies in a night game in Philadelphia. Earlier in the game, Sauer had smashed his 21st home run of the season, a record total for a right-handed Cincinnati batter.

Earl Wooten's first major league homer gave Washington Senators a 5-4 victory over Detroit Tigers.

A four-run eighth inning helped Philadelphia Athletics beat St. Louis Browns 7-6. Carl Scheib went all the way to register the victory.

Boston Red Sox came from behind to club Chicago White Sox 11-6.

Bisons, Orioles Divide Doubleheaders

By The Associated Press

Buffalo Bisons are threatening to become the first club since 1935 to wind up an International League season with 200 or more homers.

Led by Chet Laabs, Anse Moore and Johnny Groth, the Bisons have belted 80 homers in their first 56 games. Should they continue this pace, they will finish the season with 220 round-trippers.

The Baltimore Orioles were the last club to hit the double century mark in boundary belts, clouting 202 in 1935. The Orioles hold the loop record of 232 in 168 games in 1932. They are the only team in the loop's history to have reached the 200 mark.

Opposing moundsmen have been able to curb the Bisons' home run power in only 17 games this season.

Split Doubleheader

Last night, Pete Center of the Orioles not only curbed the Bison four-base power but held them to three hits in pitching the Orioles to a 3-0 win in the first hal of a doubleheader.

However, the Bisons got back into the groove in the nightcap, trouncing the Orioles, 9-0 with Groth whacking two out of the park and Laabs one. Laabs belt was his 19th of the year, tops in the circuit.

The first-place Montreal Royals divided a doubleheader with the runner-up Newark Bears to remain 1½ games in front.

Montreal took the opener, 8-3, while Bears won the second game, 2-1. Walt Nothe and Clarence Podbielan stopped the Bears with four safeties inn the first tilt.

Rookie Bob Porterfield yielded only four blows in taming the Royals in the second game. The victory was Porterfield's 10th of the year as against two losses.

Knights Hand A Reverse To Comstock's

Knights edged out Comstock's 6-5 in men's softball at the Bowl last night to climb back into the race and pull Comstock's out of a first-place tie in the standing. It was a snappy scrap before a slim crowd in drizzling rain, with Comstock's rallying strongly for four runs to make it close in the ninth. Two walks and homers by Thomson and Gordon quickly whittled down the K of C lead but the drive was cut off before they could tie it. Griffin hurt his ankle in the eighth and had to retire.

Terry Woods

The pitching was pretty even with Reg. Gordon and Terry Woods both going well, and the fielding generally was good, with Knights helping their cause with two double-plays. Catches by Brockley, McCarthy and Condon also featured. Sullivan had two doubles and O'Heron a double and single to lead Knights at bat, while none of the losers came up with more than one safety. Other two-baggers were hit by Castle, Griffin, Kumpf, and Woods.

Players Warned About Fighting

The main item of business at the meeting of the Peterborough and District Football Association Tuesday evening in the YMCA was about the players ordered off the field of play. After hearing the referees and players concerned the following decisions were made:

Fred McMaster of the Petes was suspended for one week for improper speech, while J. Dunn, Legion, and H. Steel, CGE, received a severe warning for fighting on the field.

Asa Downer handed in his resignation as a referee but after an unanimous finding the executive were glad to report that he would continue provided that the players conform to the rules of the game.

Art Downer made application to be re-instated back to the Legion eleven from the O'Hallor. an aggregation, which was granted by the manager but the Legion manager stated that he knew nothing about the said application. It was decided that said player must abide by the rules.

Legion plays O'Halloran's Wednesday evening at 6:30 prompt. Referee Asa Downer.

On Saturday, at the Oval, CGE plays the Toronto CGE in an exhibition game.

Wednesday, June 30—O'Hallorans play Lindsay in Phelan Cup play on King Edward Park. Kick-off at 6:45. Referee, W. Harris.

Phelan Cup semi-final—Petes vs CGE. Legion versus winner of O'Hallorans vs Lindsay.

Canadian Legion travel to Kingston on Thursday, July 1 to play Kingston Legion. They will go by bus.

Petes were given permission to bring a team to the city on Thursday, July 1, to be played at King Edward Park.

Next meeting Monday, June 28, in YMCA.

Pass Gas Bill

Chatham Farmer Thinks He's Seeing Things As Wolf Snarls And Snaps(?) At Him In Field

CHATHAM, June 23.—(CP).—Harold Ribble claimed Tuesday that a wolf snarled and snapped at him while he was cultivating a corn patch on his Zone township farm here. He said he routed the beast with four blasts from a rifle which he had left near a line fence.

Mr. Ribble said the wolf followed him back and forth across the field snarling and snapping viciously at him, his horses and dogs. Mr. Ribble turned his horses towards the fence line where he had left a rifle. The wolf followed, but turned and ran when the farmer picked up his gun.

"The old she-wolf was bold and came right up to the cultivator baring her fangs. I managed to get four shots at her as she ran away but do not know whether I hit her," he said.

"I've no idea where the wolf came from," he said, "there are no woods close to the farm. We often hear wolves howling in the early morning out here, but seldom see them. I bring my gun out with me just in case."

Joe Louis 5-12 Favorite To Keep Heavyweight Title

By FRED KERNER

NEW YORK, June 23.—(CP).—Eleven years and one day ago Joe Louis pounded Jimmy Braddock to the canvas to win the world's heavyweight boxing championship.

Tonight the Brown Bomber makes his 25th defence of that title, his second against Jersey Joe Walcott who came close to taking it from him last year.

The experts — and past-performance records—give Louis the edge despite his ageing limbs and reactions. Currently a 5 to 12 favorite, the odds are expected to drop to 1-2 by ring time at 10 p.m., EDT, tonight — if the weatherman doesn't intervene with promised thunder showers. If the fight is rained out it will go Thursday night.

Quite a Change

The mighty Bomber is only a carbon copy of his former self—but there is enough of the original left to flatten Walcott. The records show that Louis has never failed to take quick action against every opponent who came back for a second try.

Walcott, a one-ttime sparring partner of the champ's, who downed him in a practice bout in 1936, had the titleholder on the floor in their last go-to six months ago.

So far Walcott has shown no visible signs of worry about Louis' fearsome reputation for kayoing return-bout opponents. And the champ, though he admits he has lost some of his speed, insists he still hits as hard as ever.

There has been a lot of talk of a Walcott surprise, but the ringwise say he'll fight the same kind of fight that almost won late last year. Only this time he will have the added confidence gained from knowing that he twice knocked down the champ.

Midget Teams Tie

East City and the South-end Midgets went to a 16-all City Baseball League draw in Riverside last night. The East crew had an edge in hitting while the fielding was about even. Both sides drew a flock of walks which turned into runs. The teams:

East — Ferguson, Driscoll, McGrath, Gandy, Sullivan, Mongraw Foley, D. Ferguson, Bachelor.

South — Anderson, Jones, Jensen, Bigford, Grant, Douglas, Young, Evans, Searles, Murphy.

East ..... 341 003 5—16 12 3

South ..... 203 500 6—16 9 3

Combines Atop Men's Loop As Legion Lose

The R-E Combines took sole possession of top spot in the City Softball League last night at the Bowl when they beat Legion 13-7 to drop the ex-servicemen to third place. It was a loose game with Legion errors and a lot of cheap bunt hits — plus some solid bingling — making the difference. While Akers fanned eight, he was nicked for 16 safeties, and Reid was blasted for 22 —even if half a dozen should have been outs. A four-run drive by Combines in the eighth clinched matters. The winners fielded well throughout.

Phil Pryde

Bill Walton led the losers at bat with three for four, as White bashed out two homers and a single in five tries. Reid, Collins, Scriver and Greenlaw each got two safe blows. For the victors, Phil Pryde was top man with four for five, one a double, though Bob Crowe—who played only part of the game—had a double and single in two. Akers was next with three in four, as Carpenter and Borland had three for five each.

Excitement ran high during a juvenile lacrosse double-header last night at Miller Bowl, which saw Comstocks defeat Scouts 7 to 3, while Queens edged Legion 6 to 5.

Both games featured close checking and rough play, with the Queens and Legion tussle going into overtime before Queens earned the decision.

F. McMaster of Queens was indefintely suspended from further play during the second game for unsportsmanlike conduct. The minor lacrosse association will meet on Wednesday to decide what action to take re this player.

9,000 Canadian Doctors Back Federal Health Insurance Plan

By KEN BOTWRIGHT

TORONTO, June 23 — (CP). — Some 9,000 Canadian doctors will support federal health insurance and a national pre-paid medical plan.

This was decided Tuesday by the Canadian Medical Association's general council in closed session.

A council spokes, Dr. H. E. MacDermot of Montreal, said the council also recommended that doctors in training be sent to serve an apprenticeship under small-town general practitioners.

Dr. MacDermot said the council would approve the federal government's proposed health insurance plan "only if it is on a sound financial basis." The government has already paved the way by.

Conducting a survey of health service needs of Canadian, provinces.

Granting money to provinces for support of existing health services such as cancer, tuberculosis and polio control.

No State Medicine

"A possible danger we want to avoid is state medicine," Dr. MacDermot said.

Earlier the Doctors' Parliament had agreed to help form a national pre-paid medical plan. Such a plan would co-ordinate under a national body the country's scores of individually-owned medical plans.

The Council decided to hold the CMA's 80th annual meeting in Saskatoon next June. Dr. William Magner of Toronto Tuesday succeeded Winnipeg's Dr. F. G. McGuinness as president.

At a dinner Dr. Anna Nicholson of Saskatoon was elected president of the Federation of Medical Women of Canada. The Federation represents most of Canada's 500 women doctors.

Retiring president Dr. Agnes Moffatt of Peterborough said:

"We as Canadian physicians are much favored. Let us see to it that our Federation keeps organized and united, prepared to encourage the best of medical training, the best of medical practice, the finest in research and sincerest public service."

Find Child Locked Up In Dirty Closet

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23 — (AP).—The parents of five-year-old Sharon Stewart were in custody today after the child was freed from confinement in a dark and foul-smelling closet at the family home.

When found in the cramped, dungeon-like closet, the little girl was nude, her hair was tangled and matted and she was some 15 pounds underweight. At hospital doctors said Sharon was undernourished but not in serious condition.

The mother, Mrs. Esther Stewart, 29, was arrested when she returned late Tuesday from a beach outing. The father, Robert, 32, was picked up when he came back from a fishing trip. He is a city fireman. The Stewarts have two other children.

Rural Alberta Welfare Work Reported Good

EDMONTON, June 23—(CP).—RCMP officers who handle child welfare cases for the Alberta Child Welfare Department in rural areas are "very good," Chas. B. Hill, department superintendent, said Tuesday.

Mr. Hill was being cross-examined by George Steer of Edmonton, counsel for the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, at the Royal Commission inquiry into child welfare administration by the Alberta government.

Mr. Hill said there were six or seven welfare officers in Edmonton and Calgary who did family case work as part of their duties, and in other districts there were RCMP officers and district nurses who performed these tasks.

Were the RCMP adequate officers? Mr. Steer asked. Mr. Hill replied "They are very, very good."

Foster homes were largely in the country, with children more than 12 predominating. Was this a good practice? asked Mr. Steer. Mr. Hill replied that country homes were good.

Mr. Steer then asked if members of voluntary welfare agencies should not be on the home investigating committee, all members of which live in Edmonton, along with civil service agents. Mr. Hill replied that law governing child welfare administration would not permit this.

May Withhold Money In Sit-Down Strike

TORONTO, June 23—(CP). — Three of the eight elderly women who staged a sit-down strike in a nursing home when they were ordered to leave may not find their welfare cheques in the mail. City Welfare Commissioner H. S. Rupert said that by contacting relatives he had persuaded most of the women to leave, but three still declined to leave the nursing home which was closed several weeks ago by the city.

He said his final step in removing recalcitrant patients would be stoppage of welfare cheques. They will be moved to nursing homes approved by the health department.

Find Germans Not Converted To Democracy

By KEITH GARNER

BERLIN, June 23—(Reuters)—Three out of every four Germans in the British zone have failed to be converted to democracy and have little or no faith in the host of democratic parties which have sprung up since the end of the war, according to a spokesman of the British control commission political division.

The average working German man and woman cares about nothing but the food, clothing and coal situation, the spokesman added. When an election comes along, he votes for this or that party, but only because he was taught under the Nazi regime that it was his duty to vote, and not because he has any real interest in party politics.

"Generally speaking, we can say that our attempts to instill democracy into the people of Western Germany have been mainly a failure," he continued.

"Nowhere is there the same amount of interest that one encounters in Britain, and nowhere is there any real understanding among the common people of what the various parties stand for."

The spokesman felt that the failure of the Germans to take up democracy in a big way was due to three main factors:

1. The moral and spiritual collapse in 1945 which left the people half-stunned, disillusioned ill-inclined to take part in any "new experiment."

The collapse left them with a ruined country, one of the most acute food crises known to present-day Europe, and an overwhelming feeling that they had become the "untouchables" of the western world.

Busy Keeping Alive

Between searching for food, clothing and fuel, they had neither the time nor the inclination to take any interest in a "democratic awakening."

2. The ingrained German "fuehrer instinct," that is to say, the desire to be led and to leave the government of the country to "the men who know."

This instinct, already discernible in the Middle Ages, became dominant in the days of Bismark, and reached its peak under Hitler, Goebbels and the Gestapo.

"A nation which has done what it has been told for generations can hardly be expected to adopt democratic feelings overnight," the spokesman declared. "The German tendency to obey the government of the day remains and is perhaps responsible for the fact that the Germans have been so quiet and docile during the past three years."

3. Probably the most important of all, the shortage of leaders of democratic thought who are really abreast of events and tendencies abroad.

"In 12 years of Nazism, the young men who would normally have emerged as democratic leaders either rotted in concentration camps or became prominent in Nazi movement," the spokesman said.

"Those who were in concentration camps returned three years ago out of touch with the modern world and its way of life, while those who became Nazis obviously would have no placed in a democratic revival.

"As a result, the men who took over the leadership of Germany in 1945 were the old-time politicians who were in their prime in the time of the Weimar Republic, and are still mentally living in the days following the First World War."

Forest Fires In 1948 Costing 43 Millions

MONTREAL, June 23—(CP)—The Canadian Forestry Association today announced that forest firest in Canada so far this year had burned over 800,000 acres, causing loss estimated at nearly $43,000,000.

The survey showed Ontario to be the heaviest loser with 500,000 acres burned over by 800 fires and monetary loss was estimated at $34,000,000.

Wonder If Britain Can Maintain Feverish Pace On Assembly Line

By MICHAEL O'MARA.

COVENTRY, Warwickshire, England, June 23— (CP).—There is a boom in Britain's automotive industry. But how long will the feverish pace on the assembly lines be maintained?

In the nation's fight for economic survival ,automobiles and allied products are the most lucrative source of overseas income. The industry, which grossed in export more than £150,000,000 ($600,000,000) last year and in the first four months of 1948 sent overseas £30,341,772 worth of vehicles alone, is responsible for about one-ninth of Britain's total exports.

At Standard Motor Company, Ltd., on the outskirts of Coventry, Ferguson tractors are driving off the lines slightly faster than one every 135 seconds. The factory's scheduled output for the next 18 months—tractors worth $70,000,000—has been contracted for by United States dealers.

Fear Saturation Point

But sales departments foresee a time when world markets will reach near-saturation and competition, at present almost a minor factor in selling, once more becomes cut-throat.

It cannot come for some years yet. Estimates in this country vary mostly from 2½ to 5 years. A spokesman for Rover Company Ltd. at Solihull, near Birmingham,puts it at nine years.

At Standard, three major types of car, all selling well overseas, are being scrapped. By the end of July the 1,000,000 square-foot factory with 11 miles of conveyor belts will be concentrating on only one type: The new, sleek Vanguard. Retooling costs were £7,500,000. First two years' production is all "export only."

At Rover they have put out a new type of four-wheel-drive jeep-tractor named the Land-Rover, which builders say is better than anything yet developed in the light-tractor class. It may also be used as a runabout coupe, or—by employing a "power take-off" at the rear—as a generating station. It, too, will be in full production by July.

FUTURE BEHIND HIM—Mrs. Dolores Schubert looks ahead, while her 7-months-old London-born son, Benjamin, has to look back along the transatlantic trail he has just travelled because of his position in the "cuddle seat" slung on mom like a haversack. Mrs. Schubert is the wife of U.S. army captain B. Schubert, attached to the U.S. embassy in London. Their home is in Marsfield, Wis.

MacKinnon Refuses To Talk On Highly-Secret Project

OTTAWA, June 23—(CP).—Resources Minister MacKinnon told the Commons Tuesday he could not give details about a "highly-secret" atomic energy research project being undertaken by "certain" Government departments.

Opposition members pounced on a $134,200 item in the estimates — it carried the intriguing heading, "Investigations of radioactive ores"—and asked for details.

Mr. MacKinnon said the investigations were started in 1945 and at first dealt with methods of refining pitchblende at the Eldorado Mining Company plant. Later, however, they became part of a "larger and highly-secret atomic energy project being carried out by certain Government departments."

The Minister disclosed that a forestry act will be introduced at the next session of parliament.

In opening proceedings, Finance Minister Abbott ,reiterated that the special austerity taxes imposed last November will be lifted when "circumstances" justify their removal. At the same time, he described as "without foundation" a Canadian Press story predicting their removal.

Can Return Funds

First reading was given a Bill which will enable the Defence Department to return to College Officer Training Corps the funds they raised during the war for new buildings or memorial scholarships.

John T. Hackett (PC-Stanstead) and R. H. McGregor (PC-York East) broke with their party to vote against continuation of the Agricultural Prices Support Board Act. The vote for continuation was 142 to 2.

John Bracken, Progressive Conservative Leader, said he was not opposed to the principle of the Bill, but felt the life of the board should be fixed by Parliament rather than by government order. Legislation providing for agricultural floor prices should be made a permanent part of the statutes.

Potato Question

During the agricultural debate, Mr. McCubbin said Prince Edward Island had received aid in building potato warehouses, and which is open to any province.

G. K. Fraser (PC-Peterborough West) brought up the question of how the assistance was divided. He wondered what could be done about building warehouses in Central Canada. He said he had bought 10 pounds of PEI potatoes recently and they cost him 87 cents.

"I thought that was rather high," he said merely looking over at his colleague, W. Chester S. McLure (PC-Queens).

"You should be prepared to pay for a good potato," interjected Mr. McLure.

FILABUSTERING — Senator William Langer of North Dakota mops his steaming brow after he had turned the floor over to Senator Glen Taylor of Idaho to continue the filibuster against the draft in the U.S. Senate. Langer talked for more than five hours. Taylor, who had filibustered before Langer, then relieved him and carried on until the filibuster was busted on a technicality. The Senate immediately adopted the compromise draft bill and sent it to the House.

Douglas Chooses Sophisticated Hollywood Stars

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, June 23 (AP). —Melvyn Douglas, the suave gentleman of the screen, tackled the daring task of picking Hollywood's most sophisticated women and came up with only four choices:

Greta Garbo, Dorothy McGuire Myrna Loy, and Katharine Hepburn.

Says Douglas: "Much of what passes in Hollywood for sophistication just ain't. Wisecrackers and smart alecs aren't sophisticates, and with women that goes double.'" He added that Garbo, Loy and Hepburn are "as subtle as good wine and stimulating as a cold shower."

McGuire, said he, gives you the feeling she"s worldly without being bored.

Marmora's Men Too Strong Rope Breaks In Tug-of-War

MARMORA, June 23 — (ENS) —The annual school picnic for the children of Sacred Heart parish Marmora was held on Sunday afternoon at Tipperary Hotel, of Mr. James McGrath, Crowe Lake.

The weather was perfect except for a prevailing wind. Parents accompanied the children, and made the event a real social gathering. The program for the afternoon began with water sports for one hour, then running races were conducted for boys and girls of different ages. A tug-of-war between forty boys proved very interesting and this was climaxed by a tug-of-war between twenty men, whose strength overtaxed the quality of the rope, which sent everyone sprawling on the ground.

Following this, a game of softball between members of the Junior Holy Name Society also proved very interesting. At the conclusion everyone gathered into family circles to enjoy picnic lunches on the grounds.

The following children were winners in the field activities:

The text was: "They brought young children unto Jesus", and the exhortation to the teachers was: "Do not minimize your task. No matter how small it may seem to you, from God's stand-point it is of supreme importance. You are dealing with human lives, and precious souls. Public school education needs to be balanced with education in spiritual truth, hence a live teacher training class in each school is imperative. Remember this is a great way to invest your life—it will bring returns far above the acquiring of silver or gold."

A special offering was received in the interests of the Sunday School. envelopes having been provided for that purpose.

Hungarian Pair To Work In Lakefield

First Hungarian immigrants to arrive Peterborough district are Joiann and Janos Horvarth, who were met on Monday evening at the CPR station by officials of the National Employment Service and their future employer, W. Killor- of Lakefield.

The young couple, both 34, left an Austrian seaport three weeks ago by a Greek steamer and had none too pleasant a trip. They are not strangers to ways of western people, having served as domestics with the American Army in Austria for three years. At that time they lived well but told officials that living in their homeland at the present time is a nightmare. Food can only be purchased with golden coins or jewellry and very little at that. During their association with the American troops they picked up passable English and some Italian.

Mr. Killoran, their new employer, is sending them to his summer cottage at Stony Lake for two weeks to recuperate and acclimatize themselves to Canadian summer weather before starting to work in Lakefield.

Three Cadets Injured At Ipperwash Camp Show Improvement; One boy Seriously Hurt

LONDON, Ont., June 23 (CP) Some improvement was noted today in the condition of three Windsor high school cadets in Westminster military hospital here with severe injuries received in a grenade explosion at Camp Ipperwash Monday night.

However, one of the trio, Nicholas Timoshenko, 15, still was in serious condition. He lost part of one foot, three fingers of one hand and one eye is injured badly.

Less serious are Ernest Ebbinghouse, 16, and James Vaughan, 17. They received multiple shrapnel wounds about the body.

The cadets found the grenades in an unused section of the camp. A fourth cadet was uninjured.

Lt. Col. W. J. Moogk, second in command at Ipperwash, said today that a preliminary investigation of the accident is completed and arrangements are being made for an official court of inquiry.

Westclox Water Pressure Reported Down To 28 lbs.

Western Clock Co. suggested in a letter to the Council Monday that a new 12-inch main should be laid in Ashburnham to increase the water pressure in all that part of the city, and particularly at the top of the Hunter St. hill.

Presumably this letter was sent to the Council, rather than to the Utilities Commission, because certain assurance was given by the Council when the company chose Armour Hill for plant site.

Mr. John H. Vernor, general manager of Western Clock, reminded the Council that many new water services have been laid from the existing mains, but there has been no improvement in the fire protection system. The company was promised adequate water supply but actual test pressure readings in recent years were as follows: June, 1945—38 lbs. to the sq. in.; June, 1946—43½ lbs.; 1947—44 lbs.; 1948—38 lbs. The letter says the company should not be obliged to put in a private pressure system. There is only one main now across the river, and Western Clock urges that another main be installed "immediately."

Mayor Ovens said Chief Smith was going to make a test of hydrant pressure this week. In order that this letter should receive earliest attention it was placed on the Board of Works file for next Monday.

Fireman Injured

George Reynolds of the fire department suffered a bruised arm in a water pressure test in the vicinity of Western Clock Co. this morning. A sudden whip of a hose nozzle as booster power was applied, combined with the rain slippery road, flung him to the pavement. The force of the sway in the line was believed at first to have fractured the arm, but examination at St. Joseph's Hospital nearby disclosed that the hurt was not more serious than a bruise.

Chief Smith was testing pressure from the hill top hydrants for the information of the city council who received Monday night a letter from J. H. Vernor of Western Clock directing attention to low pressure as shown by fire underwriter tests.

"The pressure reading at two hydrants this morning was 40 lbs. a square inch," Chief Smith told the Examiner. "It may be understood generally that when a fire alarm is received at headquarters a warning bell sounds simultaneously at the Utilities pumping station. An operator there observes pressure indications and can immediately boost the pressure to 120 pounds. This morning we used two pumpers, one at each of two hydrants. There were two lines of hose from each hydrant. Pressure on two lines of hose was 120 pounds, and on the other two it was 150."

Centre Committee Delays Revising Plans

Memorial Centre committee does not intend to spend money on revision of plans of its proposed community building until certainty of site has been determined.

This was the substance of a letter received by the council Monday night from Mr. C. B. Neal. A new direction of site is looking toward the property of the Children's Aid Society, George St. south, but nothing has been concluded between the city and the C.A.S. In the meantime the Centre committee is against incurring any "extra expense" until location is definitely settled.

Stores Reduce Steak Prices 6 to 10 Cents

Substantial advances in prices of beef have resulted in a slowing of the market and a reduction in buying by housewives, according to a packinghouse official. As a result the trade is slow with packing firms buying just enough to meet their needs, while at the stockyards in Toronto, there is a glut of beef cattle with little demand.

Buyer opposition to the increases is noticeable in the retail outlets, and Thursday's Examiner carried advertisements indicating a drop in the price of steaks from 75-79 to 69 cents. Other stores and butcher shops are reported to have also reduced the prices to stimulate trade.

In the restaurants, patrons are feeling the impact of the price advances, as menus show price changes upward for both sirloins and T-bones. At one restaurant, sirloins which formerly sold at 95 cents are up to $1.10 and the famous and popular T-bones which formerly graced dinner plates for $1.25 are now listed at $1.50.

Forecast Drop

TORONTO, June 23 — (CP). — The Toronto Daily Star said in a news column story today that representatives in the beef industry forecast a drop in beef prices from two to four cents by the weekend. This was due to a buyers' strike against high prices.

A report that retail sales have dropped 30-50 per cent as a result of consumer resistance was made by Frank C. Fletcher, general manager of the Ontario stockyards.

"Either the sellers are going to hold on to their cattle until customers start buying again or they will be forced to sell and we will have lower prices for the time being," said Mr. Fletcher.

Several Toronto butchers predicted that beef pricese would be down two or three cents a pound by the end of the week. On retailer said he believed the price would be down four cents a pound.

Demand Action

The Toronto livestock exchange today wired Agriculture Minister Gardiner in Ottawa, demanding that he announce immediately whether or not the embargo on admission of Canadian cattle to the United States will be lifted. A glut of cattle was reported on the Toronto market today.

Some 4,175 cattle milled about one stockyards without a buyer in sight, leading to speculation that prices may be due for a further slump. Already they have

To Assess 60 Cycle Areas Part of Change-over Cost

Only two eastern Ontario municipalities, Arnprior and Colborne, both small towns, are listed in press reports of the decision of the Ontario Municipal Electric Association approving in principle the $191,000,000 plan to convert southern Ontario's power frequency from 25 to 60 cycles.

Peterborough, Lindsay, Kingston, Oshawa, Ottawa were among those who voted Monday in favor of this project. Supporting it were 49 municipalities holding 395 votes, and opposed were 21 municipalities with 124 votes.

It is understood that at the meeting last week of the eastern Ontario Municipal Election Association in Belleville, the conversion plan received unanimous endorsation.

Peterborough is in the 60-cycle power area with the rest of the eastern circuit of the province.

Mr. G. S. Matthews, represented Peterborough at the Belleville meeting. He prepared a statement, a paragraph of which deals with prospective costs of the switch-over:

"The 60-cycle areas are going to pay 15% of $45,000,000 taken from reserves set up by the Hydro-Electric Commission, and 15% of $20,000,000 which charges are to be included in the cost of power during the years 1948-51 inclusive, as a result of stabilizing rates at the 1946 levels".

Mr. Matthews first listed the benefits, and then proceeded as follows:

"I think that most municipalities in Eastern Ontario are in favor of frequency standarization, but they think also that they are being assessed too great a portion of the cost in comparison to the benefits they will receive.

"The legislation that has recently been passed in the Ontario Legislature is only enabling legislation. It enables the Hydro to go ahead with the proposal to standardize frequency, but I do not think it ties them down to the exact recommendations made by the Clarkson Gordon firm.

"I think it would be fairer if the sixty cycle areas were only assessed their proportion of the cost of changing Quebec power company facilities and the Commission-owned facilities for the generation and transmission of power. These expenditures are estimated to be slightly over forty million dollars.

"I do not think that we should be asked to pay any portion of the cost of converting consumers' equipment in the present twenty-five cycle area. The estimated cost of converting consumer equipment is $132,748,000."

"The benefits to be gained by frequency standarization to the present 60-cycle area are listed by Clarkson Gordon in their report, as follows:

(a) As part of a large sixty cycle system they would be in a better position to obtain future supplies of power to take care of large new loads or unexpected demands in their area.

(b) They would have greater security of service than is possible under existing conditions, where inter-connection with the twenty-five cycle area is provided through frequency changers of limited capacity.

(c) They would benefit inter-connection with other sixty cycle systems in Canada or the United States in various ways, including the accessibility of emergency power during service interruptions or periods of unexpected demand.

They would also share in any revenue obtained from the sale of power which is not for the time being required in Ontario, and ultimately would share in the increased sale of surplus energy to inter-connected systems.

(d) The value of Frequency Standardization from the standpoint of national defence would be equally great to the sixty cycle area.

It is admitted that these benefits to consumers in the existing sixty cycle area cannot be evaluated in dollars. They are, as Commissioner Ross Strike has said, "Indeterminates."

The O.M.E.A. Monday actually approved what the Ontario Legislature and the Hydro-Electric Power Commission had already decided upon. Robt. H. Saunders, Hydro chairman, told the municipal representatives "it was now or never for the changeover" to standard electric frequency. R. L. Hearn, chief engineer of Hydro said the experts believed "it is of paramount importance to the general welfare of the province to have a standardized frequency in order effectively to develop and operate economically the power resources of the province."

Would Revise Road System Warden Says

"I feel it is time that the whole road system should be revised, and a number of the lesser travelled roads should be reverted to the municipalities, and some of the more travelled roads assumed in their places." Thus Warden James Humphries opened the June session of Peterborough County Council today in the Council Chamber of the Court House.

Prominent on this session's agenda will be the equalizing of the County's assessment, drawing up of new High School areas, and preparation of by-laws for the temporary financing of the Buckhorn Road and Chemong Causeway. Another by-law has been prepared to provide for the grant to Civic Hospital.

Warden Humphries then paid tribute to the late Gilbert McIlmoyl, Reeve of Smith township, and former warden. He also praised J. A. Fletcher for his work as County Engineer and officially welcomed his successor, J. D. Kean.

"We are sorry to lose the services of Mr. Fletcher as County Engineer. We welcome Mr. Kean as the new appointee. There are several projects under way this year, such as the construction of the Buckhorn Road, the building of the Chemong Causeway and several other bridge repairs which will involve a great deal of the attention of the County and Suburban-Area Commissions."

He told Council that there is a serious shortage of help at the County Home, and that the Superintendent and Matron were carrying on as best they could.

Doing Extensive Work

"I trust that all of the members of Council will co-operate with the Board in doing what they can to alleviate this condition. Extensive work is being undertaken at the Home this year, and at a later

Oddfellows Hold Decoration Day

MILLBROOK, June 23 (ENS) —Millbrook Lodge IOOF, No. 308, together with Golden Sheaf Rebekah Lodge, No. 176, held their annual decoration day service at the cenotaph in the town hall square on Sunday afternoon. The community band, under Gordon Baker, headed the parade from the hall, and lead in the singing of hymns.

The impressive Lodge ritual was capably carried through by Gordon Might, NG, and the chaplain, Lawrence Winslow. As past grand, Wilfrid Elson read the names of brethren buried in local, and outside, cemeteries. Flowers were laid on the base of the memorial by members chosen for that service. Rebekahs were similarly honored. Sister Mabel Payne, NG, read the names, and Sister Zella Bentley, PNG, received and arranged the flowers, until the high base of the cenotaph was covered with blossoms. Brother Bruce Elliott laid the sheaf of deep red poppies in memory of the two Oddfellows, Fred Elliott and Bruce Fisher, who gave their lives overseas in World War 1.

After the two minutes' silence, Donald McKnight sounded the Last Post and the Reveille and "Blest Be the Tie." was sung. Rev. Walter Patterson was expected to give the address, but was absent, and the service closed with the address by the Noble Grand, and the prayers by the chaplain..

Following the parade back to the Lodge rooms, committees previously appointed, drove to the various cemeteries in the surrounding area, and decorated the graves of deceased Oddfellows and Rebekahs.

Exploding Fish Must Be Faced By Group Of U.S. Scientists

By MARTIN DIER

HAMILTON, Bermuda, June 23 (CP).—Exploding fish must be faced by a group of United States scientists preparing for an expedition to study marine life in the Atlantic deep off Bermuda.

The scientists, who will put to sea from Hamilton aboard the Caryn, may have to piece together disintegrated marine life before their studies begin.

The problem results from the fact that fish inhabiting great depths are built to withstand the terrific pressures. When they are caught and brought to the surface they often explode in the lessened pressure.

Dr. Fritz Haas, a biologist who is heading the expedition, said animal life on the ocean bottom still is practically unknown.

"Bermuda is unique in its location," he continued. "It is situated on a steep ridge of the ocean bed and has deep water close to the shore.

Comb Ocean Beds

"We shall collect from the ocean beds whatever we find. We hope to discover some rare specimens and some fish which have never been seen before. We also want to study animal conditions in the depths where the sun does not penetrate."

The scientists are charged with an additional task — to make accurate models of the unknown deep sea fish for public showing in the Chicago Natural Museum. Ronald Lambert, an artist and photographer, will have the job of making drawings of the fish or their disintegrated parts as they are brought to the surface and then, with transparent plastic, building up replicas in model form.

Other scientists in the party besides Dr. Haas are Leren P. Woods, an icthyoloist from the Chicago Museum; Mrs. Marion Grey, a specialist on deep-sea fish, and Dr. Robert Haas of the University of Illinois.

Mrs. Glover thanked the members and a delicious lunch was served by members of the choir.

LONDON, Ont., June 23—(CP) —Mrs. Ann McCallum, 63, of 23 Elm St., died in hospital here Tuesday night, leaving still a mystery how she received severe head injuries. She was found helpless in her home four weeks ago.

Neighbors discovered Mrs. McCallum, semi-conscious from a possible fractured skull and blackened eyes, lying in her blood-stained bed, and it was believed she had been helpless for several days.

Two theories were held—one that the woman had been victim of a brutal attack, the other that she had suffered a fall—but neither was definitely established.

Britain Plans National Display On Victoria Fair Anniversary

By STUART UNDERHILL.

LONDON, June 23 — (CP).— Ninety-seven years ago Queen Victoria wrote in her diary: "The greatest day in our history. The most beautiful and imposing and touching spectacle ever seen. It was the happiest, proudest moment in my life."

The cause of her enthusiasm was the 1851 Exhibition, largely organized by her husband, Prince Albert, and held in the famous Crystal Palace, which was destroyed by fire in 1936.

Many Britons had hoped that in 1951 a centenary exhibition might be held in London.

Proposals for a 1951 exhibition were stimulated two years ago when a commission appointed to study the question of trade fairs urged that it be held.

The scheme was reluctantly turned down by the government because of the difficulty of finding a site, and the scarcity of manpower and material needed to erect a great exhibition hall.

Plan Celebration

Last year Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, announced that in 1951 there would be "a national display illustrating British contributions to civilization, past, present and future, in arts, science, technology, and industrial designs."

A council was set up headed by Gen. Lord Ismay, 61, Chief of Staff to Winston Churchill in 1940-1946 and later senior adviser to Earl Mountbatten in India. Princess Elizabeth presided at the first meeting of the council, and said in a speech:

"The festival will not be confined to London, but will be spread throughout the Kingdom. It will be designed to display to our own people and to visitors from all over the world what a wealth of ideas and achievements Great Britain has produced in the realm of art and science."

Probably there will be one large central exhibition in London covering the whole field of British contribution to art and industry.

Premier George Drew To Attend Cobourg's 150th Anniversary

COBOURG, June 23.—(ENS). ——The Premier of Ontario and two of his cabinet ministers will participate in the Civic Holiday week-end celebration which this year will mark the 150th anniversary of the first settlement in Cobourg. A huge program has been drawn up which will start Friday, July 30 and continue until the night of August 2. Premier George Drew will attend the drumhead service which the Legion is staging in the park on Sunday, August 1. On the day following, the Hon. William Goodfellow, Minister of Welfare and the Hon. A. E. Welsh, Minister of Travel and Publicity, will be on the viewing stand when the parade passes the town hall.

Invitations are being sent out to all the Cobourg old boys and girls whose names are on record and it is hoped that the radio and newspaper publicity will reach the remainder.

One of the features of the programme will be the unveiling of the new park gates which the Cobourg and Professional Women's Club is donating to the town, and the Club will publish by that date the history of Cobourg—a very complete volume which is soon to go to the printers. Proceeds from its sale and advertising will go to pay for the new park gates. The committee promises that there will not be a dull moment from the start of the big week-end until the last item on the programme.

Trapped Fox Nips Trapper

LINDSAY, June 23 (Special)—Harold Moxon of Janetville will probably think twice before he tries to capture another fox with his bare hands—especially a wild one. Moxon was badly bitten about the hands Monday when he tried to capture a fox which had strayed into his garden. The fox in an effort to escape, became stuck in the fence which bordered the lot. Moxon reached out to haul the fox out of the fence, but failed to reckon on the fox's ability to manoeuvre its head. The result was the wily fox gave him a few nips and escaped from the trap.

Charge Two Men Assaulted Girl

LINDSAY, June 23 (ENS). — Charged with indecently assaulting a female and supplying liquor to a minor, Norman Tracey, 20, of RR 5, Lindsay, and James Donegan, 21, Peterborough, were arrested my provincial police Saturday evening in Lindsay and Peterborough respectively. According to police, the pair are alleged to have picked up a young Lindsay girl in an automobile, driven to the country and assaulted her.

The case came to the attention of the police when the girl's aunt and guardian became alarmed when she did not return home at a late hour and sought police assistance in locating her. The young girl eventually arrived at a Toronto address where a telephone call to her home disclosed her whereabouts. She was returned to Lindsay by Children's Aid superintendent Allan Blewett.

Dr. R. W. Hunt, 91 Dies In Toronto

TORONTO, June 23 (CP) — Dr. Rennelaer W. Hunt, 91, well-known Toronto dentist and veteran of the Northwest Rebellion, died here Tuesday. He was 91. Dr. Hunt was a native of Port Hope, Ont., and practised in Port Perry, Ont., and Hamilton before coming to Toronto. In his youth he was an outstanding curler, skipping a team which won the Dominion championship. During the Northwest Rebellion, Dr. Hunt served as a sharpshooter with the Port Hope Rifles.

Hope To Improve Research For Farmers

GUELPH, June 23. (CP)—Dominion and Provincial government policy on advising farmers on agricultural research findings came under fire at the Canadian Agricultural Institute convention here Tuesday.

Dr. L. C. Paul of the University of Saskatchewan said lack of coordination in extension activities fo Federal and Provincial governments was one of the main reasons many Canadian farmers were not making use of up-to-date methods in agriculture.

Much of the trouble was due to the provinces having complete jurisdiction over education.

"Because of this Canada's biggest agricultural research organization — the Federal Department of Agriculture — is theoretically not permitted to make results available in popular form nor to take steps to ensure their best use."

Bulletins and pamphlets on scientific farming were technically correct but too "academic".

Dr. Paul recommended that a national committee on extension be established to co-ordinate both federal and provincial activities.

W. B. George, lecturer and extension specialist at Kemptville Agricultural School told a field crops meeting earlier that "the farmer cannot be expected to know all the answers to various agricultural problems."

Hospital Space Survey Planned

TORONTO, June 23.—(CP). — Health Minister Russell Kelley announced Tuesday a survey will be undertaken to determine present hospital space and future needs in Ontario.

Coming less than a week after Ontario voiced agreement in principle with the Federal government's national health plan, the announcement said a committee under the chairmanship of George D. Davis of Toronto will undertake the survey.

One of the main tasks of the Provincial committee is to make a census of available beds and to estimate how many more are needed.

The type of treatment will probably also be compiled. Medical authorities have said much of the current overcrowding in hospitals is due to the number of beds occupied by chronic and convalescent patients.

The survey will require up to a year to complete.

ALL ARE DANGEROUS

Rattlesnakes and adders belong to a family of poisonous snakes, the vipers, which are most abundant in Africa and Southwest Asia.

Armed Services MPP's Abolished

REGINA, June 23. (CP) — A wartime political experiment — armed services representation in the provincial legislature—comes to an end in Saskatchewan tomorrow as electors go to the polls to choose a new government.

Alone among the Dominion's nine provinces, Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba passed legislation in the last year of the war providing electors in the armed forces with political spokesmen for at least one legislative term. Alberta and Manitoba gave representation to the navy, army and air force. Saskatchewan opened three seats to candidates at large elected by servicemen on duty in designated theatres of war.

A survey of the representatives themselves reveals they are agreed the system has been of considerable benefit to ex-servicemen. However, the majority now favor its abolition.

J. Harper Prowse, of Edmonton, elected as army representative and now Alberta Liberal leader, says continued representation for special interests would be wrong.

20 Cents Worth of Meat Britain's Weekly Ration

Austerity and rationing are still words with plenty of meaning in Britain today. The basic weekly food ration consists of 20 cents worth of meat per week with four cents worth of corned beef, 2 oz. of cheese, 4 oz. of margarine or 3 oz. of butter, 1 oz. of lard, 2 oz. of bacon, ½ lb. of sugar and one egg, when eggs are available.

Each person is also given 28 points per four-week ration period. These points can be used for a variety of things. A pound of jam or marmalade is 10 points, a 4-oz. packet of dried eggs is also 10 points. A packet of cereals is 4 points, as are 2 lbs. of oats and a tin of unsweetened condensed milk. Tinned fruit, such as apricots or peaches, is 32 points a tin, and spam and other similar types of tinned meat are the same. Stewed steak and tinned pork are 47 points per tin.

Candies are rationed to ¾ lb. per four-week period. The bread ration, which most people find the least hardship, is 9 bread units per week. Four units have to be given for one large loaf, and 2 units for a small loaf. Bread units also have to be surrendered for cakes and pastry. The milk ration varies slightly according to the time of year and is normally 2 pints a week per person.

Monotony of the Food

Few people pretend that Britain is starving, but all complain of the monotony of the food and the housewife especially. The office worker and factory worker usually has a midday meal away from home at a works canteen, a local government organized British Restaurant or one of the many restaurants, which to the visitor seem to offer exactly the same food, the only difference being the price. The housewife, on the other hand, rarely seats at a restaurant and buying food is nearly a full-time occupation for her. She depends on knowing a man who can let her have one rabbit a week and a friend in the country who gives her an occasional dozen eggs and a pound of butter to make her life slightly more tolerable.

William H. Crowe Marries Erna G. Ohlke at Kingston

St. James' Anglican Church, Kingston, attractively decorated with fern standards and pink and white peonies, was the setting for a pretty wedding on Saturday, when Erna Gertrude Ohlke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Russell Ohlke of Kingston, became the bride of William Hofesworth Crowe of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Crowe of Peterborough. Canon J. D. Mackenzie McNaughton performed the double ring ceremony. Miss Betty Pipe, soloist, assisted by Mr. J. E. Tunstall at the organ, sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden" before the ceremony and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her gown of traditional white bridal satin, fashioned with a net yolk, satin bertha, basque bodice with long sleeves coming to points over her hands and flowing skirt falling into a short train. Her finger-tip veil of tulle illusion was caught to a satin poke bonnet headdress trimmed with satin loops. She carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses and lily-of-the-valley. The bride's only sister, Miss Paula Ohlke, was maid of honor, gowned in petal pink slipper satin, fashioned with cap sleeves and fitted bodice falling into a long flared peplum over a full skirt. She wore full-length satin mitts to match her gown. Miss Alice Stewart was bridesmaid gowned in blush rose slipper satin styled the same as the maid-of-honor's, with matching full-length mitts. Their headdresses were pink flowered half-hats trimmed with tulle. They carried Colonial bouquets of pink and mauve sweetpeas.

Mr. John F. Mills of Montreal was best man for the groom and Mr. Richard Crowe, brother of the groom, and Mr. Bud Ohlke, brother of the bride, acted as ushers.

The reception was held at the La Salle Hotel where the bride's mother received in a gown of powder blue French crepe with navy tulle and flower hat, navy accessories and corsage of sweetheart roses. The groom's mother assisted in a gown of dusty pink with black accessories and corsage of Johanna Hill roses. Mr. J. A. Thomson of Montreal was toast master.

For travelling, the bride donned a pearl gray suit of charmaine gabardine with pink sheer blouse and accessories, gray silk straw half-hat trimmed with pastel flowers and tulle, gray suede shoes and corsage of pink carnations.

After a honeymoon trip through New Hampshire, Maine and the eastern states to Nova Scotia by motor, the young couple will reside in Toronto. The groom is a graduate of Queen's University.

DOROTHY DIX

Good Wife Rates Token Remembrance From Hubby

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have a perfectly wonderful husband who is almost the answer to a maiden's prayer, except for one thing. This is that he never makes me any sort of a present, not even the smallest. He feeds me, clothes me, pays the doctors' bills when I am sick, but he always does all the buying. He has never given me a Christmas, birthday, or any kind of a present. I thought that after our beautiful baby daughter was born that maybe he would give me a bar of candy for Mother's Day, but nothing happened.

Dorothy Dix

I would just love to have had the present of a handkerchief, or even a chocolate bar would be beloved by me if it came from him. It is just being overlooked, when other men are giving their wives some token of remembrance, that hurts me. And it isn't because he couldn't afford it.

POOR WIFE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You have evidently married the champion of the Tightwad Crew, and I greatly fear that there is no way of loosening his grip on his pocketbook, for that kind of stinginess is not incidental, as they say in the movies. It is something that is born in a person. Not an acquired talent.

Pinch-Penny System

It would be interesting, however, to know how your husband carries out his pinch-penny system. He certainly must have to trust you with a quarter, now and then, for incidental expenses, even when he does all the marketing himself and so doesn't run the risk of having you waste a dime on a candy bar.

And inasmuch as you do all the cooking and washing and ironing and baby-tending, don't you get a single tip? And is he as close with other men as he is with you? Or does he occasionally blow someone to a drink?

I am a great believer in planned economy, and I think that every wife should be a thrifty manager and help her husband lay up something for a rainy day, but miserliness can become as great a vice as extravagance is. And surely a good wife rates some token of remembrance from her husband now and then.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: At what age should a girl start going out casually with boys? At what age should she start going out steady? I am 19 years of age and have been working for two years, but my father objects to my going out with boys until I am 21. He says that by that time I will know my own mind.

TROUBLED

ANSWER: There is no way in which you can set a definite time limit on what a girl should do, because some girls develop so much earlier than other do. I should think that a girl who has been earning her own living for two years was grownup enough to decide this question for herself.

Your father makes a mistake when he thinks that by keeping you from having any dates until you are 21 years old you will know how to conduct yourself properly. The reverse is exactly the case, because if a young girl never steps out with boys or has any dates it makes her self-conscious and stiff and awkward in dealing with them. In a word, she doesn't know how to handle boys, and she is far more likely to make blunders than she is if she has just grown up with lads. Also, it cuts down her chances of marriage. Tell Papa to come up-to-date.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a boy of 18. A girl of 20 is madly in love with me. I like her company very much, but I don't love her. She has lots of money, but my father says that money is the root of all evil. Also, my father is against marriage for me before I am 21. When does a boy know he is in love? What are the symptoms?

A TEEN-AGER

ANSWER: A girl of 20 is at least four or five years older than a boy of 18, because girls mature much younger than boys do. So I think that puts this girl out of your class entirely, no matter if she does say she is madly in love with you. The important point is that you are not in love with her, and if you married her you would like her less and less all the time and be more and more attracted to girls of your own age.

Your father must be a wise man for he gives you two pieces of good advice—not to marry for money, and not to marry until you are 21 years old. As for knowing when you are in love, that is a conundrum that nobody can answer for sure. So often a boy thinks he is in love when he isn't, so go slow. Take it easy. Don't be misled by false symptoms.

Field-Clark

The marriage of Dorothy Campbell, daughter of Mrs. A. Clark of Glasgow, Scotland, and the late Mr. Clark, to Norman Victor George, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Field of Peterborough was solemnized at Knox United Church, by the Rev. H. G. Douglas.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. I. Goodfellow, and wore a wedding gown of ivory satin with laced yoke, and a full-length veil caught to orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of red roses and lily of the valley. Her sister, Miss Kay Clark, was bridesmaid, gowned in pink taffeta with overskirt of pink net and she carried deep pink roses.

Mr. Ken Anderson was the groomsman.

The reception was given by the bride's aunt, Mrs. R. Goodfellow, at her home, and afterward the bride changed to a pale blue dress and black accessories for a short wedding trip. They will live in Peterborough.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, June 24

Under an assertive and well-thought-out policy of direct action, based upon practical and soundly developed techniques, it may be that exceptional advancement or surprising accomplishment will prove gratifying and bring more than ample returns. Tact, diplomacy, sagacity and shrewd planning, in which there may be prudent use of the personal or social element, might bring about brilliant achievement. It is possible that domestic or romantic influence may have weight. Do not complicate matters by confused or rash thinking.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may have opportunity to demonstrate their sagacity, acumen and personal influence in putting over projects of more than passing consequence. But they must take time carefully to study, and execute well-thought-out programs and not make false motions under hasty or confused ideas or flighty suggestions. The mind may not be entirely clear in its decisions. It might be effective to fall back on the element of personality, social advantage or prestige, as well as the magic of elusive charm, if discreetly brought into the menaced or beclouded picture.

A child born on this day, while energetic, progressive and enthusiastic, might find these qualities supplemented or enhanced by a charming and impressive personality.

A plate lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bowers, hosts, assisted by Mrs. Douglas Dart, Mrs. R. W. Umphey, Florence Shearer and Dorell Lean.

Guests were in attendance from Cobourg, Cambourne, Norwood, Campbellford and Haveock.

Soloist Assists At Piano Recital

Colored peonies formed an attractive setting for the piano recital by pupils of Elsie Chambers Flett Monday evening in the YWCA recreation room. Warlock and "Mermaid's Song" by J. Haydn.

Junior and senior students demonstrated exceptional musical ability. A trio of the youngest students, Marjorie Harvey, Nancy Wood and Ruth Pitchford, was received with much acclaim. Also duets by Joan Chamberlain and Bob Turner, Ruth Pitchford and Peter Goold, Lorraine Bullied and Jane Stuart.

Mrs. Flett was presented with a beautiful floral tribute by her pupils during the evening.

Solo numbers on the pleasing and interesting program were by: Peter Goold, Nancy Wood, Marjorie Harvey, Ruth Pitchford, Alvin Phillips, Lorna Raper, John Phillips, Frank Bennett, Lorraine Bullied, Ken Cairns, Joanne Veeman, Jack Prest, Dorothy Kitchen, Jane Stuart, Joan Chamberlain, Bob Turner, June Gunn, Spencer Hope, June Bullied and Beverley Goodman.

AUTUMN GREEN, AUTUMN ROSES — The designer calls this hat a plateau intentions a beroke . . . meaning a combination of poke (bonnet) and beret. By any name it has that feminine, Watteau quality which welcomes veiling and roses or tiny ostrch plumes, and which, again, to bring up a prophecy, intimates the Directoire fashions around the corner. This model is dark green satin; pink roses.

Add Two Classrooms To St. Peter's School

Work is progressing on a two-class room temporary addition to St. Peter's High school. This building is required to accommodate the increasing number of students attending the school. The building is separate from the main building and immediately south of it on Reid St.

George Heffernan has the general contract for the building, which is 40 by 45 feet, one storey of frame construction sheeted with insul brick. The roof is tar and gravel and the addition will be heated by tying in with the existing heating system in the school building. It is expected the two class rooms will be ready for occupancy when the fall term starts. The estimated cost is $6,000.

Try To Improve Breakfasts

The Peterborough Branch of the Health League on Tuesday passed a resolution supporting the project of the Health League of Canada to improve the breakfasts of schoolchildren.

Miss E. Smith, of Toronto, explained the scheme which had the approval of the Ontario Department of Education and Department of Health. The first phase of the plan is to conduct a seven-day survey in local schools of the children's breakfasts. Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health, and K. S. Wightman, Superintendent of Schools, have been approached and have given their approval to the project. It has not yet been planned how to encourage correct eating.

Mrs. C. Nash reported that 200 people, including representatives from local Women's Institutes, had attended the canning demonstration on Monday evening at the Collegiate Auditorium given by Miss Edith Elliott, of the Department of Agriculture.

G. A. Barns presided at the meeting, at which J. Lynch, Miss V. O'Leary, Miss Mary Ross, Mrs. C. Nash, G. Gillespie, J. E. Girven and D. McTavish were present.

Lack Of Interest In Elections Worries Senate

OTTAWA, June 23 (CP)—Lack of public interest in elections was criticized in the Senate Tuesday during debate on a bill to amend the Elections Act. Weaknesses in the electoral machinery also drew fire from several senators.

Senator Gray Turgeon (L-British Columbia) said the two old political parties have "allowed conditions so to shape themselves that the people don't care whether they vote."

Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader, urged compulsory voting and the single transferable vote in Federal elections. Unless greater interest was shown "we're going to have trouble."

Senator C. C. Ballantyne (PC-Quebec) proposed measures to prevent fraudulent voting.

Senator W. Rupert Davies (L-Ontario) said everything possible should be done to see that all eligible voters get their names on the voting lists. In the final analysis, this was the responsibility of returning officers but the law did not say so.

Enumerators were paid by names and stopped sometimes after getting enough names to obtain maximum pay.

Senator T. A. Crerar (L-Manitoba) said there is "danger" in the "lighthearted and ignorant" way Canadians approach voting.

FORMER MINNESOTA Governor Harold Stassen and his wife have breakfast before the opening of the Republican National convention in Philadelphia. Stassen predicted again at a news conference that he will win the U.S. presidential nomination "on the ninth ballot."

Yugoslav Ship Heavily Guarded

MONTREAL, June 23 (CP) — The Yugoslav cargo-passenger ship Radnik docked today and Federal authorities placed a heavy guard around her as she began loading the personal effects of 500 Yugoslav-Canadians returning to their homeland Friday.

An official at the Customs collector's office said the reasons for the guard "should be obvious" but he did not elaborate.

One returning Slav, Martin Naglich of Val d'Or will sail on Friday minus $1,700 of his worldly possessions.

The Income Tax Department when they learned Naglich planned to sail on the ship, clipped that amount out of the $8,000 the Northern Quebec butcher had in the bank. Provincial police said it was for payment of back income tax.

Future Bright For Grain Men

WINNIPEG, June 23—(CP).—The immediate future of Western agriculture has been described by J. E. Brownlee, president of the United Grain Growers, as "satisfactory and reasonably prosperous."

But, he told the annual convention of the Manitoba Federation of Agriculture and Co-operation on Tuesday night, the impact of world events in the making will fashion and shape the long-term view.

His address came at the end of a busy convention day during which delegates approved a resolution urging that the Canadian Wheat Board be returned to its original status as a producers' agency and become the sole marketing agency for all grains.

A second resolution asked Premier Stuart Garson of Manitoba to convene a meeting of Prairie Premiers and Provinical agriculture federations for the purpose of seeking a conference with the Federal Cabinet at which time a united demand would be made "for the kind of marketing baard we want."

Trapped In Well For Five Days

BREMERTON, Wash., June 23—(AP).—Dale Wilson was alive today, after spending five days in a well, because of his pet cocker spaniel and a girl who thought she had been "stood up."

Wilson, 28-year-old navy yard worker, was out walking a half mile from his home when he fell into a 12-foot abandoned well. He landed in six inches of water, uninjured except for bruises.

That was last Wednesday. Wilson said his dog, Penney, kept an almost constant vigil at the lip of the well. But she left once at just the right time.

The dog was on the front porch of Wilson's home when the girl drove up late Monday to demand an explanation for being "stood up" on a Saturday date.

Penney took off for the well, the girl said, stopping occasionally to look at her. She followed—just why, she can't explain.

In a few minutes, she had determined Wilson's plight and found a rope. Wilson painfully dragged himself to safety.

session of Council the chairman will be reporting on this."

Due to the war he said great economic changes were making themselves felt in Canada, and he said this meant an adjustment not only on the part of the individual, but also of governing bodies—Dominion, provincial and municipal.

"All governing bodies must, therefore, face the facts and realize that the present public demands for advanced social legislation necessarily involves an increase in and a higher rate of taxation."

Council then went into a committee of the whole to hear the report of the chairman of the equalization assessment committee, E. Leeson. Discussion continued on this subject until adjournment at 12.15 p.m. skidded downward $2 to $2.50 a hundredweight since last week.

Trading up till near the noon hour today was too light to establish prices. However, bids earlier this week ranged from $18 to $19.75 for weighty steers compared with a range of $20 to $24.60 last week.

The drop in prices at the stockyards was reflected in some retail meat prices. One chain store which sold sirloin steak at 79 cents a pound Tuesday cut the price to 69 today.

Some officials in the industry forecast a drop of two to four cents in general retail beef prices by next week-end.

Frank C. Fletcher, general manager of the stockyards, said retail sales have dropped 30 to 50 per cent because of consumer resistance to high prices.

Charge US Personnel Influenced Voting

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 23 — (CP).—The weekly newspaper Confederate, organ of the movement campaigning for union with Canada in the July 22 referendum, today charged that United States base personnel in Newfoundland had "intervened unwarrantably and inexcusably" in the first referendum June 3.

In the June referendum Newfoundlanders had the choice of voting for restoration of responsible government, Federal union with Canada and retention of the present commission government. Voting, however, was inconclusive.

"They intervened," the newspaper charged "by suggesting openly or hinting covertly, that under Confederation the US bases in Newfoundland would close down, with consequent loss of their jobs by Newfoundland civilians."

"Are we to expect a repetition of this grave breach in the forthcoming campaign?"

There was no immediate comment from United States authorities here.

Rev. Dr. Reddick Speaks At Havelock Church

HAVELOCK, June 23 (ENS)—Rev. Dr. C. S. Reddick, Springville, was the guest speaker at Havelock United Church on Sunday morning at a special children's day and father's day service. The special music by the senior choir under the direction of Mrs. R. Campney included a quartette by Misses Joan Dooley, Joyce Agnew, Marie Vanderburgh, and Helen Anderson.

In the evening a flower day and children's day cantata, "The Vision Splendid," based on the text, "Your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions," was rendered by the Young People's Choir under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Platt. A poem "The Vision Splendid," was read by Gerald Melville, and "The Legend Beautiful" by James Watson. The service of song comprised a solo by Helen Anderson, duet by Joan Dooley and Joyce Agnew, who also took part in a sextette with Marie Vanderburgh, Beulah Chase, and James Watson; a quartette by Beverley Bennett, Shirley eBnnett, Joan Graham, and Elaine Graham; three anthems by the choir and a girls' anthem with Beulah Chase taking the solo part.

The choir entered the church in processional singing "Onward Christian Soldiers" to an arrangement by Ira B. Wilson, and at the close marched out in recessional singing "The Day Is Past and Over." Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh gave a very appropriate Scottish story of an 'An Old Man's Dream.'

The new lighting system in the main auditorium of the church was used for the first time on Sunday evening. The old light fixtures have been discarded and beautiful cathedral style fixtures installed. The twelve lights have been donated in memory of former members of the church who are deceased. A special dedication service will be held in the near future when 'remembrance' statements will be ready for the unveiling ceremony. A lighted signboard will also be installed on the front lawn.

Rev. F. R. Vanderburg conducted a Sunday school anniversary service at Fairmount on Sunday morning and in the afternoon at Springville on Dr. Reddick's charge.

WI Topic Is Interdenomination

OMEMEE, June 23 — (ENS) — The June Meeting of the Omemee W. I. proved to be quite a re-union. It was held in Peterboro at the home of Mrs. Margaret Hoard, a former resident of Omemee and a faithful member of the W. I. Five other former members of the Omemee branch present were Mrs. Wilber Northey, Mrs. Jim Preston, Mrs. Wm. Acreman and Mrs. Albert Sloan all of Peterboro, and Mrs. Smith (nee Florrie Sloan) of Lakefield. Also present were Mrs. Fred Marshal and Mrs. Kenneth Hoard both of Peterboro.

The roll call was answered by "The size of dress you now wear" Readings were given by Mrs. R. Cornwall and Mrs. Wm. Acreman, and Mrs. T. Woods sang a solo.

Mrs. Bruce Finlay reported on the rally at Baddow to which she was a delegate specializing on the work of the conveners in all branches of the Institute.

Another item of interest was Mrs. Marshal's impressions of an interdenominational cavalcade she had seen in Montreal when on a recent visit to that city. This was especially interesting from a standpoint of missions.

Later lunch was served by Mrs. Hoard.

Have you $10.00 in UNITED STATES Money?

- Existing regulations make it illegal for any Canadian resident to retain in his possession more than $10 in United States cash.
- You are required to turn in to your bank, for exchange into Canadian money, any amount you have in excess of $10 in United States funds, without delay.

THERE'S A REASON

- The reason is that Canada must have the U.S. dollars spent here by tourists, in order to make them available for the payment of imported goods and services needed to keep production and employment at a high level.

Masons Attend Church Service

MILLBROOK, June 22 (ENS).—St. Thomas' Anglican Church was chosen for the annual church attendance of J. B. Hall Lodge, AF and AM, No. 945, on Sunday morning, over 30 of the members being present, and the rector, Rev. C. M. MacLean, a brother of the Order, preaching the sermon. The lessons were read by RW Bro. Stuort McGill, PM, and Bro. P. E. Hamilton, Junior Warden. Miss M. L. Collins was at the organ, and there was a full choir. The anthem "Saviour, When Night Involves the Skies" preceded the sermon, with C. H. Farr taking the solo.

The rector took as his text, "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth," urging that youth should set up way marks upon which they may look back with profit and comfort in old age. A sense and practice of spiritual values will be necessary in setting up such landmarks, and faith, hope and love are essential characteristics. Builders of ur own lives, and such buil ing to last through eternity, requires a sense of union with Jesus Christ, as He Himself emphasized in His talk on the vine and its branches. Nations build as well as individuals, as do also fraternal organizations like the Masonic Order, and such building should stand when the principles are founded on the Bible and favor the promulgation of th Christian faith. In closing, the speaker quoted the appropriate poem, "Master Builders."

Sidesmen for the service were all Masons, and included: Wor. Bro. J. W. Swain, WM, R.W. Bro. I. L. H. Gray, and Bros. R. I. Fallis and E. G. Snider.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

TWO EXTREME STYLES

IN THE PLAY for a suit contract, there are two extremely different styles of play. One, the simplest, is like the play for certain No Trump contracts and consists of running the trump suit first and then picking up the tricks which are in sight in some other suit or suits, sometimes mainly or entirely in a single long suit. The contrasting procedure is the pure cross-ruff, in which the declarer never makes a lead of trumps, but uses the trumps of his own hand and the dummy in a cross-ruff. In the first type of play, two trumps are used on a trump lead until either the dummy or declarer is out of trumps, in the second one trump to a trick.

Making that spade contract at Table 1 of a duplicate was about as easy as you could wish to see. The diamond A was ruffed by the dummy's spade 8, and then came four trump tricks won by the A, the Q, the J overtaken by the K and the 10. East sent the heart Q through when South played the 10, felled the K with the A, led the 3 to the J, finessed the club Q and wound up his activity with the club A to have ten tricks and give up the last three.

Where West doubled the 4-Diamonds, it was his misfortune that he could not lead a trump. He opened the spade A, then led the Q, which South ruffed with the diamond 2. The club 2 was led to the Q and the spade J return ruffed by the diamond 5. Next the club 7 was ruffed by the diamond 7, the spade 9 by the diamond 6, the club 9 by the diamond 8 and the heart [illegible] and K going to the A. West shot back the heart 2 to the Q, and now East led a trump, but too late to help much. The K won it, the heart 7 was ruffed by the diamond A, the club K by the diamond J and the heart 9 by the diamond Q. All told the ten trumps took nine tricks, for down one.

Ban Coal, Steel Supplies To Soviet Zone As Russians Cut Power

'Can't Drive Us Out Of Berlin Short Of War' General Clay Declares; All Rail Transport Stopped By Reds

BERLIN, June 24—(CP). — Movement of coal, steel and other supplies from the British to the Soviet zone of Germany was banned today by British military authorities. This move came as the Russians tightened their squeeze on Berlin in a dispute between eastern and western occupying powers over currency revision.

Gen. Lucius Clay, United States military governor, said at Heidelberg that the Russians "cannot drive us out of Berlin by any action short of war."

The Russians cut off electric power to the western allies' sector of Berlin and halted all food shipments on rail lines running from western Germany.

Clay says the latest moves of the Russians indicate they "are trying to put on the final pressure to drive up out of Berlin."

The official Russian German Communist press demanded anew that the westeren Allies quit the city.

The Berlin power shutdown affected the British, United States and French zones. The only areas spared are those where hospitals or other important public institutions are located.

Water Affected

Reports from the French sector said water service was being disturbed there.

"Unfortuntaely," Clay added, "the only way they can put on pressure is to make the Germans suffer."

By this he referred to the Russian squeeze on transport.

Clay estimated Berliners had supplies for no more than a couple of weeks. He praised the German administration in Berlin, saying it gave "a pretty high example of leadership" during the crisis.

Clay said he had no plans for cutting off water and power to parts of the Russian zone supplied from the American area state of Bavaria. He said, too, that the western sectors of Berlin had enough water supplies of their own, and that that they

Dewey Leading Candidate At Convention

PHILADELPHIA, June 24. — (CP) — The tide for Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York already swirling the Republican Presidential nomination close to his grasp, swelled higher today. Massachusetts Senator Leverett Saltonstall withdrew as a "favorite son" in Dewey's favor. West Virginia gave him a boost.

These developments in the final hours before the balloting gave it the look of a bandwagon roll. Dewey's aides were working on an acceptance speech.

Before the Massachusetts development, Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota professed belief Dewey actually was losing ground. He said he understood three Kentucky delegates, two from Washington and one from Utah had left the Dewey camp.

Earlier, it appeared that the contest would be between Dewey, Senator Robert Taft of Ohio and Harold E. Stassen.

There still could be surprises during the afternoon voting. If three or four ballots fail to reveal a sure winner there may be switches that would bring in Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan or some other compromise nominee.

Alley Helps Convict 3 Japs

OTTAWA, June 24. (CP)—Affidavits of 16 Canadian veterans of Hong Kong have helped convict three Japanese overseers of a mining company, charged with brutal treatment of Allied war prisoners working at the mine, army headquarters announced today.

Among Canadian veterans supplying affidavits were: Matthew William Murray, Oshawa, Robert C. Stager, Ayr, Ralph D. Alley, Trent River.

Sentences of imprisonment were imposed on Tsurugi Komatsu, Masao Suzuki and Ken Suzuki.

Komatsu, nicknamed "bulldog" by prisoners, was civilian overseer of the Kashima coal mine. He was found guilty of 3 charges including beating prisoners with a mine hammer, shovel, pick handle and other weapons, and was sentenced to 25 years in prison.

The [illegible] mine foremen under Komatsu, and received sentences of 13 and four years respectively.

Police Called In To Quell Farm Riot

HUTTONVILLE, June 24. — (CP).—Provincial police were called in to quell a riot on a farm just south of here Wednesday. One man was arrested and two other required medical treatment for bruises and cut incurred in the scrap.

Ira Dailey, of no fixed address, was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace. Police said he was the ringleader of a band of Indians who were employed on the farm as strawberry pickers. Cause of the disturbance is not known.

Dailey was later remanded for one week when he appeared in Brampton police court on the charge.

Louis Fight On

NEW YORK, June 24 — (CP).—A bright sun burned its way through a heavy morning overcast today and indications were that the Joe Louis-Jersey Joe Walcott fight would go as scheduled at 10 p.m. EST. The weather bureau forecast for tonight was widely scattered showers and temperatures in the low 50's. The 15-round engagement will be Louis' 25th title defence and, he says, his last fight. If washed out a second time, the bout would be staged Friday.

More Soldiers Ordered To Dock Area

LONDON, June 24 (Reuters)—More troops moved into London docks early today to unload food cargoes as the port strike entered its 11th day without any sign of a general return to work.

Official figures showed that 18,377 port workers were still on strike in the Port of London; 1,842 have resumed work.

About 150 ships are tied up in the Thames as a result of the strike.

At its peak Wednesday, the stoppage involved 20,000 port workers, including dockers, stevedores, cold storage workers, lightermen and bargemen.

Three hundred troops of the Coldstream Guards were sent to the docks for the first time at noon Wednesday to move perishable foodstuffs.

Stoppage Solid

A trickle of men were returning at some of smaller wharves but at the great Royal docks, where half-a-dozen meat ships are waiting, the stoppage was solid. Unless these ships are unloaded before the week-end Britain's meat ration for next week may not be met.

The walkout also continued in the big Surrey and West Indies docks.

In a telegram to Prime Minister Attlee the strike leaders called for tripartite "peace" talks in which they would discuss a solution with the government and union leaders.

Today was the dock workers' weekly payday. They drew about £2, 10s ($10) each in form of income tax rebates, compared with their average earnings of £7 ($28).

Abbott Not Prepared To Discuss Meat Price

OTTAWA, June 24—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said today in the Commons he is not yet prepared to say whether price ceilings will be reimposed on meat products.

Replying to Ronald Moore (CCF — Churchill), Mr. Abbott said the matter is a complicated one in that ceilings have to be fixed to 200 individual meat products.

He said meat prices have risen since last January, when the government announced it would reimpose ceilings if the prices moved too much higher. The ceilings fixed at that time now bore little relationship to present-day prices.

Two U.S. Navy Planes Collide, Pilots Killed

DETROIT, June 24 — (AP) — Two United States navy planes, flying in a seven-ship formation, crashed and burned Wednesday after colliding over the heavily-populated east side area of Detroit. The flaming wreckage set fire to four houses and a tool shop. Scores of residents fled to safety. The two pilots of the single-seater planes died in the crash.

Names of the two victims are:

Ensign Roy E. Scaultheiss, 24, single, 1208 7th Street, Port Huron, Michigan.

Ensign J. H. Nicholson, 25, single, Scranton, Iowa.

Russians Finish New Plans For Eastern Germany Rule

WARSAW, June 24 — (AP). — The foreign ministers of Russia and seven satellite countries were reliably reported today to be putting the finishing touches to plans to set up a separate government in eastern Germany.

One conference observer said that would be their most likely answer to the western allies' proposed federalization of western Germany.

This source added, however, that foreign minister V. M. Molotov of Russia and his colleagues probably would go one step further than the western powers.

If a separate government is set up, he said, it still, in the opinion of Russia and her neighbors, would be a government aimed at German unity.

Leipzig has been mentioned as a government centre.

Conference observers who cannot be named said the eastern countries woul declare any government formed to be open to all Germans.

German Communist leader Wilhelm Pieck was reported attending the conference.

Polish foreign minister Zygmunt Modzielewski presided at the conference. The government-controlled Polish press said th parley's slogan was "in the name of peace."

Modzielsewski advanced Poland's view that:

1. The recommendations of the recent London six-power conferbute to "the formation of a new ence on Germany would contricentre of aggression."

2. The western allies' move to centralize western Germany, thratened European peace and security.

3. The western plan for German reconstruction violated a United States pledge not to give German priority in reconstruction over "Europe and democratic countries."

Nine Seamen Injured In Ship Rows

Truck Intercepted, Men Beaten Up On Way To Vessel

WELLAND, June 24 (CP). — Five men were taken to hospital here today for treatment of injuries received when they were beaten with clubs and iron bars in a fresh outburst of violence in the lake shipping strike. Four others were injured in Montreal.

The five were in a group of 17 men travelling in a truck from Brantford to the Welland south docks. It was reported they were to man the freighter Joseph B. Burke of Sarnia Steamship Lines. She has been tied up since June 17 in the shipping strike called by the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC).

Some nine miles from Welland, the truck was intercepted by another truck and the men were attacked.

The injured were picked up from the roadside and brought to hospital here. Three were released shortly afterwards.

The five taken to hospital were: Clodimir Beaudoin, 32, Montreal; Rolland Deseve, 23, Montreal; Marcel Deseve, 19, Montreal; Jean Robillard, 18, Montreal; Daniel Peteresque, Mimico.

Provincial Police said charges of assault will be laid against the 10 arrested men: Kenneth Bain, 17, Owen Sound; Leslie Cummings, 30, Sarnia; Leonard Cummings, 25, Sarnia; Fred Bennett, Conception Bay, Newfoundland; Cyril Scott, 28, Sombra; Leo St. Laurent, 22, Quebec; James Mombourquette, 21, Sydney, N.S.; Bob Ashworth, 20, Toronto; Russell Ashford, 19, North Sydney, N.S.; and Bill Stark, 24, Petrolia.

Hurt In Fracas

MONTREAL, June 24 (CP). — Four men were injured here early today when a group of seamen, identified by police as members of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC), boarded the Canada Steamship Lines vessel Kinmount and engaged the crew in a fist fight.

The CSU men were said to be from the Mont Sandra of the Montreal Shipping Company.

All was quiet for a while. Then, as some of the Kinmount's crew went ashore, the CSU men swarmed aboard and the fight began.

By the time the scrap was over, the galley was partly wrecked. Some of the fighting also took place in the forecastle.

When police arrived, they could not find any members of the boarding party, which had scattered. No arrests were made.

Kingston Area Hit By Severe Storm

KINGSTON, June 24 —(CP)— Damage of several thousand dollars was counted today after Wednesday night's violent electrical storm lashed this eastern Ontario district.

First heavy loss was reported by farmer Frank Baker who lost 13 Holstein cows valued at $10,000 when lightning struck a tree under which they were taking refuge.

An early survey showed considerable crop damage to crops with cut hay the most losses a total loss. Many vegetable crops were damaged.

It was estimated nearly three inches of rain fell.

Electric lights were out for almost three hours after lightning struck several poles in the centre of the city.

Firemen were called to extinguish a blaze at the Ontario hospital in adjacent Portsmouth after lightning struck a ventillator motor there. The fire was extinguished quickly with little damage done.

Remanded To June 29

TORONTO, June 24 — (CP). — Gordon Harvey, 21, who is charged with the aggravated assault of eight-year-old Teresa Dowling, was remanded today until June 29 on $2,000 bail. The Crown Attorney said he would procede with his case on that date. Police said the girl identified Harvey as her attacker last Tuesday as she toured the area where she was attacked, accompanied by her mother and detectives.

Court Awards Terry McKee To His Father

TORONTO, June 24 —(CP)— Terry McKee, 10, who for most of his young life has been the object of a court battle between his divorced parents, had his future settled today by the Ontario Supreme Court.

Custody of Terry was awarded to his father, wealthy air lines executive Mark T. McKee. Terry will live in Canada with his father.

Today's Appeal Court decisions reverses judgment of a California court awarding the boy to the custody of his mother.

Mrs. McKee was today denied her appeal from a judgment of Mr. Justice Dalton Wells which last fall gave Mr. McKee custody of his son. The boy's mother argued that after she was awarded custody of her son in 1943 by the California court, Mr. McKee "kidnapped" Terry and took him to Michigan and, subsequently to Kitchener.

The boy and his father have been living on a farm at Linwood.

In the terms of Mr. Justice Wells' judgment, awarding Terry to his father, it was provided Mrs. McKee could see Terry once a week "during reasonable hours."

Terry did not appear in court and every effort was made to hide from him the fact that he was the centre of a dispute between his parents.

Fear Wet Roads Block Voters

REGINA, June 24 (CP)—Light rain fell across Saskatchewan today as voters began to cast their ballots in the provincial general election.

It was expected that day-long rain would make some roads impassable and possibly reduce the rural vote.

A record vote had been expected on the basis of the heaviest advance poll in the province's history.

Only one party—the CCF which held 47 of the 52 seats in the last legislature—is contesting all 50 seats to be decided today. The Liberals, with five seats in the last legislature and the sole opposition, are contesting 40. The Social Credit is entered in 36. Contests in two seats have been deferred.

The CCF has been in power since it won the 1944 election.

Irgun Pledges Rebellion Against Jewish Government

TEL AVIV, Israel, June 24—(AP).—Irgun Zvai Leumi surveyed heavy losses of manpower today in an ill-fated attempt at gun-running and vowed to rise against the Israeli Government. The crisis over the Irgun arms ship Altalena led to the resignation of two Cabinet Ministers Wednesday even while Government forces made a series of arrests.

Peter H. Bergson of New York, head of the Hebrew Committee of National Liberation, and 25-year-old Monroe Fein of Chicago, captain of the arms ships, were reported by Jewish sources to have been arrested.

Israeli shock troops were reported to have captured 60 Jews, believed to be among Irgunists who landed from the arms ship, in a series of raids or Revisionist party headquarters and the publishing plant of the Irgun newspaper.

In Jerusalem, a local Irgun leader called on Jews in the Holy City to overthrow the Israeli Government. In Paris, a statement was issued in the name of Irgun, charging the Israeli Government with "pursuing a policy of surrender."

A Tel Aviv broadcast heard in Rhodes said the Jewish government has ordered Irgun disbanded and its members immediately inducted into the Israeli army.

Disorders shook Tel Aviv again Wednesday during a funeral procession for Irgunists killed in Tuesday's battle with government troops on the Tel Aviv beachhead. Main streets in the city were cordoned off and a military curfew was predicted.

[illegible] Begin, Irgun commander, told reporters 500 European-trained combat soldiers were landed at Nathanya Sunday.

Reliable Jewish sources later said 60 arrests were made early Wednesday and that those in custody included Monroe Fein, the American captain of the Irgun arms ship.

Rabbi Meyer Berlin, leader of the Orthodox Mizrachi Party, announced the resignation of his party's two government ministers Wednesday at a special emergency session of the provisional legislature.

They are Rabbi J. L. Fishman, minister of religious affairs; and Yehuda Sharpiro, minister of immigration.

Youth 16 Dies To Save Another

GORE BAY, June 24—(CP).—Elmer Gordon, 16, died a hero's death near here Wednesday when he saved the life of 10-year-old Loyale McDougall as fire raged through the two-storey general store and post office of Neil McDougall.

The two boys were sleeping in the same second-storey bedroom when Elmer, awakened by the fire, led the younger lad to the window and told him to jump.

Loyale told his parents the youth then turned back into the flames to help other members of the family. He heard him cough and fall.

Elmer's charred body was found today in the embers near what had been a window on the far side of the house. Identification was made definite by a wrist watch Elmer always wore.

Mrs. McDougall and two of her small children escaped by a rear window.

Barry's Bay Man Fined $61 For Assaulting Dorset Pilot

BARRY'S BAY, June 24. (CP) —In an aftermath of a fur smuggling case, Bernard Murray of Barry's Bay, paid fines totalling $61 after pleading guilty Wednesday to two charges of assault.

The charges were laid by Emery A. Beebe of Dorset, pilot of an airplane which was seized by the Ontario Lands and Forests Department with an illegal cargo of 54 beaver pelts. The pelts belonged to Charles Murray, father of Bernard, who was subsequently fined $2,800.

Beebe claimed he was beaten up at a dance hall here June 12 after Bernard Murray said, "So you would squeal on us for having furs." Beebe suffered a broken nose and other injuries.

Murray said he could not remember making such a remark.

On the advice of Crown Attorney H. B. Johnson, Bebee dropped similar charges against two other Barry's Bay men, Keith Billings and Charles Doyle.

On Hydro Job As Bolt Strikes Wire

Farmers Lose Livestock Grain Damaged During Severe Storm

One man was killed, toll of livestock was heavy and grain fields heavy with growth were badly lodged during the night when a severe electrical storm swept the district. It is estimated that almost two inches of rain fell, but the weather recorder's instruments were apparently on the edge of the near-deluge and registered only .36 of precipitation.

The fatality occurred at 3 a.m. south of Campbellford, when Cecil F. Buckles, 41, hydro lineman was instantly killed. He had been called out on emergency storm repairs and with Adam Yearwood climbed a pole about halfway between the town of Campbellford and No. 14 power house.

Replacing Insulator

Buckles was about to replace an insulator which had been demolished by a bolt of lightning. The line was dead but as he picked up the wire, he took a terrific jolt of electricity when lightning struck and died immediately. Both men had taken all the precautions and it is believed the wire carried the lightning charge.

It was storming at the time, and Yearwood who was opposite Buckles on the pole was unharmed. He was able to cut his partner's safety belt, and carry him down the pole.

Dr. Ward Baker and Hydro employees unsuccessfully applied artificial respiration to Buckles for more than an hour.

Considerable damage was done during the storm to machines at the Healey Falls Power House. The home of Alvin Hawkins, a Hydro employee, was struck but did not catch fire.

Veteran Lineman

Buckles is a veteran lineman and is survived by his wife, formerly Rena Owens, and one child about seven.

3,000 Homeless In New Flood

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 24 — (AP).—For the fifth straight day, an army of rain clouds fought a violent and deadly weather war over Oklahoma. In the drowned flatlands below, rescue workers already counted nine dead and nearly 3,000 homeless.

All the deaths so far are at Hydro, in the west central sector, where Deer Creek rose in a flash flood Tuesday night and sprang a five-mile death trap along United States 66 transcontinental highway.

A Greyhound bus and more than 50 cars and trucks were trapped in a wall of water that rose swiftly to 12 feet where the creek winds across the highway four times.

Six dead were taken from one car, the bodies of two other motorists were found where the waters swept them, and the ninth victim was a Negro bus [illegible]ger who drowned in the dark while trying to swim to safety.

Soft Coal Operators Ready With Contract

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP). —Soft coal operators, except for steel company mine interests, were reported ready today to sign a new contract with John L. Lewis giving his United Mine Workers a $1-a-day wage boost and doubling the pension fund royalty levy.

Such a wage increase would be 12½ cents an hour. Miners now receive a basic pay of $13.05 for an eight-hour day or $1.63 an hour. The new rate would provide $14.05 for eight hours at an hourly rate of $1.75.

The welfare fund, from which pensions would come, is accumulated now through a 10-cents-a-ton royalty levy which is passed on to consumers. During the last year this has raised $45,000,000.

Expenditures Top 2 Billion House Told

Say Supplementary Estimates Now Total $197,067,420

OTTAWA, June 24.—(CP). — Expenditures planned by the government for the current fiscal year were pushed over the $2,000,000,000-mark in the Commons Wednesday. Finance Minister Abbot tabled supplementary estimates totalling $197,067,420.

The supplementaries will cover expenditures unforeseen or unprovided for when the main estimates were tabled early in the session.

These bring to $2,182,213,480 the estimated expenses for the 1948-49 fiscal year which ends March 31. Expenditures in the last fiscal year totalled $2,196,177,192.

Practically all departments listed new expenditures, but the largest amounts are earmarked for the Health and Veterans Affairs Department.

The Health Department figures included $30,000,000 which will be distributed among the provinces to assist in improving health services and in providing for a national health insurance plan.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King forecast the grants last month and said all provinces will be entitled to them whether or not they have signed taxation agreements with the Dominion.

Covers Pensions

A sum of $41,417,500 tacked on the expenditures of the Veterans Department will be used mainly to cover recent increases in veterans' pensions and allowancets.

Additional public works projects, totalling $24,436,600, were provided for.

No special provision was made for the federal assistance to the relief and rehabilitation of flood victims in British Columbia.

In the Agriculture Department was an amount of $13,000,000 to provide for continuation of freight assistance on the movement of feed grains from the prairies to eastern Canada and to British Columbia.

The Resources Department earmarked $1,340,000 to cover the cost of flying displaced persons from Europe to Canada.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, June 24 — (CP) — Trade on the livestock market today remained dull and few cattle were weighed by noon. Some beef moved at a crawling pace but no good quality cattle were reported sold. Receipts as reported by the Dominion Marketing Service were: Cattle 125; calves 20; hogs 50; sheep and lambs 10.

A few common to medium weighty steers sold at $18 and a few butcher steers at $16-$19.50. Heifers sold at $16-$19 with the bulk of them going at $18-$18.50. Hogs remained strong at $31.75 for Grade A and $31.50 for Grade B1. Sows, dressed were $23.

Spring lambs were steady at $25 with cull lambs at $22. Fat sheep were slow at $6-$7 with good lights at $9-$10.

Industrials Stronger In Light Trading

TORONTO, June 24 — (CP)— Industrials and the base metals strengthened in light trading here to-day. Golds were steady and very quiet and western oils weakened slightly.

Papers and steels made good fractional advances in industrial groupings continuing Wednesday's gains. International Paper was up ¾ and Consolidated Paper gained ⅛. Algoma Steel, Canadian Car, Distiller's Seagram, Great Lakes Paper, Walkers, Massey-Harris, and Pressed Metals were among stronger issues.

Consolidated Smelters advanced $1 in base metals. Waite Amulet gained 15 cents and Sherritt-Gordon, Quemont, Base Metals, and Normetal were ahead.

Western oils mixed gains and losses in spotty trading. Calgary and Edmonton was down in the first hour but strengthened later for a 10 cent gain. Home Oil was up 5 cents.

4,500 At GM Vote On Strike

OSHAWA, June 24.—(CP).— More than 4,500 employees of Local 222 at the General Motors plant here will cast ballots in a strike vote tomorrow and Saturday, George Burt, regional director of the United Automobile Workers' Union (CIO), announced Wednesday.

A similar vote will be held at the Windsor local during the week-end.

Mr. Burt said negotiations between the union and General Motors Co. Ltd. of Canada had "bogged down." The union is asking an increase of 16½ cents an hour across the board, while the company is offering 10 cents across the board, plus an escalator rate.

Dewey Leading

In addition to Dewey, Taft, Stassen and Vandenberg, the nominees were Governor Earl Warren of California; Senator Raymond Baldwin of Connecticut and Gen. Douglas MacArthur of Wisconsin, supreme commander of the Allied Forces in the Pacific.

The end came when shorty before 4 a.m. today the thin and worn hero of Bataan and Corregidor, Gen. Jonathan (Skinny) Wainwright, put in the name of the last candidate, his comrade in glorious victory, and Commander Gen. MacArthur.

If the delegates vote as they cheered it appeared that the contest would be between Dewey, Taft and Stassen in that order.

could supply about half the normal power consumption of the area.

Threaten Reprisals

The Russians and German Communists threatened economic reprisals against any of the 3,400,000 Berliners who accept the western Allies' new currency. The Russians have decreed the currency illegal and ordered use of their own money for the entire city.

When conversion begins in western Berlin tomorrow a German who turns in his old money for the new Deutsche mark must accepth a stamp on his personal identification papers to prevent repeating conversions.

The Russian radio urged residents of western Berlin to go into the Soviet sector for the new Russian stamped currency being used today, and to disregard the western conversion tomorrow.

The power cut-off will not affect most newspapers in the western sector because they have their own emergency power plants. The freight stoppage if continued will create newsprint supply difficulties.

The power first was reported off in Zehlendorf, a Berlin district where many United States army installations and billets are situated.

The current in Tempelhof, another borough in the American sector, had its power snapped off at about the same time and then similar current cutoffs were reported from other parts of the western zones.

The Russians also announced they were stopping railway traffic to the western sectors from Western Germany. This cut off daily deliveries of about 2,000 tons of food for some 2,000,000 persons in West Berlin. It also halted coal shipments.

Armed Patrols

The United States constabulary patrolled the American sector in armored cars and jeeps with machine-guns. Col. R. A. Willard, Berlin post commander, called this a precaution against "possible unrest." He said no disorders had been reported in the sector.

The western powers started a currency reform, introducing a new "deutsche mark," in their occupation zones of Germany last Sunday. It did not include Berlin.

Wednesday the Russians decreed a new currency—the old mark with a Russian stamp—for their occupation zone and Berlin. The western allies voided this decree and ordered the deutsche mark issued in their sectors of the city.

Early today the Russians announced they were "forced" to suspend railways traffic on the 100-mile line from western Germany to Berlin because of an unspecified "technical disturbance."

London Loans Pumps To Help Vancouver

LONDON, Ont., June 24—(CP). — Vancouver authorities continued today to negotiate with the city waterworks department for the loan of heavy duty pumps to help British Columbia recover from the recent flood.

Utilities Commission officials said a maximum of three pumps could be provided. Still standing in the way of the loan is the matter of motors. The pumps are provided with 25-cycle electric motors and British Columbia is on 60-cycle current.

County Regulates Erection Of Sign Boards, Gas Pumps

A by-law regulating the erection of sign boards and other advertising matter, as well as gasoline pumps adjacent to County and suburban area roads was given third reading by the County Council today. It must still be approved by the Department of Highways but this is regarded as a mere formality.

Apart from a single sign on one's own premises, the road authority will no longer tolerate erection of advertising matter unless it gives permission to do so.

An owner of the property must place his name on the sign which must not be more than 10 feet in length.

In general signs cannot be posted on the margin of the open highway or within a quarter of a mile of it without authorization; nor within 300 feet of highway or railway intersections; nor within 1000 feet of each other.

For of less than 25 square feet and within 75 feet from the highway boundary line, the applicant must pay a license fee of $1.00; for one less than 25 feet in length and up to 175 feet from the line, $5; for one exceeding 25 feet in length and up to 275 feet from the line, $10.

Failure to observe the detailed regulations may result in a fine from $1-$100 plus cost of removal of the offending signboard.

Gasoline pumps may not be put up within eight feet from the edge of the highway, nor within 50 feet of it without specific permission.

Pumps within a distance of 25 feet from the road must pay a $1 license fee each year. Their location cannot be altered without notification, nor may they be operated in a location deemed dangerous by the road authority.

Council approved the issuing of a 15-year debenture for $120,000 for civic hospital at a rate of interest not more than three per cent. The exact interest rate has still to be decided upon.

Deputy Reeve Robrt Tully and Reeve J. Mahoney sponsored a motion that a drainage opening, a three-foot manhole, and two ventilators be added to the water store tank now under construction at the Old People's Home, Lakefield.

Present were Warden James Humphries; E. Leeson, Havelock; William Grant, Lakefield; W. Packenham, Norwood; W. Griffith, Belmont-Methuen; Norman Wilson, Burleigh-Anstruther; Albert Hall, Chandos; James Mahoney, Douro; William Darling, Dummer; James Gifford, Ennismore; Peter Pearson, Galway-Cavendish; Charles Flynn, Harvey; Melville Johnston, North Monaghan; W. W. Dawson, Harry McIntyre of Otonabee and Ross Harrison and Robert Tully of Smith. Council adjourned at 12.15.

art, horse breeder whose farm is on No. 7 highway reports two cows killed by lightning when tree they were standing under was struck. At Norwood, Harry Fife, lost six pigs, all killed when a bolt of lightning struck the pen housing them.

The heavy rain lodged wheat, oats and barley east of the city, and low-lying corn and vegetable sections were inundated. The downpour was at its worst between 10.30 and 11, and electric circuits in the city were knocked out in some localities.

A horse, owned by Wesley Payne, Warsaw, was killed by lightning and in Ennismore, lightning struck Tom Harrington's farmhouse, damaging the wiring, and blowing his telephone to bits. The same bolt also knocked a hole in one wall.

Lightning also struck near Sandy lake, causing slight damage to a cottage owned by R. Faucett of Lakehurst.

Smashes Window

A sizzling lightning bolt that crackled into the ground with a noise like a rifle bullet struck near the corner of Rogers and Hunter Streets at 10.45. It smashed a small window in the kitchen at 174 Hunter Street East, and set the curtains afire. The second storey of this house is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred McFadden, and Mrs. McFadden was alone at the time. She screamed and Bob Macey and his wife who were downstairs ran to assist her. Mr. Macey ripped the curtains from the window and doused the fire. Mrs. McFadden's eight-year-old son Kenny slept through all the commotion.

As a precautionary measure, the fire department was called, but after examination of the wiring and the attic, the three firemen reported everything was O.K.

This same bolt cut the lights in a block of houses and on the street.

Despite the sharpness of the storm and the many flashes of lightning the city and surban area escaped with little damage. Biggest source of trouble was falling trees which shorted out the power ilnes, blowing a multitude of fuses.

Still Without Power

By 9 a.m. today many sections of the rural area surrounding the city were still without power. Ross L. Dobbin, general manager of Peterborough Utilities Commission, said flying squads of repair men worked like beavers until 3 a.m. trying to restore power service. At dawn this morning they were hard at it again and were still working by mid-morning.

They report that there were no broken wires despite the numerous toppled trees and branches. Reports of a hydro pole being burned and a transformer being struck in the south end were described as erroneous

Down at the sewage disposal plant the wind apparently played havoc. There were no reports of lightning bolts but in the words of the foreman "it looked like a jungle down here with all the branches down."

Will Decide Friday If CSU Going To Stay

CORNWALL, June 24 (CP).— Leo Tessier, director of greater Cornwall textile joint board, Wednesday night announced that decision on whether the Canadian Seamen's Union can remain on CIO property will be reached Friday.

Earlier police said they had been instructed to evict the seamen by nightfall. CIO executives claim the CSU pitched their tents on the Water street east property without permission, after they were forced from the Cornwall city park.

Mr. Tessier said textile union delegates will meet Friday to discuss the matter in full. He disclosed a telegram from T. G. McManus, national CSU secretary, expressing regret that seamen occupied the CIO property without permission.

Fine Lumberman For Profiteering In Nails Sales

TORONTO, June 24.—Lumber dealer James J. McGinn of North York is believed to be the first business man in Canada to be fined for selling a commodity, no longer under a government ceiling, at an unreasonable price.

Magistrate Thomas Elmore fined McGinn, operator of the McGinn Lumber Co., $3,000 and costs, with an option of six months in jail. McGinn was found guilty of selling nails at an "unreasonable and unjust" rate. The court was told that McGinn's nail dealings were but a "sideline" to the merchant's regular lumber trade.

J. B. Hamilton, counsel for McGinn, will appeal the case. In his submission to Magistrate Elmore, Mr. Hamilton referred to a "prominent Canadian company president" who recently told the Ottawa parliamentary prices committee that this policy was to "buy at the lowest price possible and sell at the highest price possible."

The act for which McGinn was found guilty was contrary, the Crown contended, to a Wartime Prices and Trade Board regulation as established in Order-in-Council P.C. 8528, Nov. 1, 1941. The McGinn charge covered the period Dec. 1, 1947, to April 16, 1948.

Crown Counsel Norman L. Mathews stated that, whereas dealer McGinn should have made an average profit of $965.16 on 1,532 kegs of nails, as the standard profit rate would suggest, McGinn instead made a profit of $3,661.48.

Whereas the standard profit rate, said the Crown, was 12.7 per cent, a rate based on the cost price.

"This kind of profiteering is the kind of thing that is putting up the cost of housing," said Mathews.

"I have no sympathy with this man," said Magistrate Elmore. "Here is a man, not even a regular dealer in nails, who sets up a hole-in-the-wall (office) and sees that there is a shortage of nails and takes advantage of the situation."

Once a Masonic Temple Now 'Old Curiosity Shop'

By NICK NICKELS

If you have a curious disposition, you may have wondered what goes on on the top floor of that handsome red brick Victorian business block that faces the east side of the Market Square on Water St.

Eight neat stores line the street level where you can buy yourself real estate, jewellery, rebuilt pianos, life insurance, tents and awnings and car accessories.

The second floor is obviously used as living quarters, the windows are clean and edged with potted flowers and festooned with pretty drapes; you can imagine it a pleasant central spot to live with lots to see on busy market days.

There is a doorway at the north end of the block that leads to the third floor, up three sets of rickety stairs, without handrails, to a dark landing with several doors leading off in three directions. It smells of musty age, paint and varnish, damp plaster and old wallpaper.

It could be Peterborough's Old Curiosity Shop.

Furniture Collection

In its small cubbyhole rooms, wandering side halls and vaulted spaces you will find the greatest collection of used furniture that you could imagine. There are rocking chairs, straight and curved-back, overstuffed, with or without rockers; kitchen chairs, dining room chairs, fiddle-backed chairs. They are piled in great confusion on top of mission oak desks and old Victorian sofas with carved curley back. There are round, oval, square tables, hall hatracks with broken mirrors, washstands with crockery accessories, bedstead ends and broken sewing machines.

In some dusty corners are piles of rusty seat springs, in others, untidy armfuls of beaded and carved mouldings. Sagging gas jets are convenient hooks to hang plywood and cardboard furniture patterns. Two wooden tips of some ancient aeroplane propellor lie on a disembowled parlor organ. And overall a portrait of the late Sir John A. MacDonald hangs askew on the cracked plaster wall.

Names On Walls

Names and street addresses of prominent Peterborough families are convenint pencilled on the walls and a number of notations that tell of the arrival of papers from the Old Country, some avid reader of the Daily Sketch and News of the World.

You would naturally thinks that the garret would turn up some real relics of the past; there is a network of gas piping laid over the rafters, some broken glass and an empty whiskey bottle, nothing else.

One room is obviously used by a furniture finisher where a neat benchful of woodworking tools fills one end entirely. There are shelves full of paints, shellacs, varnishers, wood fillers and the odour is very pleasant.

Like This For 46 Years

The whole third floor has been in this state since 1902. The atmosphere is depressing and there is little if anything to excite the imagination as you can experience n any small ship's chandler's shop in Canadian ocean port cities. But, the place had its day of brightness before the turn of the century.

The building was erected by the late George Dunsford before 1880 and the third floor was used as a Masonic Temple from 1887 to 1902.

In the issue of the Daily Examiner of September 8, 1887 the following description is given of the Masonic Temple.

"The new Masonic Temple in the Dunsford Block will when completed excel anything of the kind in this part of Canada. The rooms, of ample size, are most conveniently arranged. Dining room and kitchen, sitting room and lavatories, three ante-rooms, the Blue Room, 50 feet by 24 feet and the Red Room, 40 feet by 22 feet, in which the Scarlet Chapter and other high orders of masonry meet. The two latter rooms are connected by sliding doors.

"The whole place is well supplied with daylight and will appear brilliant at night by gas light. The suite of rooms occupies the whole third flat of the Dunsford Block. Mr. Belleghem has been given the order for the furniture and Mr. John Alexander will furnish the carpets which will be superb quality and masonic design.

"The ceiling ornamentation will be magnificent, representing the heavens. A background of pale blue paper will offset to advantage miniature heavenly bodies, stars, comets, etc., in gold. The walls will be kalsomined a terra-cotta shade and the space between the woodwork and the ceiling also terra-cotta. The woodwork will be painted white throughout.

"The large canopy over the master's chair, at the south of the blue room will be a telling accessory to the beauty of the apartments."

Since the Masons moved out it has been used for nothing but storage rooms for the accumulation of furniture from broken-up homes, castoffs and final resting place for cheap bargains from past auction sales. Peterborough can not claim it as its Old Curiosity Shop for there is not the least bit of charm in it and you come away down the broken stairs with a feeling of depression.

52 Children To Enjoy Cobourg Holiday

COBOURG, June 24 (ENS). — Illahee Lodge opened for its third year Wednesday at Cobourg. Donated by Mrs. George Dennis of Pittsburgh after her husband's death, this beautiful home on the beach at the foot of Ontario street was for 20 years the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. Dennis. Mrs Dennis donated the property as a memorial to Dr. Dennis for handicapped children.

The home is a place where each child can spend three weeks away from the noise and bustle of the city and the patients are children suffering from diabetes, heart and chest diseases. The chest ailments do not include tuberculosis It is financed by the Kinsmen Clubs of Toronto and is operated by the Neighbourhood Workers Association of that city.

Fifty-two children arrived on Monday from Toronto of whom 27 are girls and 25 are boys whose ages range from five to 12 years. Thirteen are cardiac, 30 are chest, six are diabetic, one is celiac and two are chorea cases. Three groups will spend three weeks each at the Lodge and about 150 children in all will be here during the summer.

Opening Ceremonies

The chairman of the Illahee Lodge committee, C. H. Poole of Toronto, presided over the opening ceremonies. He thanked the Toronto Kinette clubs for their donations to the Lodge during the past three years.. The opening prayer was given by Rev. W. P. Woodger, minister of Trinity United Church. Mayor Joseph Smith spoke briefly on the fine work done on behalf of the children and assuring the committee of the co-operation of the town during the stay of the children at the Lodge.

Frank Stapleford, general secretary of the Illahee Lodge committee, declared that the work of the Lodge on behalf of the children was going well. The surroundings of the Lodge were like a natural park and the entire setup was ideal, he said.

George Budreo of Toronto, governor of District No. 8 of the Kinsmen Clubs, officialily declared Illahee Lodge open for the year.

Hastings Family Christens44thMember

HASTINGS, June 23.—(ENS). —The forty-fourth member of the Spencer family was christened Sunday by the Rev. Canon C. R. Spencer, at a special afternoon service in St. Clements Anglican church, Toronto.

There were four generations present at the service and the small boy wore a christening robe that his great grandmother wore when she was christened in England.

The baby was named Ronald Stewart, Brooks and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks (nee Catherine Spencer.) The Godparents were Miss Ann Brooks, Mr. George Hale and Mr. J. D. Harbon, all of Toronto.

After the service a reception was held at the home of the parents on Hillside Ave., with thirty guests present.

The Defence Of Canada

Canada is showing a fine sense of international responsibility by the part it is taking in world councils, European aid and plans for North American affiliation with a West-European Union. Mr. St. Laurent's statement on foreign policy given the House of Commons last Saturday reiterated with greater definition than his April speech Canada's willingness to enter into a defence pact which included western European countries and the U.S.

• • •

Is the Department of National Defence keeping in step with the Department of External Affairs, or lagging behind? Have we the military plans and strength to implement larger commitments which our foreign policy indicates? It is not merely a question of bringing the armed services up to the minimum strength now authorized. Large policy decisions have to be made about the relative roles of army, navy and air force should we need them in defence of our own borders against sudden attack, or in aid of an allied nation. Since we cannot possibly defend all our shores, which ones are we to concentrate on, and how?

• • •

Other nations are making active preparations, not to wage war but to defend their peace. The United States Congress has passed a draft law for selective service of 21 months' duration for men aged 19 to 25 inclusive. Australia is proposing to raise a citizens' army of 50,000 in addition to its permanent and volunteer force of 42,000 men in the three services.

• • •

Australia's nearest geographical point to the U.S.S.R. is 4,000 miles distant. Sydney, N.S., is less than 3,000 miles from occupied Berlin, and Canadian territory is closer by land and air to U.S.S.R. territory than it is to England, Canada, with five million more people than Australia, has but 35,000 or 38,000 men in uniform. Is the time at hand when the Canadian Parliament must consider passing a draft law similar to the American one?

The Festival Of St. Jean Baptiste

Today is the midsummer holiday of French-Canada. It is the festival of St. Jean Baptiste, a feast-day truly Canadienne which the Quebecois celebrate with jollity and patriotic fervour. The gaiety in the towns and villages is exceeded only by that of New Year's. The celebration is not as traditional as the present-day practice seems to indicate, though in comparison with Canadian holidays of English origin it is of long standing. Though early French settlers had adopted John the Baptist as patron saint it was not until after the troubles of 1837 that Duvernay established the day for national celebration, according to Senator T. Damien Bouchard, writing in Le Clairon (St. Hyacinthe) "to let people know that there was in our country an ethnic group speaking another language than that of the majority who had to be taken into account". It is fitting that our people whose mother-tongue is French and whose ancestors have been Canadian for three centuries, should have such a festival.

Patriotic holidays like Queen Victoria's birthday have little appeal to French-Canadian hearts, though it was in Victoria's reign that French-Canadian civil liberties were finally guaranteed. Nationalists like the young Laurentians, people like the Abbe Groulx and the politician Chaloult foster attempts to make the 24th of May a festival in honour of a coureur de bois like the native hero Adam Dollard, who in 1660 with sixteen youthful companions took a stand at the Long Sault Rapids against some Iroquois. Thus would they supplant Queen Victoria, a person of importance who happened to be British. "Dominion Day" has not yet become "Canada Day", even though the French-Canadians dislike the sound of the word "Dominion".

The Nuisance Of Public Address Systems

We have been greatly impressed by an article which that great reporter, Rebecca West, has written about the Republican conference in Philadelphia in which she complains of the baneful influence of public address systems, news and newsreel photographers and television apparatus on the speakers and the audience. Everybody, she says, is inconvenienced by the amount of posing and posturing which these gadgets make necessary, and an air of falsity is given to a very important gathering.

We appreciate, as we are sure Miss West does also, the need for getting pictures of such events and for broadcasting them by radio and television. But we agree with her that these secondary considerations should not be allowed to alter the whole character of an important gathering. The special lighting for television, the wiring and the microphones used in broadcasting and amplification, the eye-attracting movie cameras and the summer lightning of flashbulbs are distractions which disturb audiences and, even more important, disturb speakers. Where these things are used serious business plays second fiddle to the need to put on a good show, and the emphasis is in the wrong place.

Surely the science which gave us radio, electrical amplification, photography and television is capable of going farther, and disguising these things? Surely the intimacy, intensity and sincerity of public events can be preserved? If not, we must expect an overwhelming phoniness to overspread and corrupt every aspect of public life.

The gifts of science must not be slighted, but they must not be allowed to become tyrannical, either. The great men of the past led nations and swayed vast audiences by their unaided eloquence and power of voice. We must not allow the gadgets of our time to rob us of true statesmanship.

W. R. Givens At Eighty

On Sunday last Mr. W. R. Givens celebrated his eightieth birthday, and we offer our felicitations to a gentleman who was for many years among the ablest Canadian journalists, and who still writes vividly and trenchantly when he wishes. Mr. Givens was already a well-known journalist in New York when he chose to return to Canada and establish the Kingston Standard in the front rank of Canadian provincial papers. Until that paper was amalgamated with the British Whig he guided it deftly, making it admired and feared in all of eastern Canada.

Mr. Givens was a Conservative journalist, but he must often have galled his party, for he was one of its sharpest critics when he felt that it was on a wrong tack. Sometimes this led people to say that Mr. Givens was unpredictable, but our own opinion is that his journalistic course was at all times clearly predictable: he would follow the dictates of his conscience, whatever the consequences might be, or whatever toes were trodden.

During his long life Mr. Givens has suffered much from poor health, against which he has fought a brave fight. And because he has shown himself so conspicuously the victor over handicaps which would have downed a lesser man, it is doubly a pleasure to wish him many years of sunshine days in his happy retirement.

The Mind Of The U.S. Today

(FROM THE LONDON TIMES)

AUTHORS, journalists and even cartoonists from Europe are visiting the United States at present intent on discovering the "state of mind" that lies behind the fear of war and hostility to the Soviet Union that prevails there.

To them the violence of feeling, as the representative of The Times, London, puts it, the uncertainty whether to treat Mr. Henry Wallace's candidature as a harmless freak or a serious threat to the American way of life, and the witch-hunt of alleged Communists and fellow-travellers are explicable only as symptoms of a deep apprehension. The fact of this apprehension, rising at critical moments to acute alarm, is denied by nobody. Only the causes are controversial.

THE phenomenon is probably too complex to have a single cause. Its deepest root appears to be an instinctive fear of the unknown. Familiar landmarks have been swept away with startling suddenness. Hardly anything in the world today outside the two Americas stands where it stood in 1939. And by far the most important of the fallen landmarks is the screen of British power which sheltered the United States from the turbulent impact of Europe.

It is this sense of exposure, says The Times, which lies at the hidden root of American apprehensions. The American people understand how grave are the responsibilities which the new situation imposes. It accepts them grimly and realistically, but without enthusiasm — the mood of two years ago, which joyfully hailed the "American century," is dead—and with secret foreboding. It is engaged in measuring up the magnitude of the task, and finds plenty of grounds for anxiety.

TEN years ago British imperialism was a standard target of criticism and resentment. Today the only complaint about British imperialism is that there is not enough of it. Irritation is felt at British incapacity or unwillingness to face up to imperial responsibilities in Greece or Palestine.

Americans desperately want peace. They are conscious of possessing, and proud of possessing, a giant's strength. They know that this strength, if used aright, is amply sufficient to maintain peace. But they have no confidence in their skill in using it aright; perhaps through their very innocence, through inexperience in dealing with the more wicked and sophisticated world of Europe, they may stumble unwittingly into war.

THE fear has been swelled by recognition of the limitations of the atom bomb. In the intoxication of V Day it was readily assumed that the bomb had made the United States not only supreme but all-powerful. But during the next two years sober calculation, as well as some qualms of conscience, intervened. The atom bomb could be used with effect on an implacable enemy, but it was a poor instrument for running the world and it was not even very effective as a weapon of "cold war." It does not look like being able to solve the European problem today.

Nowhere else in the world did the end of the war generate so much sincere idealism as in the United States. The sentiment which gathered round the United Nations can be compared only with the hopes evoked by the League of Nations in Europe after the First World War. Americans felt that they had seen the error of their ways and were entering into the heritage of peace which they had abandoned and betrayed in 1919. Their refusal then had led to disaster; their repentance now, and their willingness to redeem the past, were a guarantee of success. They honestly believed in co-operation with Russia under the common banner of "democracy." Hence the visions of "democratic governments" and "free and unfettered elections' in eastern Europe; hence the readiness to regard even Chiang Kai-shek as a hero of "democracy." The mood was wildly uncritical, but profoundly sincere.

THE fear which lies behind all other American fears today is the fear of a threat to the American way of life; and the American way of life, for all but a few politically insignificant groups of intellectuals, means first and foremost free enterprise and the capitalist system, where the fundamental liberty is the liberty to rise in the world by one's own exertions and where equality means equality at the starting-point but no nonsense about equality between winners and losers once the race is on.

The failure of western Europe to recover, economically and morally, in the past two years is interpreted as the plain result of controls, subsidies, and other artificial means of interference with the healthy normal economic process.

THE European observer cannot fail to be struck by the evidence of abundance and prosperity which greets him on every side; the superfluity and the generosity are alike amazing. Superficially the clock seems to have gone back just twenty years, but of the uncritical optimism of 1927-28 no trace is left. The sense today is of advancing at breakneck speed—into what? That is the question no one professes to answer.

It is this sense of uncertainty about the American future which contributes powerfully to the mood of "jitters."

AMERICANS are so accustomed to see themselves as champions of progress in the world that the charge of supporting reactionaries or "the right" comes home particularly hard. But the charge is accepted with a kind of fatalism; it is the age-long destiny of those who conduct American foreign policy to be bamboozled by clever Europeans. And after all what else can be done? When The Times correspondent suggested that perhaps the surest way of cutting the ground from beneath the Communists in Europe was to support whatever was farthest to the left this side of Communism, he was asked: "So you expect us to subsidize Socialism out of the profits of capitalism?" The answer was neither sour nor cynical, but matter of fact. The American philosophy of life is rooted in conditions of prosperous free enterprise which do not exist anywhere in Europe.

Letters To The Editor

WANTS BETTER TRAIN SERVICE

Sir, What is the matter with the train service to and from Peterborough, specially on week-ends?

The trains back are the worst. There is none on Sundays until nearly midnight from Toronto and that doesn't get in until around two in the morning. That is too late for a working girl or any man who has his mind on his job.

Why can't they cut out all the pokey trains and look after week-end travellers? Aren't there any diesel engine trains or fast one or two car trains that could run up and back quickly?

In these days when people can't afford to buy cars now is the time for the railways to show the people that they can serve them. They could make money too, I am sure.

(Miss) HELEN BROWN.

COMMENDS COUNCIL'S FIRM ACTION

Sir: I have read your editorials on the subject and the letters in the correspondence columns and in this evening's paper I read very carefully the account of the council meeting when they threw out the bylaw for early closing of gasoline stations.

In my day I have seen one after another the rights of citizens taken away from them by laws. These laws were supposed to protect them, but most of us were not so stupid that we needed a grandfatherly government in the city, in the province or in Ottawa to make laws for everything we bought, sold or did. Maybe the younger generation are not as sharp as we were. Their mothers did not mind buying potatoes by the peck, or even by saying what will you take for the lot? If they got cheated once they did not twice. Now they have to buy them by the pound and that is the way they have to be sold. For all I know it might be better to buy them by the pound. The thing is that now there is no choice. A peck can be as honest as honest weight, so called. As honest as the man that sells potatoes.

These laws about closing and the like may be all right. If everybody wanted early closing there would not have to be a bylaw. It might be that it is only the 75 per cent. of the garage people who want early closing, and they want to lay down the law to 30,000 people and visitors to town. The barbers have a bylaw and look what happens. They close all day Wednesday and raise the price of haircuts to 60 cents. Is that the kind of bylaws that protect the people?

In tonight's story of the council meeting I read that the City Solicitor made this statement. "Councils take their authority under the Ontario Municipal Act. So, the municipal council derives authority from the Ontario Legislature. The Legislature has passed this Act, and as such the duty of the council is to following the requirements of the Ontario Act."

Now it seems to me if people start thinking that way we will have no control over what goes on in the city at all. Since when has the Toronto Provincial Government taken over cities like Peterborough? It seems to me that the council gets its authority not from any Provincial Act but from us, the city voters. We vote them in there to look after our interests. We also send members to the Ontario Legislature. They have the job of looking after our wider affairs. Let them keep their noses out of what is pure and simple a local affair, like whether gas stations stay open or whether they don't.

I am glad that the council had the gumption to not pass the bylaw. It might be a good thing for the gas stations to have early closing but it is not a good thing for Toronto to tell our council that they have to pass the bylaw. It is about time local people stood up for their right to have local government. Let the Attorney General bring an action against the city if he wants to. If enough of us get up on our hind legs he won't dare to.

You may get to heaven by being meek and mild and turning the other cheek, but you won't get anywhere in Ontario that way. If the Council puts on a bold front it can lick the politicians and civil servants in Toronto.

"ELDER CITIZEN."

A SUMMER SCHOOL FOR PETERBOROUGH?

Sir: In nearly all the larger Canadian cities, there is organized during the holiday season a summer school. Kingston, being a university town, has one of much popularity with instruction offered in art, music, radio, public speaking and refresher courses in mechanics and all its branches.

This city, with all its highly-trained mechanics, business men and women, school teachers and members of the other professions, could establish a first-class summer school which would give educational facilities to all the young folk and others who wished to attend these courses during the summer months, and it seems that about the only diversion there is is visiting the summer resorts, dance halls and pool rooms when a profitable summer might be given to hundreds of ambitious young people.

If this radio-active Chamber of Commerce had energy enough to start something like this, it might have been organized years ago for we have the normal school and a number of other schools available for lectures, or at least part of them, during the summertime when they are being repainted and decorated.

I would suggest that the Examiner, which is always active in the matters of reform and new ideas, might consider this matter and possibly Mr. J. A. McKone, Mr. E. A. Outram, or Superintendent of Schools Wightman, or any other person with recognized organizing ability, might be obtained to plan the scheme and some service clubs could follow it up with the organization.

Yours truly,

G. N. GORDON.

Right To Make A Noise

Freedom of speech was written into the United States Constitution in technologically simple days. The wildest dreams of the Founding Fathers did not include sound trucks.

Hence the Supreme Court has just found it necessary to decide whether limits can constitutionally be placed on the volume of sound a person exercising this right can produce, and in a case involving the city of Lockport, N.Y., by a five-to-four vote, that they cannot. Like so many other recent cases involving basic freedoms, this one brought a religious sect known as Jehovah's Witnesses to the High Court.

However, it seems to establish the principle that any person, sect or party, including candidates for public office, can at any time or place trot out a sound truck without asking permission of the local authorities. Freedom to speak is preserved but freedom to sleep is not.—New York Times.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The righteous shall be glad in the Lord, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory. (Ps. 64: 10.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of their kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people. (Matt. 4: 23.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him: and he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying, Blessed are the poor in spirit: for their's is the kingdom of heaven....

Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid. Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. (Matt. 5: 1-3, 14-16.)

Rt. Hon. J. L. Ilsley And The Death Penalty

Rt. Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Federal Minister of Justice, has announced that the death penalty will be retained, as far as the Dominion Government is concerned. He added that the death penalty was considered a deterrent to murder. Most Canadians, we think, will agree with what Mr. Ilsley said, as far as it goes. And it was probably as far as Mr. Ilsley could go, although we do not think it goes quite far enough.

The mere fact that there is a death penalty for murder is not enough to deter people who might be tempted to commit murder. The value of the death penalty as a deterrent depends almost wholly on the effectiveness of the police and legal system which are expected to make its imposition possible in cases of murder. Even in nations where the percentage of executions in murder cases is high, the death penalty has not proved an absolute deterrent, and its value in this respect declines with declining percentages.

The record in Canada and in Ontario is generally good. Nevertheless, it was not very long ago that a series of unsolved murders and murders in which laws of evidence seemingly balked justice aroused some alarm in this province. Despite the fact that the death penalty existed, the outcome of these cases detracted from its value as a deterrent.

If it has not already been done, it would be wise to give consideration to the revision or elimination of laws which are now strongly suspected of obstructing the course of justice. Every time a murder case remains unsolved, or evidence is presented in such a form that it is ruled inadmissable, the value of the death penalty as a deterrent decreases. The rights of accused persons must be protected, but surely that can be done without leaving the way open for repetition of the results in several murder cases in Ontario during the past year or so. — Kingston Whig-Standard.

If You Believe It

Animals buried alive for long periods but rescued in the end have secured much attention, but apparently man creates the record in this form of endurance—at least he does if you believe all you see "in the papers." In a Paris paper dated July, 1826, appeared the marvellous story of the discovery, in the valley of the Laventina, of the body of a man hidden under a heap of ice. The story declared that the body was extricated, and "on animation being restored" (it was as simple as that) the patient described himself as Roger Dodsworth, son of the antiquary of that name (who died in 1654). He said he was born in 1629, and, returning from Italy in 1660, was buried under an avalanche. The account added that "Mr. Dodsworth feels a great stiffness in his joints." If he also developed a cold in the head and suffered twinges of rheumatism, it would not have caused much surprise. — Manchester Guardian.

Hits Funny Bone

Henry Wallace allows that if Russia were training a Mexican army and carrying on in the Caribbean as we are in Europe we might understand their grabs.

This will hit the funny bone of countless American investors who have lost their shirts in Mexico and other Good Neighbour lands without ever seeing a marine make a landing.

We were in Mexico City just about 100 years ago, and many top Mexicans asked us to stay. There has never been a day since then that this country couldn't have started a more plausible revolution in Mexico than Russia's latest export uprising in Czechoslovakia. We've been moving out, not in.—Chicago Daily News.

Mask Flattens the Whipper In Final Fall of Main Bout

Pro wrestling bowed out here on a high note last night until next autumn. A big crowd saw a windup card packed with action and saw Whipper Bill Watson pinned by the Mask for the deciding fall of the main bout team match. The Whip had to fight it out alone in a dramatic mat finish after Earl McCready suffered a dislocated hip in the second fall of the bout.

The deciding fall came in 14 minutes with the Mask atop Whip after the Marvel and Lee Henning in rotation had worked fast in softening him up. With no relief in sight, Watson had to stand the whole raft of rough stuff they threw at him. But at first he put up a magnificent fight and had both his opponents out of the ring together for minutes at a time with some fast, hard slugging and mat work. But eventually sheer weight beat him down. The villains had to run for their dressing room after with police aid as the fans were peeved.

Awards Fall

Referee Jack Sharkey awarded the second fall of the hot bout to Lee over Earl in 21 minutes when the latter had his back and hip hurt and was suffering. The pair had ganged him and banged his back against the ring boards before Henning finally threw him into the rope turnbuckles. McCready had to be carried out and a local doctor treated him. Previously, it was a terrific scrap with four mixing it at times and two going in the ring and two outside it at other times while Sharkey looked dazed trying to straighten it out. Watson was quite angry at the finish and argued strenuously with the referee as the crowd swarmed around.

Whipper pinned Henning in 20 minutes for the first fall with his whip hold as the fans roared approval. He had first softened up the Mask and then, as they exchanged, kept up his barrage on Lee till he had him set up for the fall. It was a rough go all the way with McCready getting in some good work, too, and none of the four paying too much attention to the rules. It was fast and rough all the way and at one time both the Mask and Lee were hung up in the ropes with the referee busy as two hives of bees trying to get order out of chaos. The crowd loved it. Action was in and out of the ring and at a hot clip from start to finish.

Mike Sharpe earned Referee Dunlop's decision over Dan O'Connor in the semi-final after it went to the 30-minute time limit. The fans approved the verdict as Mike showed more mat work and played it cleaner but he was in plenty of trouble at times from the hefty Irisher. Dan threw him out of the ring at times and generally roughed him up despite warnings. They were fast for 240-pounders and showed a lot in a lively tussle which had the referee shedding pounds at every turn, and the crowd liked it.

In the prelim, Pat Flanagan and Jack Moore battled to 30-minute draw, finishing up strong. They were slow getting going but soon warmed up and dished up plenty of arm and leg locks. Moore used the ropes to escape punishing holds and later got in quite a bit of illegal stuff, paying little attention to warnings from the referee. Pat was willing to mix it, too, and they tangled hard several times, with Moore crabbing to the ref repeatedly. Dunlop had to knee Jack once to break up a hold. They finished at a real hot pace and it was ruled a draw.

Legion Hands A Defeat To O'Hallorans

Local fans were treated to an excellent brand of soccer on Wednesday evening when the Canadian Legion edged out a 3-2 win over the O'Halloran aggregation at King Edward Park before a good attendance, to complete the full league schedule for all teams.

Within a minute, G. Downer put the Legion one up when he ran across the field to pick up the ball on the right to catch the inside of the upright. They kept up the pressure to find Art O'Halloran and Art Downer holding the Legion outside the shooting zone. Harry Pyle repeatedly broke up attacks to feed his forwards with timely openings that went abegging. Then a succession of corner kicks taken by Creall, O'Halloran's, resulted in the left winger landing the ball into the corner of the cross-bar for the equalizer. Just before the interval, Cribbiss missed an open goal from a Creall pass.

On resuming, Duffus made an opening for Featherstone to put O'Hallorans in the lead, with a sizzling low grounder. Thereafter, Legion tested Chamberlain from all angles, particularly his two-fister punt from under the cross-bar. A little later, H. Foster shot the ball at the goal where it hit a small boy who was standing up against the upright to go back into play. The referee and linesmen judged it was a goal to give Legion the count of 2-all. On the next visit, H. Foster centred into goal and saw the ball hit the inside of the upright. Chamberlain picked up the ball but Newt Downer kicked out of his reach into the goal to give Legion a 3-2 verdict.

Legion: J. Craig, goal; T. Foster Jr., and Al Downer, full backs; B. Woodcock, B. Grant and C. Murduff, half backs; H. Foster, T. Foster Sr., N. Downer, G. Downer and Jack Downer, forwards; subs, C. Murduff, E. Smith.

O'Hallorans: J. Chamberlain, goal; A. O'Halloran and A. Downer, full backs; T. Scott, H. Pyle and A. B. Smart, half backs; E. Boone, E. Duffus, W. Cribbiss, A. Featherstone, F. Creall, forwards; sub, D. Duncan.

Referee, A. Downer; linesmen, E. Lane and A. Downer.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

Lots of lacrosse activity the next few nights. Big attraction is the exhibition at nine tomorrow eve in Miller Bowl when Brampton's "A" squad plays the senior "B" Petes. Followers of the gutted-stick game will see some smart, speedy lacrosse served up betwixt these well-matched clubs. Petes have licked their wounds after the gruelling game the other night in Oshawa and are ready to go again. Meantime, there are a couple of bantam contests in the Bowl tonight, starting at 6.30, and a midget twin bill in the secondary box tomorrow, beginning at 6.15, Cavanaugh's vs. American and McGillis vs. Comstock's. And a juvenile joust at eight tonight in the Bowl betwixt Legion and Comstock's.

Annual swim marathon at Lakefield, sponsored by the Legion there, this Saturday, a one-mile go in the canal at the Legion grounds. It is for the Austin Trophy, which Al Marshall won the last two years. If Al takes it again he keeps it—but no one knows yet if the big fellow intends to race this time. Gord Minty will take along four or five of the starry swimmers from the "Y", and the local lasses will strut their ornamental stuff. Who knows, maybe some of the home talent in Greater Peterborough's largest suburb will go in as dark horses and come out as top contenders.

Six In The Soup Now

Word came through from Belleville yesterday that Prexy Don Thomas of the COBL has suspended six members of the Batawa Shoemen of this league. They are Manager Bill Easton and players Muffitt, Bowman, Cook, Bridgeman and Watson. The president, and Jack Turner from here—as an OBA member—will take the matter to an executive meeting of the OBA tonight. Whole thing is a question of territorial rights. As we understand it, Trenton of the Belleville Intermediate League agreed to let Bowman, Cook, Bridgeman and Watson of Trenton go to Batawa in return for Muffitt. It was agreed but then Muffitt backed out and has played five games with Batawa—two more than he is permitted without a transfer. Won 'em both, too. Hence the suspension.

And this from Oshawa: "After several differences of opinion, Manager Doug Sutton has now taken over the running of the Merchants, with Jimmie Legree secretary-treasurer and business manager. Moose Matthews is out as coach and Red Jubenville has also turned in his uniform. Several others were considering turning in their uniforms, too. It's unfortunate that the new local ball club should get into trouble over lack of harmony but it remains to be seen if those still with the ship will go out and work to make a success of it."

Oshawa Takes Tussle

It'll be Oshawa Merchants against the Petes in COBL play here Saturday aft at three. With Loucks and Romaniski likely doing the twirling. And the tired Petes will have to pull up their sox to keep in front of the pack fast closing in on them. Oshawa took 'em 6-4 last p.m. with Paul Michael pitching, field and hitting like nobody's business. The Petes started slowly but it was a good game later. Ed Starr missed connections, and Howie Dalton was out with a sore knee—but he will likely see action on Saturday. Eddie Murphy played third this game. Larry Edwardson led the locals at bat with two for four. They had three games away in two nights and felt rather ragged but should be fit again by the week-end.

Looks like youth is paying off in girls' softball, too, as Ashby's pulled a surprise 6-5 win o'er Westclox last e'en in the Bowl. Doris McFadden pitched six-hit ball and had good support afield and at bat, while the classy Clockers were loose defensively in this one. Those Ashby kids, like the McFadden sisters, Joan Reynolds, Gladys Dracup, Dot Callan, Marg Freeman and the rest, have a real softball future if they stick together another year or two. The other game over there was pretty fair, as well, with the good CGE club only able to beat the battling Lock Co. crew by a 5-1 count. The Lock lasses may make a lot of noise yet by playoff time. Two more tilts there tomorrow.

In A Blaze Of Glory

Pro wrestling finished here last eve till October and a big crowd saw a swell show. Story is in elsewhere. Extra police were on hand and did a good job as the villains in the main bout had to run for their lives. At that, they were kicked some—so was the ref—and got a few cigarette burns from brave (?) fans who did it from behind. Police picked up a couple of the culprits. McCready had treatment from a local doc after the second fall. Jack Sharkey said two women kicked his shins plenty and he really wished they were men at the moment! Jack—who likes Walcott tonight inside of 10 rounds—was as dazed in that team bout as the time he forgot and turned his head to speak to the ref in the seventh, and Dempsey let him have it! The Whip expects to fly to California for a few bouts late in July. And so, au revoir, to the merry matmen.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Notwithstanding the uncertainty of the weather, many of the bowlers took in outside tournaments held on the weekly half-holiday.

Up at Lindsay the ladies' club was represented by four rinks (half the entry) and two of them reaced the prize list:

Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Helson, Mrs. Hendry, Mrs. Beatty, skip. Each pillow cases.

Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Killingbeck, Mrs. Hepburn, skip. Each a water jug.

We have no report from the bowlers who attended tournaments at Cobourg, Oshawa and Cannington.

If the weather clears up, Groups 1 'o. 3 and No. 4 will play this evening.

Don't forget tomorrow night's men's doubles, 7.00 p.m. sharp, $1.0 paair. See C. Mowry this evening.

FREDERICTON (CP)— As far as RCMP are concerned, the illegal manufacture of liquor is a "lost art" in New Brunswick, where last year the RCMP seized only one still. So far they haven't uncovered one this year.

Merchants Win Over Petes In COBL Game

OSHAWA, June 24—(CP)—Oshawa Merchants finished strong with a three-run drive in the eighth inning here last night to beat the Petes 6-4 in a COBL fixture. It pulled the Merchants right up on the heels of the second-place Batawa bunch and narrowed down the lead held by the Peterborough pack in the league race.

Paul Michael was the home hero as he hurled seven-hit ball, fanned seven, handled 10 fielding chances without a slip and hit three for four, including a triple. Bill Edger ran into late trouble on the visitors'slab as he gave up a total of 12 hits and struck out out three. His support wasn't good and both sides were somewhat loose defensively. Edwardson led the losers at bat with two for four. McMullen hit a four-bagger for the revamped Merchants. The same squads meet again in Peterborough on Saturday.

Roberts Stops Reds 3-2 Pays Phillies Dividends

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Robin Roberts, 21-year-old righthander, is proving Philadelphia Phillies made a smart move when they gave him $25,000 to sign.

The lanky speed ball pitcher gained his first major league victory last night, stopping Cincinnati Reds 3-2.

Roberts held the Reds to seven hits—two of them homers by Hank Sauer and Danny Litwhiler. He fanned nine.

The Phils signed Roberts while he was at Michigan State College and sent him early this season to Wilmington. There Roberts won nine games, lost one and fanned 121 batters in less than 100 innings including 18 in one game.

The rookie made his first big league start against Pittsburgh June 18 and dropped a 2-0 decision.

Sauer, the major's top home run hitter, socked his 22nd four-bagger in the sixth inning.

The game was the only one played in the National League.

Beat Indians

In the American League, the second-place New York Yankees beat the league-leading Indians 5-1 in an 11-inning night game at Cleveland. The setback cut the Indians' lead to 2½ games.

Tommy Henrich broke up the game with a grand-slam homer off Don Black who went the route for the Tribe. Ed Lopat of the Yankees went the distance, allowing only six hits. A crowd of 65,797 turned out, largest ever to see a night game in Cleveland.

The third-place Philadelphia Athletics, behind the six-hit pitching of Toronto-born Dick Fowler, swamped St. Louis Browns 12-1. Herman Franks led the A's 14-hit attack, driving in five runs on a homer, triple and double.

At Detroit, in a day game, Washington Senators nosed out the Tigers 2-1. Dizzy Trout held the Senators to four hits while four Washington pitchers allowed six.

Weather Still Threatens Joe Louis Fight

NEW YORK, June 24 — (CP). —The suitable time when champion Joe Louis and challenger Joe Walcott will settle their dispute over the world heavyweight boxing championship today again seemed to be in the hands of the elements.

A heavy downpour shortly after noon yesterday forced postponement of the 15-round engagement at Yankee Stadium—Louis' 25th title defence and, he says, his last fight.

The contest immediately was rescheduled for 10 p.m. EDT tonight, weather permitting.

The weather bureau, in a rut, promised more showers and thundershowers today and tomorrow. If washed out a second time, the bout will be staged Friday, and so on.

Even the odds seemed to react to the uncertainty of conditions and fluctuated between 5 and 11 and 5 to 13, favoring the champion, in brisk overnight betting activity.

The two Joes appeared tight-strung at the weigh-in ceremonies. Although they stood so close that at times their muscles almost touched, they didn't speak.

Louis lumbered on the scales and weighed 213¾, the heaviest ring weight of his career. Walcott registered 194¾. They won't have to repeat the act today.

Four Champions Lose In Opener

TORONTO, June 24 — (CP). — Four former champions today are out of the Ontario amateur golf tournament following the 18-hole medal play opening round.

Defending champion Rudy Horvath of Windsor Beach Grove shot a one-under-par 69 Wednesday to lead the 32 players into today's two match-play rounds. The field will be cut to eight on today's matches on the Rosedale Golf Club layout with quarter and semi-final tilts scheduled for tomorrow. The two finalists battle over a 36-hole distance Saturday.

Dr. M. J. (Mac) Gibson fired a par 70 over the course that once had him as an assistant professional. In third place with a 71 was the several-time club champion, Rod Phelan.

Canada's Junior champion Gerry Kesselring of Kitchener Rockway, shot a 72 for fourth. Paul Paletti and Phil Farley, both of Toronto Scarboro, were tied for fifth with 73s.

RookieGravino's 12th Homer Gives Wings Win

By The Associated Press

Another Stan Musial? Maybe, and certainly there's little doubt that St. Louis Cardinals have a promising outfield prospect in Frank Gravino, 24-year-old rookie of Rochester Red Wings of the International League.

Gravino is hitting at a .342 clip and, like Musial, he is a converted pitcher.

He joined the Cardinals' Williamson farm club of the Mountain State league as a pitcher in 1940, the same club that Musial began his organized ball career as a hurler in 1938.

Gets 12th Homer

Wednesday, Gravino socked his 12th homer and a single and drove in all three Red Wings runs in Rochester's 3-2 victory over Syracuse Chiefs in the first game of a doubleheader.

He failed to hit in the nightcap which the Wings also won, 5-1 behind the fix-hit pitching of Max Surkont.

Jersey City Giants also swept a doubleheader, beating Toronto Maple Leafs, 7-4 and 7-3. Syl Yvars' three-run homer and a two-run circuit blast by Jack Harshman featured the Giants' first game triumph. Burgess Whitehead poled a three-run four-bagger and Hal Bamberger hit one with the bases empty for the Giants in the second tilt.

Home runs also highlighted the hard-hitting Buffalo Bisons' 10-5 victory over Baltimore Orioles. Chet Laabs belted his 20th with two on in the first inning and Anse Moore hammered his 17th with one aboard in the fourth for the Bisons.

The scheduled game between the first-place Montreal Royals and the runner-up Newark Bears was postponed because of rain.

Westclox Lose To Ashby's In Nifty Tussle

Ashby's pulled a surprise 6-5 win over Westclox at the Bowl last night to climb in the Girls' Softball League standing. The juniors rammed over four runs in the second frame against their senior opponents and added one each in the fourth and eighth, while the Clockers could click for but two in the fourth and five in the eighth. It was a fast fray with Ashby's having a good edge in hitting and fielding behind six-hit hurling by Doris McFad-

Newcastle Lose To Petes In Neat Number

Jack Billingsley led his team to victory over Newcastle last evening, in a regular Intermediate Lakeshore Baseball League struggle at Riverside, by a score of 5-2. The veteran took the mound himself for three innings and with a 4-2 margin, gave way to Roy Armour, who gave a great exhibition for the remainder of the game, holding the enemy to two scattered hits, both singles, and was never in difficulty.

Art Perry toiled well also for Newcastle, striking out four and walking but one. Peterborough earned the victory, however, and displayed good form. Murphy, Conway, Pagett and Fitzgerald led the hitters with two apiece while Conway gave a brilliant fielding display at short, for the locals. For the visitors, Gilmore and West collected two hits apiece. A fine game and a fair crowd, considering the weather. The two teams meet again Saturday at Newcastle in an afternoon game.

Mystery Ship Rides In Victoria's Harbor

VICTORIA, B.C., June 24 (CP)—At anchor in the inner harbor here is the fishing vessel Esmeralda, and how it got there and who owns it are mysteries to shipping officials.

Through rain and shine for several seasons the orphan craft, fighting a losing battle with marine growth and her housing rotting with age, has remained at anchor.

Canadian customs officials and the port harbor warden know nothing of the vessel. She is not registered at any port across Canada.

Her name is clearly seen from the dock, but there are no visible identification letters or number combinations.

All that could be learned was that she was first named Esme. The name was changed to Esmeralda about 18 years ago. She was originally owned by Capt. Robert Vyvyan, engaged in the wool trade between Australia and England for 50 years.

It is believed that Capt. Vyvyan came to Victoria from England to retire sometime between 1914 and 1918, but no trace of him can be found.

Should the Esmeralda sink or break away, her fate woll have to be decided by the Department of Transport officials.

Canadian Purchases Major British Task

LONDON, June 24 (CP)—Dr. Edith Summerskill, food ministry parliamentary secretary, said in the Commons, steps being taken to overcome the dollar problem and facilitate purchases from Canada "constitutes one of His Majesty's government's major tasks."

She was answering J. F. Platts-Mills, Labor member of parliament for Finsbury, recently ejected from the party for leftist leanings.

He asked if the food ministry was aware that "apple growers in British Columbia are faced with a serious threat to their livelihood owing to the absence of arrangements to pay for such exports." He questioned what steps were being taken by the food ministry to overcome the dollar problem and "so preserve this essential source of supply for this country."

"It is unfortunately true that our dollar resources may not be sufficient to enable Canada to sell us all that she would wish or all that we would like to buy," said Dr. Summerskill.

Help 563 With Homes

TORONTO, June 24.—(CP).—The Ontario government has helped 563 persons to meet down payments on new houses, Planning Minister Porter said Wednesday night. He said a Crown company set up seven weeks ago has handled 842 applications and loaned $577,000 on second mortgages.

Plan More Films To Be Based On U.S. History

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 24—(AP)—Producer Walter Wanger announces he will mine the rich vein of United States history in his future films.

The scholarly film maker, who has alternated between serious drama and escapist flim-flam, says he plans a long-range program of movies highlighting Americana. Latest to be announced is "So Gallantly Gleaming," a story of John Fremont.

Burt Lancaster plans to shoot all of his "Eagle on the Cactus" in Mexico, and that should give film making below the border a much-needed shot in the arm. It's a story of the Mexican revolution and Burt's company will film it in authentic locales, using Mexican studios for interiors. He'll use all Mexican actors except for some of the lead roles.

Another Latin-American revolution is the subject of John Huston's first independent film, "Rough Sketch," which will star John Garfield and Jennifer Jones. Its background is the Cuban uprising that overthrew the Machado regime in 1937. The company will location in Cuba.

Donald O'Connor's studio has nothing for him to do so he is hopping off to South Africa on July 31 for a week of theatre work.

Sonja Henie wants to make her next film after "The Countess of Monte Cristo" in Britain because that's the only place she can get a color commitment. Reasons shrewd Sonja: "Film is prettier in color and makes more money, too."

FOUR FOR ONE

It is said to take four tons of fresh grapes to make one ton of dried raisins.

TELEVISION demands an entirely new type of costume for its feminine stars. Virginia Davis, young U.S. folksinger, who sang the national anthem at the opening of the 1948 Republican national convention, is pictured in the gown especially designed for that occasion. Note the GOP elephants romping on her scarf. The dress of turquoise blue jersey meets the requirements of televsion camera for something flattering near the face or neck with a small horsehair ruffle around the shoulders.

Electrics Take A 5-1 Tilt From Lock Co.

CGE improved their position in the Girls' Softball League standing considerably last evening at the Bowl when they took a 5-1 victory over Lock Co. before a fair crowd. The losers turned in a fine showing against stiff opposition and it was a snappy game throughout. The hitting and fielding were almost even, with the winners having a slight edge. M. Perrin gave but seven hits as she fanned two and walked none, while M. Stewart allowed only eight hits while whiffing three and issuing two walks. Both had good support.

M. Batley got two of the victors' hits while I. Stewart came through with a three-bagger. C. Michaud, rf; P. Williams, cf, got two safe bows for the Lock squad, none of the team getting an extra-base blow. T. DeCarlo was the outstanding fielder in this game. The Electrics got their runs one at a time in different innings and it was always fairly close, with Lock Co. threatening at the last to pull up.

BUYS AND WHYS BY Barbara Brent

A weekly shopping and information service for today's woman

MONTREAL, June 24th—Some people have bad luck! I was talking to a friend of mine whose husband has been "in hospital" for several months after a serious accident. But she's very cheerful about it—and so's he—for their Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Association coverage generously makes up to him for money lost while he was away from work. What's more, it helps pay doctor's and surgeon's, hospital and nurse's fees! Yes, accidents can happen to all of us—so it's a good idea to be prepared! Why not write to me to-day—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—to find out more about low-cost but truly priceless MUTUAL BENEFIT policies that put money in your pocket in time of sickness or accident.

Playing Tricks With Your Calendar . . . trying to plan your vacation so you'll not be slowed down by these "do-nothing" days of the month? Why bother, when by taking along TAMPAX sanitary protection, you can swim, sail or sun in complete comfort and confidence on "those" days! Here is your chance to try Tampax . . . discover for yourself what truly modern sanitary protection can mean to you! For just a dime to cover mailing costs, a trial package of Tampax is yours! Drop me a line—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—specifying the size you wish—Regular—Super—Junior. And, remember—Tampax was specially designed for your comfort and complete protection on those "calendar" days!

Warm Weather can be pretty uncomfortable for baby, too . . . so here's a timely shopping tip next time you shop for him! Ask for Z.B.T. Baby Powder—for comfort's sake! Try this moisture-proof test and you'll be amazed, as I was! . . . Smooth a little of the powder on your hand, then sprinkle it with water. The water will roll off, leaving the powder still dry and soft. Z.B.T.—made with olive oil—is pure protection for tender skin—summer and winter . . . in warm weather and cold it guards against the squirmy irritation of "acid moisture". So, for baby's sake, write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for your free sample of Z.B.T. BABY POWDER!

Budget Your Time for time is precious . . . and here's one time-saving trick that will save not just minutes—but hours! Keep drains fast-running with Gillett's Drain Cleaner. And try this . . . make a Time-Chart over a period of weeks and mark hours saved when you clean out your drains thoroughly with two tablespoons a week of GILLETT'S DRAIN CLEANER! It acts quickly—keeps drains clear and free from clogging sediment—makes sink and tub-cleaning easier and quicker for you. Saves housework time! And, of course Gillett's Drain Cleaner is budget-easy . . . saves on plumber's bills, you see! Ask your grocer for a tin to-morrow . . . and follow the directions for excellent results!

It Can't just be coincidence that 80 out of every 100 homemakers said they preferred Kellogg's to any other corn flakes! That was the outcome of a recent consumer survey . . . and when results were carefully checked and double-checked . . . figures proved this fact—that 4 out of every 5 of us like KELLOGG'S CORN FLAKES best! The reason? Well, here are just a few . . . In this day and age—with prices soaring sky high—it's nice to know that family "flavourites" like Kellogg's Corn Flakes are still so reasonably priced! No wonder they make friends! And you have only to taste a bowlful of Kellogg's Corn Flakes to find out why they're a favourite food with all the family. It's that crisp, delicious flavour that makes them so very popular! Try them and see!

Your Husband Won't Be Exaggerating when he says your jams and jellies are "better than Mother used to make!" . . . not if you make them with CERTO! Certo is the magical, modern touch to jam-'n-jelly making . . . the sure way to consistent good results. Certo is fruit pectin—the natural jellying substance of fruits—in convenient concentrated form. Cuts boiling time to just one or two minutes—and gives you fifty percent more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit . . . more sparkling, appealing color . . . more true, fresh-fruit flavor. Just be sure to follow exactly the instructions in the recipe book under the label—and discover why champion jam and jelly makers depend on Certo for all their jams and jellies.

Summer Walks Through Green Fields—tennis and golf . . . all these summertime pastimes are hard and hot on your feet! Best way I know to keep active feet dainty is to spray them with Sno-Mist right after you bathe! Sno-Mist is that magical new powder deodorant that more and more women are making a beauty habit! The "spray way" with Sno-Mist is the perfect answer to many a warm-weather problem of personal daintiness. You see, Sno-Mist is the one and only antiseptic deodorant with an atomizer top. It's safe and easy to use—not at all harmful to clothing! So why not discover for yourself all the delightfully dainty ways it can keep you daisy-fresh the livelong summer day? Ask your druggist to-morrow for SNO-MIST Powder Spray Deodorant.

The Best Salads have one flavour-secret in common . . . whether they're served, tossed and lusciously green, in a wooden bowl—or colourfully arranged in glass fruit dishes . . . they're always skilfully flavoured with HEINZ VINEGARS! Yes—it's a good idea—for "salad insurance"—to make your salads with the best vinegar you can buy—just as you make them with the best fruits and vegetables. So ask your grocer to-morrow for Heinz White Vinegar . . . marvelous for light salads and smoother boiled dressings . . . and Heinz Malt Vinegar—delicious for heartier salads. One more flavourful secret . . . it's the aging and mellowing in wood that make HEINZ VINEGARS so very, very good!

Your Youngsters Will Make a Game of spraying your lawn with this so-light, gayly-coloured Vinylite plastic hose! While father relaxes with his evening paper . . . son or daughter can happily do his gardening chores for him! Yes, these Vinylite plastic hoses are truly remarkable for more reasons than one! They're just one-third the weight of ordinary hose . . . they're weather and scuff-resistant . . . and they've been pressure-tested so you know they'll give good service for a long, long time! And do be sure they're made of VINYLITE plastic, when you're buying!

Try This for Tiny Mealtime Dawdlers . . . play "Guess What!" Put a spoonful of jelly, seedless raisins, stewed prunes or apricots in the bottom of your youngster's cereal bowl. Cover completely with "Cream of Wheat"—the idea is to guess what's hidden underneath! And how your youngster will love her "Cream of Wheat" treat! It's so good . . . and so good for her! You see, 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat" is brimming with blood-building Iron . . . and it provides important Calcium and Phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. Cooks to complete digestibility in 5 minutes of boiling. That's why I urge you to make "CREAM OF WHEAT" a family habit as so many thousands of Canadian families do!

It's Such Fun to make your own "beach clothes" at home . . . and they'll be the smartest sun-'n-swim suits on the beach, too. But before you settle down with needle and thread . . . be sure your thread is CORTICELLI NYLON SEWING THREAD! Seams sewn with this wonderful nylon thread will last and last . . . no matter how active a swimmer you are. For nylon thread is elastic . . . it provides the needed "give" in seams that makes for longer wearing. So for most satisfactory summer sewing . . . ask for strong, durable Corticelli Nylon Sewing Thread. You'll find it in a variety of lovely shades keyed to your gayest holiday mood!

Charm Is a Possession Every Woman Can Have—in abundance. It can be acquired with such subtlety that it becomes an inseparable part of your personality. And it's made up of a lot of important little things . . . the way you walk . . . the perfume you wear. That's why this little booklet is such a priceless "discovery"! Called "PERFUMES AND COLOGNES—And When to Use Them"—it's written by people who know all about the appeal of fine fragrance . . . the makers of CHANEL, the most treasured name in perfume! So for charm secrets to add new excitement—vivid reality—to your personality . . . write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for your free copy of this valuable little booklet!

Just in Time for summer desserts to tickle the taste of all the family . . . this free folder offer of KRE-MEL dessert recipes! Simply write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for your free copy. Meantime, here's a mouthwatering example of what to expect! . . .

Everyone In Britain Must Pay Under National Assistance Act

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, June 24 — (CP). — Dowagers and tramps, suburbanites and sailors, all must pay their share when the National Assistance Act comes into force July 5.

An estimated 3,500,000 persons self-employed or not engaged in gainful occupations have escaped state insurance schemes so far.

But, under legislation approved with support of both Labor Government and Opposition parties for its main provisions, practically everyone in the United Kingdom over school age and under pension age must pay contributions to secure old-age, sickness, unemployment and death benefits.

The employed man of more than 18 will pay 4s 11d (98 cents) weekly and his employer 4s 2d While the employed woman will pay 3s 10d and her employer 3s 3d.

Self-employed men must pay 6s 2d. And women 5s 1d. Non-employed men will pay 4s 8d. And women 3s 8d..

Some Restrictions

Employed and self-employed persons qualify for sickness benefit, but only employed persons can qualify for unemployment assistance. Payment will be 26s weekly, with 16s additional for a wife and 7s 6d for one child. All children after the first receive the 5s weekly family allowance.

A mother will receive a maternity grant of £4 on the birth of a child, plus an allowance of 36s weekly for 13 weeks if she normally goes out to work.

A widow will receive 36s weekly for 13 weeks after husband's death plus 7s 6d if she had a child of school age. After that time, she will receive a widowed mother's allowance of 33s 6d for herself and child. A widow without children unable to support herself will receive 26s.

A man may retire at 65 and a woman at 60 with a pension of 26s weekly. A woman whose settlement to pension depends on her husband's insurance will receive 16s.

West Evaluates Socialist Party

REGINA, June 24 — (CP). — Four years of socialism are being evaluated today in Saskatchewan's election.

And while observers say return of a CCF government is likely, there is no indication of the margin of victory.

The three main parties all claim victory is possible in the fight for the 52 seats. Two seats will be decided later. The CCF have 50 candidates, the Liberals 38 and the Social Credit 36.

The forecast was for cool weather, but no rain outside scattered showers was indicated.

Any gains beyond five members would serve as a gain for the Liberals who ,with five members the last four years, served as the sole opposition in the legislature.

The Progressive Conservative and Social Credit parties had no representation.

With only nine Tories running —the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives had combined on an anti-socialist ticket—there appeared little likelihood they would show.

Egg Prices Advance

MONTREAL, June 24.—(CP). —Eg prices will advance at least four cents a dozen on top grade by Monday and the prospects are that the prices will advance further next week, trade sources said here Wednesday.

Larvaie In River Sprayed From Air

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., June 24 (CP)—In an operation reminiscent of a wartime bombing raid, the North Saskatchewan River here has been sprayed from the aid in an effort to destroy the larvae of the cattle-killing black fly.

Spraying operations in the federal project were controlled from a radio car at the site by A. W. Brown of the Dominion defence research board. The car was in direct contact with the specially-equipped RCAF Dakota overhead.

The aircraft made 12 runs across the river near the Prince Albert Sanatorium. It was calculated that a concentrate of seven parts DDT to 100,000,000 parts of water was put into the river.

In a recent test near Saskatoon the concentration was one part in 10,000,000, which was found to have cleared the river of blackfly larvae for 100 miles downstream.

It is confidently expected the DDT will clear larvae from danger spots at Prince Albert dam and at the rapids near La Colle Falls, downstream.

Instigators of the spraying tests are, Dr. A. P. Arnason, chief entomologist of the federal entomological laboratory at Saskatoon and Prof. J. G. Rempel of the the University of Saskatchewan's biological department. both are considered leading experts in matters pertaining to the blackfly and its danger to livestock.

Law Against Tax Evaders Attacked By Opposition

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, June 24—(CP).—Powers sought by the Government to deal with income tax delinquents and evaders were attacked in the Commons Wednesday by Opposition speakers. The members, studying a 131-clause bill that will replace the present Income War Tax Act, concentrated most of their criticism on sections dealing with interest penalties on income tax arrears and with possible tax evasions.

At present, the penalty is four per cent. on arrears unpaid prior to receipt of an income tax assessment from the Revenue Department. The penalty increases to seven per cent. on arrears unpaid after assessment.

E. D. Fulton (PC—Kamloops) sought to have these rates maintained rather than implement proposed new rates of six and seven per cent. His amendment was ruled out of order on the grounds that it would upset Government revenues. In a division on the ruling, Deputy Speaker Ross Macdonald was upheld 85 to 63.

Finance Minister Abbott said experience has shown that the present penalty rate is too low. Until receipt of their assessment delinquents were paying only four per cent on money owed the government.

Postpone Adoption

Study of all sections was completed, but adoption was postponed until today at the request of the opposition.

With the measure temporarily side-tracked, Mr. Abbott tabled supplementary estimates of $197,-067,220 to cover expenditures unforeseen earlier in the session. Main amounts will go to the health and veterans departments to cover health grants to the provinces and pension increases to veterans.

Douglas Ross (PC-Toronto St. Paul's) urged that Canada and the United States place a two-year closed season on duck hunting. He said the duck population is dropping quickly.

In the tax debate Mr. Abbott said one section would enable the treasury board to take action against wealthy taxpayers who shought to evade taxes. There had been attempts to avoid payment of taxes, one case involving $2,000,000 in taxes. This case involved a Canadian establishing company in Nassau.

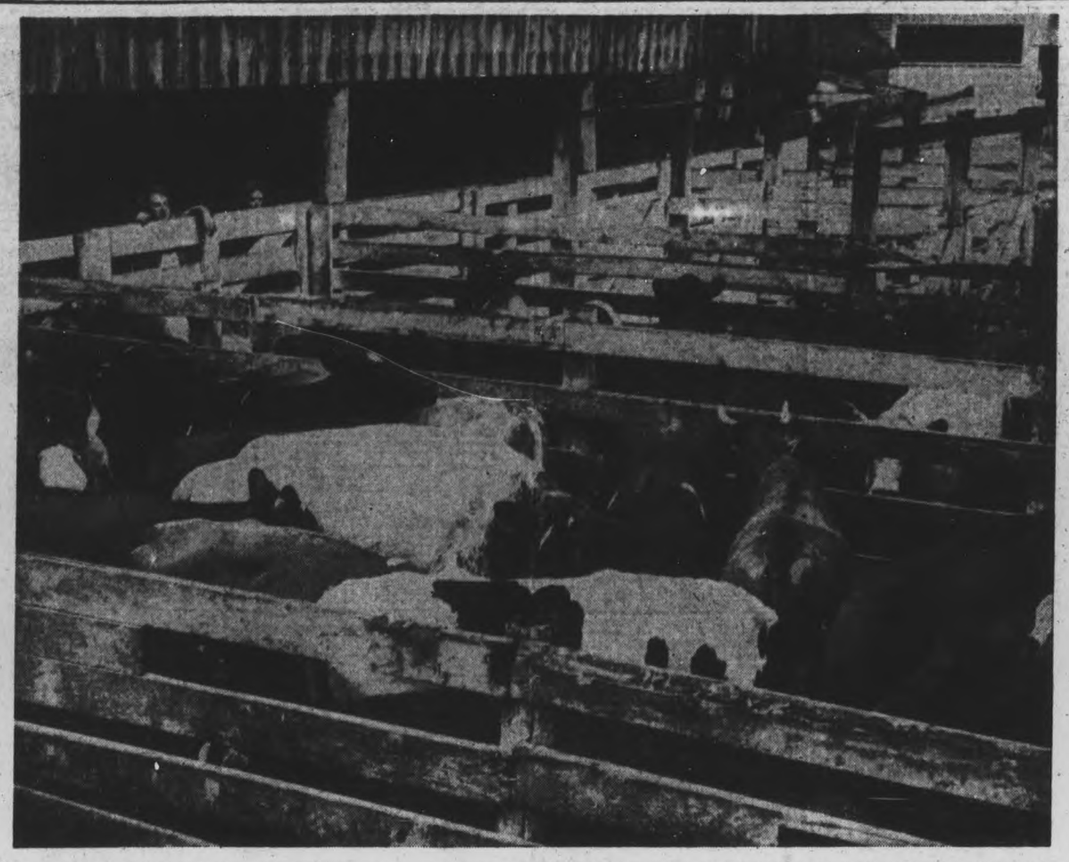
Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) pleaded for greater income tax exemptions.

Can't Raise Exemptions

Mr. Abbott said none would be more pleased than he to raise the exemptions. But he had given in his budget the reason they could not be lifted. At present, the exemptions were better than those provided in the United States and the United Kingdom.

Gordon Graydon (PC-Peel) and several other opposition members urged that income tax forms for farmers be simplified. Mr. Abbott said the revenue department now is working on a simplified form.

John A. Charlton (PC-Brant) said it was a "most extraordinary" think to ask the farmer to pay taxes at the year-end because he never knew at that time of year whether or not he would get a crop.



BEEF PRICES SKID DOWNWARD—Some 4,175 cattle milled about Toronto's Union Stockyards, yesterday, but buyers were few, indicating prices may be due for further slump. Cattle (above) were only a small portion of those remaining in stockyards at closing of day's trading.

He was a member of the Ontario Association of Architects. A native of Lambton, Ont., he was a nephew of the late Sir Willan Howland, first Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario.

Prices Group Works On Report

OTTAWA, June 24 — (CP). — The prices committee today will spend hours behind closed doors hammering out its report to parliament.

Their present schedule calls for completion of the report by tonight and its presentation to parliament Friday.

As a basis for discussion, the committee will use a lengthy draft report largely written by vice-chairman Ralph Maybank (L—Winnipeg South Centre). As chairman of a small drafting committee, Mr. Maybank took over a resume and analysis of the group's public hearings which have lasted since last Feb. 10.

Government members say they expect lively debate when the draft is placed before the full committe, with a strong fight by CCF members to have included at least some of their ideas.

The CCF members — W. R. Thatcher (CCF—Moose Jaw) and William Irvine (CCF—Cariboo)—would like to recommend subsidies on food, reimposition of the excess profits tax on a less severe scale than during the war and redrafting of the Combines Act "to give it teeth."

Mr. Maybank's draft is known to contain, among other things, a recommendation that prices should be kept under "continuing scrutiny."

Liberal Party's Convention To Name Leader Unique In Empire Politics

By R. K. CARNEGIE

OTTAWA, June 24—(CP).—Next August, a national convention of the Liberal party will elect a leadership successor to Prime Minister Mackenzie King. It is an election procedure unique in Commonwealth politics.

Nowhere else under the British political system is this typically American practice in use. And, even in Canada, it is comparatively new.

The first time it was used was in 1919, when Mr. King was chosen. Before that, the national leaders of all parties were selected by the parliamentary caucuses, comprising members in the Senate and House of Commons.

The caucus system continues in the United Kingdom and the other Dominions. In Britain, for instance, the Labor, Conservative and Liberal leaders are chosen by the parliamentary parties, made up of the party members in the Commons and House of Lords.

In the case of the Labor party, the annual meeting which in effect is a national convention can endorse or refuse to accept the choice of the parliamentary party; but it has always endorsed him in the past.

In the United States, Presidential candidates are chosen by national conventions, held every four years. President Truman will have to carry the Democratic convention this year if he wants to be the party's candidate.

In Canada however, Mr. King has never had to face another national convention. The party has been satisfied with his leadership and there has never been any call to go to the trouble and expense of bringing together another convention when its result was a foregone conclusion.

Conservative Conventions.

The Conservative partly followed the Liberal example when it chose the late Viscount Bennett as its leader in 1927, the late Hon. R. J. Manion in 1938, and John Bracken in 1942. In each case the new convention was called after the previous leader retired.

There is no precedent in either the Liberal or Progressive Conservative parties for a national convention to throw out one man and put in another. Certainly a parliamentary caucus would not have the power to dismiss a leader that had been chosen by a national convention.

The CCF has a system closer to the American procedure. M. J. Coldwell, the present leader, has to be re-endorsed at each biennial convention. He will be voted upon at the party convention to be held in Winnipeg the week after the Liberal convention in Ottawa.

An authority on Australian procedure told The Canadian Press there is little chance his country will follow the Canadian example.

"We are convinced that a meeting of the party members in the Senate and House of Representatives is likely to make a much wiser selection of a leader than a convention drawn from all over the country with many delegates having no knowledge of the capacity of the candidate they are voting for. Members of the parliamentary party know, because they have been working with him."

However, political observers here have expressed the view that if the Liberals had not shifted from caucus to national convention in 1919, the caucus would have chosen Mr. King by a greater majority than the convention gave him.

Selwyn Pupils Honor Departing Teacher

SELWYN, June 24 (ENS)—SS No. 9 Smith was the scene of a large gathering of friends last week, when the children invited their parents and the community to be present at a social evening in honor of their teacher, Miss Ruth Wilkinson, who is leaving at the end of the term.

The first part of the evening was spent in a ball game, and then all retired to the schoolroom where a short program was given by the pupils. At the close of the program which consisted of songs, reading, a playlet and community singing, the chairman, Roy Bell, asked Miss Wilkinson to come forward. Grace Tully read an address, while Pauline Fitzgerald presented her with a gold locket on behalf of the pupils.

Had Bad Stomach, Dizzy Spells And Backaches; Praises Syntona

Now Eats Food That Used To Cause Gas Pains, Distress and Shortness of Breath; Sleeps Better, and Feels Good All Day.

MR. ALFRED HUBBARD

If you suffer from stomach disorders, sluggish kidneys or liver, constipation or nervousness, you can benefit from the experience of other local men and women by using Syntona Herbal Compound. Many people say Syntona proved just what they needed to overcome a host of symptoms that kept them feeling miserable and sick from day to day. You, too, can obtain these same good results.

For example Mr. Alfred Hubbard, London, Ontario, said just recently: "Having suffered with stomach disorders for a number of years I was very rundown; could scarcely eat a meal without having awful gas pains, a heavy bloated feeling in my stomach and chest and shortness of breath. I got dizzy spells and backache and couldn't seem to get my proper sleep at night. I felt tired, and everything seemed a great effort to me.

"But all that has changed since I've been taking Syntona. My digestion is so improved I can eat all my meals without any gas or distress afterwards. Shortness of breath and the heavy, full sensation is gone away. I am free of backache, enjoying more sound, restful sleep at night and I have more energy. Even my work seems easier."

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store. Find out how it can help you, too.—(Advt.)

Prizes were given for spot and elimination dances. A refreshment booth was managed by Mrs. Jones, Mrs. H. Young and Miss Pashek.

The money raised will be used to purchase venetian blinds for the senior schoolroom.

Industrial Crisis

SYDNEY, Australia, June 24—(AP). — Australia is facing a grave industrial crisis to-day because of a breakdown in the coal supplies. Authorities closed all industry in Sydney to save electric power for homes. Five Northern New South Wales coal mines are idle. The miners are claiming more pay for machine-cut coal. Unless the dispute is settled swiftly, some officials fear a general strike next week. Gas and power rationing are expected in Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide, and other large cities.

They went out to the fair grounds for a program of mild sports. Threatening clouds opened the sluices at 4 o'clock, forcing retreat to Locust Lodge. Most of the picnic group remained in the Big Bob River village until 9 or 10 p.m. Its natural scenic attractions tended to delay the take off time.

Two Men Bailed For Trial On Robbery Count

David Bowen and Frank Brown, both of Campbellford, were bailed for trial today in police court today following the preliminary hearing of a joint charge of robbery with violence.

They are alleged to have stolen $57 from Hartley Simpson, Westwood, on the morning of June 17. Simpson told the court he was returning in his car to his home from Marmora. When he made a left turn off Highway 7 onto the boundary road between Asphodel and Otonabee townships, a car parked at the east side of the road suddenly turned on its lights and Simpson went into the ditch on the west side. He got a ride into Westwood with a passerby, and called on Robert Pacey, of Westwood, to ask for a pull out of the ditch. Pacey agreed to help and drove Simpson back to the scene.

As they were pulling the Simpson car out of the ditch, a light truck appeared, and three men got out. It is alleged that two of these men were Brown and Bowan.

Bowen is alleged to have represented himself as a constable to both Simpson and Pacey. Pacey left shortly after, and it is claimed that Bowen told Simpson he was under arrest and would be taken back to Peterborough.

A scuffle commenced when Simpson refused to go, and Bowen is said to have hit Simpson in the face twice and once in the stomach. The third man told them to "leave him alone, or you'll get into trouble."

Simpson said that he was then thrown towards his car by Bowen, who also tore the right front door from Simpson's car. Simpson found his wallet lying on the front seat, and an inner purse of it on the running board. The wallet was empty, he said, and before he had had more than $30 in it.

TORONTO, June 24.—(CP). — Lumber Dealer James L. McGinn of suburban North York Wednesday was fined $3,000 and costs or six months for selling nails at an "unreasonable and unjust" price. The Crown contended McGinn made a profit of 29 per cent on nails, a "side line" to his business, whereas the standard profit was 12.7.

Plan To Call For Tenders Late In Fall

Mayor William Ovens received today a telephone message from Gordon F. Fraser, M.P. in Ottawa that the Federal Government had placed $50,000 in the supplementary estimates for the proposed postal-custom building in Peterborough.

This amount applies to all preliminary work and costs, plans, specifications and so on. Mayor Ovens said he understood the department would call for tenders late in the fall and that the rest of the financing would be included in the 1949 regular estimates.

Started 35 Years Ago

Thirty-five years ago Peterborough's hopes of combining its post office and customs house in one building were roused by the late J. Hampden Burnham, then Member of Parliament. The government bought for that purpose the property at George, Sherbrooke and Water streets, but Germany set the world at war, and federal construction was indefinitely suspended.

Subsequently, during the parliamentary term of Senator J. J. Duffus, the Charlotte-King streets site was acquired. Canadian affairs more or less recent again interfered with various government projects. In the meanwhile Peterborough's need of more spacious accommodation for the two federal services has become acute.

Inclusion of preliminary cost of the Peterborough postal-federal building in the supplementary estimates signifies at least continuance of the project with the possibility that the work may be begun next year. If construction eventuates then, Mr. James Hamilton, former mayor, may see the long expected change taking shape on Charlotte St., as one of the developments timing with the centenary of Peterborough in 1950. Celebration of the 100th anniversary of the municipality is a proposal he has kept in his thoughts. Within the last few weeks Mr. Hamilton suggested that organization of committees for that event should be begun now.

Plan To Train Group Leaders

Courses for community leaders from all parts of Ontario are to be held at the Community Programs Institute at Camp Sunfish, Lake Simcoe from August 23 to September 6.

Dean of the Central Ontario Drama League, Prof. Alan Klein, School of Social Work, Toronto, Gordon Yeafsley, Ontario College of Art; Dr. Roby Kidd, Canadian Association for Adult Education, and Miss Kay Stevenson of the CBC.

The Institute is sponsored by the Ontario Department of Education, which will bear the cost of administration and instruction. Living expenses must be met by those attending. Children from 2 to 12 years may accompany parents and a separate children's program will be given especially for them. Interested persons can obtain full details from the Recreation Commission.

The nine-hole course was carved out of rock and bush since last summer, is the farest north course in Canada. It was opened for play Monday.

A news story said they were going to open it at midnight, "the night the sun doesn't set, but decided 'you can't play golf all night and work all day'."

A Lucky Find

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP). —William Tilley decided to spend his lunch hour Wednesday visiting the Stock Exchange, and he quickly picked up $1,205,000. But it was in cheques he found on a sidewalk. Tilley, a 47-year-old city clerical employee, delivered the cheques to a bank which had drawn them. One was for $1,200,000 and the other for $5,000. His visit to Wall Street netted a profit, however. He got a $25 reward.

3 High School Areas Set Up Within County

All but four municipalities have agreed to enter into the new division of the county into three High School Areas. They are Dummer, Douro, Ennismore and Galway-Cavendish it was learned at the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the County Council now in its June session.

Final readings were given today to bylaws abolishing the old high school areas, and establishing new districts. The Suburban Area-Peterborough district will serve the city of Peterborough, North Monagnan, and parts of Otonabee and Smith; Norwood district will accommodate pupils from Norwood, Havelock, Asphodel, Belmont-Methuen, and part of Otonabee; Lakefield district includes the village of Lakefield, Burleigh - Anstruther, Chandos, Harvey, and part of Smith.

Effective January 1

Reeves of the four townships not included in the scheme closely questioned Gordon L. Duffin, executive assistant in the secondary school branch, Department of Education, on conditions of affiliation but gave no indication that they might join.

Under the new arrangement the province will continue to pay 75 per cent of the cost of operating the schools, including debentures, with a maximum of $200 a pupil plus $100 transportation costs.

Paid For By District

Resident area pupils will be paid for by the particular district from which they come. But if there is room and the district is willing to accept them, non-resident pupils may also attend. They would be financed by charging the municipality from which they come 50 per cent of the cost, and the balance charged to the county on the basis of equalized assessment.

The plan entails the building of two new high schools, one in the Lakefield district and the other in the Norwood district. Unless PC vS becomes overcrowded or signifies that it is no longer willing to take outside pupils it will be the secondary school for the Suburban Area - Peterborough district.

Respective high school boards will be empowered to organize a thorough system of rural transportation to bring students in by car or bus from outlying areas.

R. M. Glover appeared before council to distribute Red Cross Disaster and Relief booklets and to ask the members to organize their municipalities so that if an accident or disaster should occur the Peterborough branch could quickly dispatch aid.

Reeve Norman Wilson, Burleigh-Anstruther moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Glover and paid tribute to the work done by the Red Cross in established a hospital unit at Apsley. He described it as one of the best equipped units in Ontario.

Fine Lindsay Man

E. Villeneuve of Lindsay was fined $50 and $5 costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving. Three passengers were in the car, all of whom were injured. The charge arose from an accident on May 23 when a car driven by Villeneuve skidded 50 feet along a gravel road near Lindsay, travelled 78 feet on its side before stopping upside down. A boulder four feet through was moved four feet out of position when the car struck it.

In order to give our hard-working staff a well-earned holiday, our plant will be closed from June 26 to July 4.

Increase In Fee Requested By Eastwood Company Building Civic Hospital

Eastwood Construction Co., contractors for the erection of the new Civic Hospital, have applied to the architects, W. and W. R. L. Blackwell and Craig, for an increase in fee of $6,647.04. This information recently came to the City Council from the Board of Governors. A letter of the construction company sets out that request for a fee increase was made Jan. 19 "due to the increased size of the building. This matter was never dealt with. Apparently, however, the plans are now settled and not subject to further major changes. . .

"According to the architects' schedule, Dec. 3, '47, the fine cube is 1,180,000 cu. ft. This is noted as an increase of 221,234 cu. ft. Therefore, the original cube on sketch plans must have been 958,-716 cu. ft."

"The increase of 221,284 cu. ft. is an increase of 23.08 per cent. We apply herein for an increase of our fee of 60 per cent. of 23.08 per cent of $48,000, or a net increase of $6,647.04."

"The 60 per cent. is arrived at from a clause inserted in our tender at the request of the building committee prior to the signing of the contract."

Further Correspondence

Another letter from Eastwood Company, apparently of the date May 10 last, mentions to the architects that the contract "is being very strictly interpreted for the interests of the owners, and ours are not as carefully considered."

An Eastwood Company letter, apparently dated May 10, to the architects, was in part: "We applied for increase in our fee Sept 9 due to delay in our construction occasioned by delays in the plans. On Oct. 1 you advised us that the building committee asked that this claim be held in abeyance. until further progress was made in construction work. . . . I personally have started construction on at least two hospitals at the same time the working plans were started, and these hospitals were never seriously held up for plans. . . . We are not applying for this increased fee as any concession to us, but rather as routine matter under the terms of the contract which specifically cover this point. . . . We feel we are not fair to ourselves in so doing, but to finally settle the matter we are willing to do so on the basis of four months' delay or one-sixth of the contemplated time under the contract. Our fee on this basis would be increased $8,000."

Admits Delay

A letter signed by Walter R. L. Blackwell and dated May 18, says, in part: "While we admit that the completed plans were delayed for various reasons, we do not agree that the delay in construction was due to any great extent to lack of structural drawings. Undoubtedly, slow deliveries on steel, winter weather, and damage to foundations by frost have had considerable to do with the delays. The more rapid progress being made on the job now is, in our opinion, largely due to the better weather and the change in superintendents, with consequent better organization of the work, and we believe the contractor will bear us out in this assertion. We believe an allowance should be made the contractor for some delay, but that the above contributing factors should be considered in determining the amount of the increase.

As regards to increased volume of the building, while it is true that the cubic contents have been increased somewhat, apparently no provision was made in the contract for paying a higher fee on this account, but only for specific additions to the building program, such as an additional wing, a power house or nurses' residence. The building conforms to the general plan shown on the preliminary drawings, and to the outline description of the work on which the contractor submitted his proposal, and which was made part of the contract. Although we can find no provision in the contract for this increase in fee, we submit this request for your consideration."

City council recently appointed Alderman Raine, Young and Dodds to confer with the Board of Governors of Civic Hospital, the contractor and architect, to discuss with them the question of increase requested by Eastwood Construction Co., and to submit a report to the finance committee.

Tax Payments Already Made Total $693,824

Almost half of Peterborough 1948 municipal taxes have been paid in the first of this year's three instalments recently due, Mr. A. S. Couper, city treasurer, informed the Examiner today.

With one-third of the taxes due, the public has paid 49.41% of the total due up to June 18 as compared with 41% at the same date last year. The increase in payment amouts to $226,226.51.

"The total amount of taxes collectable last year, as shown in the tax roll, was $1,139,784.87." Mr. Couper said. "Payments at June 18 last year totalled $447,-597.63 or 41% of the total.

Corresponding figures for this year are $1,404,335.50 taxes to be collected; and the amount paid at June 18 was $693.824.14 or 49.41% of the total. That statement speaks for itself especially in the response of the ratepayers. Some property owners pay all their taxes when the first instalment is due."

Congestion Reduced

Mr. Couper said the new plan of staggered payments had been entirely successful, especially in its result of reducing congestion in the tax colection office.

"I think we might mention again the practice of some of our taxpayers in sending us postdated checks for their three instalments. It can still be applied to second and third. We cash the cheques when they become due, and finally we return the receipted tax bills to the property owners.

Second instalments are due as follows: South and centre wards July 29, west and north wards Aug. 3; east and Claraday wards Aug. 12.

The third instalments are payable on the following dates: south and centre wards Sept. 30; west and north Oct. 7; east and Claraday Oct. 14.

Citizens can avoid delays at the receiving wickets in the city hall by paying their bills before the due dates, and those who wish to adopt the convenience of the postdated checks may send them in at any time now. As Mr. Couper said, these cheques will not be cashed until the dates on which the taxes are due.

Drope-Coyle Reunion Attracts 100 At Harwood

HARWOOD, June 24 —(ENS) —About 100 guests coming mainly from Southern Ontario, but also as far away as California, Pittsburgh, Calgary, Halifax and Montreal, were guests here on Saturday at the home of Major and Mrs. R. E. Drope. It was the Drope-Coyle re-union and members of the clan from scattered centres throughout the United States and Canada assembled to pay tribute to their pioneer ancestors Thomas Drope who bought land south of Rice Lake after coming from Otonabee, Ireland, in 1825.

Thomas Drope bought four hundred acres of land first in Alnwick Township, then an additional three hundred acres on the south shore of Rice Lake. This last section of land he purchased the centre became more heavily settled he named it Harwood.

A special sermon "Christ, the Pioneer," was delivered by the Rev. A. E. Larke at a special service. He then gave a short synopsis of the pioneer ancestors which they had gathered to honor.

Miss Lettice Drope was organist. The first lesson, psalm 92 read by R. Earle Fisher CBC International Service, Montreal. The second lesson, 1st Corinthians 13, read by Major R. E. Drope, M.P., James and Harold Drope ushered at the church.

The choir sang as an anthem "By Cool Siloanis Shady Rill." Rev. A. E. Larke preached from the text "Christ, the Pioneer", and gave a short synopsis of the pioneer ancestors as follows:

Came From Ireland

Thomas Drope came to Canada from Otonabee, Ireland, in 1825. He was a land surveyor and interested in colonization, in Ireland was called "Durma Mayle" with him came his five sons and five daughters. First he purchased four hundred acres of land in Alnwick Township for which he paid the Canadian government $3.00 an acre. Then he purchased three hundred acres, the timber limit on the south shores of Rice Lake from Madam Harwood. When the place sprang to life with the railway, Thomas Drope named the place Harwood.

In Alnwick Township he gave the land for the Anglican church, and gave the land for the Roseneath School.

In Harwood, the property which had by this time passed to his eldest son, Robert Drope.

Robert Drope gave the land for the Harwood school. His younger brother, William Drope, whose descendants are worshipping here to-day, gave the land for this church (English). He also gave the land across the road for the Methodist church. He collected furniture for the church, and before the church was completed he died.

Mr. Larke went on to say how much we owe to our pioneer anfrom Madam Harwood, and when cestors who went before, bore the hardships of early pioneer life, and paved the way for future generations.

He spoke of the Lord Jesus "The Great Pioneer," who 1900 years ago went before "to prepare a place" for His followers in Heaven." The offering of $58. was for St. John's church Maintenance Fund. Following the service, Miss Lottie E. Drope and Mrs. Donna Knight were in charge of registration of the one hundred guests.

And then an outdoor dinner on the lawn took place, during which Major R. E. Drope read telegrams from relatives unable to be present, and the elders spoke on behalf of their respective families, with reminiscences of early life at their grandparents.

The dinner program included "Toast to the King" by Major R. E. Drope. Wm. Coyle gave a short history of the early pioneers and proposed a "Toast to the early pioneers". Mrs. Donna Knight replied humourously of her early recollections after grandparents. "The Toast To The Visitors" was proposed by John Drope, Mrs. Candace Drope House replied, "Toast to the Brides and Grooms" was proposed by Mrs. T. Coyle. George Barton Fisher replied also Bill Thomas. "Toast to the future generation" proposed by Mrs. Edward Burns and reply by Mrs. Beatrice Hagle of Edmonton. A gift and flowers were sent to Mrs. Tarleton Cuffe, Toronto, the only living relative of her generation.

During the evening a concert (indoor) took place in which each family made a contribution to the program in song, speech or recitation.

End Campaigning In Saskatchewan

REGINA, June 24 — (CP) — Speeches all over, campaigning all wound up, party leaders in Saskatchewan are sitting back today with nothing to do but wait for tomorrow's returns.

Several thousand ballots already have been cast. Recent legislation enabled many more people to vote in the advance poll and returning officers report a record vote.

Tuesday night—the final opportunity for political campaigning—CCF leader M. J. Coldwell and Premier T. C. Douglas spoke at Regina. For the Liberals Agricultural Minister James Gardiner spoke at Southey and provincial leader Walter Tucker spoke at Saskatoon.

Mr. Coldwell told a boisterous audience in the provincial capital that "Saskatchewan's CCF government has provided the province with its best government and the best in Canada." He spoke in support of Labor Minister C. C. Williams and provincial treasurer C. M. Fines.

Mr. Gardiner, speaking in support of his son, Wilfred Gardiner, Liberal candidate for Last Mountain constituency, said that if the privy council were to reject the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada and permit the Saskatchewan Farm Security Act to remain on the statute books as originally drafted, farmers would likely have to pay six-per-cent interest on borrowings from the farm loan board.

Davies Urges Lt.-Governors Be Given Raise

OTTAWA, Jnue 24 — (CP).— The Manitoba Power Bill, over the hurdle of stiff opposition in its first committee stage, is scheduled for third reading in the Senate to-day.

When passed by the Upper Chamber, it will be hustled to the Comons—and the possibility of more rough ground.

Th Senate's Natural Resources Committee approved it Wednesday with amendment ofter rejecting by a vote of 9 to 8 an amendment to postpone discussion until to-day.

The bid for delay was made by Senator John T. Haig of Winnipeg, the Senate's Profressive Conservative Leader. He spearheaded an attack against allowing the Manitoba Government a free hand in its establishment of a provincial hydro-electric organization.

He urged Premier Garson, arguing Manitoba's case, to give assurance that existing facilities would be taken over by agreement or, failing that, by arbitration.

No Confiscation

Mr. Garron said his government has no "confiscation" intentions.

But, despite frequent prodding by Senator Salter Hayden (L-Ontario) ,he said he could make no commitment as to what body would determine the amount of compensation or how much it would be.

A boost for the Prime Minister came from Senator Felix Quinn (PC-Nova Scotia) who contended that Canada treats her chief political figure "in the most niggardly way." He considered a $156,-000 salary—the Prime Minister's total income is $23,000— "mean and paltry." ' He should be at least $50,000.

Senator W. Rupert Davies (L-Ontario) said salaries of Lieutenant-governors hadn't been raised in 40 years. He thought those in Ontario and Quebec should get $156,00 and those in the other provinces $12,000.

Senator Davies said he had regretted the action of the Liberal Government in 1934 in abandoning Government House in Toronto and Ontario House in London, England. He didn't see why the Governor had to purchase his own home in Toronto. He favored official residences as social centres and as symbols of the British tradition.

Want Teachers With Experience In Farm Life

GUELPH, June 24 — (CP). — Wanted: Teachers with a "farm background" for Ontario's rural school system.

The call was issued here on Wednesday by Dr. J. G. Althouse Chief Director of Education for the Province, who told the 28th annual convention of the Agricultural Institute of Canada that school marms from the back concessions make the best teachers for farm children.

Principal speaker at the institute's banquet, Dr. Althouse also made a plea for better salaries, better pensions and greater professional recognition for the teaching profession. Ontario's teaching staffs were not attracting a "fair proportion" of the ablest graduates of schools and colleges.

Ontario is short of school teachers, the director added, but it probably was more fortunate in this respect than other provinces and other countries. Of some 24,000 teachers in the province, only about 1,000 lacked complete "qualified" status.

Earlier, Dr. John Mitchell of the University of Saskatchewan told of the use of atomic energy in agriculture, saying that research began more than a year ago with the use of radioactive phosphorus shipped from the atomic energy plant at Chalk River.

W. R. Phillips of the Central Experimental Farm in Ottawa gave results of a taste test conducted on apples from the principal growing areas of Canada. Six Civil Servants from the Department of Agriculture formed the panel which decided that the McIntosh apples from Northumberland-Durham Counties of Ontario were tastiest.

OTTAWA, June 24—(CP)—As an aftermath of a case at Niagara Falls, Ont., Finance Minister Abbott gave notice to the Commons today that he intends to tighten up one small hole in the Foreign Exchange Control Act.

A magistrate at Niagara Falls recenty threw out a case against a man alleged to have taken funds out of Canada and bought cameras in the United States which he then brought back to Canada and sold. The magistrate found nothing in the Act to cover use of funds that way outside the country.

The Minister will ask that such a provision be written in.

Two other men, Louis Ireland and David Crocket, have also been arrested in connection with the robbery.

Careful Planning Required To Take Baby On Holiday

By MARY KIBBLEWHITE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX, June 23—(CP)—Is your trip home out of the question this summer because of a very junior edition in the family?

A long train trip with a baby can be a miserable affair. But it needn't be.

The Red Cross has seen many little new Canadians across the continent since the war. True, the individual mother can't count on all the facilities used by the Red Cross when handling groups of babies, but she can take a lesson from them in organization and management.

First comes the matter of a parking spot for the youngster. The Red Cross used baskets which Mrs. W. G. Evans, Nova Scotia divisional chairman, calls "carry cots," flat-woven baskets with double handles for carrying. Any basket long enough to hold the baby, fitted with bankets and pillow, makes a safe and comfortable resting-place. It sits on the seat by day without danger of tumbling, and fits at the foot of a lower berth at night.

To make the baby feel completely at home away from home, buy the basket at least a week before hand and let him sleep in it. A rattle or his favorite bright gew-gaw dangling from the side of the basket will keep him happy while awake.

Even the most modern train has no laundry around the corner for boiling diapers. The one answer is— take enough for the trip. Disposable diapers are a problem - solver; next best is a large supply of disposable liners which can be bought inexpensively. Buy or make a large oilcloth or rubber-lined bag for solid outer diapers.

First Call For Lunch

A smaller waterproof bag can be used for baby's feeding utensils. His lunch time can be made to run smoothly. Ask your doctor well in advance for a formula that calls for dried milk, make sure it agrees with baby and stock up with necessary ingredients.

The formula still has to be mixed—usually with boiling water—so equip yourself accordingly: bottles and nipples, bottle brush, pint-size thermos, teaspoon, small enamel jug and funnel.

Well, ahead of baby's feeding time give the thermos to the dining - car steward to be filled with boiling water. Mix the formula and boiling water in the enamel jug with the teaspoon. Pour into the bottle via the funnel. Cool to baby's temperature and you are all ready.

Forethought is the important ingredient in any formula for travelling with a baby. Know what you will need and take it, allowing separate places for clean and soiled clothing, feeding things all together ad plenty of diapers—even if you have to manufacture a supply of makeshifts for the trip. Check with your doctor for extras you may need in case of an upset stomach.

With the plans laid well in advance you will be able to relax and enjoy your trip. Baby will be dry, safely fed and cheerful. And your fellow passengers will bow down before you and call you blessed.

There are definitely dressy hose, of course, but they are not limited to wear with evening costumes.

Six Eggs for Eight People Why Not Scramble Them

BY MARY MOORE

This begins with a story:

Loretta was a young girl trying ever so hard to win a scholarship. Her ambitious, uneducated but doubtful mother tried to establish an alibi in the event her darling did not win. "After all" said she, "I realize that Loretta is no genu. wine."

We wore this joke ragged yesterday on our hike, for we somehow managed to pick up two of our neighbor's children, as we trudged through the woods. Somebody had to be a genius if we were to stretch the food on hand to feed them too.

We proceeded with our fire but since they stood so pensively and hungrily by we planned fast, and invited them to stay.

But how could you cut a fried egg in half—or a lemon cupcake? Or even stretch a quart of milk to feed six children in all? How to devise two extra forks and plates?

And Kathryn hit on it.

She scrambled the eggs with the top milk from the quart. She had her Boy Scout son whittle two piars "chop sticks". I ate out of the fryin-pan (my food was nice and hot too); My Peter ate off of the lid from the salad bowl and we all had plenty of fried potatoes to fill the empty spaces.

It was a grand day and my beloved diminutive Kathryn's little egg was bolstered immensely by our compliments on her ingeniousness.

But to go back to Saturday night.

We arrived at Kathryn's in force, in time for a lovely dinner, and it was dessert that stole the show meringues glace.

If you are plagued with a surplus of egg whites, this idea will suit you perfectly, for meringues make an elegant basis for a number of summer desserts.

Meringue Glace

Beat 4 egg whites until stiff, but not dry; then gradually add 2-3 cup sugar while beating. Add ½ teaspoon vanilla, then fold in 1-3 cup sugar. Shape with a spoon or pastry bag and tube into 2-inch round, 1-inch thick or into nests, having high sides. Bake on board or cookie sheet covered with wet brown or parchment paper. Bake in very slow oven of 250 deg. Fahr. for 50 minutes. Cool and remove from paper with spatula.

Various ways of serving Meringues:

(1) Scoop centres from bottom of meringues and put two together with scoop of ice cream between.

(2) If you have made the nest-shaped meringues, fill nest with ice cream and ladle over it a spoonful of crushed fresh strawberries.

(3) Or put meringues together, as in No. 1, with thick cream filling.

(4) The most exotic combination I know is to make meringue nests, fill them with chocolate ice cream and pour over a spoonful of Marshmallow Mint Sauce: Boil together ½ cup sugar with ¼ cup water 5 minutes. Add 8 marshmallows, cut in small pieces with wet scissors. Fold in 1 stiffly beaten egg white. Add ½ teaspoon mint flavouring, or 4 drops of mint essence and just enough green food colouring to tint it delicately.

Do try these meringue suggestions for they are a very inexpensive way of creating a sensational dessert.

ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: Oftentimes I have cut out the recipes you suggested, and on trying them have found them delicious. Lately, however, I have had very little time to look at the paper, for when I am away at work all day, my housework and cooking has to be done in the evenings, and I've planted a small garden as well. As a result of this I have missed a recipe, that you had put in your column.

The recipe for maraschino cherries which I would like to have must have been in, just a short time ago, because one of your readers mentions it. I like to make my desserts and cookies a bit on the fancy side, and maraschino cherries are so nice for that purpose. . . . Please send me this recipe.—Mary S.

ANSWER:

Maraschino Cherries (Please clip this now if you are interested).

Using enough Royal Anne cherrise to make 2½ gallons when they are stemmed and stoned — place them in a paraffin-lined barrel or porcelain crock or glass container — but do not remove the stems or stones, but do wash them and drain them.

Cover the cherries with a solution made as follows: 1 quart water, 1 quart bisulphite (liquid), ⅛ oz. citric acid (powder), 1½ oz. salt. Dissolve the above ingredients by stirring, before pouring it over the prepared cherries. Let stand until cherries are bleached which may take two weeks or longer. Then pour off and discard the solution. Stem and pit fruit. Boil the fruit in 5 or 6 changes of water until entirely free of sulphur taste, and tender. Prepare a 40% solution of sugar (2 cups water to each 5 cups sugar), and for each 2½ gallons cherries dissolve 1/24 ounce certified red colour Ponceaux 3R. Also add ⅛ teaspoon citric acid. Now cover cherries with this sugar-and-coloured solution and cook for 10 minutes. After 24 hours, cook cherries again after adding 2½ lbs. sugar. Repeat this again on the third day. Then allow to remain in crock for two weeks. Now add 1/16 oz. bitter almond oil dissolved in 1 teaspoon alcohol, for flavor. (Before allowing cherries to stand for 2 weeks, when they are still boiling on the third day you may fill them into sterile jars and seal and let stand 2 weeks before using, in the jars instead.)

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: I want this: A recipe for a genuine sponge cake type jelly roll and a lemon filling you can recommend because you use it yourself. I think this makes an ideal dessert, but mine either breaks or the lemon filling oozes out and spoils the appearance. I always watch for your column so I will see it whenever you print it.—Agnes W.

ANSWER: It is one of my favorite cakes too.

Lemon Jelly Roll—1 teaspoon baking powder; ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon lemon extract, 4 eggs, unbeaten; ¾ cup sifted granulated sugar; ¾ cup sifted cake flour, 1 recipe lemon filling (see below). Put unbeaten eggs in bowl, add baking powder and salt, stand over bottom of double boiler with simmering water and beat with a rotary beater until thick and lemon-colored, while gradually adding sugar by tablespoonfuls. Remove bowl from heat. Fold in flour. Turn into greased pan 12" x 8" x 1", lined with greased parchment paper or heavy wax paper. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for 13 minutes. Turn out onto cloth covered with powdered sugar: immediately remove paper and quickly cut off all crisp edges with long sharp knife. Spread with Lemon Filling:

Combine 1 egg yolk with ½ cup sugar, 2 tablespoon cornstarch, mix well, then add ½ cup hot water, ¼ cup lemon juice, and grated rind 1 lemon. Cook over boiling water, stirring until it thickens, then for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add ½ tablespoon butter, cool thoroughly. Spread on jelly roll (above). This is a delicious filling for layer cakes, or a split square mock sponge cake or for little sponge cupcakes in fluted paper cups.

SUMMER SUIT WITH BOLERO—Possibly a forerunner of the Directoire mode which stylists see on the horizon, the bolero with a great lack of Spanish significance is getting around. Above you see it in a smooth, cool Palm Beach cloth suit, with beautifully turned shawl collar and sleeves which wed chic and coolness. The skirt is a fashionably full affair, fitted about the hips, and one can substitute any sort of blouse for the knit, pull-over shirt. With the big Panama hat, the outfit is cool as possible for mid-summer dogdays.

Chill. Beat with rotary beater when softly congealed, and serve into bouillon cups, chill again before serving, with a dot of salted whipped cream or slice of avocado.

The Dessert Fruit Salad is made on bed of lettuce with 1 lengthwise sliced half of banana, cut in half again, 1 half peach filled with a cherry, stoned prunes filled with nuts, and a border of whole strawberries around all. No dressing for slimmers — but a little lemon juice on the bananas.

Mrs. C. English, 306 Rogers St., was hostess for a delightful afternoon tea Wednesday given by the executive of King George Home and School Association for the teaching staff and friends. Mrs. E. Ingall, vice president, received with the hostess, in the absence of Mrs. B. Bell.

Beautiful summer flowers decorated the house and tea room. A hand-crocheted ecru lace cloth covered the table with pansies in a low crystal bowl on a centre reflector, highlighted by green tapers on either side. Mrs. E. Drury poured the tea and Mrs. K. Ferguson, Mrs. C. Ferguson, Mrs. M. Cox and Mrs. J. Salonius served dainty refreshments.

Gifts were presented to Miss Phyllis Moore, Miss Constance McKelvie and Mr. J. Telford who have resigned from the staff. Mrs. Ingall referred to their excellent service at the school and Mrs. C. Ferguson made the presentations.

Fall Hats Simple But Colors Lively

NEW YORK, June 24—(CP)—It may be June to the average citizen but it's fall to the fashion designers.

First of the fall fashion previews was held Wednesday by 15 leading New York milliners. Each of the "name" designers displayed one or two hats. Far from being exclusive, each hat was offered to manufacturers for copying. Each was in the popular-price bracket—from $2 to $15.

Basically, simple coutours and lively color combinations were the highlight. Crowns were head-hugging and brims moderate.

One designer came out with a Robin Hood hat in moss-green beaver with a double brim and a traditional feather, another of the designs was a small, black felt in matador silhouette, with a tall, curled quill in front.

A peacock blue felt roller with a cocoa-brown double brim and a blue bird trim drew sighs of admiration.

Popular contribution to the show was two tarpunto-stitched wool fezzes, one in gold with a red quill, the other in red with a black veling, "pigtail" draped under the chin and across one shoulder.

Berets were much in evidence. One was a cleverly-manipulated cocoa felt, with a corn running across the top and tied under the chin. It sported pompoms and a quill.

Lillico-Phillips

St. Paul's Anglican Church, Bloor St., Toronto, was the setting of a lovely wedding on Friday evening, June 18, when Alixe Buntin, daughter of Mrs. William Francis Phillpis of Toronto, became the bride of Thomas Archibald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Thomas Lillico of Peterborough. Canon Wilkinson officiated at the candle-light ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Anthony Phillips, the bride was attended by Mrs. James B. Lillico, matron-of-honor and Miss Joan Vanstone and Miss Janet Ince, bridesmaids. Mrs. James Lillico was groomsman and the ushers were David Rogers, Gordon Jarvis, Paul Luxford and William McNair.

After the reception, the bride and groom left on a wedding trip to Nantucket Island, Massachusetts. On their return they will live in Peterborough.

Soroptimist Garden Party At Mrs. Gordon Miller's Home Introduces Golden Mile Club

The weatherman kept Soroptimists in a state of apprehension all day Wednesday. However, they think he is not such a bad old fellow for all but a few spatters of rain were held back till their garden party was just over. Setting for the event was the lovely lawn at the home of Mrs. Gordon Miller, 161 Douro St. and tea was served in the sun porch. Bits of sunshine filtered through to enhance the very artistic rose garden and flower beds which afforded such delight to the guests.

Everyone stopped to chat and make purchases at the attractive booth operated by Golden Mile Club members. For their introduction to the public the ladies exhibited the patchwork quilt they have made since formation of their club in the early spring and sold raffle tickets on it. Mrs. N. D. Seaton, president of the Peterborough Women's Art Association, is now the proud owner of their first work. The pattern was designed by Mrs. E. McKee who did much of the sewing also, and in recognition of her work a handsome nosegay of beautiful summer flowers, created by Mrs. Wicklund of St. Catharines, a special guest, was presented to her. Mrs. R. Tyers, club president, was on hand with other members to meet new friends and assist with the sale of hand-made aprons and other articles, as well as dainty baskets of candy, decorated in the Soroptimist club colors.

Of particular fascination was the "touch and take" table operated by Miss Helen Gerrard, and there, a great deal of fund and laughter was heard as guests unwrapped the pretty parcels to discover the widely varied line of articles.

Miss Abbie Robinson and Miss A. L. Thomson were busy saleswomen for the display of home-cooking and candy and realized a fine sum for the treasury.

While sitting around the low garden pool or strolling along flag-stone walks and about the grounds there was a soft musical background to add to the enjoyment. Mrs. Dorothy Sullivan was playing records of favorite waltzes and classics.

Mrs. Alma Belleghem, in charge of the tea room, had a charming arrangement of yellow pansies with tall blue lupins in a low bowl for the table centrepiece, symbolic of the Soroptimist club colors, blue and yellow, and had used a handsome lace cloth. Sandwich trays were garnished with summer blossoms making selection even more intriguing.

Ladies pouring tea were represenative of the service clubs of th city, Mrs. C. S. Cummer, Mrs. Jas. King, Mrs. Jas. Broadhurst and Mrs. E. G. Pridham, and friends who assisted were Miss Ada Miller, Mrs. Lillian Schneider and Miss M. Collins. Club members served during the afternoon and evening, with Miss Ethel Miller in charge.

Miss Mary Carey acted as treasurer, later assisted by Miss Margaret Wolstenholme.

Financial returns from the event are most gratifying and will be used for service work and club maintenance. The Golden Mile Club will add the proceeds from their booth and raffle to their own treasury, and the sum has already exceeded $55.00 with more to come from orders taken for handwork.

Youth Group Aids Arena With June Moon Frolic

Peterborough's new Youth Group made its first bow to society with the "June Moon Frolic" Wednesday evening at Club Aragon. Supervised by the Canadian Order of Foresters, the group has an educational, inspirational and recreational agenda planned. Their summer softball schedule is carried on outdoors, but come fall, they must have a cover for their activities, so they are giving full support to the Civic Arena campaign and all proceeds of the dance will be donated to the fund.

Charming usherettes, wearing red satin capes over pretty summer evening dresses, were a big hit. They were Misses Shirley Gordon, Donna Rowat, Ann Roy, Betty Allen, Freda and Wilma Floyd, Irene Dalliday, Betty Woodcock, and Millie Dewar. Executive supervisor of the girls' group, Miss Janet Kearns, was unable to be present, and her position as hostess was filled by Miss Isla Grainger, secretary. Tickets were taken by the boys' supervisor, Mr. Art Reynolds.

A lovely door prize and gifts for spot dance winners were donated by business organizations of the city, as was the advertising, handled by Mr. Harold Hamilton. Miss Pearl Carter was the draw winner and lucky dances were won by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Martell, Miss Keitha Weese and Mr. Wally Steenburg.

Patrons and patronesses for the occasion were Mayor W. G. Ovens and Mrs. Ovens, Hon. Harold Scott and Mrs. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ouimet, Mr. and Mrs. P. Killingbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wilson.

Dr. Agnes Moffatt Heads Committee

Dr. Anna Nicholson, Saskatoon, was elected president of the Federation of Medical Women of Canada, succeeding Dr. Agnes Moffatt, Peterborough, at the annual dinner meeting of the Federation in Toronto this week. Representatives of every province of the Dominion brought greeting, with the exception of Prince Edward Island, where there are no women physicians as yet.

"Let us see to it that our federation is prepared to encourage the best of medical training, Dr. Moffat urged the medical women of Canada, 'as well as the best of medical practice, the finest in research, and the sincerest public service."

She recommended that scientific meetings and those dealing with social and industrial medicine be attended and supported jointly with the men. Dr. Moffat commended the Canadian Medical Asociation for thei rco-operaton with the federation.

Members were reminded of the federation's excellent scholarship committee and fine committee of opportunities for medical women. At the executive sessions it was decided to continue the scholarship committee until 1950. The committee was formed to help women medical students whose parents were bombed and it was felt that by 1950 all such young women would have completed their course.

A new committee was formed for the compilation of a directory of the 50 medical women in Canada which will be swelled by another 50 graduating this year. Dr. Agnes Moffat, who heads the committee has been largely responsible for compiling the directory, the first in 24 years of the federation's history.

DOROTHY DIX

Tyrants Ruin Homes Make Marriage Civil War

Dorothy Dix

The real reason that so many marriages that should be successes go on the skids is bossiness. Both the husband and wife are determined to be the one who rules the roost, and by the time they have fought over that for years and years they have killed love, made their home a shambles, and are living in a state of armed neutrality that is likely to flare up into warfare at the drop of a word.

I often wonder if the greatest surprise that a bridal couple ever gets is when each discovers that the party of the other part is going to contest his or her right to the throne and to be he or she-who-must-be-obeyed. It isn't what courtship led them to expect. John was such a chivalrous lover that Angelina thought she could manage him with one hand tied behind her, and it never occurred to John that a sweet little soft thing like Angelina would have ideas of her own that she would fight for a finish.

But the thing that couldn't happen in marriage generally does happen, and before they know it the forty years' Civil War is on. John is a fine, upright man, kind and generous, and he is really devoted to his pretty little wife, but he is sold to the belief that he has the divine right to be the head of the house and that his wife should kowtow before him and ask him what he thinks she thinks.

Doles Out Money

So he doles out the housekeeping money to Friend Wife and makes her account for every penny. He picks out her clothes. He decides on her religion and her politics and makes of her nothing but a veritable rubber stamp of himself.

Unless Friend Wife is as dictatorial as he is and as determined to run the domestic show. In which case they slug it out in a never-ending fight over every trifle. All of us know men who are powerful figures in the outer world, but at home that they never dare to voice their own opinions.

The tyranny complex that so many parents have goes a long way towards explaining the juvenile delinquency problem. And that, when you come down to brass tacks, is about the meanest and most contemptible phase of human conduct, for it is so easy to beat up a baby, or show one's authority by denying a youngster some little treat.

Half the things that children do that they get punished for their parents don't really object to at all. It just tickles their vanity to be able to lord it over someone who have been so henpecked ther won't let her teen age daughter pick out her clothes because she doesn't want her to grow up. She won't let her have a boy friend because she is jealous of her having good times. She makes her go to bed at 9 o'clock because she doesn't want to be disturbed herself.

Father boasts that he is the oracle who never lets a child "talk back" to him by way of explanation. He never gives his children any freedom, or any money, or lets them do any of the things that the other kids are doing. Then he wonders why his children leave home.

It is tyranny that brings on wars, wrecks marriages and break up families. What a price to pay for the pleasure of bossing others!

The Stars Say . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, June 19

It is probable that some curious, strange, idealistic or imaginative stroke or revelation might have power to set in motion a depressing or devastating obstacle, but capping the climax by a sensational coup, in which intuition, hunch or an "unaccountable" lead, could prove constructive and heartening. Such might be a new technique, born of shrewd or subtle undercurrent, or the intriguing intervention of a far-seeing friend. It would be well to heed the "still small voice" in emergency.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is should not be surprised if some strange intervention, born of inner urges or curious ideals rather than realistic ideas, should prove of most benevolent climax in a disturbed and critical moment. An intuition, hunch, or emotional prompting might open gates to subtle and intriguing adventures. Undertones of an inexplicable nature could prove of realistic value.

A child born on this day may have hidden depths of mind and feelings, with peculiar ideas or leanings, to serve in crises or emergencies. Ideals might become realistic by proper cultivation or inner vision.

—Ever remembered by his Father, Mother and Brothers.

SMITH—In loving memory of our dear little son and brother, Ronald Harvey, who was called home one year ago June 24, 1947.
We know not why Death's frosty finger touched a soul so sweet.

And yet God cut the the strong green stem that held youth's open flower
And left us only memories to fill the empty hour.
We know not why, but some day we shall know and comprehend,
At the gateway of the morning, where all our journeys end.
Young and lovely as he was, untouched by age or care.
—Ever remembered by Mummy and Daddy, sisters Wendy and Judy.

Keene Church Has 115th Anniversary

KEENE, June 24 — (ENS) — Anniversary services were held on Sunday at Keene United Church observing one hundred and fifteen years since the congregation was first organized by the Rev. A. Colquhoun. Amongst the large number of visitors were former members and those from other churches.

The guest minister was Rev. Harold Neal of Lindsay who preached on the injunction of Micah . . . "What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God." Music at the service was provided by the local choir under the leadership of organist Mr. David Potter. Two anthems were sung also, and two solos were given by Mrs. S. Mitchell.

At the evening service, the sermon concerned the topic "The Influence and value of a life devoted to Christ." The minister of the congregation, Rev. George Murray, made reference to some outstanding events which have made Keene United Church stand out as it does, upholding the Presbyterian and Methodist traditions.

Showers Fail To Spoil George St. SS Picnic

George Street United Church Sunday School and congregational picnic was held at Nicholls Oval on Wednesday afternoon.

In spite of threatening rain and two light showers about 300 attended.

Other attractions than the races which were managed by Don Kingdon, included a fish pond in charge of Lloyd Gilmour and staff, and an electrically operated merry-go-round.

A community supper was held with the food supply tent in the care of Mrs. P. Hetherington and the waiters were directed by Miss Jean Hammond and Mrs. W. Woodward. The Citizens Band provided music during the supper hour.

Mr. Northey, with a family of nine, won the barrel stave hammock presented by Kingdon barrel and shingle factory, for the largest family present.

After supper a church league baseball game was played. The Salvation Army team defeated George Street Seniors by a score of 17-7.

Mr. Quirt McKinney, senior superintendent, Mr. Leo Copp, assistant superintendent, and Mr. J. Barnard, second superintendent were excellent managers of the picnic arrangements. Rev. Dr. J. Semple asked the blessing over the loud speaker system.

90th Anniversary

HASTINGS, June 24—(ENS)—St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held its 90th anniversary service on Sunday morning. The church, which was built in 1888, was attractively decorated for the special occasion. The Rev. C. A. Mullins of Warkworth gave the sermon taking his text from the Book of Judges.

Lindsay Police Probe Break-in

LINDSAY, June 24—(ENS)—Lindsay police are investigating a break-in and theft from a local shoe repair shop and garage. When Constable John Hunter was making his rounds Wednesday he found that a window in Osborne's shoe repair shop had been forced. A later check revealed that four pair of shoes, including a special pair made to order were missing. A board with a nail in the end was used to retrieve the shoes. The break-in time was thought to have been between 4:00 and 5:30 a.m.

Carl Wilson of Victoria Motor Sales reported to police that a man described as medium build, 35 years old and driving a 1937 car came into the garage for repairs around six p.m. The back shop was vacant for five minutes and after the man had left $250 of tools were found to be missing. They belonged to mechanic Lorne McCallum.

The local police force, which has a good record for recovering stolen cars, ran into the first case of a stolen boat on Wednesday. Roy Lee, Anglin St. reported that his outboard motorboat had been stolen from its berth along the Scugog River above the locks. A short search by special constables Gordon E. Berts and Rooke and Constable Gordon McCarthy, formerly of Peterborough located the boat hidden in a grove of trees 100 yards from the original spot. The motor, tools, oars, fishing tackle and life saving equipment were intact.

OBTAINING FULL VALUE

IT IS A poor salesman who disposes of his goods cheaply and a good one who obtains a proper price for them. Likewise with the two grades of card players. The best know when to conserve their assets and when to use them to accomplish a worth while purpose, whereas the poor player is prone to waste his best cards to no useful end and refuses to use them up when they can accomplish something for him.

That was too high a contract to be justified by the cards of the declarer's side, but it was reached at two tables of a social tournament. One South got away with it because of the sins of the defenders and the other was set.

East and West perpetrated a comedy of defensive errors at the first table. The diamond K won the 4 lead, the J was returned to the Q and A and the 9 was won by dummy's 10. The club Q was finessed and the spade 8 led. West, who should have split his J-10 by playing one, put on the 2 and the 6 from dummy caused the 8 to force the K. East made slip number 2 when he returned the heart Q, as the K won, the 10 was covered by the J and won by the A to set up the 9, and then the spade 5 was led. West repeated his previous error, playing low, and the 9 won. The A and Q then scored, the club J was finessed, the A brought in and the heart 9 finished the play to give South an extra trick.

At the other table, when the spade 8 was led to the fourth trick, West put in the 10 and the Q covered, losing to the K. The spade 4 return brought the 8, J and A and the 9 play set up the 7 for West. The club 9 was covered by the K and A so that the 8 was established for East after South used the J. The heart K and A were South's last tricks, leaving him one down when he gave up the last two tricks to the heart Q and club 8.

The opponents not having bid, what card-reading should tell South to ruff low on the third heart lead against his 4-Spades?

CHECKERS AT SHED 11 on the Montreal waterfront sample a few of the millions of Brazilian oranges which arrived recently aboard the freighter "Egyptian Reefer." The ship's cargo of 50,000 crates of oranges was the first of a 350,000-box shipment which Brazil is trading for Canadian apples. More than 200 men were engaged in the speedy unloading of the cargo, which was transferred to 50 refrigerated railway cars and fleets of trucks.

Ask 2,900 Vets Be Given Titles To Land

OTTAWA, June 23 (CP) — The Commons committee on Veterans Affairs today asked the government to give roughly 2,900 soldier settlers from the First World War clear titles to their land. It would cost some I3,200,000.

Of the original 27,000 settlers, 16,000 have left the land during the years. More than 8,000 have paid off their mortgages.

The committee's report, also recommended that:

1. Women who served in war theatres with the Red Cross and St. John's Ambulance Brigade be given educational or vocational training, if pensionable, and war service gratuities.

2. The 269 men who served as aair crew for the RAF's Wartime Ferry Command be given vocational and educational training, Veterans Land Act benefits, gratuities and re-establishment credits and be made eligible for veterans insurance.

3. Wartime merchant seamen under 30 to be given vocational training benefits.

4. Overseas fire fighters be given the volunteer service medal and civil service employment preference.

5. The small holdings clause of the VLA be modified to suit Yukon veterans.

6. First war veterans in the civil service be given permanent status in jobs they have held a considerable time, without exams.

THIS LIFEBOAT, which its inventor, H. A. Gaskin, claims is non-capsizable, will shortly attempt a crossing of the Atlantic to prove to the British board of trade that the boat has all the advantages claimed for it. Experts of the board sailed the craft from King's Lynn, Norfolk, to London in a test.

MILLBROOK, June 24—(ENS)—The last meeting, until September, of the WA of St. Thomas' Anglican Church had a good attendance on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. C. M. Westmacott, with the president, Mrs. A. E. Chevis, in the chair, and Mrs. H. A. Turner reading the lesson. Mrs. C. MacLean reported for the Junior WA, of which she is now superintendent. The young people plan a picnic on Saturday, closing their meetings until fall.

Mrs. MacLean is now deanery officer, and announced the meeting in Cannington in October, with request that the local society invite the gathering for next fall. Miss Rose Macnamara gave a report on the Toronto board meeting held in Lindsay this month, with six local delegates in attendance; there were 250 WA women in all at the gathering, including 100 from Toronto, the sessions being most inspirational and informative. Twice a year this board meeting is held outside Toronto to give wider opportunity for attendance, and this fall it will be at Cookstown, serving the area west of the Queen City.

Mrs. Chevis presented an article from the Living Message on conditions in China, where the Anglican work in Honan has been closed owing to Communist invasion. Rev. William Simpson, formerly of Millbrook, reports that relief work can be done, and he is doing this at present in Shanghai. A letter from a Chinese girl who was once speaker at an Anglican board meeting in Canada in her student days, was read by Mrs. W. E. Massey-Cooke. Its quaintly-phrased sentences told of her return to China and her work as a teacher in a girls' boarding school.

A number of sick members were remembered in prayer, and notes of sympathy and good wishes will be sent. A tea in the fall is an activity being planned to raise money. The supper hostesses, Miss M. L. Collins and Mrs. E. Brooks, served lunch during the social hour.

June Flowers In Profusion At Omemee Church Service

OMEMEE, June 24—(ENS)—It was Flower Sunday June 20 in the Omemee and district churches, and a special service was held in the Anglican Church for both United and Anglican congregations. The altar was beautifully decorated with white flowers, and the front of the chancel was a profusion of June blooms.

Rev. F. W. Pooley, rector of the church, took charge of the service, and the sermon was preached by the visiting minister, Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt.

Little George Pooley sang the solo, and there was a duet by Mrs. A. Stephenson and Miss Elira Magee.

In keeping with the occasion, Mr. Zufelt spoke of gardens, and used three as his illustrations . . . the garden of Eden, the garden where the fool stayed, and the garden of Gethsemane. For the second he used his own paraphrase.

I walked by the garden of a sluggard
The vineyard of one known for sloth;
And lo, 'twas grown over with thistles
And nettles were choking the growth.
Even the wall that had hedged it
Was broken and part of the ruin;
But out of the rubble that edged it
Came a vision I was happily shown;
That life is a field of endeavour
Which bears for us Justice and Love;
When tended it yields for us ever
The fruit of gifts from above.
Yet its soil must never lie vacant
As the thistles and nettles will show,
Evil that once was mere latent,
Springs up, and is certain to grow."

The evening service was at the United Church and was attended by the Masons of the local lodge. Mr. Zufelt preached again, using as his text the story of building upon rock or upon sand.

Special music was provided by the choir's male quartette who sang two numbers "Remember Now Thy Creator", and "Crossing the Bar".

HOLLYWOOD, June 24—(AP)—Henry Huddleston Rogers Jr., 42-year-old heir of a Standard Oil fortune and a researcher of note in his own right, died Sunday night in hospital. Rogers, educated at Trinity College, University of Toronto, was the grandson of Henry H. Rogers, one of John D. Rockfeller's chief aides in developing the Standard Oil empire.

CCF Party Re-elected; Lose 17 Seats

Report Biggest Vote Ever Polled There; 460,000 Cast Ballots

REGINA, June 25—(CP)—The C.C.F. government of Premier T. C. Douglas was returned to office in Saskatchewan Thursday with majority slashed by a strong Liberal comeback.

The heaviest vote in the province's history poured into polling booths despite cloudy skies and and an intermittent drizzle that mired many back-country roads.

In 30 of the 50 seats already reported C.C.F. candidates were re-elected. The Liberals took 13 seats from the government to elect 18 members while one of the four Liberal-Progressive Conservative candidates was elected.

This was the standing early today, compared to the result of the 1944 general election.

	1948	1944
C.C.F.	30	47
Liberal	18	5
Lib.-P.C.	1	-
Doubtful	1	-
Deferred	2	-
Total	52	52

On the basis of its trend-analysis of early returns, The Canadian Press indicated the return of the government with a reduced majority two hours after the polls closed.

There were an estimated 520,000 eligible voters in the election—10 per cent of them people between 18 and 21 voting for the first time in a Canadian election.

459,618 Voted

With 2,925 of 3,206 polls reported, a Canadian Press compilation showed 460,000 people voted and the final total might hit 500,000.

CREW OF THE POLY-WOG — The Shepard family have travelled 6,000 miles of the continent's inland waterways during the past two summers in their amphibious outboard motor-driven trailer houseboat. They arrived in Peterborough on Wednesday noon on a current cruise of the Trent system. Shown above in the cockpit of their craft Poly-Wog are, Left to Right, Claire, Mrs. and Mr. C. F. Fined $33,147 For Accident

WINDSOR, June 25.—(CP).—Damages totalling $33,147.29 were today assessed against Russel J. Snyder, Jr., and his father, Russel J. Snyder, Sr., both of Detroit, as a result of claims following a fatal hay ride accident in which one girl was killed and another permanently crippled.

Russel Snyder, Jr., was the driver of the automobie which struck a hay ride wagon in suburban Sandwich West on April 26, 1946, in which the two girls and 33 other young people were riding. His father is the owner of the car.

The full amount of her claim, $30,000 was awarded Miss Theresa Grondin, 18, the young woman who was left permanently paralyzed, from the waist down, as a result of injuries suffered in the accident.

Miss Grondin's father was awarded $1,647.29 for resulting expenses. His claim was for $5,000.

Vegetable Ban To Be Relaxed At End Of Year

OTAWA, June 25.—(CP). — Canada's reserves of gold and United States dollars totalled $742,000,000 at June 23, compared with a low of $461,000,000 last Dec. 17, Finance Minister Abbott reported to the Commons today.

At the same time, he disclosed that imoprt restrictions on fresh fruits and vegetables from the United States will be relaxed by he end of this year.

Steps also will be taken this fall to allow the import of British West Indian tomatoes so Canadians will have a reasonable supply of lettuce, tomatoes and citrus fruits next winter when Canadian production is low.

Mr. Abbott said the government hoped to shift fresh fruits and vegetables from the completely banned list to the restricted import list by the year-end. This would permit larger supplies next winter.

He noted that certain relaxations on cabbages and other vegetables had been allowed this spring.

He made no mention of the possible relaxation of excise taxes, which was reported likely earlier this week.

Seeing America By Water Ohio Family Reaches City

The Poly-Wog crew of Cleveland arrived in Peterborough at noon Wednesday. They sailed up Little Lake in a small compact outboard motor-driven cabin cruiser and tossed mooring lines around the nigger heads on the George St. Wharf. The crew was welcomed by Mayor W. G. Ovens, Wilson Gemmell, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and other officials.

You would like the Poly-Wog crew, or to be more exact, the Shepard family; there is the skipper, Mrs. Grace Shepard, Shep (C. F.), her husband, and four fine children: the sixteen-year-old twins, Pete and George, taller than their parents, sister Claire and young Harry are "Old Salts" and a healthy-looking group.

This cruising is old stuff to the Shepards and it all started with the inborn curse of the wanderlust. Shep, at the age of 16, hitch-hiked 5,000 miles through the American West from his home in Omro, Wis. After attending college in La Crosse, Shep obtained a job teaching physical education in Cleveland, married and tried to settle down.

The call of the open spaces was never quieted even when they stayed strictly at home and raised four children. A ray of hope appeared three years ago when Shep decided to tour the waterways of the continent. He would build a trailer-houseboat and with the help of his family, they did just that in their family garage. That was in 1946.

Without knowing how their ark would act, they towed it to Onco, Wis., launched it and sailed away, down the Fox, Wisconsin and Mississippi rivers as far as Cairo, Ill. They branched east from there along the Ohio river as far as Zanesville. This was the life.

An Eastern Trip

During the summer of '47 they went overland and launched the Poly-Wog at Buffalo and sailed the Niagara river, the Erie Canal and the Hudson river to New York to view the Statue of Liberty. With time on their hands they arrived in Montreal via the Chaplain-Richelieu route, into Ottawa to Canada's capital, down the Rideau chain to Kingston to end their second season at Alexandria Bay, N.Y.

A short few days ago the famous Shepard family, whose rollicking exploits make headline news, arrived at Trenton for a cruise of the Trent system to Georgian Bay and return. This brought them as far as Peterborough on Wednesday. Larry McGuire of the Outboard Marine, acting as advance agent, swept them off their feet with a dazzling program of hospitality. Shep was whisked away to speak at a luncheon at South Beach where 20 fellow countrymen of the press were being entertained. At night there was a Kinsmen stag at Harwood on Rice Lake. The rest of the crew were dinner guests of the Outboard Marine Company

Today the Shepards saw the city and their first lacrosse game and on Saturday, Mrs. Shepard will be special guest at Jaycee's Ladies' night at Viamede on Stony Lake.

Yes, sir, a great family, the adventurous Shepards, roamers over 6,000 miles on 38 waterways, through 14 states and two countries. They are modern outboard motor-driven Huckleberry Finns and the Swiss Family Robinson rolled into one.

Tentative All-German Gov't Urged By Russian Block

WARSAW, June 25 (AP). — Russia and seven European satellites today urged that a "provisional democratic, peace-loving all-German government" be set up.

They did so in a communique by their foreign ministers, who ended a two-day conference Thursday midnight in a Milanow palace, eight miles east of here.

The communique as broadcast by the Moscow radio, said an all-German government should be created by big-four agreement.

The foreign ministers, including V. M. Molotov of Russia, said the government in Germany should be made up of representatives of democratic parties and organizations and should guarantee against any more German aggression.

The Warsaw communique as distributed by Tass in London Thursday said the governments that took part "consider as urgent":

1. German demilitarization by agreement of the big four—Russia, Britain, the United States and France.

2. Big-four control "for a definite period" over the Ruhr's heavy industry to keep from restoring Germany's war potential.

3. Creation by four-power agreement of a "provisional democratic, all-German government" with the aim of "creating guarantees against repetition of German aggression."

4. Conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany and withdrawal of all occupation troops a year later.

5. "Measures of fulfilment by Germany of her reparations obligations toward the states which suffered from German aggression.

Well-informed sources said some in the Warsaw meeting wanted to counter this with an eastern German state but the conference finally agreed upon one more try for German unity. They said if this failed the Russian bloc would create a separate east-German government.

Plane Ordered Back After Bomb Warning

LONDON, June 25 —(CP)—A Montreal-bound airplane was ordered back to London airport Thursday following an anonymous telephone warning that a bomb had been planted aboard it.

But the warning was a hoax. Fire engines, ambulances and police met the returning plane, a British Overseas Airways Constellation with 24 passengers. No bomb was found and the aircraft took off again early today.

2 Policeman Injured During Fight

76 Police Battered Under Barrage Of Flying Dishes

TORONTO, June 25 — (CP). — Fire hoses, chair legs, cups and saucers were used by prisoners of the Mercer reformatory for women today in a riot in which two policemen were injured.

Seventy-six police were called to the King Street institution when about half of the 159 prisoners went on a combined hunger-sit-down strike in the dining hall.

In the fracas Detective-Sgt. Samuel Welsford suffered a broken wrist when struck with a table leg. A flying saucer cut a gash in the head of Det.-Sgt. Arthur Keay which required seven stitches.

Miss Jean Milne, superintendent of the reformatory, was bitten on the arm.

Police say the women struck in protest against solitary confinement of another prisoner Thursday.

The trouble started in the dining hall at breakfast time. The women refused to eat, and would not leave when urged by guards.

Break Dishes

The situation got out of hand shortly after nine o'clock when the prisoners began breaking cups and saucers and beating pots and pans as a mark of their displeasure.

City and provincial police were summoned and responded in 11 patrol cars.

Six detectives were the first to enter the dining hall. They were met with a barrage of plates, cups and saucers.

One detective described the ensuing fight as "worse than any staged by men in my experience."

"The women came at us like wildcats," another detective said.

"They turned fire hoses on us and screamed at the top of their voices. Their language was none too clean. Several of them charged us and came to grips.

"Meanwhile three or four of them were beating down a rear door with table legs. They almost had it open before we gained control. The door led to the street."

Egyptians Fire On UN Plane

TEL AVIV, June 25 (AP) — A United Nations spokesman said today the Egyptians had fired upon a clearly-marked White United Nations truce plane piloted by an American.

The spokesman said also that the Egyptians had refused to permit a United Nations-approved Jewish supply convoy to pass the settlements in the Negeb, and both incidents were regarded by the United Nations Commission here as violations of the truce.

The case was not regarded, however, as invalidating the general cease fire which has held generally for two of its four weeks.

The Israeli government also accused the Egyptians of violating the truce. A communique said the Egyptians not only refused passage to the Jewish convoy, but bombed the setlements of Beer Tuvya and Kefar Warburg, midway between Tel Avis and Gaza.

MP'S Demand Ottawa Act Against Piracy In Shipping Strike National Emergency

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP). — Opposition members called the Great Lakes shipping strike a "national emergency" in the Commons today and demanded federal action against "piracy."

Labor Minister Mitchell, answering questions about the breakdown of a government-sponsored attempt to reopen negotiations, read a letter he sent Thursday in which he said "we are continuing our efforts."

T. L. Church (PC—Toronto Broadview) called it the "duty" of the federal government to bring the two factions together in what had become a national emergency.

Julian Ferguson (PC—Simcoe North) asked heatedly "how much longer are we going to allow a handful of men to break the law.

It was time the federal government "stopped this nonsense" of failing to provide police protection when union members swarmed aboard ships with axes and other weapons, as they had in Montreal. Mr. Ferguson likened the strike to "piracy."

NAMED CANDIDATE—Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York was given a unanimous nomination by the Republican National convention, Thursday, for the presidency of the United States.

Dewey, Warren Team Together For Election

PHILADELPHIA, June 25 (CP) — Thomas E. Dewey and Earl Warren were teamed today to contest the United States presidency and vice-presidency election this year for the Republican party.

Governor Dewey of New York was nominated unanimously last night by the party's 24th national convention. His nomination came on the third ballot.

The New York governor today selected Warren, governor of California, his choice to run as vice-president and the convention gave Warren that post by acclamation. No other name was presented for the job.

Arizona gave notice of nominating Harold Stassen but a few minutes later withdrew it.

Chairman Joseph Martin put Warren's name before the convention and declared him nominated by acclamation.

Thursday night the 46-year-old Dewey was given the unanimous nomination of the Republican National Convention on a third ballot which was merely an opportunity for 1,094 delegates from 48 states and three territories to make it unanimous.

Clinching Break

Halleck tossed Indiana's 29 votes into the Dewey pot Thursday when a lot of delegates weren't quite sure that the New York governor could make the 548-vote grade for the nomination.

The final, clinching break for Dewey apparently came after the Kleig-lighted, sweating convention had recessed after a second ballot which showed these important results:

Dewey, 515, only 33 short of the nomination.

Senator Taft, the nearest contender, 274.

Stassen, 149.

(First ballot results were: Dewey 434, Taft 224, Stassen 157, Vandenberg 62 and others).

2 From Reformatory Captured In Toronto

TORONTO, June 25—(CP).—An observant citizen and an off-duty policeman joined forces on Thursday to bring about the recapture of two 'teen-age boys, who escaped from the Ontario Reformatory at Bowmanville.

Charles Thomas of Toronto had his suspicions aroused when he saw the boys dashing down the street in front of his home. He notified his neighbor, Constable John Aitken, who arrested the escaped pair. The boys will be returned to reformatory today.

Nova Scotia May Bring German Industry

HALIFAX, June 25 (CP)—Importation of an entire German industry to Nova Scotia is being considered by the provincial government, Industry Minister Connolly told the convention of the Nova Scotia Music Teachers' Association Thursday.

He said members of his department would leave shortly for Germany to bring technical advisers to the province. He did not say what type of industry was being considered.

Prices Committee Urges Government Remove 25 Per Cent Excise Taxes

Ask Consideration Be Given Restricting Unreasonable Profits By Taxing; Also Want Flagrant Profiteering Curbed

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—The Prices Committee's report to parliament recommends that the Government consider removing the special 25-per-cent. excise tax on "commodities in common use," The Canadian Press learned today. It also recommends that the Government consider lifting the import restrictions on certain fruits and vegetables.

These, an informed source said, are the most important of 14 recommendations contained in the report.

Other recommendations:

1. That a commission under the Public Inquiries Act be established to continue the work of the Prices Committee.

2. That the Government consider amending the Companies Act to provide for more complete disclosure of information of inventory reserves maintained by firms.

3. That consideration be given to restricting price rises by taxing "unreasonable profits."

Needs More Money

4. That the present funds at the disposal of the Combines Investigation Commissioner are insufficient, although his activities tend to restrict price rises.

5. That the government consider special legislation which would permit specific action to be taken against firms where evidence discloses "flagrant cases of profiteering."

6. That the government give consideration to a review of rent controls.

7. That in considering the removal of embargoes on the export of foods from Canada the government should also consider the supply position in this country and seek to balance the interests of producers and consumers.

Ask Analysis

8. That the government instruct the Dominion Bureau of Statistics to prepare and publish an analysis showing the division of the consumers dollar between the various factors making up the selling price of an article.

9. That the interests of the consumers would not be safeguarded by a return to an over-all system of price and other controls but that consideration should be given to the reimposition of certain control measures and "some measure of temporary subsidy" where hardship would otherwise result.

Louis Fight Is On Optimists Announce

NEW YORK, June 25—(CP).—The weatherman gave tonight's twice - postponed heavyweight championship fight between Joe Louis and Joe Walcott a green light today.

At noon the skies over New York were overcast following a morning of sunshine.

The forecast for this afternoon was "showers" and for tonight "fair."

Ottawa Grants Five Million Flood Relief

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP)—The Dominion government will make a $5,000,000 grant to British Columbia for relief and rehabilitation in the flood-ravaged Fraser valley, Prime Minister Mackenzie iKng told the Commons today.

The Dominion also will provide 75 per cent of the costs of repairing, strengthening and reconstructing Fraser valley dikes and removing water and debris from the flooded land. The B.C. government will contribute the remaining 25 per cent.

Amounts already spent by the armed forces on relief will be considered part of the $5,000,000 grant; money spent by the services in repairing and protecting dikes will be part of the diking costs.

Mr. King said in a prepared statement that destruction of property in the Fraser valley "reached the proportions of a national disaster.

He added:

"There is reason to be profoundly thankful that so few lives were lost, because of the prompt and effective measures taken by members of the armed services.

Support British Industry-Garner

QUEBEC, June 25—(CP).—Encouragement of British industry can result in a flood of advertising unequalled by any other source of newspaper advertising in the world today, H. L. Garner of Peterborough, president of the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association, said here Thursday.

In an address to the summer conference of Newspaper Advertising Executives Association, Inc., he proposed that NAEA join a Canadian delegation to Britain next year "and prove our neighborliness to those courageous people who have drained themselves of their resources in defence of freedom."

Rehabilitation of British industry would be helped along by assisting manufacturers obtain a better distribution of advertising for their products in Canada which he described as the "back door" into the US for British goods.

Bevin Says Berlin Crisis Delicate State of Affairs

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin told the Commons today that a "delicate state of affairs" exists in Russian-blockaded Berlin.

He said the Russian embargo on road and rail shipments from the west, and interrupted power service in the city, have resulted in a serious situation.

But, he added, Berlin inhabitants are displaying great calmness and are showing no sign of being intimidated. He said the British commander in Berlin reported sufficient food stocks on hand to "render any immediate anxiety unnecessary."

To a question whether Britain intends to stay permanently in Berlin, he said he would add nothing to a speech he made some days ago when he said British occupation forces will remain in Berlin "whatever provocation there may be."

The cabinet held a special meeting today, the third within the last 24 hours. It was understood that the sessions were devoted to the German situation and to Anglo-American negotiations on the European Recovery Program.

The Russians today ordered that no more food from their zone be sent into the western-occupied sectors of Berlin.

They stopped traffic Thursday on the single railroad line supplying those sectors with food from the western occupation zones.

The blockade left air the only way to get food in to the 2,000,000 inhabitants of the British, American, and French sectors.

British and American authorities said a month's food stocks are on hand in the western sectors and nobody will starve.

Large Scale Soviet Attack Can Be Repulsed Quickly By Canada—Claxton

Russian Attack Unlikely But Must Be Ready Minister Warns Commons; Country Keeps To Flexible Defence Policy

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, June 25—(CP).—Defence Minister Claxton told the Commons Thursday that Canada must keep her defences alert because of Russia's aggressiveness. He predicted, however, that should the Soviet attempt a large scale attack on this country it would be destroyed "within a short time."

"The probability . . . of any such attack is so slight at present that it is something that hardly needs being considered in the realm of active possibility," said Mr. Claxton.

He bluntly told members that Canada considers Russia the only possible aggressor at the moment.

"The only way the Soviet Union can attack Canada is by sea or by air," he said.

Since the Soviet had no large fleet, air seemed the more likely method of attack. A sea offensive against Alaska could be dealt with by the Americans.

The number of Russian four-engine planes is not known, but he doubted if the Soviet has more than 1,000, enough to carry a division of about 15,000 men one way.

Strategic Benefits

"I suggest that you have to consider the possible strategic benefits that might result from an attack of that kind," he said. "I suggest that the only strategic results would be that the Soviet Union would lose the 1,000 planes they had sent over . . . and they would lose the men they had landed."

The planes which were not forced down could possibly be intercepted and destroyed by the RCAF.

Despite the unlikelihood of any such Russian attack, Canadian defence authorities are studying "possibilities, probabilities and plans" on the "assumption that war might take place at dates ranging from the present time on into the indefinite future."

He said Canada's three regular forces will be recruited beyond the current target of 42,000.

Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C. (PC-Nanaimo) a veteran of the two world wars, said Canada's forces would be "impotent" if they were called to defend the country against a "sudden" attack. He stressed the need for training of civilians and for an up-to-date air force.

Wants Details.

Angus MacInnis (CCF-Vancouver East) said that if Canadians were to prepare for an emergency they should be given some knowledge of the extent of the emergency and the direction from which it might come. Meanwhile, Canada must work with other nations for world co-operation.

Mr. Blackmore said he thought Canada's affairs were in good hands

In the defence debate, Mr. Claxton said the government adheres to a "flexible" defence policy.

He pictured Canada's defence aims as threefold—to be ready to defend herself against sudden direct attack, to have a force schooled and equipped to act as a nucleus for expansion, and to "work out with other free nations plans for joint defence."

Stress On Aid Force

The forces now are 35,748 or 85 per cent of the authorized recruiting strengths of 42,150.

The stress this year would be on development of the air force.

Work will be accelerated on a jet engine two-seater airplane frame being designed specifically for Canadian needs.

Wing Cmdr. Skey suggested that Canada should urge British and American manufacturers to come here to produce planes for use by all three countries. This would be a move toward standardization of equipment.

Mr. Claxton said he did not think such a move would be economical. What Canada needed was a plane which would meet Canadian needs and work now was being done on such a craft.

Airmen Missing Nine Days Walk Out of NB Woods

FORT FAIRFIELD, Me., June 25 — (AP). — Two missing amateur airmen turned up at a Plaster Rock, NB, lumber camp Thursday, saying they had wandered nine days in New Brunswick wilderness after crashing their light plane on a mountain top. William C. Brewster, 36, of Fort Fairfield, told The Associated Press that he and Roy Mangels, 31, of Auburn, Me., were "in pretty good condition."

They escaped the crash with nothing but cuts and bruises, he said.

For a week, Brewster said, they had nothing to eat but "grain, ferns and some frogs' legs." Then they stumbled onto a trapper's food cache and got pancake flour and some sardines.

Their re-appearance ended an air search by more than a score of United States Air Force and private planes.

Brewster told the following story:

Lost in Fog

"Before we got back the fog began to close in beneath us. We lost our course and got over New Brunswick somehow. It got dark and we tried to find a place to land, finally crashed on a mountain top somewhere northeast of Plaster Rock."

"We had cuts and bruises, but the plane was not broken up badly.'

"The first week all we had to eat was grain, ferns anld some frogs' legs. We had matches and every night we made a fire and built a lean-to."

"Three days ago we came onto a cache a trapper had left and found some packages of pancake flour and a couple of cans of sardines. We've been going on those ever since."

"Yesterday we came onto a river. We followed that until we came to the lumber camp today."

Council Decides To Hire County Assessor

After perusing the report of the committee on this year's Equalized Assessment, County Council on Thursday decided to appoint a county assessor to look after the problem.

Few of the councillors felt satisfied with the report but nobody showed any desire to appeal his municipality's assessment to the County Judge or Lieutenant-Governor in Council. Most members felt that a new and more efficient method of assessing properties was necessary.

Reeve W. W. Dawson, Otonabee said, "the time has come to decide whether we need a county assessor or not, and I do so move."

On the motion of Reeves Dawson and Pakenham it was decided to ask for applications for the position which must be filled by November 1. Salary would be $2,500 a year with six-cents-a-mile travelling expenses.

Voting against the motion were Reeves Charles Flynn, Peter Pearson, Norman Wilson, A. Hall and W. Griffith.

Council then authorized the borrowing of $170,000. $70,000 is to finance the Chemong causeway, and $25,000 is for the Buckhorn road. The balance of $75,000 is for local highway improvements.

Roads included in the areas of North Monaghan which have recently been handed over to the City of Peterborough were reverted to North Monaghan, thus no longer forming part of the county road system.

Another bylaw was passed ratifying a Douro bylaw to stop up the beginning of a highway between concessions three and four on Lot 24. The section consisting of .83 acres has been sold to Thomas Joseph Lawlor and Lydia Claire Lawlor, joint tenants. The highway is to be diverted over part of Lot 25 in the fourth concession.

After a report was read on repairs to the Old People's Home, Lakefield, Reeve Melville Johnston moved that the barn on the premises should be re-wired, work should be continued on the water tank, and the rest of the electrical wiring should be left to a later date.

The Warden and chairman of the County Roads Committee were requested to investigate council's authority with regard to buildings by county and suburban roads. This was pased after a motion by Reeves James Gifford and Ernest Leeson.

Order Lindsay Man Pay $750 For Cow

OSHAWA, June 25—In a judgment handed down in County Court and General Sessions in Whitby yesterday afternoon, Howard and Jean St. John of Sunderland, plaintiffs in the action again John Clemett, Lindsay, were awarded $750 damage plus costs by Judge A. B. Currey of Manitoulin Island.

The action arose from a collision in which Clemett's car struck one of Mr. St. John's cows, and is said to have caused injuries to Miss St. John's back and right leg. The cow died as a result of the accident.

Miss St. John was awarded $500 damages for her injuries, and the costs of her action, and Mr. St. John, her uncle, received $250: the value of the cow plus costs. The beast was a pedigreed purebred Durham shorthorn.

Clemett had maintained that the cow had run into the side of the car, rather than being struck by it and that Miss St. John had received her injuries in a fall into a culvert.

The jury retired at 3.30 yesterday afternoon, after hearing argument from defence counsel, A. M. Fulton, K.C. of Lindsay, and counsel for the plaintiffs, A. W. S. Greer, K.C. The verdict was returned one hour later.

CSL Refuses To Deal With Labor Congress

OTTAWA, June 23 (CP) — A government attempt at mediation in the Great Lakes' ship labor war was stalled today by Company refusal to deal with the Trades and Labor Cogress of Canada.

At the same time, the Congress made it clear it was throwing the full strength of its 360,000-man organization behind the efforts of its affiliated Canadian Seamen's Union to gain its members berths aboard a group of Lake Steamship Companies.

J. W. Buckley, Congress secretary-treasurer, announced this Thursday night after his organization had been rebuffed by Canada Steamship Lines in a government-sponsored attempt to reopen negotiations with that firm.

That company and others has refused to deal with the CSU on the claim that it is Communist-dominated.

If possible, the plan will be carried out by the lodge in co-operation with the Canadian Council of Churches. Elections closed out the convention with R. Hardy Small of Toronto re-elected Grand Master.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

Skyscraper Has Telescope Pipes

The Chrysler Building — New York's famous skyscraper —has huge inner-wall pipes that carry heat to all floors. Heat expands pipes, you know. So to take up slack, sections of the pipes are free to move like the sections of a telescope.

These expansion joints would be a source of heat leaks were it not for a material called packing. In cases like this, and in almost every kind of machinery used today, Johns-Manville Packings prevent leakage of steam, gas, oil, water and other liquids.

To meet industry's varied needs, Johns-Manville makes hundreds of styles of asbestos packings . . . and in addition specializes in "tailor-made" packings and gaskets for special jobs. For complete information on J-M Packings and Gaskets, write Canadian Johns-Manville, 199 Bay St., Toronto.

Majority Cut

No Social Credit or Conservative candidate was elected and the leaders of both parties suffered personal defeat.

In the one doubtful seat—Hanley—CCF candidate Robert Walker, a University of Saskatchewan law student, led Liberal Clayton Pascoe by two votes with one poll still to report.

Both 43-year-old Premier Douglas and Liberal Leader Walter Tucker won handily. But two cabinet ministers—Resources Minister J. L. Phelps and Welfare Minister O. W. Valleu—lost to Liberal candidates.

Making a clean sweep of the three major cities, CCF candidates piled up 47 per cent of the popular vote, compared to 31 per cent for the Liberals. Conservative and Social Credit candidates each polled eight per cent.

Informal coalitions of Liberals and Conservatives in 10 seats paid off in only three. Hamilton McDonald was the sole Liberal-Progressive Conservative elected but two Liberals with official Conservative backing—Mr. Egnatoff in Melfort and J. E. McCormack in Souris-Estevan — were successful.

Army Officers Complete Inquiry

CAMP IPPERWASH, June 25—(CP).—First phase of the probe of a grenade explosion at this army camp Monday night which severely injured three collegiate cadets from Windsor, was completed here late Thursday by a military court of enquiry.

The three-man court headed by Col. N. P. Bogert of Kingston, officer commanding the Eastern Ontario military area, will move to London Friday. If their conditions permit evidence will be taken from the cadets who are patients in Westminster Hospital.

A spokesman said that Maj.-Gen. Chris Vokes of Toronto, commanding central command, was expected in the Western Ontario military area overnight to visit the camp and possibly to conduct his own investigation into the accident.

Golds, Oils Weaken In Hull Trading

TORONTO, June 25 — (CP)— Prices were easier in dull trading here to-day. Industrials and base metals eased slightly on narrow losses and the golds and Western oils weakened as interest lagged.

Papers and utilities weakened in industrial croupings and steels mixed gains and losses. International Paper was down ½ and Brown Pfd. eased ½ at 111½. Brazilian Traction, CPR, and Consolidated Gas weakened ¼ to 1½.

Losses more than tripled gains in base metals with a few issues opening strongly but weakening near noon. Waite Amulet was up and then dropped to $8.70, a loss of 15 cents. Sherritt, Steep Rock, Normetal, East Sullivan, Consolidatd Smelters and International Nickel were down.

Western oils continued 'heir easier trend as all issues trading weakened. Home Oil dipped 20 cents and Calgary and Edmonton and Anglo-Canadian were down 10 cents. Atlantic Oil was down 1½.

Central Patricia, Chesterville, Cochenour, Elder, God's Lake, Malartic and United Keno Hill were easier golds. Eldona traded actively for a gain of 9 cents.

the white truce plane, clearly marked with the letters UN, until it was about to land near Kefar Warburg. He said the plane was attacked with gunfire as it was about to touch the ground. Fifteen shots were fired, some of them striking the plane from the rear and hitting the instrument panel. The American pilot, a Colonel named Martin, was alone in the plane and escaped injury, the spokesman added.

The government, bolstered by a vote of confidence, was standing firm in its opposition to the challenge from Irgun. Unofficial advices said three Irgun fighters and perhaps some Asraeli troops were killed in clashes that developed as Irgunists withdrew from Israeli front lines.

Irgun broadcast an announcement Thursday that the group has ceased to exist as an armed force within Israel and will continue only as an unarmed political group. Irgun Commander Menachem Beigin announced Wednesday that the group was withdrawing its "recognition" of the government.

A new law forbids any armed force outside the army and classes disobedience to civil law as treason.

Under this law Isreali troops have been rounding up scores of Irgunists who had remained in their frontline positions with the army.

However it stayed where it was and Reg. Stuart had bu. the consolation of at least having made a nice drive.

The Cost Of Hydrew To Peterborough

The project to standardize 60-cycle frequency throughout Ontario has finally arrived at the level of municipal Utilities Commissions. Last Monday a meeting of the Ontario Municipal Electric Association (composed of elected Hydro municipal commissioners) was held so that representatives could approve of the Drew-sponsored plan. They did, on a majority vote, but the attitude of some of the municipal representatives indicated that they would be more eager to dance at Premier Drew's funeral than at a jamboree celebrating the beginning of the frequency change-over.

• • •

They do not disapprove generally of the whole project. Most recognize that from a long range point of view the conversion is good and necessary. Many, like Mr. Gordon Matthews who represented Peterborough at the Association meeting, are critical of the methods proposed for financing the conversion. The sharpest criticism, most of the opposition votes and abstentions from voting, came from a surprising quarter—south-western Ontario, in the 25-cycle belt. It is communities in the 25-cycle areas which will chiefly benefit from the change-over, although at no additional costs above what we in this 60-cycle area will have to pay. They objected to the way the plan has been put over on them.

• • •

It was Premier Drew, not the Ontario Hydro Commission, which announced the plan last February. Premier Drew made the Hydro program the excuse for calling the late elections. Premier Drew has put Hydro in the forefront of politics. He announced the plan, he gave it to the Legislature for approval and finally the local utilities people were whistled up to Toronto to give their consent. Would it have made any difference had the municipal representatives not approved? Dr. W. J. Chapman of the St. Catharines municipal commission charged that the O.M.E.A. had been reduced to the status of "rubber stamps". He said that the decision to convert was made by Premier Drew a year ago: "That is why I call it 'Hydrew' and not Hydro".

• • •

We in this area are worried about the method of financing the project. The estimated cost of converting consumer equipment is $132,748,000. There is not one piece of consumer equipment in this whole district to be converted. It is already geared to 60-cycle frequency. We entirely agree with Mr. Matthews, Chairman of the Peterborough Utilities Commission, when he says: "I do not think that we should be asked to pay any portion of the cost of converting consumers' equipment in the present 25-cycle area". Why should a resident of Peterborough help to pay for converting the washing machine of Mrs. Jones of Spadina Avenue, Toronto, from 25 to 60 cycles? Why should we have to share the cost of converting machines in a Toronto factory to 60 cycles?" (Industrial users of 25-cycle equipment are to pay one-third the cost of converting their machinery; the Hydro—which means us, to some extent—will pay the rest.) As Mr. Matthews said, it would be fairer if the 60-cycle areas were only assessed their proportion of the cost of changing Quebec power company facilities and facilities for the generation and transmission of power. The total cost of this is estimated at forty million dollars.

• • •

Under the present financial plans we in this district are going to be nicked for hundreds of thousands of dollars, directly or indirectly. Nobody seems to know what it is going to cost Peterborough, Kingston, Belleville or any other municipality in the 60-cycle area. The financial advisers to Premier Drew have cleverly guessed that the complete project will cost 191 million dollars; surely they could give us at least an estimate of what the cost will be to separate municipalities? We have heard one informed guess that it will cost Peterborough a minimum of $80,000 a year for at least four years. The people of this district have a right to know the approximate cost. We have contributed substantially to the Hydro's reserve funds, which will be used. Though our rates for the next four years ('48-'51) are to be pegged at the 1946 levels (Peterborough has, happily, a comparatively low rate), how much will that cost us indirectly? What other costs will we be dragged into? It is time Queen's Park stopped blathering about 191 millions and got down to facts and figures pertinent to people's own districts. Meanwhile, we hope that Mr. Matthew's efforts, in conjunction with other eastern Ontario commissioners, will result in having the costs put where they belong.

Church Without Churchillian Courage

Mr. T. L. Church, M.P., for Toronto Broadview, shows signs of advancing age. He wails that U.N. has "dissolved the whole British Empire". The giving of independence to India, Burma, Ceylon, the withdrawal from Palestine—none of these was done at the behest or interference of U.N. He mourns, "Let us not talk about peace when there is no peace". When then, will we talk about peace? Mr. Church had better read Mr. Churchill's memoirs of the first war to realize that the world was full of trouble in 1920-22, and learn from Churchill the virtues of perseverance and fortitude.

Mr. Church trembles with alarm. The enemy "were up to the St. Lawrence when a secret meeting was held in this chamber (the House of Commons).... Thousands of us, if not the whole House of Commons, might have been carted away overseas". Mr. Church had better climb into some secure ivory tower far from the Commons. Obviously the realities of this present world are too harsh for his timid soul. Perhaps a man of Mr. Church's years should be permitted to indulge a philosophy of despair—but not, we think, in the Commons. He must be getting too old for change. He still thinks that the Anglo-Saxon race is the sole hope of the world for peace in the future; he does not seem to know that there might be Dutchmen, Indians and Brazilians of good will whose opinions and actions may matter. Perhaps he has never seen any other flag but the Union Jack, with the Stars and Stripes fluttering meekly below it.

Mr. Church deplores Canada's spending money on U.N. A man of his limited vision could not realize that this twentieth century world will never achieve peace and international tolerance without U.N. or some other form of it. The braver among us are prepared to believe that U.N. is a good risk, and worth betting not only ten million Canadian dollars but all the brains and energy which we and other countries can produce to make it work.

Farewell To The Double Bed?

Furniture dealers report that twin beds, which used to be the choice of 38 per cent. of newly married couples, are now bought by 52 per cent. There will be those, no doubt, who will be alarmed by this news, for twin beds have, in their time, been ranked with cigarettes, mixed bathing, cocktails and female suffrage as destroyers of the home and wreckers of all that is best in our civilization.

We attribute the growing popularity of twin beds, more calmly, to education. We clearly recall from our schooldays passages in a book called Public School Hygiene which ranked the sin of sleeping two or three in a bed with the sins of sleeping with the windows closed, or drinking beverage alcohol, or failing to clean the teeth, or not drinking sixteen pints of water every day. Everybody, the book said, should have a bed of his own. Obviously the children heeded what they were taught and now we are reaping the fruits of that teaching in a crop of twin beds.

There is much to be said for twin beds. No two people sleep at the same speed, as it were. To put a man who likes to sleep flat on his back, with arms and legs spread out like a St. Andrew's cross, into a bed with a woman who sleeps like a whirling dervish, flailing, revolving and galumphing the whole night through, is to pave the road to a divorce. Nor can a woman who likes to sleep with one light blanket lie happily at the side of a spouse who dresses for bed as though for an Arctic expedition, and who insists that everything, including the hearthrug, be piled upon him to keep him warm.

The sacrament of marriage and the sanctity of the home, we feel, are well served by twin beds, and Public School Hygiene was right.

The jewellers, we observe, are trying to change things so that couples who have been married for five years can celebrate their Silver Wedding. Toasts at such a function would understandably be drunk in that electrically aged whisky which they make in the States.

Trivia

By ALPHA

THE other day in paying a social call I had the rare opportunity of leaving my card. The custom seems almost extinct in Canada and in Europe cards are used by younger men chiefly as a means of exchanging names and addresses upon chance encounters, when further intercourse is mutually desired.

The sending or leaving of cards was not so long ago a social requirement fulfilled according to an exacting code. It is remarkable that in one generation a rigid practice of society should have completely disappeared. Only the ladies who were "out in society" before the 1914-18 war can recite the rules of the game, and perhaps not many of them can do so accurately.

IN attempting to find out exactly the proper calling-card technique I looked into faded blue-covered book which I had lately come upon in the attic. It is called "Manners and Social Usages". It was written by Mrs. John Sherwood, originally in 1884 but my edition is an up-to-date revision of 1900. Mrs. Sherwood was (or is, should her bones have survived her rules of etiquette) an American lady on the staff of "Harper's Bazaar" magazine. She has a whole chapter devoted to visiting cards and scattered reference throughout the book; but even in her day in the United States things were not quite as they should be. "American young men are, as a rule, very remiss about this matter of calling on the hostess whose hospitality they accept". Mrs. Sherwood's exposition makes the code of calling cards seem as complicated as the rules of mediaeval chivalry. There are tit-bits like this:

"Bachelors should leave cards on the master and mistress of the house, and, in America, upon the young ladies. A gentleman does not turn down the corners of his cards—indeed, that fashion has become almost obsolete, except, perhaps, where a lady wishes it distinctly understood that she has called in person.... It is a rule with sticklers for good-breeding that after any entertainment a gentleman should leave his card in person, although, as we have said, he often commits it to some feminine agency."

"When persons who have been in mourning (eighteen months for a widow, a year for a mother or father, and so on in diminishing degree) wish to re-enter society, they should leave cards on all their friends and acquaintances, as an intimation that they are equal to the paying and receiving of calls".

❖ ❖ ❖

MRS. SHERWOOD looks upon the English as paragons of social practice. "Men and women educated in the creeds of the Old World, with the good blood of a long ancestry of quiet ladies and gentlemen, find modern American society, particularly in New York and at Newport, fast, furious, and vulgar". But lest she be accused of betraying Old Glory and the principles of the Revolution she adds that, "It is in no way derogatory to a new country like our own if on some minor points of etiquette we presume to differ from the old world. We must fit our garments to the climate, our manner to our fortunes and to our daily lives". George Washington is an elegant model for all to follow: "We must return to one immortal figure, who stands complacently for us to admire and follow after at a respectful distance". Far be it from us to speak disrespectfully of the immortal George Washington, but present-day American historians have shown that Washington was far from being an exemplar of virtue, even of the social graces.

❖ ❖ ❖

IN her preface to the 1900 edition Mrs. Sherwood takes pleasure in stating that "American men are naturally chivalrous towards women. The mother does not require to tell her boy to take off his hat to a lady. It has been off, from the ragged cap to the serenely, brushed beaver, ever since he was five years old, and it will stay off until he is a hundred—this fine creature, the American man, always has his hat off to women". It would be sacrilegious to comment on this beautiful statement, though it does lead to interesting deductions about American women. I can say that the author's attitude seems to have altered slightly from 1885 when she wrote Chapter 2. She observes that in Europe men of low degree always take off their hats when in the vicinity of ladies, and do not do so in America. Perhaps she believes that no native-born American is of low degree that servants must all be foreigners. This taking off of caps is "always done in the Old World and this respectful air adds infinitely to the pleasures of foreign travel".

I HAVE deliberately deviated from the topic of calling-cards because other manners and social usages described by my authority on these matters are far more entertaining and present usage shows that it is not only the custom of cards that have changed in one generation. There is now a telephone, and near it on the hall table is the tray that once received the calling-cards. It is now used as an ash tray by the ladies making their calls by phone. (When did cigarette smoking by ladies become pardonable in Peterborough?)

There are two passages in the book which I cannot forbear quoting here. The first reveals that even in 1900, ladies had domestic help problems. "And that one word 'servant'! Aye, there's the rub! The labour strikes, the unending conflict—that is to be the problem for this otherwise enviable woman (of 1900, the new century). She has got to study and learn how to combat and conquer this problem, greatest in any century since Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette went down under it". The ladies do not seem to have solved the problem in the half-century since 1900. The author's remarkable outburst about servants ends with this most unusual definition of the French Revolution: "For what was the French Revolution but an immense strike?"

The second passage I must quote refers to the conduct of unmarried young ladies. The author deplores the increasing tendency of American girls to dispense with chaperons. She relates this:

"A young Frenchman who visited America a few years ago formed the worst judgement of American women because he met one alone at an artist's studio. He misinterpreted the profoundly sacred and corrective influences of art. It had not occurred to the lady that if she went to see a picture she would be suspected of wishing to see the artist. Still, the fact that such a mistake could be made should render ladies careful of even the appearance of evil". As Cicero has said, O tempora, O mores!

RIDING IT OUT

Letter To The Editor

THE SOUTH END NEEDS A COMMUNITY BUILDING

Sir: I read with interest a reference to a branch fire station in the south end of the city.

This matter is not new. It will be recalled that twenty-six years ago, former Chief Gimblett recommended in his first annual report to the Council, that a sub-station be erected in the south end of the city. This recommendation was made consistently through the years but nothing was done.

If the need existed then, it is more so now because of the industrial and residential expansion which is taking place south of Lansdowne street. This, I believe, will continue, and the need for other services is becoming more evident and should not be too long delayed.

I have stated on more than one occasion that what, in my opinion, is needed in this rapidly expanding part of our city, is a community building, in which provision would be made for a fire hall, a police station, a library, and a hall suitable for meetings, concerts, and amateur theatricals, etc.

There are at present in the area above referred to four schools, four factories, and there will be others, and present prospects are that there will be four churches. In addition there are hundreds of residences, and here again there will be more. I know no part of the city where there is such orderly development going on as in the area under consideration, and I feel very strongly that a community building, such as I am suggesting, would be a valuable asset to the community. I think the people in the area are entitled to this consideration.

I do not see any wisdom in the erection of a temporary building when the need for something permanent is so evident.

With regard to fire-protection, it is said it would not take long to reach the scene of a fire in any part of the city. That is true, but it is the first few minutes that count, and if there was a serious block in traffic such as is liable to happen at any of the numerous railway crossings, which have to be crossed south of Charlotte St., the results could be very disastrous. To the extreme south end of the city's borders from the fire-hall is approximately three and one-half miles, and in speaking of fire-protection, that is something that should receive careful and serious consideration.

Regarding the library, I believe this to be a service that should be made easily available to the people. Recently, a mobile library visited the city, and I believe that there was a suggestion that this might demonstrate the places where people might want to go for their books. To my mind, the mobile library is not the answer to the problem. I do not see why people should have to walk or even ride long distances in order to get books. I think the nearer this service is to the people, the more it will be used. We should do everything we can in order to encourage people to read good books and to avail themselves of all that is best in literature.

Police protection will become more necessary as further developments take place, and as time goes on. The community hall would serve many purposes. It would provide accommodation where people could meet to discuss matters of vital interest, for entertainment, and for the development of a community spirit and for the cultivation of civic pride, which, I think, will pay big dividends in the resulting happiness of the people.

A site should be chosen which will lend itself to suitable landscaping and I would suggest that the building does not need to be too elaborate architecturally.

I think I can hear some people saying that a project, such as I have tried to outline, will cost money. With this I agree, but I think the more important fact is that here is something that will contribute much to the happiness and contentment of the men and women of today and to the boys and girls who will be the citizens of tomorrow.

Yours sincerely,
JAMES DUTTON.

A Bible Message

(From the King James Version)

Then he called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases. And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick....

And they departed, and went through the towns, preaching the gospel, and healing every where. (Luke 9: 1, 2, 6.)

After these things the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come.... And the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through thy name.

And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you. Luke 10: 1, 17-19.)

❖ ❖ ❖

And there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked: the same heard Paul speak: who stedfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed, said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked. (Acts 14: 8-10.)

Millbrook Girl To Train As United Church Deaconess

MILLBROOK, une 25—(ENS)—At the June meeting of the Golden Links Mission Circle, held Tuesday evening with Mr. Gordon Powell as hostess, was the presentation of a life membership certificate to Miss Margaret Smith, who in September begins training as a deaconness at the United Church Training School in Toronto. Miss Smith has been active in the Sunday School, as a teacher, as president of the Young People's Union, as a Presbytery and Conference officer in the YPU, and in the Mission Band and Mission Circle. During the summer vacation, she will be on the teaching staff of one or two camps for young folk, entering the Training School by the middle of September.

In an informal address Miss E. L. Hetherington spoke of the appreciation felt for her services, and the satisfaction in having a local girl taking this forward step in practical Christian work. The life membership certificate is to assure Margaret that the circle will be behind her with interest and prayers as her career is followed.

The rain made it impossible to have a sunset service out of doors as planned, but the topic, "For the beauty of the Earth" was followed in the worship service taken by Mrs. Lawrence Winslow, with Mrs. B. E. Ingham assisting. The president, Mrs. M. E. Hobbs, reported a letter received from Miss Bessie Banfill, missionary speaker at the May meeting, and another from Miss Jean Stewart, missionar yin China, telling of the latter's return to her field, and the pleasure in hearing of the used Christmas cards which the circle has mailed to her. Further pictures will shortly be sent. Mrs. D. L. Lunn took the topic on the beauty of nature, and Mrs. Hobbs also brought an inspiring message on God's handiwork all around us.

Mrs. Ingham will represent the circle at the Presbyterial executive meeting in Peterborough on Friday evening, and Miss lGadys Williamson was appointed delegate to the leadership training school, at the O.L.C., Whitby, in August, with Mrs. Lunn as the alternate. The offering was $3.70, reported by the secretary, Miss Betty Lunn, with $34 in the treasury to be remitted to the Presbyterial treasurer this month. The next meeting will be in September. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Homer Ouellette, who gave the temperance message, Mrs. Lunn, and Mrs. Powell, the hot dogs and coffee which were to have served round a big bonfire out of doors, making an attractive supper indoors during the social hour. Mrs. Ken Pinnington, literature secretary, gave out the missionary reading for the holiday months.

Havelock Principal Honored At Tea Dance

HAVELOCK, June 25 (ENS)—The present and former pupils of Public School Principal W. M. Patterson honored hi mwith a tea dance held in the school on Tuesday from 4.30 p.m. to 8 p.m., prior to his departure for Peterborough where he has joined the teaching staff of the King Edward School.

Mr. Patterson was presented with a beautiful trilight floor lamp and the address was read by Miss Beverley Bennett. Robert J. Hill presented the gift. Mr. Patterson's daughter Linda, 2 years old, was presented with a well filled piggy bank by Miss Shirley Holdcroft.

Those present were: Joan Graham, Elaine Graham, Shirley Seabrooks, Gloria Seabrooks, Shirley Anderson, Georgina Hubble, Harvey McNeely, Joan Taylor, Edith Thompson, Eleanor Scott, Philip Chevalier, Lois Wilde, Gordon Bales, Maxine Seabrook, Shirley Holdcroft, Michael McCabe, Muriel Forsyth, Grenville Woodbeck, Blanche Derrett, William Cosgrove, Jack Shotton, Robert J. On Wednesday afternoon the teaching staffs of the public and high schools held an "afternoon tea" for Mr. Patterson when he was presented with a billfold by Mr. Harold Hunter.

CHANGES ANNOUNCED — C. P. McTague, (left), chairman of the Ontario Securities Commission since 1945, who is retiring from that post to resume private practice. Oswald E. Lennox (right), new chairman of the Ontario Securities Commission, succeeds C. P. McTague to that post, according to announcement of Attorney-General Blackwell. Mr. Lennox, veteran of 20 years at Osgoode Hall, was a Master of the Supreme Court of Ontario, and had served as vice-chairman of the Securities Commission since 1947.

McTague Quits Commission

TORONTO, June 25.—Resignation of C. P. McTague as chairman of the Ontario Securities Commission was announced yesterday by Attorney-General Leslie Blackwell.

As a result of the resignation, which had been expected for some time, two other changes have been made. Oswald E. Lennox, vice-chairman, was named to succeed Mr. McTague and A. B. Marriott was added to the commission.

Mr. Marriott also takes over as a Master of the Supreme Court of Ontario, a position relinquished by Mr. Lennox.

In announcing the changes, Mr. Blackwell explained Mr. McTague undertook the chairmanship in 1945 on the definite understanding he would be unable to continue in this post beyond a limited period.

While acting as chairman of the commission Mr. McTague brought the Securities Act of 1945 under administration, reorganized the staff of the commission with registrars, accounting, legal and investigation branches.

As a result of the experience obtained a revised act was enacted in 1947 and the co-operation of the Investment Dealers Association, the stock exchange and the Brokers-Dealers Association was obtained to bring about a degree of self- policing and the maintenance of proper ethical standards in the securities business.

"During his period of office, Mr. McTague was able to settle with the stock exchange additional safeguards in relation to short-selling on the market," the attorney-general said. "As a result of his recommendations it is indicated that amendments will be obtained to the Criminal Code covering stock market manipulations."

Combines Lose To Knights In 8-4 Contest

Knights won from the R-E Combines in men's softball at the Bowl last night to move up into a tie with Legion and pull Combines back a step. It was a slow tussle with the losers not going well till their three-run drive in the ninth. They kicked in with seven miscues while Knights played good afield and reached Guilfoyle for 16 safe blows. Crowley turned in a fine twirling chore till he weakened in the ninth. Catcher Kumpf of Knights had to retire for repairs with a three-stitch cut in the hand during the fifth frame.

Several neat catches were pulled off, particularly those by O'Heron, Carpenter and Blewett, the latter being a dandy. "Spin" Spencer led the winners at the plate with three for four, one a double. O'Heron hit a homer and three singles in six tries, and Sullivan got three safeties in five trips. Reg. Leether was best for the losers with a triple and single in four as Borland got two for five, and Wyatt a homer.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Brampton "A" lacrossers play the Petes an exhizition at nine tonight in Miller Bowl, weather being okay. It should be a neat number between a good "A" club and the senior "B" champs, and a swell workout for the Creighton crew. They don't pick any soft touches—nor did they last season—and that's why they're in such good condition and play such sharp lacrosse. But they'll need to be in the pink before the playoffs roll around. The Oshawa writer thinks this group is a two-team race betwixt Peterborough and Oshawa, but we reckon Scarboro will make quite a dent in things, too, and mayhap the other clubs will also show all and sundry some stiff competition shortly. Anyway, the tilt tonight should draw well.

* * * * * *

The up-and-coming Oshawa Merchants play the Petes a COBL fixture at three tomorrow afternoon in Riverside. The Merchants are now in third spot just back of Batawa, whilst the Petes have skidded a bit in top place and are just in front of the Shoemen. Locals lost three of their last four frays, all close contests, and they've got to get in there and dig again if they want to keep ahead. Doug Loucks is almost sure to do the home hurling, while Tony Romaniski may get the mound call for the revamped Motor Citizens. We look for a fine ball game before a hefty crowd. There's a junior joust there that evening.

* * * * * *

About That Argument

Two weeks ago some surprising squabbles arose over an umpirical decision at a junior ball game in Riverside. A bad pitch hit the bat on a batsman's shoulders, bounced to the ground foul and finally dribbled over onto fair territory. The ump called it a fair ball and we agreed in this column with his call. Yet several local officials continued to argue for days, saying it was a foul ball. And we're told that even Reg. Fair, veteran Oshawa COBL umpire, said he always calls 'em foul if they land first in foul territory. We couldn't understand it, as the rule book distinctly says it is where the ball settles in the case of an infield ball. We figure Fair must have been calling 'em wrong for years in this respect.

* * * * * *

But to satisfy these several local critics, we wrote for a decision to Billy Evans. He is general manager of Detroit Tigers, was an American League umpire for 22 years, held various other big league positions and is author of "What's What in Baseball"—dealing with all rules and disputes. His answer was: "It is definitely a fair ball. A ball is fair or foul as to where it finally settles between home and first or home and third. This ball, although it first hit foul, finally settled in fair territory, which makes it a fair ball. You have seen a lot of balls that first struck in fair territory but later became foul balls. Likewise, a ball can first hit foul and later become fair as above stated." Which should settle the matter.

R-E Club And Club 72

An exhibition men's softball game in the Bowl at eight tomorrow night in aid of the rink fund. The R-E Combines will play Club 72, which is the Industrial Control team of the CGE. Its players include: Tom Walton for catching, Dalton and Reid as twirlers, Godfrey on first, Pagett at second, Harrison on short, Collins holding down the hot corner, with Playford, Livingston, Clifford and several more available for the garden. Johnny Russelle expects to have his regular City Loop team on hand, with Akers or Guilfoyle pitching.

* * * * * *

After Tuesday's tilts in the men's softball circuit, we said the field was spreading out. After last night's numbers, we'll have to admit they're bunching up again. Which is all to the good as far as the fans go. And quite a few saw 'em last eve, everyone staying when 'twas announced the Walcott-Louis fight was off. Comstock's beat Legion 8-2 to move into a top tie with the R-E chaps, while Knights took Combines 8-4 to climb up into a tie with Legion. So there you have two teams tied atop and two on the bottom, with but two games difference betwixt them! Can't beat that for a race, huh? You'd think they'd rehearsed it this season.

* * * * * *

Stingy With His Hits

In the first fray, it was too much Dave Wilson for the Legion. The veteran made his '48 debut with a four-hit job. His support was better, too, as Dalton gave but seven hits till he retired late. His fourth game in three nights. Greenlaw finished well, as he usually does. Harrison and Jaquith led the hitters. In the other go, Crowley threw fine ball till the ninth when the Combines threatened, and he had good backing as the R-E crew looked sloppy. Spencer, O'Heron and Sullivan were the big K. of C. hitters with Leether and Borland best for the losers. Kumpf hurt his hand and had to get three stitches, with Garvey taking his place.

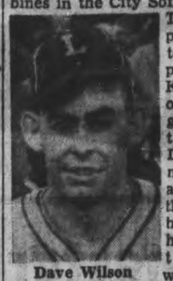
Comstock's Get Neat Win Against Legion

Comstock's defeated Legion 8-2 at the Bowl last night to climb into a first-place tie with Combines in the City Softball League.



Dave Wilson

The loss dropped Legion into a bottom-place tie with K of C, but only two games back of the leaders. Dave Wilson made his first appearance of the season and hurled four-hit ball for the winners while fanning eight. His support was better than that accorded Dalton, who gave seven and fanned seven, before giving way to Greenlaw in the seventh. Legion were loose afield.

It was a snappy struggle and the winners were better defensively, a double-play and a catch by Griffin featuring. Jaquith led them at bat with two for five, while Harrison topped the losers easily with two for four, one a triple and the other a two-bagger. The game lasted little over an hour and there was no beefing of any account at the umpires for a change.

Fear Weather Will Delay Louis-Walcott Bout Again

NEW YORK, June 25.—(CP).—Predicted late afternoon and evening showers today threatened a third postponment of the world heavyweight boxing championship between champion Joe Louis and challenger Jersey Joe Walcott.

The two veteran fighting men are scheduled to try again in Yankee Stadium tonight at 10 u.m. EDT.

The forecast for Saturday is fair and cool. The 15-round bout will be shifted to then if conditions dont' permit it tonight.

The sponsoring Twentieth Century Sporting Club has through Monday to get the business out of the way. New York's Yankees come home Tuesday. Prize-fighting is against the law in New York state on Sunday.

Both fighters were in their dressing rooms last night when the area was struck by the full force of a thunder storm.

The storm hit shortly before 8 p.m. EDT and the fight was called off at 8.25 p.m. At the time there were some 4,400 paid customers, thoroughly soaked, inside the stadium.

Louis returned to Pompton Lakes, N.J. He said he would get up at 7 a.m. today, take a hike and then motor into New York in the afternoon.

Walcott remained in the city. He planned some limbering up exercises at his mid-town hotel.

The promoters said they expected the gate to be boosted rather than hurt by the interruptions. They reported $850,000 already in the till with receipts certain to go over $900,000.

The champion appeared glum but he took the postponement philosophically. "I don't think it will bother me any more than it does him," he said.

Bob Feller Way Off Form As Yankees Whip Him 4-0

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Are Cleveland Indians ready to be scalped?

Manager Lou Boudreau's American League pace-setters have lost their first crucial series of the year and Bob Feller shows no signs of returning to form.

These two factors have cast a cloud over a one rosy outlook. Now only 1½ games separate the Indians from the pursuing world champion New York Yankees who thrashed Feller 4-0 yesterday.

Cleveland now has lost eight out of its last 12 starts, while the Yanks have done the reverse.

Feller allowed the Yanks only five hits yesterday, but three of them were home runs. The loss was Rapid Robert's eighth against only six victories.

George McQuinn, Johnny Lindell and Joe DiMaggio rifled Feller pitches out of the park. DiMaggio's blow was his 17th to tie him with Cleveland's Ken Keltner for the circuit lead.

Vic Raschi gave up six hits to post his ninth straight triumph and fourth shutout.

Nose Out Browns

Philadelphia's third-place Athletics pulled to within two games of the Indians by nosing out St. Louis Browns 6-5 in a night game at St. Louis.

Starter Phil Marchildon of Penetanguishene, allowed only one hit in 4 2-3 innings he worked, but he experienced terrific spells of wildness walking 10 and throwing two wild pitches. Relielfer Bob Savage received credit for the victory.

The up-and-coming Boston Red Sox divided a double-header with Chicago White Sox, winning the second game 8-5 after Bill Wight pitched the White Sox to a 3-1 victory in the opeenr.

Ted Williams smashed his 14th and 15th homers of the year and drove in four runs to spark the Red Sox's nightcap triumph.

St. Louis Cardinals stormed to within a half game of the first-place Boston Braves in the National League pennant race by trouncing them 11-2.

Brooklyn Dodgers dumped the Pittsburg Pirates twice 6-2 and 8-6. Jackie Robinson enjoyed one of his finest days of his career with seven hits including a grand slam homer which broke up the first game. He belted two doubles and two singles in the second. The twin setbacks dropped the Pirates from second to third place and moved the Dodgers from sixth to fifth.

At New York, Chicago Cubs and the Giants divided a twin bill, the Giants winning the first game 3-2 and the Cubs the second 11-2.

Royals Crush Orioles In 7-1 Conquest

By the Associated Press

Despite the loss of two of their best pitchers, Montreal Royals are continuing to play the best brand of ball in International League.

The Royals lost lefthander Paul Minner and righthander Hank Behrman via recall by the parent Brooklyn Dodgers this week leaving the brunt of the mound work up to Jack Banta and rookies Don Newcombe and Clarence Podbielan.

Newcombe gained his fifth victory of the season last night, pitching the Royals to a seven-hit 7-1 conquest of Baltimore Orioles.

The Royals combed Lyman Linde and Mike Mellis for 17 safeties including Al Gionfriddo's 13th homer of the season.

The triumph increased the Royals' first-place lead over the runner-up Newark Bears to two games. The Bears dropped a 7-5 decision to Rochester Red Wings.

Tied 4-4 going into the seventh, the Wings hammered relief pitcher Johnny Maldovan for three hits and as many runs to win the game.

Crush Chiefs

Toronto Maple Leafs crushed the third-place Syracuse Chiefs 9-6. Catcher Stan Lopata highlighted the Toronto victory by clouting a triple and three singles and driving in two runs. He also scored four runs and stole home.

Buffalo's home run-hitting Bisons divided a doubleheader with Jersey City Giants, winning the nightcap 12-6 after dropping the opener, 6-5.

Buddy Blattner slammed two homers including a two-run poke in the seventh inning that broke up the first game in favor of the Giants.

Coaker Triplett belted two round-trippers and drove in five runs for the Bisons in the second game. Johnny Bero and Anse Moore also hit circuit drives for the Bisons. Moore's clout was his 18th of the year.

2 Dark Horses Move In On Title

TORONTO, June 25.—(CP).—Two dark horses emerged from yesterday's first two rounds of match play for the Ontario amateur golf championship, which will be decided today and Saturday over the Rosedale Club's tricky par 70 layout.

Bruce Dorman of Hamilton Ancaster confounded the experts with a convincing 5 and 4 victory over Rod Phelan, who was third in the medal play Wednesday.

Phil Golding of Toronto Scarboro then came in with a 2 and 1 score over the veteran John Koval of Sarnia. The 19-year-old Golding had never before played in tournament match play.

Defending champion Rudy Horvath of Windsor made the locker-room boys feel better when he won his two matches

Movie Stars Hitting The Road Again

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 25 (AP). —Movie stars are hitting the road.

Filmsters are touring the country to get back in touch with the public and—oh, yes,—to make some money. Dan Dailey, latest to tour, wants to build a travelling unit of an orchestra and some vaudeville acts and he makes no bones about his idea behind it.

"I'll tour the big cities where the money is," he said on the "Chicken Every Sunday" set. "I figure 10 weeks on the road will earn me about $100,000."

Calamity Janes

Yvonne DeCarlo of Vancouver, is the latest to join the calamity Jane Sweepstakes. She is supposed to play the famed frontier gun gal in "The Story of Sam Bass," for which James Stewart is being courted.

Shirley Temple's mother, who did a wonderful job of rearing her famous tot, claims she has re-retired. But she often brings Shirley's lunch on the "Baltimore Escapade" and stays to renew memories.

Nina Foch found out it pays to be stubborn. Returning from her Broadway triumph, she found Columbia wanted to put her back in its B hive. She risked a suspension by refusing to do the cehap films. So she was given leads in pictures with Glenn Ford and William Holden.

Comstock's Carry Lacrosse Verdict

Comstock's defeated Legion 6 to 4 in a scheduled juvenile lacrosse fixture last night at Miller Bowl. Play was fast and clean with only two minor penalties handed out by Referee Doug Miller, Jr.

Comstock's superior passing and checking gave them the edge in play throughout most of the game, although Legion came back strong in the final quarter but just couldn't get their shots on the goal.

Hickson looked good in goal for Legion despite the defeat, with Levasseur and Foster dangerous on the attack. H. Russell, Dewar and Payne were probably the pick of the Comstock team.

Legion: Hickson, Crowley, Wakeford, Carravaggie, Mullin, Fontaine, Foster, O'Reilly, Levasseur, Burns, B. Burns, Fitzgerald, Reynolds.

Comstock's: H. Russell, C. Russell, Lagana, Dewar, Vincent, Carveth, Eason, Holland, Grant, Sedgwick, Payne.

Referee: Doug. Miller, Jr.

Future games—Juvenile: Doubleheader, Tuesday, June 29th, at Miller Bowl, first game commencing at 7 p.m.

Cote Good Bet To Capture Olympic Title

By W. R. WHEATLEY.

ST. HYACINTHE, Que., June 25 — (CP). — Over an asphalt surface highway out of St. Hyacinthe, Ger. Cote trots purposefully—22, 24, or 26 miles, three times a week.

That's the fundamental training regime of the little 135-pound runner who stands a good chance of bringing to Canada the Olympic Marathon title.

It's nothing new to Cote. For 14 years or so he has jogged along the same winding highway, preparing for the big Marathon events of this continent. He has won his share against the toughest kind of competition.

Coming back from a hot day's grind—11 miles out and 11 back—under a broiling sun, Cote didn't appear in the least tired. He was breathing easily as he walked to a shower room on the War Veterans' Hospital grounds where he is a corporal in charge of a special police detachment.

Watching his diet, with solid foods such as rice pudding, bananas, steak and milk predominating, Cote will not vary his training the slightest before flying to England the first week in July. He will be two weeks or so ahead of the full Canadian representation at the Olympic Games.

In England he will study and try out the Marathon course.

He may step up his tri-weekly running resume to four runs, depending on how he feels, at the Marathon distance of 26 miles 385 yards, or a couple of miles less.

In the last week before the Marathon Cote will take what he calls a rest. He will quit running but will walk 10 miles daily, two five-mile hikes with a few hours' interval.

Kawartha Golf News

By JERRY SEABROOK

The fine showers of rain we have enjoyed the last couple of evenings have put the old course back in shape for some golf this week-end. Upon checking over the various draw sheets it looks as if there will have to be some played this week-end.

There are seven more matches to be played in the Kawartha Cup, first round, five more in the President's Cup first round and four more in the Riley Cup first round, on or beore Sunday, June 27. Let's all see these matches completed come this Sunday eve.

Just two players have turned in club championship qualifying rounds thus far. Don't forget that all the rounds must be in by July 4. Better get in there and take the plunge real soon, you low handicap lads.

Men's two ball first round must be played by July 4 also. This is a big competition so a lot of golf has to be played to finish it by the fourth. Better hop on the phone, boys, and arrange a few matches for this week-end.

Leo Ackford figures that he could use a few more names on the Midland League list for the trip to Oshawa this Saturday. They claim the course down in the Motor city is in swell shape at this time, and warrants a good turnout. This is a good chance for you golfers to journey forth and play on the district courses. You will meet a grand gang of lads also.

Leo also tells me the men's senior competition is sorta bogged down at this time. He has 15 names and he requires one more to make it an even round. If any of you boys are coming of age (50 and over) for this competition, in the very near future, or you have already reached that bracket and you would like to enroll, kindly contact him.

Haven't heard of any holes in one lately. Guess the boys must be in a slump.

REMEMBER WHEN—

By The Canadian Press.

Maxie Rosenbloom became undisputed light heavyweight boxing champion of the world 18 years ago today, winning a 15-round decision over Jimmy Slattery. The title was thrown into open competition when champion Johnny Loughran resigned undefeated in August, 1929. Slattery claimed the title by virtue of a win over Lou Scozza, but Rosenbloom's victory clinched the matter.

STAN MUSIAL of the St. Louis Cardinals is doing right well with that potent bat of his. He's up there, among the leading batters of both leagues, hitting well over the 300 mark.

Delay Hardest On Louis–Expert

(Editor's Note— A noted psychiatrist analyzing the championship fight give his views on what the postponement means).

By J. L. MORENO, M.D.

Copyright, 1948, by The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 25.—(AP). —Last night's rain drops dealt a harder psychological tattoo on Joe Louis' chin that Joe Walcott's.

For Louis is the type who would suffer more from the enforced postponement. Walcott's greater sense of humor would help him survive it.

Louis is a more sensitive person and more vain. He's more inclined to be annoyed and irritated than Walcott. Jersey Joe has had to develop a lot of patience in his lifetime, or else he wouldn't still be trying at his age to become the champion.

Fighters and fans alike are undergoing a feeling of anti-climax. It's like a hangover feeling without having had the alcohol. Physical and mental fatigue are the outcome.

Wheat Flour Down

OTTAWA, June 25.—(CP). — Production of wheat flour during May amounted to 1,726,281 barrels, much lower than the 2,610,806 barrels produced in May, 1947, and the next-to-lowest monthly figure during the current crop year, the Bureau of Statistics reported Thursday.

AS HIS WAR against Communists continues apace, so does the following of Charles De Gaulle continue to swell as is vividly portrayed in this photo taken when he spoke at Verdun during ceremonies marking the 32nd anniversary of the Battle of Verdun. Here, as far as the eye can see, crowds jam the street to hear the general (arms outstretched on the speaker's stand). The program was disrupted for several minutes however, when some air raid sirens were set going by persons believed to be Communists.

Livestock Slump In Toronto; Cattle On Hand

TORONTO, June 24 (CP). — This week's big slump on the Toronto Livestock Market left the thousands of cattle still milling around in the yards. Trading was barely able to take care of the daily receipts which trickled in. The market closed on Monday with almost 5,000 head of cattle unsold. The cattle run of 5,700 head was 1,100 more than for the same week last year.

Throughout the week trade remained slow as low grade cows, canners and cutters featured uneven buying. Tuesday saw a narrow outlet for better quality butcher cattle but at prices as much as $3 lower. On cattle generally prices were fully $2.50-$3 or more lower for the week.

Stocker cattle moved slowly at barely steady prices and too few were sold actually to establish a market. Included in the run were 1,800 stockers, 1,100 of which were Western. A large carryover of stockers and butcher cattle is anticipated.

A few better quality cattle sold at the following prices: Weighty steers $18-$21.85, butcher steers $16-$20. Heifers ranged from $15-$19.50, with an odd top at $20. The bulk of good cows sold at $13.50-$14.50, with a few light heifer cows selling up to $15.50. Canners and cutters sold from $6.50-$11, with comomn bulls selling downward to $10. Fed yearlings were $18-$21, with extreme tops at $22. Stockers sold at $13-$18, with the bulk of good animals at $16-$17.50.

Ordinary quality milkers and springers were $100-$160 each. A few grass cows sold from $9-$13.

Calves totalled 2,400 head. Choice vealers opened strong at $21.50-$23.50 cwt., but by midweek an easier feeling was noticed. Plain to medium calves sold slower near the close of the week at barely steady prices.

Hogs were 2,500 head and were strong throughout the week with prices advancing $1.25 a hundredweight, with Grade A selling at $31.75 and Grade B1 at $31.35. Sows advanced $2 to $23 dressed.

Sheep and lambs were 1,700 head. Good spring lambs averaging 85 pounds sold stady at $25 a hundredweight. Good light sheep sold steady at $9-$10, with good heavies slow at $6-$7. Cull sheep were $5-$6 hundredweight.

Norwood Builds 2 Houses For Swimmers

NORWOOD, June 25—(ENS)—The Norwood Board of Trade has announced that work on the erection of two bathing houses or dressing rooms at the "swimmin' hole" has started, and the preparation of a shallow pool for the smaller children. This work should be finished at an early date.

It is felt however, that for the sake of the safety of the children there must be supervision of the bathing and swimming, and there ought to be instruction also in swimming and life saving. Therefore a qualified swimming and life saving instructor is being engaged for the summer months at a cost of $100 per month. This instructor will be on duty for certain periods each morning, afternoon and evening, and provision will be made for instruction of all ages.

The Board of Trade is paying the full cost of the erection of two buildings and sponsoring the cost of the instructor.

It is felt that many parents and others interested in the welfare and safety of our children, would welcome the opporunity to share in the cost of providing supervision and instruction.

2 "I SOBBED out the story to Mary. She said 'B.O.' could happen to anybody and suggested I try Lifebuoy."

Box Car Crashes Through Wall; One Man Hurt.

Benson Hotts had a narrow escape from death at the CGE on Thursday, when a railroad engine pushing a string of box cars careened through stops at the end of a siding in the wire and cable building. Mr. Hotts was in the small washroom at the time which was at the end of the siding. The washroom was completely destroyed but he suffered only cuts and bruises.

The heavy box car pinned Mr. Hotts against the wall, and the car had to be pulled back to allow him his freedom. In spite of this near-brush with death, the workman was able to walk out of the washroom. He had several cuts on the head and hands, and was given prompt treatment at the plant surgery. Taken to hospital he remained in overnight, and is reported fine today.

The washrom was pulverized, and the box car not only went through the first wall but pushed out the back wall as well. It smashed the two welded steel stops marking the end of the track. A twist in the track which obscured the signal man is believed to have contributed to the accident.

The building damaged is on the south side of the property nearest Monaghan Road.

Spectators say they didn't miss the title bout at all.

More than 8,000 people are expected to attend the annual CGE employees' picnic to be held on Saturday at Nicholls Oval. Several new features have been planned, including a prize for the largest family present on the grounds and to the oldest couple attending.

There will be a bait-casting contest, mixed sack race, obstacle race, wheelbarrow race and egg and spoon race. A special feature will be a "ball race" for members of the Quarter Century Club only. There will also be a special race for pensioners.

A change has been made as regards the children's races. This years, employees will receive a ticket for each child eligible to enter the foot races. When the child enters the race in his age group, the ticket will be surrendered.

Bill Bennett is chairman of the entertainment committee of the Social and Athletic Association, which is organizing the picnic.

Local Firm Hires Plane For Aphid Battle; To Spray Fields From Air

Canning department of Canada Packers were expecting this morning a telephone announcement of the arrival of an airplane in Smith to dust the millions of aphids that infest the pea fields. The attack from the air was scheduled for last Monday, but weather has been on the side of the little green sucking insects.

"We expect to begin next week the canning of the early varieties," Joseph McGuire of the canning department told the Examiner today. "They were far advanced in pod for any serious insect harm, but the later variety needs some help. That is why the company has decided to try dusting by airplane."

The heavy rain Tuesday night apparently didn't dislodge or discourage many of the aphids, a dubious aid at best. Some gardeners have often tried to blow them off plants, including rose bushes, with the force of lawn hose. It takes nicotine treatment to fix them. They are soft bodies, tiny things that feed in clusters on the leaves and tender new growth of a great variety of plants. They are usually green, but they may be yellow, brown, pink or almost white. Gardeners know the entire family.

W. G. Matthewman of the division of entomology, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, says they should be sprayed or dusted with a contact insecticide containing nicotyne, pyrethrum or rotonone.

Calcium arsenate and other stomach poisons are ineffective against these insects. One of the best sprays, in home garden practice, may be prepared by dissolving two level tablespoonfuls of soap flakes in a gallon of water and adding two teaspoonfuls of nicotine sulphate to the mixture. Contact insecticide must actually hit the insects to give good results. Spray should be applied on both sides of leaves, preferably on a warm day in the early afternoon.

CPC spraying will begin in the neighborhood of Milburn's on the Chemong Road. The landing field will be the centre of operations for the pea fields of CPC contract connection.

Poor Response At Meeting Of Arena Group

Only 27 people, other than members of the Civic Arena Committee, attended the organization meeting of the final city-wide canvass in aid of the secondary rink.

Dick Ouimet, chairman, briefly explained the organization of the canvass, which is based on the polling divisions. There will be two "captains" to each division and each captain will pick four or five other people to help him in the three-day drive which will begin Monday.

Due to the small attendance, it was decided that a meeting of all taking part is to be held on Monday evening at the Market Hall prior to the start of the canvass, which it is hoped will raise at least $25,000. The committee has raised to date nearly $12,000 and the cost of the rink will be not more than $35,000.

CGE Union Workers Reject 4-Cent Offer; Favor Strike

More than a thousand GE workers crowded into the Market Hall Friday night to register a strike vote of 991 to 58. By this vote they turned down the company offer of four cents an hour and indicated their willingness for the Joint Negotiating Committee to press for 20 cents an hour and other union demands when that body resumes negotiations with the company in Toronto on Monday.

C. R. Sullivan, secretary of the Joint GE-UE Conference Board, which includes all the organized GE plants in the Toronto and Peterborough district, said, "during two months of negotiations the GE hasn't made any offers acceptable to the union."

Mervin Chambers, president of Local 524, in a statement pointed out that the 20-cent boost was not sufficient in itself: there must be "proper contract provisions." He thought the company might make up for the wage concession by retiming jobs and reducing hours of work.

Main speaker at the Thursday night meeting was C. S. Jackson, district president of the United Electrical Workers (CIO). Mr. Chambers and Mr. Sullivan also addressed the giant rally of workers.

Breakdown of strike votes in the five GE plants—pro, con, and total membership — Davenport, 935, 57 and 1,200; Royce, 230, 9 and 350; Ward, 306, 93 and 500; Carboloy Works, 29, 2 and 35; Peterborough, 991, 58 and 3,500.

All Plants Vote

TORONTO, June 25 — (CP). — Members of the United Electrical Workers Union (CIO) at the four Toronto plants of the Canadian General Electric Company Thursday voted to strike rather than accept the company offer of a four-cent-an-hour wage boost.

A similar decision was reached in a strike vote held at the Peterborough plant Thursday. It is estimated the vote affects some 5,000 workers at the five plants.

Decision on setting a deadline for a walk-out of General Electric employees will depend on the results of further union-company discussions, scheduled to recommence here Monday.

Additional grievances of the union are: refusal of the company to consider welfare and pension plans proposed by the union, revision of seniority and grievance procedure in the present contract, and amendments to the union security clause.

LONG WEEK-END
A few of the larger Toronto store are closing Wednesday night June 30, and will not re-open until Monday, July 4. This long holiday is brought about because July 1 falls on a Thursday, and in the summer most of the large department stores do not open on Saturdays anyway.

New Airmail Plan

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP)—The government's new "allup" airmail service will be extended to points on feeder air lines now carrying mail, Postmaster-General Bertrand said in the Commons today.

Under the plan effective July 1, letters weighing an ounce or less will move by air at regular rates when this expedites delivery. The bulk of the traffic will be carried by Trans-Caada Air Lines.

Kawartha Program Delights 20 US Editors On Tour

Twenty editors of United States weekly newspapers, ambassadors of goodwill, touring Ontario as guests of the Ontario Department of Travel and Publicity, enjoyed the hospitality of Peterborough and the beauty of the Kawarthas on Thursday.

South Beach Hotel, nestling on the shore of Clear Lake in the shade of huge oaks, made a perfect setting for the visit, and a cleverly-arranged program of entertainment, the best they had seen on the tour, topped off the outing. Jim Fraser of Chamber of Commerce managed all arrangements.

According to several of the editors, Peterborough stole the show, when 16 members of the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club put on a sparkling display of rhythmic and synchronized swimming. The girls looked snappy in their brilliant bathing suits, and colored plastic trimmings required for some of the acts.

Included in the routine were Bubble Dance, and a medley of formations, including the ladder, fan float, pinwheel, float and swirling raft. Iris Forbes Rielly and Jean Millard, US indoor national junior champions in duet synchronized swimming performed "Humoresque," the act that won the laurels. The wind-up was an Egyptian medley by nine girls. Mrs. Pansy Forbes and Cook Munro were in charge.

Ken McCanan, Max Rishor, J. M. Paris, W. H. Hamilton and Jack Gillespie provided speedboats which took the visitors on a fast spin several miles up Stony Lake. Later Albert Vass gave a demonstration of water skiing, behind Ken McCannan's cruiser.

Wilson Gemmell, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mayor W. G. Ovens officially welcomed the guests on their arrival in a bus at South Beach, and a buffet luncheon served by 15 of the swimmers in street attire. Other local people who attended the reception were J. E. Girven, Ross Dobbin, W. H. Hamilton, J. E. Weir, Jim Dorris and Clarence Neal, all of the Chamber of Commerce; Paige Rowell of the Sales and Ad Club, Aldermen Swanston and Anglesey accompanied Mayor Ovens, and E. A. Outram, city clerk, was on hand, and took over when the editors were taken on a tour of the city.

Pete McGillen, city editor of The Examiner, was master of ceremonies on the lawn, and after a five-minute talk on the holiday facilities and the fishing, he regaled the visitors with some of his tall outdoor stories, with a few humorous references to the Republican party's difficulties.

Editors were generous in their praise of the resorts and the beauty of the lake chain, and the city and suburban area. They made special references to the attractiveness of Canadian prices, which are considerably below those prevailing in the States.

Government officials accompanying the visitors were George McLean, director, Information Branch, Dept. of Travel and Publicity, Clint Melville and Ted Johnston, photographers, E. N. Murray, Dept. of Highways, George James, editor of he Canadian Statesman, Bowmanville and Geo. Lake, editor of the Porcupine Advance, Timmins, accompanied the group representing the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association.

The editors were from Illinois, Indiana, Massachusetts, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

As souvenirs, each editor was given a Lucky Strike fishing plug, and a copy of the Canadian Vacation Guide pnublished by The Peterborough Examiner.

Four Couples Wed More Than 50 Years Given Gifts At Quarter Century Party

Quarter Century Club of Canada Packers received a new member, Al Heckman, at their fourth annual dinner Thursday evening at the Empress Hotel. More than twenty years ago as the young and clever pitcher of the Peterborough baseball team, Mr. Heckman used to be much in the public eye and his name in the columns of the Examiner.

The CPC Club has now a membership of 43. They were accompanied by their wives last night, each of whom was presented with a corsage bouquet of roses. It transpired that four couples have been married fifty years or more. They are: Mr. and Mrs. George Dryland, 58 years; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Murduff, 53 years; Mr. and Mrs. Albert LeFave, 52 years; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ranger, 50 years.

During the after-dinner program they were each presented with a cheque for $25. Fred Hall, president of the club, was chairman. A floor show by Peterborough and Toronto talent was enjoyed by the Club company of 80 men and women.

A Little Different

LONDON, Ont., June 25.—(CP)—Half of 74-year-old Steven Waters of nearby Mt. Brydges, is liable to perspire any day now if the weather continues hot. "Dont' ask me why it is, I've been to doctors all over the place, but none of them can do anything about it," said the twinkle-eyed farmer. "Ever since I can remember I've perspired only on one side of me."

Handle 700,000

OTTAWA, June 25.—(CP). — More than 700,000 persons passed through the National Employment Service last year, Labor Minister Mitchell said in the Commons Thursday night during study of his departmental estimates. He was replying to J. M. Macdonnell (PC-Muskoka-Ontario), who said the $18,464,000 being voted for this service was "an awful lot of money."

Senate Ratifies Wheat Pact In Long Debate

OTTAWA, June 24. (CP)—The Senate passed eight bills and one abreast of the Commons in the resolution today, keeping almost drive to complete parliament's business this week.

The resolution, ratifying the proposed international wheat agreement, was approved after heated debate on the pact's chances for success.

Senator Wishart Robertson, government leader, took to task senators who criticized the agreement without offering "something better" as an alternative. But he, too, was chided for remarks which Senator Iva Fallis (PC-Ontario) said sounded like excerpts from an election campaign speech.

Given third reading were bills which:

1. Repeal the pre-Confederation Lord's Day Act of Ontario.
2. Set new interest rates on overdue income taxes.
3. Make certain changes in the Criminal Code.
4. Give the Manitoba government a free hand in its plans to set up a provincial hydro-electric organization.
5. Amend the Customs Act.
6. Extend the life of the Agricultural Prices Support Board for an indefinite period.
7. Return to university officers training corps funds they raised during the war.
8. Provide pensions for dependents of certain civilians killed during the war.

Revise Tax Administration

The Senate also gave second reading to a government bill revising income tax administration. It was referred to committee for detailed study, starting tonight.

In the wheat debate, Senator T. A. Crerar (L-Manitoba) predicted the agreement will never go into effect. It probably would be "about as successful as the fabled pursuit of the Holy Grail, which I understand is still going on."

Canada had no guarantee that the 33 consumer-nations would live up to their undertaking to buy specified amounts of wheat. Nations would buy wherever wheat was cheapest.

Senator W. Rupert Davies (L-Ontario) asked what Senator Crerar would suggest as an alternative to the agreement.

Forest Travel Permits Needed

KIRKLAND LAKE, June 25—(CP— General forest travel restrictions in northern Ontario will be lifted only when an order-in-council sanctioning such a move is issued, Col. F. J. Dawson, district forester for the Department of Lands and Forests, today informed the Canadian Press.

Because of fire hazards, forest travel is permissible by permit only and permit issuance, Col. Foster said, is being held to essential minimums.

A further restriction is probable, Col. Foster said, "due to three fires in Benoit township and one in Boston township which I attribute directly to the carelessness of fishermen and the setting of fires by settlers without official permission."

These new fires are being investigated, Col. Foster is issuing a stern warning to all residents and settlers that no fires must be set without the full knowledge and permission of the department.

Republicans and Democrats Promise Voters Everything

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

PHILADELPHIA, June 24 (CP) —Republicans have promised the people everything good that human hearts could desire, apparently unconcerned over the fact that come next Nov. 2 they may be called upon to deliver the goods.

These promises are contained in the platform adopted without a murmur at the national convention this week and in the ortatory that has echoed through convention hall all week.

Nobody got up in the convention hall to reminder the Republican orators and platform authors that they have held control over Congress since January, 1947.

In that period the party could have enacted every measure they now are promising the people for their welfare, security and social and economic betterment.

But the Democrats, who come here next July 12 to put on the same kind of a show — and probably nominate President Harry Truman as their candidate — will have that kind of criticism.

Then the Democrats will adopt the same kind of a platform — sweetness and honesty, fair dealing with all classes and colors, security from the cradle to the grave — and the Republican criticism will start.

See-Saw Game

Democrats were in power, in full control of Congress and administration, for about 14 years. Why didn't they deliver the goods in that period? The Republican will ask.

Probably President Truman would be willing to say that he would approve legislative enactment of every plank in the Republican platform as adopted this week.

But Congress has adjourned until the end of the year, leaving a great mass of legislative proposals, much of it approved in the platform, until the 81st Congress convenes in January.

The rest of the year, until Nov. 2, will be for campaigning, not legislating. And after the elections the winning party will run the country the best way it can with an eye to the next elections and satisfying the most while disappointing the fewest.

That is politics as it operates in this country, pretty much as it operates in Canada and, perhaps, the best system in the world.

COMPLETE WITH UNIFORM and sword, this youngster heads a platoon of boys. They belong to the Razakars, a private army of a Hyderabad political party. The parade was on the birthday of the Nizam of Hyderabad, reputedly the world's richest man. Relations between Hyderabad and the Dominion of India are strained because of the princely state's reported refusal to join the Dominion, although its population is predominantly Hindu and it is completely surrounded by Indian states.

Chapter Tea Held Indoors At Home of Mrs. F. D. Kerr

Flags along the garden paths at the home of Mrs. F. D. Kerr, Rubidge St. marked the way to a warm welcome from Otonabee Chapter, IODE, members who were entertaining at tea Thursday afternoon. A lawn party had been planned but cloudy skies and intense humidity were such a threatening combination that the event was moved indoors. There was little regret at the change, however, for the large airy rooms offered a haven to relax and forget the heat of downtown.

Antique - lovers feasted their eyes on some fine and rare pieces of furniture, china and pottery which Mrs. Kerr has collected to her childhood home. For their adorn the house which was also further enjoyment there was a program of some delightful songs contributed by Mrs. Laurie Mitchell and Mrs. D. Campanaro. Beautiful tones from the old-style square piano, brought out by Mrs. H. V. Dobson, accompanied the soloists.

Exquisite roses in full bloom, that were unmistakably home-grown with care, filled the crystal bowl centering the walnut tea table. Mrs. Kerr is particularly proud of her roses and certainly no finer specimens could be found. She had combined several of pure white with deep pink and red. Silver trays and tea things were laid out for use by Mrs. J. Arthur Robinson, Mrs. R. R. Hall, Mrs. Bert Jackson and Mrs. Andrew Jacks. The tea and refreshments were served to guests by Mrs. D. W. Clark, Mrs. H. Jamison, Mrs. D. E. Bell, Mrs. F. Gray and Mrs. B. McLean Mrs. W A. Burrell and Mrs. C. Sherwood, conveners, replenished the plates.

DOROTHY DIX

Danger Found in Jealousy Of Husband's In-Laws

DEAR MISS DIX: How can I cure myself of jealousy? I am going to be married to a fine man I am just consumed with jealousy of his work, his mother, even his sister and brothers. We are going to live with his people and I would like to feel right toward them if I can.

ELEANORA V.

ANSWER: The only cure for jealousy is common sense, and that is a remedy few jealous people carry in stock.

Dorothy Dix

You must reason with yourself and realize that the effection a man has for his mother and his sisters and brothers is not the same kind of love that he has for his wife, that the two emotions do not in any way conflict with each other. You also must remember a man's family are very close to him and that he would be a monster of ingratitude if he did not appreciate the years and years of loving service they have given him. You must recognize that they have a thousand memories and associations of which you could not possibly know, and that they will enjoy being together and talking things over.

Use Common Sense

If you use common sense, you will understand that all of this does not mitigate against you in any way, and that, in fact, the better son he is, the better husband he will be to you. Conquer your jealousy, or you will get green-eyed every time he shows a member of his family any attention, and every time any member of his family talk with him you will imagine you are being criticized.

Same way about business. If you use common sense, you will know that the main reason husband-to-be is interested in his business and why he works so hard and sticks to it so closely is because he is trying to make it succeed so that he can give you more luxuries, but if you continue to be insanely jealous, you will go on talking about his "old office" until the end of time, and trying to make him neglect his work for you.

Those people who cannot conquer should have a heart and stay single, because they ruin the lives of those who are unlucky enough to get them as husbands and wives. Don't go to live with your in-laws until you have weakness under control, because you will quarrel with them inside of a week if you don't and make them as well as yourself miserable.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am the mother of six children, four of whom are dead. I am a widow and for many, many years I have been supported by my daughter who works hard, and who has sacrificed her life to me. I have a son, who is married and well off financially, but he has never given me a penny, although he is one of the pillars of the church in the community in which he lives.

Is there some way that I can get my undutiful son to contribute to my support and lift some of the burden from my single daughter?

A WIDOW

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The law would compel your tight-fisted son to contribute to your support. The best way to do it is to take the matter up with a lawyer and have him threaten suit against your son to make him contribute to your maintenance. He evidently values his position in the community, and would not want to be disgraced by having it known that he refused to take care of the mother who bore him.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been going with a girl who wants me to marry her in the very near future and who is getting very impatient. After we are owned by her father, which she has just had remodeled and for which she has bought the furnishings.

I don't love this girl. She is neither intelligent nor attractive. The only reason I plan to marry her is because she can give me a home in the city, a thing I have always wanted. Also, she is an only child and will some day inherit a lot of money.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The man who sells himself to a woman makes the sorriest bargain that it is possible for a human being to make. For the woman who buys you will have a contempt for you that will make her treat you worse than any slave. Don't deceive yourself into thinking that you will have the run of her pocketbook. You will never have a nickel that you won't have to account to her for. Be a man. Make your own living and pick out your own wife.

Former Teacher Wed in Tilsonburg

NORWOOD, June 25 (ENS).—A recent wedding of interest here was of Miss Countess Leonore Twiss, to Joseph Stephen King, at the residence of the bride, North Broadway, Tilsonburg. The ceremony took place against a background of peonies, iris and orange blossoms, in the presence of the immediate relatives, solemnized by the Rev. L. E. Mason, of the First Baptist Church, assisted by the Rev. A. Carr, a former pastor.

The bride was attired in powder blue crepe with a corsage of pink roses, and stephanotis. Little Virginia Cloes was flower girl, dressed in white, with a veil and carrying a nosegay of pink roses and carnations. Master Bobby Eidt, ring bearer, carried a basket lined with white satin.

Music was played by Miss Catherine Carr; Mrs. L. E. Mason sang, "I'll Walk Beside You," after the ceremony. During the signing of the register Ross Watts played a violin selection, accompanied by his sister, Beth Watts.

A buffet lunch was served by friends of the bride, following the ceremony.

For travelling the bride chose a brown suit and matching accessories. After a trip to London, Windsor and Toledo, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. King will reside in Tilsonburg.

Mrs. King is a former teacher of the Norwood High School.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, June 26

A "Red Letter Day" is the augury, based upon planetary aspects that must be deemed not only breath-taking and sensational, but soul-stirring as well, since all departments of human living are in line for thrilling and deep-seated drama. A radical and quite unforeseen combination of openings, changes, unique experiences with probably a deep and sudden spading up of all that has gone before is forecast. Fresh fields of endeavor, new contacts, romantic adventure and keen excitement are in the offing.

Those whose birthday it is, are advised to "expect the unexpected." Such anticipation may mean sudden and unpredictable adventure that will stir the foundations of the life in all its aspects, engagements, commitments and aspirations. It might be as if the whole diagram of life could be redrawn and with lines of deep etching, meaning new reaches of endeavor.

A child born on this day is assured of a strange, unprecedented and unpredictable voyage through life, with change, excitement and high adventure shaping its gay and romantic destiny.

St. George's Guild Hold Lawn Social

A lawn social ,arranged by the Afternoon Guild of St. George's Anglican Church, proved a pleasingly successful function, in spite of threatening skies on Wednesday. Various booths were arranged on the church lawn, displaying goods for sale. Cold drinks were also dispensed and there was a fish-pond which never fails to attract those with a gambling instinct ,and all the children in the vicinity.

The Men's Club gave sponsorship to a draw for a rug, won by J. Douglas, 748 Long St. ,and for a pair of mats which went to Miss Howarth, 118 Lansdowne St.

A luncheon cloth, donated by Mrs. E. Huxley, was raffled, and Richard Crouter drew the winning ticket, purchased by Mrs. Clancy.

Mrs. Fred Dorrell, president and general convener, received the guests, assisted by Mrs. E. C. Moore. Mrs. W. Firth attended the refreshment booth, Mrs. W. Farr was in charge of fancy goods, Mrs. E. Cooke and Mrs. C. Robinson sold home baked goods, and the fish pond was in charge of Mrs. W. Blackburn and Mrs. C. Wilson.

The tea room convener was Mrs. A. Green, assisted by Mrs. R. Pilling, Mrs. W. Hawkins, Mrs. S. Parkes Jr., Mrs. A. Haworth, Mrs. R. Stroud and Mrs. I. Harris. Quartette tables were placed on the lawn and the plates served at these by Misses Germaine Laderach and Shirley Wood.

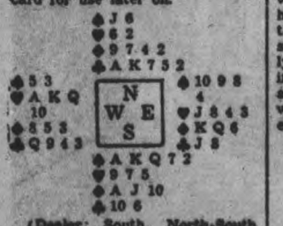
SALLY'S SALLIES

"If weak little me put that cover on, I don't see why a big strong man can't take it off."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

NO TIME TO RUFF HIGH

CONFRONTED with the problem of whether to ruff with a high trump or a low one, the answer often comes from card-reading. If your reckoning tells you that an opponent will be able to trump the trick too, then perhaps you should use a card higher than you expect him to hold. But if calculations show he is bound to have a card of the led suit, and must follow with it, then a small trump is not only good enough for the instant duty but serves as the means of saving your big card for use later on.



(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠

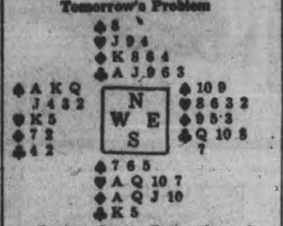
South considered his third bid of spades justified by the strength of his suit, though it made a sound as if he had a six-carder. He was willing, however, to have spades as trumps if North held two, as he did.

West led in rapid succession his heart K, Q and A, and South of course ruffed the third round in the dummy. He used the J so he could not later accuse himself of sending a boy on a man's errand in case East was able to over-ruff. In so doing, however, he sent a man on a boy's errand. Having to lose a diamond trick later, he could not afford the loss of a trump trick to East, which the profligate use of the J necessitated.

A player with the simplest of card-reading habits would have ruffed with the spade 6 and retained the J. There was no chance at all of East trumping that trick unless he had a doubleton, in which event West would have held a six-card suit headed by three tops. If West had possessed such a suit, he would surely have bid it over South's original call. Application of that logic and low ruffing of the third trick would have made the contract easy of fulfillment.

• • •

Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

If West had overcalled with 2-Spades, 3-Spades and 4-Spades and leads the K followed by the diamond 7, how should South seek his 5-Diamonds?

New Raises Granted U.S. Workers

Wage Boosts Affect Thousands Of People In Key Industries

CHICAGO, June 26.—(AP).—New pay raises for thousands of workers in some of the key industries of the United States—coal, steel, rubber and electric—were included in new agreements reached Friday between management and union officials.

Coal miners will have $1 a day additional in their pay envelopes begining July 1, whe the contract becomes effective. The pact between the operators and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, also calls for setting up a $100,000,000-a-year welfare and pension fund. The steel industry, which owns the so-called "captive" mines, did not sign the new contract because a spokesman for the steel firms said it violated the Taft-Hartley Act.

The producers who made the contract with Lewis mine 400,000,000 tons annually. Coal men estimated the new agreements will result in a boost in the cost of coal from 75 cents to $1 a ton.

Agree On Terms

In Pittsburg, the Aluminum Company of America and the United Steelworkers Union (CIO) agreed on terms providing pay boosts of 10 to 16 cents an hour for 18,000 CIO employees.

The Aluminum Company announced, after the settlement, it would increase its basic price for aluminum by one cent a pound.

B. F. Goodrich Company followed the lead of two other big rubber companies today and granted 11-cent hourly raises for workers in seven plants.

Similar settlements have been reached with Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company and Firestone Tire and Rubber Company.

It was estimated that the boost brought base hourly rates at Goodrich to about $1.63.

A wage boost of nine to 16 cents an hour was announced by Westinghouse Electric Corporation in Pittsburgh to 1,500 production and salaried workers who are members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL).

Separated In Nazi Camp DP Girl Welcomes Family

The shy feeling between Canadians and displaced persons meeting at a railway station for the first time was quickly dispelled Friday evening when the CPR passenger train rolled to a stop to detrain seven Polish women. There was a very excited pretty girl dancing on the platform, Seliva Paduk, who has been in Peterborough for several months. She dashed through the crowd to meet a middle-aged woman and an equally-pretty girl. It was a family reunion for the Paduk family after many months of separation.

The Paduk family had gone through the times of terror in Nazi concentration camps, the husband killed and, after the war was over, three years in an American displaced persons' camp in Germany. Seliva came to Peterborough at the first of the year with the first group of women to arrive and was overjoyed when it was leraned that her mother and sister Senta would be included in the second group destined for Peterborough. Seliva has learned many Canadian ways since her arrival and speaks very fair English and was a great help to executives of the National Employment Service who meet Friday's group for the first time.

The other five girls were Leonowicz Weronika, Edwardo Zacharko, Barbara Stachowiak, Mar-

THAMESVILLE, June 26 (CP) —Slugged by two men who escaped in a 1934 black coupe, a man, believed to be John Clancy, of Thamesville, was found lying beside a road early today badly beaten about the head.

Police early today did not know whether or not any money had been taken from the injured man, but a wide search by provincial police had been set into motion.

Extent of injuries to Clancy had not been determined, but Chief Constable Henry McFarlane said they were serious. The man was treated by Dr. Douglas Walker, and was being taken to hospital.

Chief McFarlane said he was notified of the incident by persons who said they saw Clancy attacked by two men who escaped in an automobile.

The injured man was unable to say what happened, nor was he able to tell police whether or not he had been robbed in the assault.

Demand Toronto Books Checked

TORONTO, June 26.—(CP).—The Toronto area emergency housing centres combined committees announced today they have sent a letter to Reconstruction Minister Howe demanding an investigation into the books of the city of Toronto Property Department.

This action has been taken in protest against a proposed increase in emergency housing rentals by the city. The increase is effective July 1.

Bud Corhrane, president of the Scarboro committee, said it was understood the matter was a Federal one since the Dominion government pays two-thirds of the cost of operation of emergency shelters. Mr. Cochrane said estimates of deficits on the housing projects by the city were "ridiculous."

He claimed that for value received, even the present rentals are excessive.

Consideration of Budget First South African Task

JOHANNESBURG, June 26. — (Reuters).—Consideration of the budget will be one of the first tasks of the new South African parliament when it assembles Aug. 6.

Its first meeting has been delayed until this date to enable Finance Minister N. C. Havenga to prepare a new draft of what the government considers essentia at this stage—a first popualr budget.

In his task, he will be helped by a surplus of more than £5,000,000 ($20,000,000) left by the United Party government.

The draft which Havenga's predecessor, F. C. Sturrock, intended to introduce in August is likely to be considerably changed, says the political correspondent of the Rand Daily Mail.

But Havenga is expected to implement the assurance given by the United Party government that old age and other pensions will be increased at a total cost of £2,500,000.

Other matters to be dealt with include a plan for the reimposition of import control, the Union's decreased gold reserves, and the urgent need to devote the country's limited dollar holdings to the acquisition of essential imports.

The concensus here is that the first session of the new parliament will be short, probaby only about 10 weeks to deal with legislation of immediate urgency.

Other business will probably include a bill, drawn up by the United Party government, for the control of the Union's uranium resources. Eric Louw, minister of mines and economic development, will have the task of piloting this through the assembly.

The government may also decide to proceed with a bill conferring double nationality on citizens of the commonwealth, similar to the proposals laid before the British parliament.

Shanghai In Midst Of Currency Collapse

SHANGHAI, June 26 —(AP)—Shanghai today was in the midst of a general collapse of currency values.

At one time, the Chinese yuan dropped to a new low of 5,000,000 to $1. The official rate is 474,000 to $1.

The collapse was blamed to civil war reverses and continued flooding of printing press money by the government, which can't come within 80 per cent of balancing its budget.

The price of rice climbed to a peak of 20,000,000 yuan per 165-pound picul from Friday's 17,000,000.

Canada Produces All Radium Needed Here

OTTAWA, June 26 — (CP) — Canada has a "unique" instrument of atomic research as well as a plant capable of producing radium for every medical, industrial and research requirement, parliament was told today.

The information was contained in the annual report of the Atomic Energy Control Board and in a statement of operations of the Eldoradio Mining and Refining Ltd., the Crown agency for operating Canada's only major functional uranium field.

Both were tabled in the Commons.

Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, president of the board, said an "intensive program of nuclear research" was going forward at the Chalk River, Ont., atomic pilot plant.

He said Canada, the United States and Britain have agreed upon the boundaries of atomic secrecy. The three countries "have collaborated in establishing rules governing the declassification of information."

The past year saw completion of Chalk River's radio-active pile and a good start made on research and the production of isotopes for "many purposes of medical and other research of far-reaching importance." The pile was described as "a unique and most complex structure."

NEW DELHI, June 26 — (AP). — A military spokesman said today the Indian Government has evidence that arms and ammunition are being smuggled by plane into Hyderabad, a princely state which has refused to accede to India. Some of the weapons are believed to be of Canadian manufacture, he said. Defence officials declared there was little India could do to intercept the night flying bombers carrying the arms.

Will Replace Mercer Dunbar Says

Segregate Tough Cases In New Institution; Plan Different Site

TORONTO, June 26—(CP).—A new reform institution will be established here to replace Mercer Women's Reformatory, scene of a riot Friday by 100 female prisoners, George Dunbar, Ontario Minister of Reform Institutions, announced today.

The new institution which will be established on a different site will provide for segregation of "tough" prisoners, he said.

Police, meanwhile, stood guard at the reformatory as plans went forward for an investigation into Friday's riot.

A. R. Virgin, director of reform institutions, announced the investigation. He said punishment of ringleaders would be withheld until the inquiry into the institution's first riot in 12 years was completed.

More than 70 policemen were called to subdue the screaming women, who swung chair legs and baseball bats and hurled crockery.

Officials said the trouble started after a 17-year-old girl, popular among the inmates, was placed in solitary confinement another girl. After breakfast the Thursday night for fighting with inmates staged a sit-down strike to back their demand for the girl's release from what they called "the dungeon."

Police were called to put the women back in the cells of the big west-end King St. west reformatory.

The women seized fire hoses and turned them on the police. Then they let go with heavy plates, cups and bowls. Most of the girls had a long-standing dislike for policemen and they scratched and bit the officers who led them back to the cell blocks.

One policeman had his thumb almost bitten off! He said that he was saved only when his assailant's false teeth failed.

On the other hand, some of the women were frankly glad to see men. A good-looking officer quoted a girl as saying to him:

'Oh, just let me hold your hand a minute. I haven't held a man's hand for so long."

$500 Reward For Firebug

LONDON, Ont., June 26. (CP) by one junk-yard operator for —A $500 reward has been offered "information leading to the arrest and conviction of the firebug" believed responsible for fires in three city junk-yards early last Sunday. Causing damage estimated conservatively at $17,000 the three fires broke out within a four-hour period and kept every available city fireman battling for six hours.

The reward has been offered by J. Harris and Sons, whose warehouse was destroyed. No insurance was held on the building. At the time of the fire, an official of the firm said the building was valued at $4,000 when built, and contained junk worth "a few hundred dollars."

City detectives and representative of the Ontario Fire Marshall's office for several days investigated the triple blaze, believing it was the work of an arsonist. One man was detained and questioned, but eventually released.

Memorial Service July 6 For Beurling

MONTREAL, June 26.—(CP).—A special memorial service in tribute to the late George (Buzz) Beurling will be held in a synagogue here Tuesday, July 6, it was announced Friday.

The service will be conducted by Sqdn. Ldr. Jacob Eisen of Toronto, former senior Jewish chaplain of the RCAF.

Food Workers Strike

ROME, June 26—(AP).—A country-wide Communist-directed food workers' strike began today. More than 250,000 men were called from their jobs by the General Confederation of Labor (GCIL), Italy's massive union, still under Communist control. There were no reports yet of the strike's effectiveness, but most if not all commercial stores and markets were still open. Presumably they will not be affected until their stocks run out.

Jews Acting To Counter Truce Violations

CAIRO, June 26.—(AP).—The Israeli government, given the United Nations green light to push a convoy through Egyptian resistance, says it has told its general staff to take "suitable" action.

Its announcement was made in Tel Aviv Friday night after a U.N. spokesman and Jewish leaders said the Egyptians early Friday stopped a Jewish convoy bound for Negeb Desert settlements in Southern Palestine and shot at a U.N. truce-mission plane.

Egyptian Prime Minister Mahmour Fahmy Nokrashy Pasha told correspondents in Cairo an Egyptian pilot fired on the U.N. aircraft because "he suspected it was an enemy plane."

Of the convoy stoppage, the premier declared, "the Egyptian government never thought this would be construed as a violation of the truce."

The Israeli government said its earlier reports that Egyptian Spitfiers had bombed the Jewish settlements of Beer Tuvya and Kefar Warburg Friday were erroneous.

Stop Supplies

Jewish army headquarters in Haifa said about the same time Jews had clashed with Arab units at El Birwa, inflicting 100 casualties. Fighting has been going on for two days in the village, seven miles east of Haifa. U.N. truce observers are investigating.

U.N. headquarters at Lake Success, N.Y., announced thta nine countries had reported steps to stop the flow of men and materials to Palestine. The countries are: Canada, the United States, China, India, Italy, Hungary, Greece, New Zealand and Switzerland.

Three American destroyers acting for the U.N. arrived off Haifa.

The Israeli government said Mrs. Golda Myerson has been appointed Israel's representative to the Soviet Union and Pavel Ivanovitch Yershov, now charge d'affaires in Turkey, will be Russian minister to Israeli.

The charges arose from a fight aboard the Kinmount early Thursday.

Charge Soviet Ruthlessly Creating Blockade Against Western Allies

US Begins Flying In Drugs And Food To Break Russ Encirclement; Hold Special Talks In London Over Crisis

BERLIN, June 26—(AP).—The Russians' land blockade of Berlin continued today, and Britain accused the Soviet Union of trying ruthlessly to create a state of siege. With the Western Powers in close consultation over their next step, the British Foreign Office said in a statement issued in London that the Soviet campaign, "by starving the helpless civilian population" of Berlin, seeks to gain political advantage at the expense of the West. The statement added:

"We intend to stay in Berlin."

This backed up an earlier statement by Gen. Lucius Clay, United States military governor, that no action short of war could drive the Americans from Berlin.

The Berlin blockade coincides with the western powers' currency reform, and efforts by Russia and the western powers to put their own brands of currency in circulation here.

As another angle of the western zones' current reform, Germans there were told they will get back one new deutsche mark for 10 old reichsmarks. This will be the conversion rate for an unspecified number of marks after 60 old marks have been traded in for deutsche marks on a one-for-one basis.

Story Untrue

The British statement on Berlin said:

"Attention has been called to a report in Taegliche Rundschau (official Soviet paper in Berlin) which presumes to define the attitude of His Majesty's government to recent events in Berlin.

"The report is completely untrue and is vary far from representing His Majesty's government's real attitude.

"The statement that we intend to stay in Berlin holds true.

"The opinion of the whole world will condemn this ruthless attempt of the Soviet government to create a state of siege in Berlin and so, by starving the helpless civilian popuiation, to secure political advantages at the expense of the other allied powers."

Deny CSL Ever Offered To Make Deal With TLC

MONTREAL, June 26 (CP) — J. A. Mathewson, legal counsel for Canada Steamship Lines, Friday termed "grossly misleading and absolutely false" a statement that the CSL had ever offered to deal with a Trades and Labor Congress committee.

J. W. Buckley, Congress secretary-treasurer, was quoted in an Otawa dispatch Thursday night as saying the CSL has refused to deal with a TLC committee named to negotiate on behalf of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) with whom several ship operators have refused to bargain.

The Congress overture to the company, Mr. Buckley said, had been made as the outcome of a conference in Ottawa this week between Labor Minister Mitchell and officers of the CSU and the Congress.

Mr. Buckley said in his statement Thursday night that, after the Ottawa confernce, the minister had written him saying Mr. Mathewson had sand he would be willing to discuss conciliation with the TLC if the Congress would ask him to do so.

Want Union Outlawed

MONTREAL, June 26 (CP). — Captain Norman J. Reoch, operating manager of Canada Steamship Lines, said Friday the Dominion Government will be petitioned to outlaw the Canadian Seamen's Union and make membership in that union an offence.

He said the CSU is led by avowed Communists and is spearheading a Red drive in Canada.

Set New County Assessment At $11,093,493

New equalized assessment figure for Peterborough County is $11,093,493, an increase of $776,113 over the 1940 total, it was announced at the Friday afternoon meeting of the County Council which brought the June session to a close.

With the exception of the townships of Dummer, Ennismore and North Monaghan, and the villages of Lakefield and Norwood, the estimate was arrived at by averaging the increases of the local assessments, after comparing the years 1940 and 1947. This key figure was 1.065 per cent.

To get the 1949 equalized assessment, 1.065 per cent was added to the 1940 equalized assessment.

Because they had had a revaluation since 1940, Lakefield, Norwood and Dummer were excepted as were North Monaghan and Ennismore that had a drop in local assessment.

The 1949 equalized assessment runs as follows: Asphodel, $1,088,717; Belmont-Methuen, $436,405; Burleigh-Anstruther, $172,327; Chandos, $127,661; Douro, $1,112,243; Dummer, $970,779; Ennismore, $346,125; Galway-Cavendish, $119,322; Harvey, $327,817; North Monaghan, $506,126; Otonabee, $2,275,266; Smith, $2,381,513; Lakefield, $546,100; Norwood, $351,739; Havelock, $331,353.

Chairman of the Equalization Assesment committee told council that the committee realized this was not a perfect valuation, but he pointed out that as there are as many different assessors as there are municipalities, a common yardstick of value could not be obtained.

LONDON, June 26.—(Reuters). —The strike of 20,000 dockers which has tied up the port of London for 13 days threatened today to spread to other British ports.

A member of the strike committee told a mass meeting of dock workers in London: "Things are moving in Liverpool. As far as Scotland is concerned, it is just a matter of Liverpool coming in and Scotland will follow."

(The Associtaed Press said Friday that seven leaders of the strike resigned from the committee in protest against "Communist pressure.")

Jews Report New Arab Clash

HAIFA, Israel, June 26.—(A).—The Israeli army said today its troops had clashed again with Arab units at El Birwa, inflicting 100 casualties.

Fighting in the village, seven miles east of Haifa in western Galilee, has been going on for two days and United Nations truce observers are on the screen investigating the action.

El Birwa, held by a small Jewish garrison prior to the truce, fell into the hands of the Arabs when troops operating out of Nazareth launched a surprise attack and recaptured the village.

A Hagana announcement said its troops had staged a counter-attack which put three Arab armored vehicles out of action. Jewish forces also captured arms and ammunition, Hagana said.

Irish, Scottish Plan Tug-of-War

One of the standout events at the coming Lindsay "Old Home Week" will be the battle between the Highlanders of Eldon and the Irish of Emily on Scottish Day. But the good citizens of Lindsay brought up on the history of historic clashes between these two Celtic townships will not have to barricade themselves in their cellars. The battle will be a tug-of-war.

Chairman Dan McQuarrie assures spectators that all participants will be frisked for dangerous weapons and that physical strength alone—from either end of a stout rope—will win the day.

Time was when the only rope used by these fiery clansmen had a noose at one end of it when they met for a social occasion.

But perhaps the successors of these feuding Celts have not gone soft after all. According to latest reports the Emily Irish have taken to the swamps and are pulling out saplings and even trees by the roots as they train for the big day. Meanwhile in Eldon the Scottish champions have dispensed with horses and are ripping out old stumps in the pasture field, using only a strong rope.

And what does the winner get—a waggonload of whisky, perhaps? No. A "beautiful silver tray suitably engraved."

Britain Accuses

The Tagliche Rundschau had quoted British circles as saying Britain is considering methods of getting out of Berlin.

Special Conference

United States Ambassador Lewis Douglas called on Foreign Secretary Bevin in London for consultations on the tense situation.

United States authorities started flying drugs into the city to fight the squeeze, which took the form of a rail freight blockade and a cessation of food and brown coal supplies from the surrounding Russian zone.

The Americans also announced plans to fly in powdered and condensed milk for German babies. Supplies of fresh milk have been shut off with other food supplies for some 2,000,000 Berliners in the city's western sectors. A barge was reported to have arrived from western Germany with grain and flour today, but there was no sign of a let-up of the land embargo.

The allied announcement on money changing said half the converted deusche marks will be credited to a "free deutsche mark account" for immediate use. How many will be converted is not yet known as the Germans had until noon today to file statements of their holdings. The other half will go into a "blocked deutsche mark account" and will be released as economic conditions permit.

No Mention

Berlin, where the three western sectors introduced the deutsche mark soon after the Russians announced a separate Russian-sponsored money reform, was not mentioned in the announcement. But western allied officials here said that they presumed the new rate would eventually apply to western Berlin.

The Russians have put a supply squeeze on four-power-occupied Berlin since the western monetary revision began. United States authorities planned to start flying needed supplies into the city today to fight this.

A British transport official announced a barge had arrived here from western Germany with 300 tons of grain and flour for Berliners and he had reliable information 13 more food barges were en route.

Seek Assessor

It was because of this general sense of dissatisfaction that council decided at the present sitting to seek application for a county assessor to commence his duties at the beginning of the new year.

A by-law amending an Ontario Municipal Board order of December 19, 1947, was passed extending the term for repayment of debentures that may be issued for the Chemong Project from one year to " 10 years from the first of January, 1949."

A $150,000 grant to the Board of Governors, Civic Hospital, was passed. This is made up of $30,000 cash from current revenues, and a $120,000, 15-year debenture at three per cent. It was estimated that this would cost the County $10,151.00 each year for 15 years; or slightly under a mill.

The Council also agreed to take over a continuation of the Buckhorn Road that lies in Smith township. It lies between the seventh and eighth consession extending southerly to where it strikes Highway 28. A motion was then put forward to ask the County and Suburban Roads Commission to take it over.

Study Resolutions

Council had its most enjoyable time of the present session passing judgment on the resolutions of other county councils which had been forwarded to the Legal and Legislative committee.

It agreed with a Peel County resolution that a more definite description of property should be given by local municipalities on lists of lands transferred, and added an amendment that an extra copy of the description should be made at time of sale.

An Elgin County resolution protesting the use of Ontario highways by American trucks carrying bonded merchandise was "received."

It agreed with three Grey County resolutions advocating reimposition of the 50 per cent excess profits tax, pegging feed prices at that date when advance prices for livestock start to come in, and abolition of the Canadian Grain Exchange.

A Waterloo resolution asking the Minister of Education for remuneration for school trustees in rural areas was endorsed. But no action was taken on a Renfrew recommendation that the Highway Traffic Act be revised making it obligatory to halt traffic at a railroad crossing.

Plan for Doctors

A Huron County resolution that doctors who use hospitals as a place of remuneration should be charged 25 cents per patient-day and this should not be passed along to the bill of the patient, was received.

Stormant, Dundas and Glengarry suggested that all counties having the equalized assessment should have the cost of their county assessor subsidized up to 50 per cent by the Provincial Government. This was approved, as was one from Peel to the effect that the fixed assessment should not affect the taxation for county purposes.

Essex urged that the Provincial Government be asked to give greater aid to the Children's Aid; that a special committee should inquire into the cost of running these social service institutions, and that the law penalize more severely parents who neglect their children. This was received by Council.

Northumberland's contention that the Provincial Government should give increased grants to hospitals on the basis of number of bed patients; and that hospitals should be standardized to conform with the government's standard, was received.

Another Northumberland-Durham resolution that the Provincial Minister of Agriculture strongly oppose the importation into Ontario, manufacture or sale of oleomargarine was approved, after much debate.

And Council supported a Brant County claim that the Dominion Government help pay judicial expenses involved in the trial of Indians. It was pointed out that Indians pay no taxes to the local government and are legally wards of the King.

English Woman Thanks Lions For Food Gift

Anybody who wonders if food parcels are reaching Britain and if they are appreciated, should read the stack of correspondence that has been received by the Peterborough Lions club. The local branch sends parcels by donating to a central fund which purchases the foodstuffs and looks after mailing.

To date Canadian Lions have shipped more than 50,000 pounds of essential foods that are difficult or impossible to obtain in the United Kingdom. The list is supplied by the Women's Voluntary Services who also select the recipents. These are invariably the most needy cases—the aged, infirm persons living alone—who do not receive parcels from any other source.

No duty is collected on these gift packages by the British government, and what is perhaps even more important, the recipients do not have to give up any of their ration points.

How much these parcels are appreciated is shown by this letter recently sent to Ron MacGee, secretary of the Peterborough Lions, from an elderly lady who lives in Norfolk.

"It was sheer delight to unpack and see one by one all those delicious extras unobtainable here. I am 76, living alone—one ration book and did not know my name had been sent in, so imagine my delight at tongue, fruit, sweets, cereals, tea, pork, and oh I need not list all the so very welcome packets.

"Coming, too, practically on my birthday, it is so warming to the heart when one wonders if the old folk are needed. However I can still trip around and do my bit at the WVS and love it. May I ask you to accept my warmest thanks and sincere appreciation of your kind thought, and express the hope that your Lions Club will forge ahead and prosper in its good work for humanity."

One widower, aged 78, living in Glasgow recently noticed the railway man turn up his path and unexpectedly deliver a gift parcel to him.

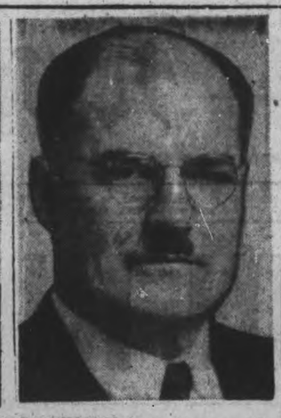
"Have you any relations or friends in Canada?" asked the railway man, perhaps a little enviously.

"They are all our friends," corrected the old man. His daughter, who recounted this tale, wrote to thank the Lions on behalf of her father.

Another couple, now past 80 years, found their lives brightened by one of the welcome gifts, and wrote a touching letter of thanks.

"I am a widow living alone and lonely. I cannot get out for I broke my thigh over two years ago," says a letter from Sheffield. "Your gift is most welcome. Thank you very much. I feel as though I have the Bank of England in the house now."

But the club is not resting on its laurels already other food parcels have been sent to the needy in austerity-ridden Britain.



SASKATCHEWAN VOTERS RETURN their 43-year-old premier, T. C. Douglas (left), and his Socialist government for a second term but cut his majority in the legislature by approximately 16 seats. Although a number of ridings are still in doubt, returns at this writing indicate that Liberal and Fusian candidates, headed by Liberal leader Walter A. Tucker (right), have 18 seats in the new legislature.

WINNIPEG, June 26 (CP) — Further rain in the prairie grain belt contributed to an easier tone in coarse grain futures on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Some selling developed due to the more favorable harvest conditions and prices eased off. American accounts and shippers were light purchasers in oats during the moderately active session, while barley trade was thin, with liberal selling and hedging sales.

No export business of Canadian wheat to the United Kingdom was reported, but 100,000 bushels of Canadian oats was sold to Denmark.

King Leopold Stakes Crown On Results of Plebiscite

BRUSSELS, June 26 (Reuters).—King Leopold of the Belgians Friday night offered to abdicate if the people vote against him in a plebiscite.

The King, who has been living in exile in Switzerland since the war, wrote to Premier Paul Henri Spaak that he would agree to a "legally organized consultation of the Belgian people."

"If this consultation will not show an indisputable majority in favor of my restoration in my constitution prerogatives, I will abdicate," the King wrote.

"If the majority is favorable to me I shall expect that parliament, informed of the nation's will, will use the power which it has arrogated to itself by the law of July 19, 1945, and will bring an end to the present crisis.

"I have remained silent in the face of attacks which have been directed against me because I believe the King must remain above partisan struggles.

"I have taken it as a rule not to let myself be carried away by any polemics and to remain inaccessible to any sentiment of a personal nature."

The King's exile followed criticism of his action in 1940, when, without consulting his government, he surrendered the Belgian army to the invading Germans. He made himself a prisoner of the enemy, rather than leave the government for France and later, Britain.

Winston Churchill And The Gathering Storm

The first two books of the Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill's history of the Second World War have been published in a single volume, called The Gathering Storm. Inevitably such a book from such a man is of the most widespread interest, and as the author himself says, his history of the Second World War, when completed and joined to the three volumes of his history of the First World War, will comprise a history of a Thirty Years War, written by a man who was in a particularly favourable position to study it. We advise our readers to get hold of The Gathering Storm, by hook or crook, and read it, for it is not only a brilliant account of what has happened, but a warning of what may happen again if the nations of the West are too stupid to learn the lessons of history.

* * *

One takes up the book with the blessed assurance that it will be well written. The war itself and the postwar years have brought forth scores of books, many of which contain important information and cannot therefore be neglected, but all save a very few of them are the work of men with no discernible literary gift, and to read them is a penance. Through the war the speeches of Winston Churchill were refreshing draughts in the desert of governmental and journalistic verbiage; now his book comes to raise the flagging spirits of those whose job it is to plough through the mass of what has been written about the war and the peace. His literary genius never fails; florid passages of description, trenchant generalizations, piercing judgements upon contemporary statesmen, and a wealth of apt quotation are mingled in the book with the unfailing, magical artistry of a great writer working upon a congenial theme. A relieving humour and raciness are everywhere apparent in its pages, for Mr. Churchill learned long ago a lesson which many historians have never guessed at — that solemnity and profundity are not the same thing.

* * *

Many passages from The Gathering Storm have been quoted by reviewers and editorial writers attempting to convey something of the flavour of the book. We should like to draw the attention of our readers to the following words which, as they are contained in the Preface, might be overlooked by those tender-minded readers who always skip prefaces:

> One day President Roosevelt told me that he was asking publicly for suggestions about what the war should be called. I said at once "The Unnecessary War". There never was a war more easy to stop than that which has just wrecked what was left of the world from the previous struggle. The human tragedy reaches its climax in the fact that after all the exertions and sacrifices of hundreds of millions of people and of the victories of the Righteous Cause, we have still not found Peace or Security, and that we lie in the grip of even worse perils than those we have surmounted. It is my earnest hope that pondering upon the past may give guidance in days to come, enable a new generation to repair some of the errors of former years, and thus govern, in accordance with the needs and glory of man, the awful unfolding scene of the future.

* * *

Nobly said, but have we the wit to heed? The lesson of The Gathering Storm is that a reasonable amount of firmness, and quite a modest amount of common sense, exercised internationally between 1919 and 1939 would have made the Second World War impossible. But there was no firmness—only short-sighted temporizing: no common sense—only lofty vapouring. Are we doomed by an irreparable lack of gumption to go through it all again?

Pennies, Pennies Dropping

The Penny Bank of Ontario will be wound up on the first of August, after twenty-six years of operation. Most people are familiar with this institution; it was in the Penny Bank that many an Ontario citizen established his first account, and it was from that account that he bought his first bicycle, bought his first pair of long trousers, and perhaps financed his first year at the university. The reasons given for its discontinuance are two: first, many schoolteachers find it a nuisance to look after the deposits, the withdrawals, and the inevitable lost bankbooks; second, the reduced interest rate on investments makes it impossible for the bank to pay interest on the children's accounts.

There were two sides to the Penny Bank. On the credit side we must say that it encouraged children to save, gave many a child a incentive to put away his occasional earnings, and gave him a measure of independence when he needed money. On the debit side it must be said that it encouraged many children to become purseproud early in life (for teachers not infrequently held up children with big balances as models for the less provident and more childlike depositors who spent some of their money on pleasure) and it was often a nuisance and sometimes a burden upon parents who were expected to disgorge every banking day. And we even knew of infant usurers who lent money to their schoolmates on bank days, at an exorbitant rate of interest—100 per cent. was not uncommon.

The saddest story we know is that of a Peterborough boy who, having worked every Saturday for a dollar a week for some years, got his Penny Bank account up to $200. Having made this excellent start as a capitalist he withdrew his money and invested it in a mining stock, and in the twinkling of an eye his $200 had become $15.

The Penny Bank has been succeeded in Peterborough schools by the Penny Savings, which is operated by the Grey and Bruce Trust and which pays two per cent. on accounts. In ten months this institution has acquired 2,800 depositors in the local schools, and a total deposit of more than $30,000. This is a remarkable record of thrift, and conclusive proof that children's savings banks are wanted, and that they can pay interest on deposits if they choose. We congratulate the local trust company on having filled a gap in school life, and we respectfully suggest that the Trust might put its investment counselling service at the disposal of any young Penny Savings capitalist who feels inclined to take a flier in mining stocks.

The Saskatchewan Election Results

It was no surprise that the C.C.F. Government of Premier T. C. Douglas was returned to office in Thursday's Saskatchewan elections with a comfortable majority. In an earlier editorial comment on the spate of provincial elections being held this summer, we pointed out that governments in power are not easily unseated in times of full employment and easy-flowing money. The C.C.F. majority was considerably reduced, however, and the Liberals were the gainers. This shows that the C.C.F. Government, in office since 1944, is losing its attraction for the Saskatchewan voters after they have had four years' experience of it. It also shows that Mr. Walter Tucker, who resigned his Federal seat to take the leadership of the Liberals in Saskatchewan, is an able leader and a convincing exponent of Liberal doctrines. The two right-wing parties, the Conservatives and Social Credit, did not win a single seat.

Saskatchewan has political peculiarities. It has the only C.C.F. government in Canada. One of the two older Canadian parties, the Conservative, is virtually extinct in the province. (There has only been one Conservative Government in Saskatchewan since the Province was formed in 1905—that was during the years 1929-34.) It is the only province where 'teen-agers are enfranchised. Thursday's election was the first occasion on which Canadian young people between the ages of 18 and 21 could and did vote.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A science note says that two quarts of alcohol and two quarts of water make only three and four-fifth quarts, when mixed. It sounds as though somebody ought to keep an eye on the mixer.

A naturalist says that the alligator is the only reptile capable of making a really loud noise. We can only conclude that the attendance of alligators at the movies is on the increase.

Bees are said to see red, yellow and green as a single colour. That doesn't stop them from wallowing unpleasantly in our plate of fruit salad.

The student of old tried to make gold out of lead. Many a modern student faces the equally difficult task of turning his sheepskin into a few frogskins.

Diary Of A Phone-Whistler

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: A man was holding forth to me this afternoon about how much he disliked baby-talk; anyone who used baby-talk to a dog, or a woman, or even a baby was, in his opinion, a contemptible creature, capable of any inanity. But I am not so sure. I don't care for men who have no silliness in them, and I have known some men of remarkable character who were not above a spell of baby-talk, upon a proper occasion. And indeed that wonderful man Dean Swift used a lot of very babyish baby-talk in his letters to Esther Johnson, whom he called 'Stella'. One winces a little as one read it, but one winces far more sharply when one thinks what Swift might have become if he had not been able to let himself go in that manner. There is a certain spiritual indecency in overhearing any man talking baby-talk or making love, but that does not mean that it is wrong or indecent of him to do so.

MONDAY: It is mid-June and the ladies of my acquaintance have all put on their summer stays and hung their fleecy ones in the cupboard, but it is still far from warm. In winter I rush to the furnace-room if the temperature of my house sinks below 65, but in June I try not to notice when it drops to 58. I huddle closer into the spongey embrace of my armchair, and when I sneeze I think it must be hay fever. It is much easier to catch cold in Canada in summer than in winter, if you want my opinion.... A long-distance call today from Mr. Beasly, who kept me waiting for three minutes after his secretary had got me on the line. But I fixed him. When he came to the phone I was whistling, very loudly and cheerfully, right into the mouthpiece, and I pretended not to hear him until he had shouted my name three times. If Beasly thinks that he can make me his phone-vassal he is very much mistaken. There is nothing which makes self-important executives so cross as a feeling that you are not impressed by them, and by whistling into Beasly's phone I was just as maddening as if I had whistled in his office when he wanted to talk to me. Yah! Beasly, wait till I finish my tune! Tweet! Tweeeeet!

TUESDAY: Children are the most confirmed Tories I have ever met. Today I heard a group of them boasting among themselves about how high they could count; such improbable figures as drillions and squillions were being lightly bandied about by the bragging tots. I remember that when I was in kindergarten the same sort of blowing to the teacher used to go on morning after morning. I never joined in it, for although I am almost illiterate mathematically, I grasped very early in life that anyone who can count to ten can count upward indefinitely if he is fool enough to do so. But apparently the kindergarten set of today are threshing the same old straw. Tories, that's what chidren are.... Heard the popular song "Nature Boy" for the first time and was struck by its resemblance to a ditty called "Wise Old Horsie" which had a brief fling about fifteen years ago. Nature Boy suggests that loving and being loved in return is the great purpose of life; Wise Old Horsie had a somewhat similarly limited outlook. But I am a regular reader of Dorothy Dix and I know that loving and being loved in return is just the beginning of a lot of problems which Wise Old Nature Boy was too fat-headed to see.

WEDNESDAY: I see that Quebec is getting worked up over two-piece bathing suits again, and an arcent do-gooder has declared that they threaten all that is best in French-Canadian life. I remember that after the last war it was rolled stockings which were nibbling at the foundations of the universe. What fascinated me at the time was that the evil power lay in the female patella itself, and not in any beauty which it might exhibit. Men's knees were not harmful, and Scotchmen were, as always, encouraged to show off their gnarled joints. But any female knee, however like a cabbage or the skull of a goat it might be in appearance, was charged with vice, and the male who beheld it was in danger of being turned to stone, as if he had beheld the face of the Gorgon. Since those days knees have become an old song — indeed, a weariness of the flesh—and it is that comparatively undistinguished portion of the female anatomy comprising the lower ribs and the diaphragm which is now the focus of holy horror. If women showed their navels, with the theme of "Nature Boy" tattooed around them, I might see some sense in all this fuss, but they don't, and I don't.

THURSDAY: Saw an advertisement today which showed a young man in radiant health and with a smile which revealed about 34 large teeth, who was pointing right out of the picture at me: "You look conspicuous if you don't wear a hat" he was saying. As I was wearing a hat, and as I always do wear a hat, and as I sometimes unconsciously wear a hat indoors, I was not greatly perturbed by this, but it occurred to me that it might make a bareheaded man mad, and cause him to forswear and abjure hats forever. Ridicule is a noble rhetorical instrument, but I have never known it to persuade a man to do something which he did not want to do.

❖ ❖ ❖

FRIDAY: This is the season of flowers, and everybody I meet is either boasting about his garden, or groaning because it has not come up to his expectations. I can be philosophical about flowers, and I conduct my own garden on strict philosophic principles: if flowers grow, I am pleased, but if they do not grow I will not permit my life to be darkened by their absence. I do not blind myself, as many gardeners do, to the fact that flower gardens are cultivated principally for the pleasure of bees. A bee gets more fun out of a single iris than a human being can get out of a vast herbaceous border. The bee drags its feet in the flower, rolls in it, takes a bath in it, swigs the nectar out of it and revels in the sound of its own voice while doing so, just as we sing in our resonant bathrooms. Sometimes as many as three or four bees enjoy mixed bathing in the heart of a rose, and the Dear knows what goes on in there when they are all plastered with nectar and imagine that they are out of sight. Flowers are just bagnios for bees, and while I take a broad view of these things, I feel no impulsion to wear myself out providing for insects which would not do a thing for me if they could possibly help it.

❖ ❖ ❖

SATURDAY: Not enough attention is paid to the negative side of fashion. Great effort is exerted to make people look smart, but someboay should face the fact that a lot of people will never be smart, and that they should be given some assistance in maintaining their fascinating dowdiness. Lists of the favourite colours of the dowdy ought to be published in 'Vogue': Fever Pink, Outcast Brown, Bile Yellow, Lustkiller Red, Linty Black, Housedust Grey, Skim Milk White, Pondweed Green—these colours are the favourites of thousands, and they ought to be identified and kept handy on the shelves of drygoods merchants. Some assistance should be given, too, to men who wear those ties which look as though they had been made out of a worn piece of carpeting; as such things are never seen in shops it must be that their wives make them; it would be a boon if some haberdashery were to take over this useful and profitable work. Shops now attract a certain trade by advertising that "Smart people shop here": think of the untapped source of trade which would be set flowing by an ad which declared that "Within these walls the invincibly dowdy will find everything they need"!

Letter To The Editor

WISHES TO EXCHANGE STAMPS

Sir: I wonder if I could ask you to do me a favour? I am anxious to contact one of your readers who would be willing to exchange with me postage stamps of Canada for those of England and Europe.

I would be very grateful if this could be effected. I am a member of the staff of the Northamptonshire Evening Telegraph, Kettering, England.

With many thanks in anticipation of receiving your kind assistance.

Yours truly,

PRAISES MRS. MARSH'S PAINTINGS

Sir: I feel that in your editorial of Wednesday you were a little less than just toward the artistic merit of Mrs. Marsh's paintings of Eskimo life. These are, as you say, of importance as records of a primitive society which is rapidly changing, but I feel that they are able to stand on their own feet as paintings, as well. I, for one admired their clarity and distinction of colour, and I think that anyone who has tried to make both an interesting picture and an accurate record at the same time will appreciate the artistry and discretion of Mrs. Marsh. Yours,

E. M.

DON'T SELL THE TEMPERANCE VOTER SHORT!

Sir: Sorry I have to disagree with the Examiner's editorial of June 15th. Apparently several Ontario papers including the Toronto Star, blamed the poor showing of the Liberal party in the recent Provincial election, upon that party's attitude of hedging on the liquor question and that the C.C.F. had gained in strength because its stand, against the vast increase in consumption, drunkenness and crime under the liquor legislation of the Hon. George Drew, was more aceptable to the Temperance voter.

The Examiner in stating its absolute disagreement with the above suggestions also makes the oft repeated assertion "that few Temperance advocates will desert their party when it comes to the vote".

What are the facts? In High Park riding, Toronto, Premier Drew, standing on a platform of lessened restrictions and freer sales (more people, drinking more), found himself without a seat because, according to a front page news report in the Examiner, his young C.C.F. opponent, Bill Temple, a Provincial Director of the Ontario Temperance Federation, forced the Premier to make his so-called Temperance policy an issue in his election. Judging by the verdict many thousands, even in Tory Toronto, deserted their party allegiance to vote against Mr. Drew and his liquor legislation.

In Lennox-Prince Edward Riding, Don Baxter, a clean-living young farmer, turned the huge 1945 majority given the Conservative candidate, Mr. Jas. Hepburn (ex-Speaker of the House), into a Liberal win. From comments I have heard from that riding, both before and since the election, I believe Mr. Baxter's clean-cut statement from every platform, "I am a Temperance man and will stand for the Temperance movement in all its phases", was an important factor in his sensational victory.

Turning to the local contest, we believe the Hon. Harold Scott, a deservedly popular representative, has lost none of his personal popularity. And had he returned to the Liberal fold and run under the leadership of Mr. Oliver, his victory would probably have been just as decisive.

In view of Mr. Scott's acknowledged personal strength as a candidate and his value as head of the important Department of Lands and Forests, however, a review of the local balloting is decidedly interesting.

Recently tabulated figures of the June 7 election show the Conservative candidate won a neat majority of 2522 votes over the Liberal, Mr. Elliott, his nearest opponent.

While Mr. Scott loses little prestige because his 1945 majority has been reduced by approximately 2000 votes, the anti-Drew vote is strikingly significant. Against a total of 10,216 votes for Mr. Scott, 13,557 local citizens marked their ballots in favour of his opponents. The explanation is simple. In the previous election many electors nominally Liberals, refused to support Mitch Hepburn and his local candidate suffered. In the recent election many Temperance voters held the liquor legislation of the dominant leader of the present Government largely responsible for the 83 per cent. increase in sales and 77 per cent. increase in drunkenness, with its accompanying highway accidents and crime during his 5 year period in office. As a result right up to the day of the election many voters frankly expressed themselves as follows: I am not certain whether my vote will go Liberal or C.C.F., I would like to vote for Harold Scott, but of one thing I am dead certain, my vote will not go to the Hon. George Drew.

Diagnosing the results locally it is the considered opinion of many that had the Liberal oragnization and its candidate promptly and frankly declared themselves and their party policy on liquor control instead of hedging the issue up to the dying hours of the campaign, Mr. Elliott would have gained many additional votes from his C.C.F. and Progressive Conservative opponents. Those 13,557 anti-Drew ballots in Peterborough electorate are striking evidence that many local voters will on occasion desert their party allegiance and vote in keeping with their convictions. Don't sell them short. Yours,

G. A. BRETHEN.

ED. NOTE: If, as now seems likely, the Hon. George Drew contests the riding of Hastings West, the temperance forces will have a notable opportunity of expressing themselves. That riding, though traditionally Conservative, is a rural riding and it is the rural areas which are said to disapprove of Mr. Drew's liquor policy. Will the voters of Hastings West put principle above party to show their disapproval?

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The Lord loveth the gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob. Glorious things are spoken of thee, O city of God. Selah. (Ps. 87: 2, 3.)

In that day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah; We have a strong city; salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks. Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth the truth may enter in. (Is. 26: 1, 2.)

And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband ..And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it. And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night there. And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it. (Rev. 21: 2, 23-26.)

Unconsidered Trifles

The diner sipped his soup, made a grimace and called to the waiter.

"Look here," he grumbled. "I ordered turtle soup and there isn't a trace of turtle in this."

The waiter drew himself up. "Of course not, sir," he said haughtily. "What do you expect? If you ordered cottage pudding would you expect a cottage in it?"

Mr. and Mrs. Newrich were spending the summer at an exclusive hotel at the seaside. One evening at dinner the conversation turned to music, with special reference to Mozart.

"What a coincidence," said Mrs. Newrich. "Only this morning I saw him on the Number Five bus with his wife; they were going down to the beach."

A dreadful silence followed, and for the rest of the meal Mrs. Newrich was acutely aware that somehow or other she had "dropped a brick."

As soon as they were alone, her husband rounded on her.

"Haven't I told you that when you don't know anything about what's being discussed you're to keep your mouth shut?"

"But what did I say wrong?" queried his wife.

"You've been here long enough to know," shouted her husband angrily "that the Number Five bus does not go down to the beach."

GO to sleep my little lad
When you waken you'll be glad
That your age is one of reason
When superstition is high treason.
You'll not hear of Santa Claus
For Santa Claus may be the cause
Of wishful thinking and of dreaming
When you should be soundly scheming.

Scientists with books and needles
Supplant the midwives and the beadles
Of a blowsy backward day;
You'll be raised the stream-lined way.
You'll be microbe-proof and shock-proof,
Sex-proof, shatter-proof, sales-talk-proof;
Though you simply loathe your food
It's guaranteed to do you good.

The books you'll be allowed to read
Shall be graded to your need,
And since sin has been abolished
From the life urbane and polished,
The gospel according to St. Freud
Is all that needs to be employed;
From any conflict of the soul
Psychiatry will make you whole.

You shall be a specialist
With a special dial to twist
In the vast complexity
Of well-oiled society,
And you'll be well-adjusted lad
Or utterly, completely mad.

LATEST CITY FIRE EQUIPMENT — The City of Peterborough's latest purchase for its Fire Department is an aerial turret ladder truck which will cost tax payers $28,000; in the case of any future emergency its cost will be negligible in the saving of lives and valuabe property. It has a maximum upward ladder extension of 85 feet that carries a water line to the top and be converted into a canvas safety chute when it is extended 65 feet.

Peterborough's Fire Fighting Equipment Rated Highly With Other Cities

By DAVE WHITE

Too few Peterborough people are aware of the high degree of efficiency maintained by the Fire Department. Peterborough's low fire loss and the excellent standard of the Department give the city a rating by the Canadian Fire Underwriters that compares favorably with other centres of similar size in Ontario.

Scientific methods of firefighting and advanced training techniques have reduced the risk substantially during the first half of this century. The Great Fire of 1666 that destroyed much of London, leaving homeless approximately 100,000 people, seems as improbable to us in our present day cities as the Great Plague that preceded it.

In the Second World War even phosphorous bombs and other incendiaries usually could be brought under control within 24 hours.

Yet fire still remains a potential enemy to life and property. This year one of the major items in the city's estimates is the sum of $100,000 to maintain efficient fire-fighting services.

For six months last year the fire loss was down to less than $500, but the disastrous G. Whitaker and Co. outbreak took the lives of three workmen, and boosted the total cost to $387,122.58. Otherwise it is believed the loss figure would have been approximately $25,000.

Every so often the Canadian Fire Underwriters check on the various fire departments. Without warning they come into a city, pull an alarm box and then observe the efficiency of the particular crew. The crew is credited for the length of time it takes to arrive, and the time it takes to lay five lengths, or 250 feet of hose, and have the water turned on. And the general standard of maintenance is also taken into account.

The Peterborough Fire Department consists of 39 men, 37 active and two employed as inspectors. This force organized on a semi-military basis is headed by Fire Chief George Smith; deputy chief, Stewart Foster; captains, Virgil Carr, Albert Mason, George Gimblett Jr., Garnet Brown, and Frank Shearer, and master mechanic Budd Cruikshank. The remainder are firemen.

To battle any fire that should break out in the district guarded by the Peterborough force, there are four pumpers: one that will throw 833 gallons a minute through four two-and-a-half inch hose lines; two capable of 600 gallons, through three lines, and one of 420 gallons with two lines.

On each pumper truck there is a booster tank, which is an auxiliary tank of water carrying upwards of 60 gallons. A three-quarter-inch line up to 300 feet in length is used for combatting small fires where water cannot be used or where a large hose is not necessary.

A more recent innovation is a portable pump weighing about 200 pounds which can be carried by two men. Used in bush fires or other places inaccessible to a large fire truck, this mobile unit can draw 200 gallons a minute.

To get at a blaze that cannot be fought advantageously from the ground, or to rescue people from burning buildings there are a total of 398 feet of ladders on the ladder truck. On all trucks there is a total of 1,600 feet of two-and-a-half inch hose, 200 feet of one-and-a-half inch and 300 feet of three-quarter inch.

Also carried on the ladder truck is a foam generator to deal with those fires that cannot be handled by the usual fire-fighting methods.

An 85-foot aerial turret truck has been added to the stock of present equipment. The manually-operated turret nozzle at the top can be directed by a single fireman who can pour a steady volume of water from a three-inch hose line into the blaze. In fighting fires in large factories and tall buildings it should be particularly usefully.

The hydraulically-operated aluminum ladder does not have to be propped against a building (which might conveivably be burning) because it is firmly based on a platform witha 360-degre movement.

Part of the equipment that comes with this turret truck is a canvas safety chute which can be attached to the brackets on top of the ladder. In this way the chute can be hydraulically manoeuvred to the window of a burning building to rescue a person trapped there by flames. The chute, 65 feet in length, is an immense improvemnt on the safety net. A child or invalid can easily be wrapped in a blanket and sent down the chute without any reasonable risk.

But the work of the Fire Department is not only protecting the community from fires. It has also a 15-foot boat with an outboard motor attached; and the complete unit is pulled on a trailer to rescue people who have fallen into lakes or rivers. A two-man inhalator crew is always on duty to lend assistance if needed.

Every fireman that is taken on the Department is put on probation for six months. He is given active service, drills, lectures and fire duty. If he proves satisfactory during this period he is then hired permanently.

When someone rings a box alarm the response of the Fire Department depends upon its location. If the call is from the centre of the city, an area bounded on three sides by McDonnel, Dalhousie and Bethune Streets, and on the fourth by the Otonabee River, two pumpers, a ladder truck and the chief's car speed to the source of the alarm. This precaution is also taken when hospitals, schools, churches and public buildings are in danger.

When a sprinkler blows, however, only one pumper and a crew of five are dispatched because the alarm is often false. Defective sprinklers are quite common.

Diagrams of the larger industrial plants are displayed in the Chief's office. The various departments are marked and what they contain. Part of the course of lectures consists of asking members of the force the various approaches to buildings and the nearest laneway, hydrant, and contents. Best means of attacking an outbreak in schools, churches and public buildings is discussed with the men.

Of substantial help is the fact that the larger plants have fire departments of their own. Often they are able to cope with an outbreak without the aid of the city force.

Fires are arbitrarily divided into three classes. Class A fire is one involving wood, textiles and paper and water is the usual method of extinguishing it. Class B is burning oil, varnish, paint and gasoline; this is fought with foam or CO2. For Class C or electrical fires carbon tetrachloride is used because it is a non-conductor.

This year it is hoped that the fire loss will be drastically cut and it is believed that the new equipment will help to make this possible.

To quote a recent remark of Chief Smith's "considering the size of the city, we have equipment second to none in Ontario."

$1,600 For Head of Hair Blondes, Redheads Wanted

By ANTHONY SLADE

Pretty blondes and redheads are walking about with a price on their heads. Their brilliant hair is valuable in the manufacture of precision instruments, and hair supply contractors are finding it difficult to keep pace with the demand. Millions of dollars worth of hair of other hues, however, are piled in the world's stockrooms ready for the everyday hair trade in wigs, halo plaits, dolls and window dummies, and large stocks were laid by when it was foreseen that supplies would cease.

Italy's mountain maids provided radars with the finest hair in the world at $5 an ounce. The water-bleached locks of Brittany fetch $15 an ounce for their rarity, and annual "fair fairs" are a feature of country life in Northern Italy and France.

Woven into toupees, it lies easily upon the heads of film and stage stars nearing middle age. Great wigmakers like Ira Senz and Jean Servanti can make toupees for such men as Fred Astaire and Charles Boyer which, mounted on flesh-colored hair lace, are undetectable. In North America 2,000,000 people wear wigs or toupees, and more men wear wigs than women.

One famous actress has ten sets of wigs, each costing about $500, and spends hundreds a year on their setting and repairs.

There is more in this hair business than meets the eye. People who wear mohair coats little suspect they may be partly clad in human hair from China.

Thoroughly sterilized, the pigtails sacrificed to modernism have become fine-meshed sieves as well ,and some have been used for making "camel-hair" brushes. China hair is the cheapest and coarsest known.

The most valuable hair is white, perhaps because elderly women do not part easily with their last remaining curls. There are still agents of banks who are willing to advance money for human hair, and a confidence trickster once persuaded bankers on both sides of the Atlantic to advance $800,000 for a cargo of white curls that did not exist.

Most of the white wig hair in shop-windows is faked and is really blonde hair bleached and rebleached until it has no color. Red hair is in demand because it is coarse and easy to set, and bald people who were once black-haired think nothing of taking to auburn wigs. An Austrian girl who had allowed her Titian tresses to brow to exceptional length of five feet was able to sell them for $1,600. They went to Hollywood.

Barbers rarely trouble to sell the hair they snip. Usually it is too short, and the longer braids, they say, are not worth the trouble for sale.

UNAWARE OF DANGER. Last night I noticed several plug baits danging from bits of fishing line on electric wires near the Quaker Oats powerhouse. I was standing on the ledge casting into the raceway. Water seeping through the limestone trickled across the rocks on the bank, and I wondered if the anglers who lost those plugs realized how close they had come to greeting St. Peter. These wires carry heavy voltage, and the anglers who made the casts must have been standing in the water. If the fishing lines had been wet, then they could easily have become perfect conductors for a wallop from the power line, and the wet ground would have completed the grounding of the charge. This raceway has water several feet deep, and the current is strong. In short, it is a dangerous place for boys to fish. Adults, too, should give consideration to their safety before they start tossing plugs into this stretch of swirling water.

ANGLERS GALORE have cast envious eyes at those derby prizes in the Grey and Bruce Trust and Savings window this week. First prize for the largest muskie is a 16 ft. Peterborough boat, and first prize for the largest small-mouth black bass is the Evinrude Sport-Twin outboard motor. Second prize in each division is a rod, reel and line, and third prize in each division is a steel, three-tray tackle box with 20 Lucky Strike baits in each box. The boat, the motor and the baits are made in Peterborough. The derby starts with the open season for bass and maskinonge, July 1, and runs four days to Sunday July 4 inclusive. Judging will be done at nine o'clock Monday morning, July 5, in the market hall, Peterborough. Judges will be Mayor William Ovens, Bob McCabe, president of the Peterborough Fish and Game Association, and myself. Judges reserve the right to demand proof of where the fish was caught, and if an entry appears unusually heavy, they can open the fish and examine it. Fact is, if some joker objects to his specimen being carved up, the judges might even resort to the X-ray.

IT'S TOO LATE to do anything about entries for the Paul Bunyan canoe derby this year. This race 500 miles long from Bemidji to Minneapolis on the Mississippi river offers substantial cash prizes to the winners. The race is divided into daily heats between control points, and the pair of paddlers with lowest total of elapsed times wins. Entries on official forms with entry fee must be in Minneapolis July 1, and the race starts July 14 and ends July 23. Bill Taylor, noted Kawartha paddler was keen to go but could not get a partner. Doug Vaisey of the Junior Chamber of Commerce was stumping for the event but he didn't get too much co-operation. Why not start now, a year in advance to plan for entries in next year's canoe marathon? Surely the birthplace of the planked canoe should be able to produce a pair of winners. W. A. Richardson of the Peterborough Canoe Co. is interested and I am sure the City Council, Chamber of Commerce and the Examiner would do everything within their means to send the paddlers over the line.

THERE MUST A FLOCK of Essex county sportsmen chuckling about a picture that appeared in the Windsor Star. It showed a restaurant owner John Soulis, holding up a fish. The caption said he had caught this 5-pound muskie in the Detroit river at his back door, and that he would have fish on the menu the next day. In the first place, it wasn't a muskie. And if it had been, it was taken out of season, and it didn't look to be 30 inches long which is the legal size limit, and Mr. Soulis nor any other restaurant owner can put game fish on his restaurant menu and charge for it. That is against the law. It all boils down to this. Every newspaper needs an outdoor writer along with their sports editor, because there are more people engaged in hunting, fishing and trapping than in any other sport, yes even including the spectators.

A NEWCOMER TO PETERBOROUGH has written asking for a strictly honest opinion on where the best muskie spots are in the Kawarthas. Well, here goes, and I know a gang of bait-casters won't thank me for giving away their secrets. Here they are in order of importance: Kosh lake, White lake, Buckhorn lake, Pigeon river, Rice lake, Beaver creek, Deer lake, Trent river above Healy falls, Pigeon lake, Stony lake, Katchawanooka, and the lower Otonabee river. Now for small-mouth black bass, Rock lake near Marmora, Anstruther (Eagle) lake, Trout lake in the Long lake chain, White lake, Kosh lake, Crowe lake, Pigeon creek, Lovesick lake, Stony lake near Burleigh Falls, Burnt lake, Tongamong lake, Mississaga creek, Rice lake, lower Otonabee river, Indian river, Eel's lake, Jacks lake, Buckhorn lake (at Gannon's Narrows) and Pigeon lake. These are only a few but in my opinion they rate high. There is also a small lake near Rockcroft, the name of which I cannot recall at the moment. It's a dilly.

NO ACTION HAS BEEN OBTAINED so far on repairing the dam at the foot of Kosh lake. This dam collapsed under the pressure of the spring freshet last year, and as a result the lake level has dropped several feet. This not only affects property values but reduces the amount of food in the lake for the fish and for the wild ducks that frequent this body of water. It is a huge lake, and one of the best fishing spots in the entire county. Ontario Hydro Electric Commission maintained the dam, using the lake as a water reservoir, but have apparently abandoned it. Several letters have been written to the Examiner on the subject, and the Havelock Fish and Game Association is clamoring for repairs to this dam to return the water to its former level. Harold Kennedy, Havelock guide, reports that fishing parties under his direction took 19 muskies out of Kosh lake last year. If enough people clipped this paragraph and mailed it with a covering letter to Robert Saunders, Chairman Ontario Hydro Commission, 620 University Ave., Toronto, maybe some action would follow.

STOLE THE SHOW—Peterborough Chamber of Commerce gave the 20 visiting editors from the United States something a little different. Sixteen members of the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club gave a three-act show in the water. The girls looked smart in their attractive bathing suits, and while the water was a bit cool and the lake was not as ideal as a pool for the show, nevertheless, they did a fine job. The girls also acted as waitresses for the buffet luncheon, wearing street clothes. The Americans heard a few tall fish stories, and a five-minute talk on Kawartha fishing. A trip through the islands of Stony lake in fast boats, and a demonstration of water skiing completed the program. The boys from south of the line certainly used up a lot of film, photographing the girls, and this should produce some valuable tourist publicity in their home town papers.

A CITY JOE who loves fishing, and who takes his wife with him, says she sits and catches panfish and doesn't get much kick out of this sport. She refuses to learn to cast, and this angler asked if I could figure some way to make her fishing more interesting. Well, that's simple. The next time you plan a fishing trip, get a yard of elastic about twice the thickness of a standard rubber band. Splice this into the line about two feet above the hook on your wife's fishing outfit. When a rock bass or a fair-sized sunfish hits, you will probably hear your blase wife holler that she's hooked a tarpon. She will have plenty of fun trying to land that lively panfish. To make it even more interesting you might see that the rod she is using is supple If she doesn't get excited trying to land a sunfish while it cuts figure eights alongside the boat and the rod almost bends double, then you better leave her at home. If she hooks a small-mouth bass or a walleye, just put both hands over your eyes and pray—because when the line parts she'll be wise to the elastic gag.

B. G. Ballard, Norwood Boy, Named Head Division of National Research Council

B. G. Ballard, who has been in charge of the electrical engineering laboratory of the National Research Council, Ottawa, since his appointment to the staff in 1930 has been appointed head of the new radio and electrical division of the council.

Mr. Ballard is a native of Fort Stewart, North Hastings County, attended public and high schools in Norwood and graduated from Queen's University in 1924. He is a nephew of Mrs. A. A. McRoberts of Norwood and his mother, formerly Etta Moffatt, was born in Norwood. His father, now deceased, was born in Madoc and lived near Bancroft where he served as reeve and county councillor.

B. G. BALLARD

Creation of this Division has become necessary because of the great expansion of research activities in the fields of electronics and electrical engineering. The new divison is a consolidation of work formerly carried on in the division of physics and electrical engineering. Advances in radio techniques and related fields, which were so outstanding during the war broadened the scope of this work until it became first a branch and now a full division.

Radar has been applied in air and marine navigation on an extensive scale. Studies of solar noise have provided opportunities for basic research in co-operation with the astronomers. General electronic applications have been developed for military as well as civilian purposes. High voltage impulse studies on electrical equipment are yielding valuable information which is especially useful to the power industries. There has also been a considerable development of new instruments, and the shops' services, in the construction of models and equipment, have ben greatly enlarged.

The division has a staff list of about 50 scientific personnel, and 100 technical employees in addition to administrative staff and employes on prevailing rates. At present there are 231 persons on the staff.

On graduating from Queen's Mr. Balard was one of two selected to attend a Westinghouse graduate electrical engineering course throughout the following year. He was then taken on the staff of the enginering department of the Westinghouse Electric and Maunfacturing Company, East Pittsburgh, Pa., where he gained useful industrial experience during the next five years. He was appointed assistant research physicist in the division of physics and electrical engineering, National Research Council, 1930. Since then he has been engaged continuously in radio and electrical engineering research.

During the war Mr. Ballard's activities were largely devoted to the development of mine sweepers for enemy magnetic mines and the protection of ships against these mines. Most of this work was undertaken in Ottawa and later applied to equipment on both the east and west coasts as well as one the high seas. In recognition of his contributions in this field, he was awarded the Order of the British Empire in 1946.

Mr. Ballard is a member of the Engineering Institute of Canada, a past chairman of the Ottawa Section, American Institute of Electrical Engineers, a senior member of the Institute of Radio Engineers, a registered member of the Association of Professional Engineers of the Province of Ontario, and a member of the Professional Institute of the Civil Service of Canada.

Among his outside activities it may be noted that he is a member of the administrative board of the Canadian Standards Association, Approvals Division, which body is responsible for ensuring safety in the design of electrical equpment and apparatus marketed in Canada.

Liquid Plant Food Best During Growing Season

When plant food is applied to the garden during the growing season, to stimulate growth and increase the yield of flowers or fruits, there is much in favor of applying it as a liquid rather than dry.

For many years experiment stations have tested this method and found it to have many advantages. It is easier to spread a given amount uniformly over the area treated. Less plant food is required for the same results. In dry weather, especially, immediate response by the plant is favored, and there is no injury to the plant if applied close to the roots.

While special preparations may be obtained for dissolving in water, ordinary dry plant food can be used. Dr. V. A. Tiedjens, who has done much work on this subject gives the following directions for the amateur who wishes to use dry plant food in solution.

For side dressing growing crops, mix a cupful of plant food to a quart of water or a pound (pint) to a gallon. For row crops pour on a quart of the mixture to each three feet of row. For plants in hills pour a quart around large plants, such as tomatoes, or a pint around peppers, egg plant and others of that size.

For each hill of corn use a pint of the solution. Most annual flowering plants require only one feeding. A tomato plant may require three feedings. Perennial plants should be side dressed in September.

For shrubbery, use two cups of plant food in 12 quarts of water and wet the ground around each shrub with from two to four quarts. Then use the hose to soak the ground thoroughly

As a starter solution in transplanting shrubs, use a cupful of plant fod in 12 quarts of water and pour half a pailfull around thee roots as you fill in the soil.

Whenever a plant seems lagging in growth, liquid plant food may help revive it. Even vigorously growing plants will benefit by extra feeding. If you want fine flowers fro exhibition, or extra size vegetables, an application of this type of fertilizer will get immediate results. It is the modern version of liquid manure, which the older garden books all recommend. But chemical plant foods are much quicker in effect than the organics which the old time gardener used.

Jersey Joe, who tilted the other Joe's crown in their last meeting, stands at right, with a rather forced smile as he watches the Brown Bomber tip the scales at a pudgy 213½ pounds—his all-time high in fighting weight. Walcott weighed 194¾ pounds for the battle at Yankee Stadium, New York. Lewis won the fight last night with a knockout in the 11th round.

This being the home of the "Peterborough" canoe, we agree with this item from St. Thomas: "We have learned something about canoes in Canada and, as any small Canadian boy knows, the canoe should be paddled from a kneeling position if it is to be safe. And so it was always paddled along the rivers of our history, says the Winnipeg Free Press. Now the Olympic authorities tell the paddler to sit in a seat, which is a sissy's arrangement at best and dangerous at worst—this after several generations of Canadians have been trying to teach children to poise their centre of gravity as low as possible. Before making any more rules maybe the Olympic committee should consult Canadians who, you might say, have built a nation by the art of the paddle."

Two COBL tussles today, weather permitting. Oshawa Merchants meet the Petes at three this aft in Riverside—and there's a junior joust there tonight at 6.30 betwixt Oshawa and our Aces—while Kingston meets Batawa in Belleville. The Petes don't go to Kingston Monday as they staged a twin bill there earlier this week, getting home around four a.m.! On the July 1 holiday, next Thursday, Kingston plays the Petes here a morning game and an afternoon one to repay for that other double-header. Same day sees Oshawa playing in Bella Villa against the Muffitt-less Shoemen. Won't be long till the schedule will be half in.

* * * * * *

Howie High Hitter

And the averages for the COBL hitters for the first third of the schedule appear today. They show Howie Dalton well out in front of the regulars in the whole circuit with a mighty .515 figure, and he was in all nine games played. Got eight hits in nine appearance his last three games, and that sure shoved him up in a hurry. A fine all-around ballster. Loucks, Walton, Stewart, Starr, Jaquith, Edger and Crowe (just in one game) are others hitting well for the Petes. McGregor and Earl lead Kingston, Hanna tops Oshawa and Kennedy is best so far for Batawa. Edwardson, Mackness, Garvey and Foley are local players who haven't hit their batting stride yet.

* * * * * * *

Talking to Phil Lawson at the last pro mat show in the Brock and we asked him why they couldn't get Jack Dempsey, some time he's in Toronto, to come down to referee a grapple match here. "My gosh," Phil said, "he'd want from $1,000 to $1,200 for the night!" Yeah, the old Manassa Mauler used to get 40 per cent of the gate for refereeing wrestling in the bigger cities, but now settles for 27½ per cent or a flat guarantee. And he won't look at smaller centres for less than at least a thousand smackers guaranteed. Sharkey takes less but works oftener so he does pretty well, too.

* * * * * *

Dark Strutters' Brawl

"The winnah and still champeen!" — yeah, that's Joe Louis. He finally got Jersey Joe Walcott set up right in the 11th and tucked him to sleep. The Brown Bomber may be old and slow and fat but he still has that knockout punch in his fists. Something Walcott apparently lacks. Tunney would have beaten Louis last night by dancing away from him for 15 rounds and counter-punching to pile up the points. Like he did with Dempsey. You can't afford to take chances with a kayo hitter. That's the only reason we liked Louis, as he's past his prime and ready to retire. He can do so gracefully now, and Walcott can't complain. He did well for an old-timer who was never taken seriously till a year ago.

* * * * * *

And we're retiring as "judge of hats" in local lacrosse games. Spoil too many ballots by marking "Perdue" down for the hat. On account of we need one—but then, we suppose, we're not the most valuable player out there. It's a tough job with no pay, so we quit. We liked Goalie Bun Hill, Arn Dugan and Jack Foote last eve, but the whole club played classy lacrosse in their 18-6 smirk o'er Brampton. The latter club let the locals down by bringing up a so-so squad which didn't have a chance. Any senior "B" team in the group would have given the Petes a much tougher tussle. Only thing we liked about the exhibition game was the fight broadcast.

They Went Overtime

In girls' softball at ye olde Bowle over east last e'en, Westclox took Lock Co. 17-11 in a just fair scrap, while Marines nosed out Lindsay lasses 5-4 in 12 innings. A dandy duel all the way, despite some miscues on both sides, and one of those lovely ones to win and heartbreakers to drop. Marines earned it but Lindsay really put up a fight. Westclox have a slight margin to hold first place with eight wins and one loss while Marines have seven and one. It's Ashby's and CGE in a tie next with five and two, Lindsay following and then Lakefield, Woollens and Lock Co. Two more tilts over there Monday night.

Petes Wallop Brampton 18-6 In a So-so Lacrosse Tussle

The Petes' Senior "B" lacrossers walloped the Brampton "A" squad 18-6 in an exhibition game here before a good crowd Friday night. The visitors must have been shy many regulars as they were outclassed throughout. Only in the third quarter did they show any class. It was 4-1 in the first frame, 10-1 at the half and 11-4 going into the fourth. Barring a fight between Connelly and Crawford, it was a clean tilt.

All the Petes looked good against poor opposition. They turned in a smart performance throughout. Goalie Hill, Dugan and Foote were prominent all the way, with the Breakspears, the Vitarellis, E. Creighton and Gordon also showing up well. Watt, Evans and Caruso were probably the pick of the losers. The Walcott-Louis fight was broadcast during the last half.

The teams:

Brampton—Goal, Cuthbert; defence, Lagerquist and Arthurs; centre, Gallagher; wings, Watt and Dalzell; rover, Evans; alternates, Steel, Caruso, Raine, Crawford and MacAndles.

Petes—Goal, B. Hill; defence, Chute and Magee; centre, E. Creighton; wings, R. Breakspear and Dugan; rover, Foote; alternates, J. Breakspear, Horton, L. Vitarelli, D. Vitarelli, Gordon, Smith, Dundas and Connelly.

Marines Take 5-4 Win In 12th From Lindsay Outfit

In the best girls' softball game seen yet this season at the Bowl, Marines last night edged out Lindsay 5-4 in 12 innings. It was run off in an hour and a quarter and the winning run scored on a bad throw from left field. The win kept Marines almost even on top with Westclox and dropped Lindsay deeper into fourth place in the eight-team league. J. Bryans pitched all the way and deserved a better fate, but Marines earned the win with heads-up ball. Both sides were a little loose defensively. M. Downer started for Marines but E. Whittaker took over in the seventh.

L. Jordan and H. LaPointe stood out in the field for the winners, while H. Deyell and M. Owens went good for Lindsay. B. Larmer led the Outboards at bat with a homer, double and single in six attempts, M. Behand having a homer and single. H. Deyell and A. MacDonald each had three safe blows for the Lindsay lasses. A catch by H. Deyell was a fielding feature. There weren't many strikeouts on either side.

The Teams

Lindsay — H. Deyell, 2b; A. MacDonald, rf; D. Hunter, c; P. Graham, 1b; M. Owens, 3b; P. Richards, lf; J. Bryans, p; D. Madill, cf; M. Dockens, cf; D. Woods, ss.

LAWN BOWLING
By HERB MARTIN

The attendance at last night's twilight doubles tournament was somewhat disappointing to the committee. They did expect more. However that is one of those things that happen and nothing can be done about it. Next week most likely there would be a waiting list.

Just a couple of reminders to our bowlers. The Ovaltine Trophy tournament on the holiday and the entry list for the provincial playoffs closes on Wednesday night.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock we have the "Family Hour" mixed rink tournament. Draw from the board. Come on out and enjoy a couple of hours of good fun. It promises to be a fine evening.

Louis Knocks Out Walcott In 11th Round; Announces He's Retiring

NEW YORK, June 26—(CP).—The savage Joe Louis of a decade ago lived again for a few violent seconds last night to knock out Jersey Joe Walcott in the 11th round of their title battle. But the 34-year-old Louis, born Joseph Barrow, knew his flabby more-than-200-pound body was well past its prime. He immediately announced his retirement — undefeated world's heavyweight champion after defending his crown 25 times.

The rage of the jungle killer welled up in Louis as the 11th round neared its end. He found the opening for which he always has waited. Then it was a matter of only seconds and Jersey Joe was a sad-looking, open-mouthed loser. The time was 2.56.

His left eye puffily red and half shut, Louis made his retirement announcement while Referee Frank Fullam still held his right arm aloft as the symbol of victory. And as his last fight, the Detroit Brown Bomber dedicated it "for my mother—this is for her . . ."

Vengeful Louis

It was a vengeful Joe Louis who entered the ring at Yankee Stadium before 42,667 fans. He was after definite victory to make up for the slim decision he won from Walcott in their Dec. 5 bout. And though he actually dropped his poker-faced look by the fifth round and appeared worried and harried, the hard killer-look returned when Walcott made his fateful mistake.

The Jersey challenger used his jig-jog backstep to its greatest advantage—except when he opened up and tried to knock the champion out. Walcott's loose-armed looping blows in the hurried seconds preceding his knock-out left all the room in the world for the champion to find the opening he wanted.

Walcott later claimed he didn't remember anything after Louis' first right to the jaw—a punch that travelled about four inches. Louis followed that right with a short, powerful left. The challenger's jaw dropped open but a hard uppercut closed it.

Louis savagely pummelled Walcott's kinky head. He lashed quick vicious punches to the insensible Walcott's face. The challenger staggered forward to the canvas and rolled on his back. By the count of seven he came to his knees.

Then desperately—willed only by the sub-conscious—he tried to rise. The referee ended his count and put his arms about Walcott's waist as the bulge-muscled Camden come-back collapsed face forward.

Far Wiser Fighter

Louis was a far wiser, though much paunchier man than he was last December. Most of the time he refused to chase the half-grinning challenger. But the annoying three-step of Walcott's embittered the champion visibly.

In his hanging-arm manner, Walcott even went so far once as to raise both his hands above his head within Louis' reach. Dozens of times he half-stepped back and then walked away from the champion, his tongue sticking out just a little.

The referee twice called to Walcott: "Come on, this is a fight." But Walcott didn't want to make a fight of it until he nearly closed the champion's left eye. When he came in to fight, it was all over.

Up to that time the judges had Walcott out in front and the referee saw Louis as leading. The Canadian Press scorecard listed Walcott with five rounds, Louis with three and two even. Referee Fullam had it Louis 5-2 with three even. Judge Jack O'Sullivan scored it 5-4 for Walcott with one even and Judge Harold Barnes gave the challenger a wide edge, 6-3 with one even.

NICHOLAS NICKLEBY

CHARLES DICKENS for more than a century has enthralled readers young and old throughout the world with his stories. Today he has become, with the production of one great British film, the most popular story teller on the screen. Ealing Studios pay homage to those technicians and actors who brought "Great Expectations" so brilliantly before the film public, and are happy to announce a new Dickens film which they feel confident will be a worthy successor. "Nicholas Nickleby", enacted by a large cast of distinguished names, brings to screen life some of the most popular and widely known Dickens characters — the Nicklebys themselves, the frightful Squeerses of Dotheboys Hall, the extravagant Crummleses of the travelling theatre, the ludicrous Mantalinis, the heart-warming Cheeryble Brothers, Miss LaCreevy, Newman Noggs and so many others — in a film that breathes comedy, drama and humanity.

Branca Tames Cards 3-2; Cubs Downed

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Ralph Branca is finished." That was the opinion shared by many following the Brooklyn Dodger righthander's dismal showing in the 1947 world series against New York Yankees.

The belief gained momentum when the pitcher was knocked from the mound in his first three starts in the current National League season.

Today however Branca is in line for a pitching assignment on the league's all-star team.

Following his third trip to the showers, Branca began to look like the Branca who won 21 games in 1947. Currently he's on a winning streak that has reached seven straight.

Branca tamed St. Louis Cardinals 3-2, with a seven-hitter in Brooklyn Friday night to post his ninth victory. He has lost five.

Fall Behind

The Dodgers jumped on Red Munger for two runs in the third on an infield hit, Billy Cox's triple and Jackie Robinsons two-bagger. The Dodgers scored the winning run in the fifth when Ed Miksis singled and rode home on Marv Rackley's double.

By losing, the Cards fell 1½ games behind the league-leading Braves who swamped Pittsburgh Pirates, 12-3, in a night game.

Jimmy Russell, Tommy Holmes and Alvin Dark belted homers to spark the Boston attack.

Philadelphia Phillies edged Chicago Cubs, 2-1, behind Dutch Leonard, Dick Sisler's double and Del Ennis' single produced the winning run in the seventh frame.

In the only day game in either league, the Giants trounced Cincinnati Reds, 7-0. Ray Poat held the Reds to three safeties.

Philadelphia Athletics moved into second place, a game behind the front-running Cleveland Indians in the American League pennant chase by downing the White Sox, 4-1.

Joe Coleman limited the Sox to eight hits and batted in two runs with a second-inning double to hang up his eighth victory.

The Indians were nosed out, 3-2, by Washington Senators. It was the faltering Tribe's ninth setback in their last 13 starts. Pitcher Early Wynn batted in the winning runs with a two-run single in the top of the seventh inning.

Down Yankees

At Detroit, the Tigers turned back New York Yankees, 4-2, to drop the Yanks from second to third place in the standings, four percentage points behind the Athletics.

Southpaw Hal Newhouser held the Yanks to seven hits, two of them homers by Johnny Lindell and Joe DiMaggio. DiMaggio's blast was his 18th, top output in the circuit.

St. Louis Browns upset Boston Red Sox, 9-6, with Pitcher Bryan Stephens breaking up the game by doubling home three runs in the eighth inning.

Crowd Mobs Louis Tears Car To Pieces

NEW YORK, June 26.—(AP).—Joe Louis' admirers became so excited over their idol's knockout victory over Joe Walcott Friday night that they almost took it out on the world's heavyweight champion.

When Louis arrived at his hotel in Harlem a little after midnight he was almost mobbed by a crowd of 10,000 faithful followers.

Louis was accompanied by his manager and three detectives. The fans climbed all over his car, tore off the hood and all four tires, then ripped off the license plates. It took 30 policemen a half hour to get Joe safely up to his suite.

SUPREMACY OF HARRISON Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace college in the hurdles' events of the Ompic Games may be challenged by Clyde Scott of Arkansas, former Navy football star. Scott turned in a sensational performance in winning the 110-meter high hurdles at the NCAA (National Collegiate Amateur Association) track meet in Minneapolis, a meet in which Dillard was declared ineligible. Scott, in centre here, rambled over the highs in 13.7 seconds, tieing the accepted world mark.

Soccer Played King Edward School Picnic

Ideal weather prevailed for the annual school picnic held on the school grounds and in King Edward Park, on Friday. A bountiful lunch provided by the Home and School ladies followed a full program of sports. Some of the boys asked for a soccer game and this was a new event for this time of year. The senior boys played softball and soccer and the senior girls had a softball tournament with the juniors running off a full list of races. Two booths for ice cream and soft drinks did a rushing business all afternoon.

The teaching staff supervised the sports and the ladies of the Home and School under the direction of Mrs. L. Gibson had charge of the booths and the supper.

Get School Trophies

Once again trophies have been awarded to the senior and junior softball teams in the public schools of Peterborough, for the best brand of sportsmanship shown during scheduled league games.

They are as follows:

Senior cup—Won by King George school and coached by Mr. J. Telford.

Junior cup—Won by May's School and coached by Mr. G. Ball.

These cups were donated by the Optomists Club. The decision is arrived at by the teacher-referees who award one point at the conclusion of each game, for the team showing the best sportsmanship.

City Ball League

West and the North juveniles have a City Baseball League game at 6:30 Monday night in Riverside, with South-enders and Hawks staging a bantam contest the same night in Morrow Park. On Tuesday, South and West midgets play in Riverside as South-end peewees meet Crawford's Grove in Morrow Park. And on Wednesday the South and East midgets go to Riverside, with East and North bantams playing in Morrow Park.

Millbrook Has Picnic

MILLBROOK, June 26—(ENS).—Golden Sheaf Rebekah Lodge, No. 176, held its annual picnic on Thursday afternoon. The rain interfered with the plan to accept Mrs. Lawrence Winslow's invitation to meet on the lawns at her home, south of the village, and Mrs. M. W. Ball's home in the village was chosen instead. The wide verandahs were convenient and suitable for the card games and the abundant picnic supper. Over forty were in attendance.

Kiwanis Triumph

Kiwanis defeated Montreal House 9-2 in bantam lacrosse, the winners showing better condition than their rivals at this early date. The scoring by the winners was pretty well spread around with most of the boys showing up well at this game, new to the majority of them. The losers, who will improve with practise, got their goals through Blodgett and Jones. The teams:

Montreal House: Clifton, Jones, H. Stewart, J. Stewart, Lagano, Loucks, E. Dunn, R. Dunn, Dabson, Dack, Griffin, Lafave, Blodgett, Edwards, Patterson, Marshall, Smith and Foster.

Kiwanis: Crowe, Hobart, Allen, Corbett, P. Crough, E. Crough, McDougall, Bulmer, Collins, Kearns, Mullins, Cournyea, Ball, Nixon, O'Brien, Tarkington, Hobart, Woodhouse.

Matched In Finals

TORONTO, June 26 — (CP) — Veteran Phil Farley of Toronto and newcomer Don Varey of Brantford were matched today in finals of the Ontario Amateur Golf Championship. Varey, 27, scored a surprising victory Friday over defending champion Rudy Horvath of Windsor in a semi-final match, to earn the right to meet Toronto Scarboro's 36-year-old five-time winner of the title. Varey won from Horvath 4 and 3; Farley defeated Emerson Creed of Barrie 3 and 2 in the other semi-final match.

Remember When . . .

By The Canadian Press.

Gene Sarazen made it a golfing double 14 years ago today by winning the United States Open just after he had triumphed in the British Open. The stocky little United States pro fired a four-under-par final round of 66 for a 72-hole score of 286.

Bisons Divide Doubleheader

(By The Associated Press

Buffalo Bisons slowly but surely are battling their way upwards in the International League pennant race.

Manager Paul Richards' fence-busting crew is only one percentage point out of third place today and four games behind the second-place Newark Bears.

The Bisons missed an opportunity to take over third Friday night by dividing a doubleheader with Jersey City Giants while the third-place Syracuse Chiefs dropped a 5-2 decision to Toronto Maple Leafs.

After beating the Giants, 5-3, in the first game, the Bisons were nosed out, 4-3 in the second contest.

Newark divided a doubleheader with Rochester Red Wings, taking the first tilt, 4-3, but losing the second 5-3.

The game between the league-leading Montreal Royals and the tail-end Baltimore Orioles was postponed.

Westclox Girls Take Win Over Lock Co.

Westclox kept a grip on top spot in the Girls' Softball League last night at the Bowl when they defeated Lock Co. 17-11. They had a margin on hitting and fielding in the heavy-hitting tilt, and better pitching. M. Downer was nicked for a dozen safeties and six walks, but fanned nine and got fair support. The winners had two big innings to salt it away, scoring five in the fourth and seven in a loose fifth frame. Lock Co. whittled the count down the last two innings with seven runs.

D. Westlake and T. McQuade for Lock Co., with B. Morrow and T. Dorset for Westclox went best in the field. A. Anderson was the big hitter for the victors with five singles in six official trips to the plate. D. Westlake led Lock Co. at bat with three in six tries, one a three-bagger. J. McIntyre clicked for a homer.

Political Veteran 34 Years Senator Haig Most Vocal Critic

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, June 26 (CP). — Come youth and all its splendors, a 70-year-old veteran of 34 years of political strife remains possibly the most vocal and persistent critic of government policy on Parliament Hill.

As leader of the wan and depleted Progressive Conservative membership of the Senate, John Thomas Haig has to be — because he is often largely a one-man opposition.

Sometimes twice in one day, he lets fly on major subjects.

He is an active member of most of the Senate's more important committees, but his major job is as second-in-command of the Divorce Committee that handles the chamber's longest, toughest task.

With some significance, he lately has been encouraging the two old parties to make electoral changes that would forestall a CCF Government on a minority vote.

Irony

It is political irony that he is the Senate counterpart of John Bracken, is party's leader in the Commons, because they were foes in the Manitoba Legislature for years. It is a commentary on his open, boyish, friendly nature that an autographed print of a painting of Prime Minister Mackenzie King hangs on his office wall, thickly encircled by Tories.

As a United Nations delegate, he became a friend of M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader. The corridors of Parliament are not surprised to see him and Senator Wishart Robertson, Liberal leader, first-naming one another and walking arm in arm.

Earthly Language

Once a farmboy, Senator Haig has never quite divorced himself from that background despite his legal career. His talk easily runs to homespun terms like "honest" and "By jiminy." He argues with an earthy, open purpose that often carries him away.

He is never happier than when the Senate, somewhat of a sanctuary, rears back and flies into a good old-fashioned scrap.

It was just announced that U.S. Senator Edward Martin of Pennsylvania had withdrawn as a favorite son candidate for the Republican presidential nomination and switched his allegiance to the New York contender. UNDERSTANDING = MODERATION

Understanding comes to us when we see things through the other fellow's eyes . . .

when we listen through the other fellow's ears . . .

when we consider the other fellow's point of view at all times.

It's the key to happy living together. For it leads us to weigh our words and shape our actions for the common good.

Happily a Canadian characteristic, it's this understanding which leads us to choose the path of moderation in all things . . . moderation in our thinking, moderation in our spending . . . moderation in our pleasure, moderation in the enjoyment of whisky. For understanding makes us realize that moderation benefits not only our own selves, but our families, our communities and all of Canada.

Men who Think of Tomorrow Practice Moderation Today!

Scripture—Daniel 2:31-45; 8; 11; Malachi 3:1-5; 4; Luke 1:67-79; 2:25-33; John 10:22, 23

By Alfred J. Buescher

King Nebuchadnezzar had a strange dream, which troubled him. He saw a great image with head of gold, breast and arms of silver, belly and thighs of grass, legs and feet of iron and clay. Daniel interpreted it.

In the reign of Belshazzar, Daniel had a vision wherein he saw a ram with two horns, one shorter than the other, and a goat with one short horn between his eyes, and the goat fought the ram and conquered him.

Then a man appeared to Daniel in the vision and explained to him that a king would come and destroy many, and he would even stand up against the Prince of princes, but should "be broken without hand."

Malachi, following Daniel, prophesied that a messenger (John should come to prepare the way of the Lord, who would purify the sons of men that they might offer an offering in righteousness.

Story of Resurrection Brings Peace and Comfort

By REV. E. R. JAMES

Jesus of Nazareth, whom God raised from the dead because it was not possible that he should be holden of death.—Acts 2:24.

A most startling statement made by a plain fisherman, Simon Peter. We would impress upon your mind these moving words: "Whom God raised up because it was not possible for Him to be holden of death". This fisherman speaking for himself and the small body of friends is sure that this is the truth. It is a truth which has brought peace and comfort to countless multitudes through the centuries. It has enabled men and women to face the darknesses of life and death.

There is no doubt about His death. The Roman officer in charge of the execution certifies to it by having a spear thrust into His heart. He died on the Cross and the men accustomed to death could make no mistake.

It is of the utmost importance that we should believe in the resurrection of the Lord Christ. It is a primary and fundamental truth of our Christian religion. It was the moving text of the Apostles: "Jesus and the resurrection." All the truth of His teaching is base on this fact. Men have given up everything to hold fast to this truth. Saul of Tarsus would have risen to high position on the Sanhedrin but gave it up for the truth that Jesus rose from the dead. In consequence he became one of the most hated men of his race.

The earliest written evidence for the resurrection is 1 Cor. 15; the Epistles were written before the Gospels. This is St. Paul's creed: "For I have delivered unto you first of all that which also I received how that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures and that He was buried and that He rose again the third day."

The resurrection of Jesus Christ is a miracle. When Christ was born of a human mother, taking upon Him our human nature it naturally followed that He could not be holden of death. He rose in His Spiritual Body. "There is a natural body and there is a spiritual body." The mortal Body was placed in the tomb because He was dead. By the power of God it was transformed into the Spiritual Body, which could pass through the cave and walls of the Upper Room when He appeared from time to time before His ascension.

The resurrection of Jesus Christ is a vital truth. In your day of sorrow you will be able to say: "It is the Lord, let Him do what seemeth Him good." His Spirit will whisper to you: "What I do now thou knowest not but thou shalt know hereafter". Moreover this ancient Scripture will come to you with new meaning: "The Teacher is come and calleth for thee." He will speak to you words of consolation; for He is a Man of sorows and aquainted with grief. He is full of compassion for you.

The spiritual proof of the resurrection is the change in your own character. By the power of the Holy Spirit you will be slowly changed into the Christ; your besetting sin will lose its power. You will become a new creature in Christ Jesus.

Sir James Simpson, a famous scientist, lost his little daughter. On her grave stone are these words: NEVERTHELESS I LIVE. It is conviction of a scholarly Christian father.

BLESSED BE THE GOD AND FATHER OF OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST, WHO HATH BEGOTTEN US UNTO A LIVING HOPE BY HIS RESURRECTION OF JESUS CHRIST FROM THE DEAD.

MEMORY VERSE

"He loved us, and sent His Son."—1 John 4:10.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

The first part of our lesson concerns itself with visions—first a dream by King Nebuchadnezzar, interpreted by Daniel, and a vision by Daniel, and a vision Daniel had which was explained by a supernatural being in the form of a man.

Nebuchadnezzar's dream, which puzzled his wise men, was of seeing a great image with a head of gold, breast and arms of silver, belly and thighs of brass, legs of iron and clay. Daniel said the golden head was Nebuchadnezzar himself (the Babylonian), whose reign was good; the others were progressively evil empires the silver the Medo-Persian, Greek brass and the Roman, who was represented by the legs of iron and clay, symbolizing the eastern and western divisions of the empire. Eventually, after these conquering empires, God would set up His own government "which shall never be destroyed." Daniel promised. That time is not yet come, but it is still the hope of the world.

Daniel's vision was of a ram with two horns, one longer than the other, and a goat with one great horn between his eyes. The scene was on the banks of a river, and as Daniel looked, the goat fought the ram and conquered and trampled him. Then the great horn was broken and four more took its place.

As Daniel was pondering the meaning of the vision a man appeared to him, and he was told that the ram with the two horns represented the Medo-Persian empire, and the rough he-goat was the king of Greece, the great horn between his eyes was Alexander the Great, who conquered Medo-Persia, and the four kingdoms that arose when the great horn was broken—when Alexander died—were the four division of Alexander's empire, Greece, Asia, Minor, Egypt and the East.

Daniel's prophecies were uttered about 590-535 B.C.; Malachi came about a century later. The latter's prophesy, in Malachi, chapter 3, reads: "Behold, I will send My messenger, and he shall prepare the way before Me; and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall come to His temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in; behold, He shall come, saith the Lord of Hosts. But who may abide the day of His coming?" This prophecy points to the coming of John the Baptist, the forerunner of Christ.

Since the time of these ancient Hebrew conquerors, many nations have come and gone, some bent, as in our own day, with conquering and ruling the whole earth. They have been put down, anw now we are striving to unite the nations in a governing body, each indepedent, but working toward a time when no one shall be able even to attempt to subdue the others. Our prayers and all our most earnest efforts should be directed to this great end.

The lesson now turns to the New Testament, where Luke tells of the birth of John the Baptist to the priest Zacharias and his wife, Elizabeth. Zacharias had been struck dumb before the birth of his son, but when the child was born his mouth was opened and he praised God, saying, "Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; for He hath visited and redeemed His people, and hath raised up an horn of salvation for us in the house of His servant David; As He spake by the mouth of His holy prophets, which have been since the world began: That we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us."

Space will not allow us to discuss the details of the numerous Bible references and the ideas set forth therein in this interesting lesson. We have just room to recite Simeon's joy in the birth of Jesus, the Messiah. The infant, you remember was taken to the temple by His parents when He was a baby. There Simeon, a just old man and devout, took the child in his arms and blessed God, saying, "Lord, now lettest Thou Thy servant depart in peace, according to Thy word: For mine eyes have seen Thy salvation, which Thou hast prepared before the face of all people; a light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of Thy people Israel."

Israel now again is a nation. Will this new-old land be allowed to gain peace and prosper in the family of one world?

Company Says Union Demand Cost $13 Million

What demands of the union for wage increases would mean to the company are outlined this week in the CGE Works News in its report of the progress being made in the negotiations now under way between a Joint Union Committee and the Company.

"Negotiations were resumed in Toronto on Monday and Tuesday after a two-weeks' recess. During that interval, the Company prepared and submitted revisions to their original proposals including an offer to examine the basis for a general wage increase.

"The Union's demands, which were not modified during the recess, were revealed as an all-over increase of at least 44-55 cents per hour. The total cost to the Company of this increase was indicated as approximately $13 million. The only way such an increase could be met would be by sharp price increases in our products, adding further to the inflationary spiral and pricing some of our products out of the market.

"The Union then agreed to reduce its demand for a general wage increase from 30 cents to 20 cents which, without change in the other wage items, still totalled 35-45 cents per hour or approximately $10 million—over three times the Company's profits in 1947.

"The Company presented a survey of the wage increases that had taken place in industry since 1946. Based on this survey, it was shown that an increase of 4 cents would bring the total increases for this period in line with the total increases granted by other industries including their this year's increase. This figure was then submitted as an offer to the Union.

"The Union stressed that there were a number of other articles which it felt were equally or more important than the wage items. These include a master contract, shorter hours, and Union security.

Further Discussion

"At the request of the Union, the Company indicated those articles in the proposals it felt merited further discussion. These included a general wage increase, seniority and rules for job protection, job evaluation, vacations, and some phases of other proposals. The Company felt that discussion on all proposals was quite in order but that the remaining proposals, as formulated by the Union, offered little opportunity for reaching agreement.

"On Tuesday afternoon, negotiations were broken off for the rest of the week, at the Union's request, in order to discuss the Company's offer with the membership.

"It was agreed to resume negotiations June 28th and to extend to July 10th the period for negotiating modification of the agreement. The present agreement continues in effect for another year to June 30, 1949, subject to any modifications agreed upon at this time."

Charge Follows Crash On Aylmer St.

Police say a charge of careless driving will be laid against Edward Roach, 581 Elm St., as a result of an accident at Aylmer and Sherbrooke streets last night. Nobody was injured.

George Worboy, 586 Sherbrooke St., was driving west on Sherbrooke, stopped at Aylmer St., and then began to cross. When he was three-fourths of the way across, a north-bound car on Aylmer, driven by Edward Roach, 581 Elm St., met in collision with the left rear end of the Worboy auto.

The Worboy car was turned completely around and thrown onto the west curb of Aylmer by the impact. The body of the Worboy car was knocked out of line and the frame bent. The Roach auto had more extensive damage, but no estimates have been made. PCs A. Edmison and Leo Murphy investigated.

Council Discusses Market Property

Property committee of the Council began last night a new approach to the responsibility of capitalizing the market block properties which are owned by the city. Copies of a report which they have had prepared were furnished to the members for their study. At the present preliminary stage, Ald. Gordon Armstrong, chairman, requested that there should not be any publicity other than the announcement that the committee is active.

On a motion by Ald. Raine, a sub-committee composed of Ald. Waddell, Ald. D. Miller and Mayor Ovens was appointed to prepare a report for the property committee and council on the present proposals of procedure.

Collect 60 Tons

Boy Scouts from every troop in Peterborough, with their fathers and friends, took part in the waste paper drive Thursday, when about 60 tons of paper was collected. More than 200 people took part in the collection and 30 trucks were loaned by various factories and stores in the city. Only about half as much paper was collected in this drive as in the previous one last April, due to recent collections by the public schools.

40 Militiamen Going To Picton

Some 40 members of the 50th HAA Regt. (PWR) RCA are expected to take part in summer training at Picton. The group will train at the Artillery School for one week commencing July 4.

Central Command Headquarters has announced that more than 6,000 members of the Canadian Army Reserve Force from all parts of eastern Canada are to train at three of Ontario's large military camps this summer.

Largest of the three camps will be at Petawa, where preparations than 4,000 men. All Reserve Force units from Ontario's Central Command, with the exception of anti-aircraft and signals, will train at this camp, as will certain units of Quebec and Eastern Commands.

Anti-aircraft and signals regiments of all of the army's three most eastern commands will train at Picton and Barriefield.

The army's most modern equipment will be made available at all three camps, as will the latest in training aids. Instructors are being drawn from the Administrative and Training staffs of the three commands, supplemented where necessary by instructors from Active Force units.

Park Fountain Inactive For 50 Years

More than 70 years ago, Victoria Park was a field of long grass and weeds surrounded by a white picket fence. A rough cart road twisted over the top of the hill to the Court House, and heavy stones with rings fastened to them tethered the horses while the riders were in at Council meeting. Along side of the present steps, several of these stones remained as objects of interest for years.

Then the city decided to take over the beautifying of the Court House, and in a resolution, the County put the acre or so of land that is Victoria Park, under the supervision of the city. And between the years 1886 and 1891, when Mr. James Stevenson was mayor of Peterborough, the basis was laid for the present grounds.

It was the same mayor who gave the fountain, which stands in the middle of the park, to the city. It is a graceful piece of artistry, and would be a tremendous asset to the city if it operated. But it has not done so for half a century. It seems that children used to play in the small pool at the top, and the fountain, instead of a thing of beauty, was nothing but a glorified mud puddle. So the water was shut off.

Since then the Court House has been repainted, and reshingled. The three flights of steps going up the hill have appeared through the donations of local citizens. The flower gardens have grown, the walks laid out, and the stone flower pots provided. But the fountain still refuses to take its part. One citizen suggested a strong and ornamental fence high enough to keep the youngsters out, then perhaps the fountain could be put in operation again without detracting from the beauty of the park.

SCHOOLS CLOSE

All Peterborough school children are looking forward to Tuesday, June 29, the great day of the year when the public schools close and the summer holidays begin.

Gift To Princess Elizabeth Of Food Parcels Delights Many Families

Mayor Ovens has received many letters of appreciation from families in Britain who shared in the distribution of food parcels from Peterborough as a collective wedding gift to Princess Elizabeth. "I think our citizens who contributed to the Princess Elizabeth Fund would like to know its purpose was fulfilled," Mayor Ovens said today to the Examiner, "and also hear something of the warm sentiment of gratefulness that is expressed in all those letters. It makes one feel that we are all of one community, and I am certain that the local people who helped make this Peterborough gift possible would like to read all those letters, as I have done. The intention of the gift was to enable Princess Elizabeth to share tributes from Peterborough with some of her people in Britain on the occasion of her marriage."

Mayor Ovens suggested the Examiner might publish a few of the letters indicating the common spirit of all of them. One of them came by air mail. Only quotations are copied. The letters were picked at random in their envelopes and without any attempt at selection:

From L. E. R., Hutchison, The Down, Magham Down, Hailsham, Sussex, June 20— "Your parcel was a very great surprise. It is the first parcel I have ever received.... I had three sons in the war. Two are still serving, one in the Army and one in the Air Force. I thank you very much indeed."

Mrs. Florence L. Hobday and family, Great Bossington Farm, Adisham, near Canterbury, Kent: "On behalf of my family and myself I am writing to thank you very much for the lovely surprise parcel. It will be very useful, for I have not seen any tapioca since before the war. My little daughter, aged 10, was excited and wanted to know what it all meant. When I explained it to her and read the enclosed cards she just said: 'Mummy, that is very kind of Princess Elizabeth.' My husband is head cowman on the farm here. We like country life here, but I often think that your country must be a wonderful place. Please convey our thanks to all those people who made it possible for us to receive your parcel."

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, 2A Walker Street, Stockton-on-Tees, Durham County: "Dear Mr. Mayor, will you please accept the gratitude of my family and myself for the delightful food parcel which I received yesterday (June 15). It will help very considerably to supplement our rations and give us a little variety in our diet.

"We in England are greatly heartened in our darker days to know that our good friends overseas appreciate our difficulties and share our trials. It is only by such a spirit as that shown by your fellow-citizens that this world of ours will become the

Borer Attacks Birch Trees On City Streets

Little did the city fathers think over 20 years ago when they started landscaping west end streets with silver birch saplings that they would grow so profusely into some of the finest shade trees in Peterborough. It was a pet project of the late Alderman Walter J. Stocker who had a flair for that sort of thing. He nutured them along and was rewarded with creating bare curbs into a thing of beauty.

After his death, over five years ago, others who followed in his line of work, did not have the touch and unknown to anyone, the trees became diseased. Today, in the Gilmour-Monaghan Rd., section of the city, there are gaps of decay in the flowing lines of foliage where shrivelled skeletons of trees stand between healthy growing specimens. At least, they appear to be healthy. A recent examination shows that the dead trees, five in this area, have been ravaged by a vicious borer.

Department of Agriculture circulars say that the pest is known as the Bronze Birch Borer, an insect that attacks the topmost branches of the main trunk, lays eggs in the bark and harbours young bugs that bore into the cambium layer of the wood and work down in all directions. There has been no practical remedy found to combat the disease except for the suggestion that keen observers should report the first signs of disease and arrange to have the parts cut away and burned.

There are two weeping birches at the Kawartha Club that have been growing healthily for a number of years without any signs of disease; officials feel that isolation from city trees has something to do with it.

Pen To Hoe Invaluable Experience For Students

Contrary to the common belief that many people have of the university student, the boy or girl who leans over a desk all winter, who wears cap and gown to graduation, and who is part of the cheering mob in rugby season, is really the same person who handles a hoe, carries trays or runs office-boy messages in the summer. Many of these students find they need money to continue their college career, but usually the Varsity men and girls work in these vastly different fields to broaden their abilities and understanding of other ways of life.

One lad has been toolmaker, construction laborer, office-boy, farm cadet, and stackman in a library. He feels his experiences have helped him tremendously in meeting people and coping with various situations he could never have attacked otherwise.

And the average student has done the same sort of thing and feels the same way. The annual summer holidays are an opportunity for broadening his outlook.

Peterborough's representatives to Western University, Toronto, Queen's and St. Francis Xavier College, Antigonish, bear out this holiday philosophy well. Al Hooper, in third year Arts, is working with the Canada Dry Co., Art Turner, third arts, with the Coca Cola, Jack Brown, second arts, Wright Refrigeration, Gordon Diplock, commercial art, doing independent art work; Jim Shields, third arts, is with the CGE; Ray Kidd, third science, Canada Dry; Barney Loftus, third general, Loftus' Stores; Don Payne, second arts, CPC; Morris Richardson, second arts, J. LOVELY COTTAGE—It's quite clear that the owner of this enchanting cottage is a flower lover. Yes, those are giant roses forming a fence for the property, and their fragrance filled the air when this picture was taken. Exterior walls are cedar shingles painted white. The roof, concrete patio, and chimney are bright red. Isn't the millwork detail both unusual and interesting? As the house is sideways on its lot, it may be necessary to tilt the floor plan shown until the corner of the patio points toward the reader to understand the room arrangement in relation to the street frontage. One of the most notable features of the house is the number and size of the windows throughout. Special note should be made of the cosy den, with its open fireplace. Publisher Asks Foundation To Run Paper

SUDBURY, June 26 (CP).—The W. E. Mason Foundation, established for charity several years before Mr. Mason's death last Tuesday, will operate his newspaper and radio enterprises, it was announced Thursday by executors of the estate. Provision will be made for the publisher's brother, sisters, nephews and nieces by way of annuities for their lifetime.

The executors said William Edge Mason had declared confidence in the managers of his enterprises which would continue under present management. The Sudbury Daily Star and Sudbury Realty & Holding Co. will be headed by J. R. Meakes, and Radio Station CKSO, Sudbury, by W. J. Woodill. In North Bay The Nugget remains under management of J. F. Grainger, and the St. Regis Hotel under management of W. G. Cornish.

Relatives for whom provision in form of annuities is made in Mr. Mason's will are his brother, George; his sisters, Mrs. A. McLellan and Mrs. S. Rutherford, both of Galt; three nieces, Mrs. William Cornish of North Bay; Jean and Mary Rutherford of Galt; and three nephews, Robert Mason, Allan McLellan and Jack Rutherford, all of Galt.

Comedian Snubs Hollywood; Prefers Stage

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 26 (AP)—Comedian Bobby Clark wants Hollywood to know he cannot be lured away from the stage. In fact, he gets almost violent about it.

Clark, surrently cavorting here in "Sweethearts," said he has received a "feeler" about a film job. But movie makers should know by now his utter disdain for their medium.

"I never go to the movies, except to see foreign films," said Clark, who like most comics is a serious man offstage. He told of being inveigled into seeing one of the current film hits: "It was terrible — a disgrace."

Television Hopeless

The famed comic sees little hope for television.

"It's in all the bars in New York," he declared, "but nobody looks at it. Even the most rabid baseball fans will watch only a couple of innings and then lose interest.

"Television will be all right for historic events, but for entertainment — No."

"There will be no more shows," he predicted. "The trend is already in that direction. Look at the successful musicals — 'Brigadoon,' 'Oklahoma!' 'Finian's Rainbow,' 'Sono of Norway,' 'Allegro' None has any comedy to speak of.

Comic Shortage.

"The students are trying to put together a new 'Ziegeld Follies,' but they can't because they can't find a comedian who can carry the show."

Starts Business Early

TORONTO, June 26 — (CP) — Garnet Arscott, eight, ran away from home a week ago but gave up his travels after two days. Money he had raised by "cashing in" pop bottle deposits ran out. He turned to toting beer cases for customers at a brewers' warehouse and built up a new travel fund. Now he's gone again and playmates said that this time he started out with a handful of bills and a pocketful of silver.

J. Follis, worthy matron, and Mr. F. J. Follis, worthy patron, were in charge of the whole arrangement and under them the other committees worked to arrange the evening which included singing, dancing and few comedy acts. About 65 were in attendance for the dinner and evening's entertainment.

Lighting, Ring Work Add Much YW Gym Review

Spotlights turned the YWCA gymnasium into a fairyland Friday evening as the woodland nymphs and flower-costumed ballet dancers gave a repeat performance of their annual review before a good crowd.

Blue and green lights gave an ethereal look to the nymphs clad in sheer white and waving green silk. Grouped for the finale of the flower ballet, pansies were under mauve, blue deepend th color of forget me-nots, and pink the roses and the daisies were under a dazzling white light, with the drowsy bumble-bees subdued by amber lighting.

Maxine Johnston thrilled spectators with her performance on the flying rings, as did other gymnasts who added special numbers to the program. Eight numbers of various gym routines were presented by business girls, cadets, junior gym and tiny tots.

Lighting effects which added so greatly to the spectacle were the work of Jim Record and Bill Piercy. Mr. J. Lancashire assisted at the door, taking tickets. Pianists were Mrs. M. McBride and Mrs. C. Monk, with drum arrangements by kindness of Walter Dyer. Miss Leith Johnston and Mrs. J. G. Lewis were in charge of the helpers.

Miss Caroline Littlefield, originator and director of the dance and exercise routines, was in charge of proceeds and made announcements.

White with Gold For Summer Wear

To be really "tops" in the fashion picture these hot days wear gold colored sandals and belt and carry a gold colored bag with a classic white shirtmaker of linen, shantung or cotton. Gold bracelets, necklace or earrings, or all three, may be worn for accent, or you may choose chalk white costume jewelry. This gold and white combination is striking, and particularly becoming to sun-tanned skins. It is getting a big play for summer dancing and resort wear.

Skirt lengths have been talked about so much that they have become a headache. However, visitors to the south, in cities where styles are set, tell us that the girls aren't wearing them longer than mid-calf. On return from the United States recently a local business girl reported feeling sloppy in her new suit and was taking it to be shortened. She is tall and had previously adjusted her skirt to 14 inches from the floor. So, if last summer's dress covers your knees well, go ahead and wear it.

Romantic Act Fails to Last Husband Soon Cools Off

A woman writes to this column. "I am barely 40 years old. Still have my complexion and my figure and my sense of humor, although I have been married for years and have five youngsters.

Dorothy Dix

Now tell me: Do the great majority of husbands grow more or less tired of their wives in a few years, and when a wife reaches 40 should she just be satisfied with a comfortable home and a good shopping ticket, when what she really craves is love and understanding?

"I mean that what we wives long for is for our husbands to show us the tender love that we had in the early years of married life. Should a wife of 20 years never expect anything more than a hurried kiss that is as likely to fall on her back hair or her right ear, as her lips? What wouldn't I give if my husband would take me in his arms and give me a kiss that had a thrill in it, instead of being just a chore.

"Before we were married my husband never forgot an anniversary, and he knew exactly what my tastes were and the things I would like to have and do. Now I have to remind him of my birthday and then he pokes a check at me and says he doesn't know what I want. Yet we are a happily married couple, as marriage goes. We never spat. My husband is a good provider and I am a good cook and we are not in a million miles of a divorce court. But I want something more out of marriage than just being a household convenience. I want my husband to show me every day, in every way, that I am still to him the girl he married.

Starved For Love

"And the catch in all of this is that I really think that my husband still loves me, but he doesn't think it worth while to tell me so. He expects me to take it for granted as long as he feeds me on filet mignon and crepes suzette and he never dreams that I am as starved for love as any beggar is for food.

"What's the matter with husbands? Are they just plain dumb that they do not realize that no wife ever gets so old that she doesn't want to be treated like a Lady Love? Or do we wives just expect too much of our husbands? Or do men just naturally crave young women? Thousands of us wives, who are married to human icicles, would like to know the answers to these questions."

It is easy enough to explain why technically good husbands, meaning thereby husbands who are as domestic as the house cat, who are good providers and who never raise their hands to a woman in ought but kindness, as the old melodramas used to say, treat their wives as they do. It is because the great majority of men are not sentimental by nature and while they nerve themselves up to putting on a romantic act during the days of courtship, they drop it like a hot cake at the altar. They have told Mary Ann that they love her and married her to prove it, and thank goodness that ordeal is over for good.

But women never understand this. They want to be treated as brides when they are 90. It doesn't suffice for their husbands to prove their devotion by deeds. What every wife craves is for her husband to keep up a perpetual courtship, and this not being in the nature of the brute explains why there re so many disgruntled wives.

Hilda McConkey Wed Today Honeymoons in Haliburton

George St. United Church was the setting for the pretty late June wedding today of Hilda May, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McConkey of Lakefield and Ronald Munroe, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Gardiner of Omemee. Vows were exchanged before the Rev. Dr. Jas. Semple, with a background of beautiful peonies and delphinium banked with palms and fern. Mr. Chas. Allen was at the organ to provide traditional wedding music and Mrs. T. Williams was the soloist. Before the bride entered she sang "The Lord's Prayer" and later in the service, "Because".

The bride's gown was of white satin with sweetheart neckline on the long torso bodce, fastened at the back with self-covered buttons. Inserts of lace trimmed the shirred bouffant skirt and the long pointed sleeves. Her embroidered veil was held in place by a pleated satin halo with orange blossoms and she carried a cascade of Bettertime roses, showered with gypsophilia. Mr. McConkey gave his daughter in marriage.

The bridesmaid was her sister, Miss June McConkey, frocked in pale pink patterned marquisette, trimmed with eyelet embroidery with matching gloves. A bandeau of daisies was in her hair and she carried a cascade of blue delphinium and pink carnations.

The groom's attendant was Mr. Karl Fee. Ushers were Milton McConnell and Russell Gardiner.

For the wedding the bride's mother chose a black and white figured silk dress and wore a white straw hat and corsage of Talisman roses. The groom's mother wore a light grey tailored suit, black straw hat and corsage of red roses. Both received at the reception in Hooper's Palm Rooms with the bridal party.

Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner left to spend a honeymoon in the Haliburton Highlands. The bride changed to a dress of pale blue poplin and wore a white off-the-face hat and accessories, and carried a topper of mulberry wool gabardine. They will live at 184 Dalhousie St.

Get 50% MORE Jam or Jelly from your Fruit with CERTO

RESULTS ARE SURE!

WHAT IS CERTO?

Why does Certo give you so much more jam and jelly? And why do Certo jams and jellies look better . . . taste better?

It's all quite simple. Certo is nothing but "fruit pectin" — the natural substance in fruit that makes jams "jam" and jellies "jell". It's extracted and refined to help you make better jams and jellies more easily and quickly.

THE CERTO SHORT BOIL

With Certo you don't have to boil and boil and boil your fruit to make it set. A one-to-two-minute full, rolling boil is enough for jams . . . a half-minute-to-a-minute for jellies.

CERTO DOES THIS

1 Gives you 50% more jam or jelly because you save all the precious fruit juice that wastes away in steam in long boiling.

2 Cuts to a fraction the time spent over the stove.

3 Retains the lovely, natural fresh-fruit taste and colour. That's still more important because with Certo you use fruit at its peak of flavor and colour — not the under-ripe fruit used in long-boil recipes.

SUCCESS SURE — EVEN FOR BEGINNERS

However inexperienced you may be, you'll have no failures if you follow exactly the recipes provided with Certo. Different fruits need different handling. There's a separate kitchen-tested recipe for each one.

Fritz Reiner Begins Open Air Shows

By PAT USSHER

NEW YORK, June 26 (CP). — Defying the weeping skies which frequently have hung over Manhattan of late, Lewisohn Stadium's 31st season of open-air concerts is under way, with Fritz Reiner conducting.

Here, weather allowing, up to 14,000 gather most evenings to hear music beneath the open skies. Artists and audience alike take in their stride such interruptions as the roar of planes overhead and the shouts of children at play in adjoining streets.

Super-Angel

Strictly an "angel" is Anthony B. Farrell, an industrialist from Albany, N.Y. In fact, he's a super-angel. Farrell joined those who put up the dough for stage shows by producing last month a flop musical comedy called "Hold It!" It cost him an initial $250,000 and he poured out another $100,000 in an effort to keep the show going. But the critics unanimously rejected it, public interest waned and the show closed after 46 performances.

Is Farrell through? By no means. He has purchased a large movie house, the Warner Theatre on Broadway, and plans to revive his play there Sept. 9.

Names In Bright Lights

Joan Roberts enters the cast of "High Button Shoes" on Tuesday night, succeeding Nanette Fabray. Miss Fabray will be seen next in "Love Life," a musical planned for the autumn . . . Beulah Bondi is expected to return to Broadway from Hollywood this fall to play a leading role in "Signor Chicago," a comedy by Edward Shodorov which Edward Choate will produce.

Plays and Playwrights

Born Yesterday," the Garson Kanin comedy hit, passed its 1,000th performance a few nights back, still going strong at the Lyceum Theatre . . . N.S. Interested In Coal Gassification

By DAVE McINTOSH

HALIFAX, June 26 — (CP) — Glassificction of coal? It may only be something for the future by Nova Scotia, with its great coal resources, definitely is interested.

Never ones to waste money, Nova Scotians today are watching experiments in Alabama and keeping an eye on developments in Russia, Britain and Belgium.

Simply, gassification of coal works this way. You take an ordinary unworked mine and push piping into it. Miners go below and hack out crosscuts and tunnels, much the same as they do now. A section of the coal seam is blocked off and the underground force is withdrawn.

By a time fuse, the piece of seam is fired and the burning rate is controlled by the amount of oxygen fed into the section. As the coal burns the escaping gas is piped to the surface.

Always Differs

No coal seams are the same and the grade of coal—or ash content—varies widely. Thus the blocking off, burning rate and piping would differ for every shaft.

Gassification would be especially handy in or near large industrial areas. It would hardly pay to pipe the gas over long distances to cities and towns, which might mean that industries would move near pit-heads for cheap power. It has even been suggested that enormous power plants might be built underground.

It the various schemes pan out, it would mean a boom for the Maritime and Western coalfields. Take Cape Breton, for instance. If gassification of coal worked in the pits there and the Labrador iron deposits were opened up, Sydney, with its steel plant at tidewater, would become the biggest steel centre in the world.

LEWIS BRUSHES PAST Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the soft coal operators, as he is summoned to testify before a Presidential fact-finding board of inquiry in Washington. The union leader predicted that the soft coal contract dispute could be settled without a summer strike if the government "will forego its lust for an injunction" against the UMW.

A WONDERFUL EXAMPLE of an Elizabethan glass goblet made in London in 1587, ten years before the Spanish Armada set sail for England, is being shown at the Eighth Antique Dealers' Fair at Grosvenor House, Park Lane, London. The goblet made by Giacomo Verzelini and engraved by Anthony de Lysle is 8¾ inches high and the diameter of the bowl 3¾ inches. It is the earliest known perfect example of a Verzelini glass goblet and only seven others are known to exist, five of them badly damaged.

Hold Farewell Service For Marmora Minister

MARMORA, June 26 — (ENS) —St. Andrew's United church saw a large congregation last Sunday to mark Father's Day, and also the end of the ministrations of the Rev. E. M. Cadigan, who has been pastor for the past four years.

The singing was led by a men's choir which sang an anthem. Its leader, George Woodhouse, gave the solo, 'My Task.'

Reception of about 30 new members into the church then took place.

Members of the session joined with Rev. E. M. Cadigan in welcoming the new members.

After the reception service, Mrs. Flora Litt, who is retiring as church organist after several years of service, was presented with a basket of flowers, a set of earrings and a brooch. The pastor spoke a few words in appreciation of Mrs. Litt's services and G. Woodhouse made the presentation.

Jack Cadigan, the pastor's son, was then called to receive the gift of a desk lamp from the congregation. Chairman A. W. Drew made the address and James Sproul made the presentation.

In his farewell address, Rev. E. M. Cadigan reviewed the history of the church for the past four years in which he had been pastor and referred to the happiness of himself, Mrs. Cadigan and their son during that time. Following the address, Rev. and Mrs. Cadigan were presented with a cheque on behalf of the congregation, the address being given by H. C. Barlow, with F. R. Well making the presentation.

The church was beautifully decorated wtih flowers, which included bouquets of flowers from the family and father in memory of the late Lewis Phillips.

Manslaughter Charge Laid After Fight

TORONTO, June 26 (CP)—Leo Smith, 43, was arrested on a charge of manslaughter today following the death of Peter Machilroda, 40, from injuries incurred in a fight in a downtown rooming house.

Police said Machilroda and Smith became involved in an argument over Helen Pallister, 26, Machilroda's companion. Smith attempted to stop Machilroda from striking the woman, and a scuffle ensued. Machilroda was knocked unconscious and was dead on arrival at hospital.

Police said Machilroda and Miss Pallister had been drinking in a room at the house. Miss Pallister is being held as a material witness to the slaying.

Takes Top Honors

GUELPH, June 26 — (CP) — Police Chief Thomas Platt of Wingham took top honors Wednesday in the deliberate, individual and moving target matches of the Wellington County Police Association revolver shoot. B. Robertson of Forest Hill placed first in Tyro competition.

Unwelcome 'Guest'

PEIPING, June 26—(AP). — Peiping's City Council threw ash trays and ink wells at its Commissioner of Police today when he appeared to make his report. The council was sore at the Commissioner, Maj.-Gen. Tang Yung-Hsien, because it thinks he's too dictatorial. Also it didn't like all those armed police he had stationed around City Hall. When he told them to shut up and likened them to three-faced Buddhas (a Chinese way of saying you think you know everything, don't you?) that was too much.

They let fly with everything that came to hand. Four councilmen rescued Tang, relatively undamaged.

Millbrook News

Mr. and Mrs. George Bothwell received word on Wednesday of the birth of a granddaughter, the parents being Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall (Flossie Bothwell) of Streetsville. The baby was born at the Brampton General Hospital Wednesday morning, and both mother and child are doing well.

Dr. and Mrs. M. E. Hobbs motored to Toronto on Wednesday morning, for the annual convention of the Canadian Medical Association. They expect to return home Friday.

Mrs. Douglas Sheppard was hostess for the June meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Thomas' Anglican Church, the special item of business being to arrange for a strawberry festival at the parish hall on Wednesday, June 30, from 5 to 730 p.m. The Guild is raising funds to help pay for the recent complete renovation of the parish hall, the expense incurred having been quite heavy. Part of it has been met by interested members of the church voluntarliy giving contributions, and a good deal of the work was done by volunteer labor under the supervision of Mrs. T. A. Campbell. To raise the balance due is the Guild's objective. Mrs. F. Lowery is president; the September meeting will have Miss Ann Fair as hostess.

CANADIAN BULWARKS OF DEMOCRACY

THE HOME

"None Love Their Country But Who Love Their Home . . ." Coleridge.

From the earliest recorded history, the motivating, dominating force in man's life has been his love of home. To protect it, and those in it, he has taken up arms, fought and died. No race or people has achieved true greatness without the blessings of the background of the home and all that it implies.

Through the ages, literature, art and music bear testimony of man's devotion to his hearth . . . it has ever been a theme to move men to tears, laughter or song. It is the real force that shapes, moulds, strengthens that character of the Canadian people.

True, the Canadian is not given to the demonstrative . . . he would be ill-at-ease were he to be asked to define that love of home. Visitors to Canada have remarked on our closely-knit home life. But, say we, that is as it should be. People of other countries may mass-worship the army or the state as the supreme force in their lives. Not for the individualistic Canadian. There is a maxim: "Every man's home is his castle." The home is the force that works silently over the land, shaping our destiny throughout our lives . . . the refuge to which we turn after the day's work . . . the haven of peace and content. In the home, man is master, father, husband and host . . . here we find that most precious of all free men's possessions: The respect and affection of our own. Here are the books we treasure . . . the pictures we treasure . . . here, we and our children bring our friends. Truly, the home is the foundation on which the character of our people is builded. Without it, we might well degenerate into a race of robots . . . without feeling, heart or principle.

We shall ever guard the home and all those in it. That is our way . . . and that it shall always be.

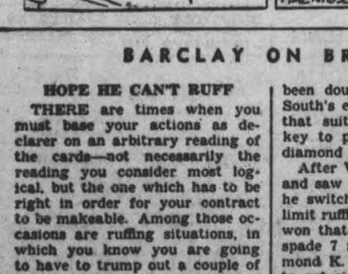
SALLY'S SALLIES

"But you must admit, gentlemen, the accused looks to be a much better character than the evidence indicates."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

HOPE HE CAN'T RUFF

THERE are times when you must base your actions as declarer on an arbitrary reading of the cards—not necessarily the reading you consider most logical, but the one which has to be right in order for your contract to be makeable. Among those occasions are ruffing situations, in which you know you are going to have to trump out a couple of losing cards in the dummy. If the dummy has only one really high trump and smaller ones, you should logically use a little fellow first, counting on the defender to have to follow suit, so you can save the big boy for play when you are sure your opponent could not follow suit.



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	2 ♠	3 ♣	Pass
3 ♦	3 ♠	4 ♦	Pass
Pass	4 ♠	5 ♦

South knew of course that West held considerable spade suit. As a matter of fact, West could have been set only two tricks if he had been doubled. It developed that South's estimate of the length of that suit should have been the key to play of the hand in his diamond contract.

After West scored his spade K and saw the singleton in dummy, he switched to his diamond 7 to limit ruffing by the dummy. South won that with the A and led the spade 7 for a ruff with the diamond K. He had decided to try to get rid of his other spade by discarding it on a club if the suit would break evenly and the Q could be caught in a finesse. So he took two more trumps in his own hand, scored the club K and finessed the J. When East won that, South was doomed, as he had to lose a heart to the K.

Upon winning the second trick with the diamond A, South should have estimated the length of West's spades. Guessing soundly, he should have reckoned seven, as with eight West probably would have overcalled the 1-Heart with 4-Spades. If that was so, East would have two spades. On that basis, South should have ruffed one spade with a low diamond, come to his hand with a trump and ruffed a second spade with the diamond K. By that simple method, he would have lost nothing except one spade and one heart trick.

Scarcity of Labor a Continuing Discouragement To Farmers—Dairy Council Poses a Challenge as Milk Production Shows Decline—Calf Club Meets Monday Evening.

A FAMILIAR CHALLENGE

Eastern farmers will not be able to buy cheap grain from western Canada for some year, W. P. Watson, commissioner of the livestock division of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, said at Kitchener this week.

He appealed to Waterloo farmers to stay in the livestock business and "grow the maximum amount of feed at home in order that livestock production may be maintained at the lowest possible cost."

"The need for grain in other parts of the world for food is such that the price will remain at a high level, making it too expensive to feed livestock". Mr. Watson said he was optomistic in taking a long-term view of livestock farming. "I foresee a period of opportunity and prosperity for the livestock farmer, but also a period of responsibility to produce feed for their own demands." He said the world's population was increasing some 30,000,000 annually.

The question of responsibility for helping to feed the world was included in a recent address by Dr. J. F. Booth, associate director of marketing, Dominion Deparment of Agriculture, at the convention of Canadian Feed Manufacturers' Association at Jasper Park Lodge, Alta. He referred to the program sponsored by the Food and Agriculture Organization headed by Sir John Boyd Orr, and said "Some people ask what is the use of providing more food when it only results in more births and a still lower level of living."

Dr. Booth said that probably half a billion people would be added to the present two and a quarter billion in the world during the next 25 years. "Industrialization reduces birth rates. So does education and the social and economic conditions associated with urban life. Raising the standard of living may contribute in the initial stage to more population, but it is also the first step toward an ultimate adjustment of population to food supplies."

Interest of farmers in long view demand for their products is less their present concern than costs of production that will leave them a profit. What they want are more of the stabilized conditions they enjoyed during the war. Two of their common worries are feed costs and scarcity of labor. Thousands of Ontario farmers are moving into the harvest with insufficient help. These and other distractions take some of the edge of prospects for the next ten years, however glowingly they may be suggested.

Milk Production Drops

The National Dairy Council recently issued a pamphlet entitled "The Canadian Dairy Outlook, a Challenge to the Dairy Industry". Several of its topical headings indicate the general subject: "Greater Population", "Fewer Dairy Cows". Most farmers know the context of this story.

Milk production for the first quarters of 1948 was substantially less than last year, and was back at the 1940 level. The population of Canada has increased 13 percent since 1940. The logic of these facts, as they are quoted, emphasizes the prospect of increasing demand for dairy products, as if the progressive farmer had to be told that more people require more food, and farmers are its producers. But in spite of the obviousness of it, "the number of milk cows and heifers on farms is down from a year ago."

That phase of the challenge might be interpreted as being directed at the intelligence of the farmers of this country.

The Dairy Council statement recalls that at the Dominion-Provincial agricultural conference in Ottawa last December it was estimated that 17.3 billion pounds of milk in 1948 would be required to meet a minimum domestic demand and fill the export contract for cheese. "Based on milk production trends for the first four months of 1948, total production for the year will be approximately 16.5 billion pounds, the lowest since 1940...The number of milk cows on farms as of Dec. 1, 1947, was seven per cent lower than for the five-year average 1937-41...The number of heifers reported on farms is also discouraging. It shows a decline of 2.9 per cent for December 1947, compared with December 1946."

Further on in the view, "The Dairy industry is faced with this critical outlook, and unless it can supply the demand that has been built up by consumer education it will lose very quickly all advantages that have been gained."

Conclusions blandly summarized in this "chalenge" for the attention of farmers are: "Dairying is a good long term business compared with other enterprises; Canada has not enough cows and heifers to produce the supply of milk we need here and abroad; the human population is increasing; the demand for milk and dairy products exceeds the supply. A more acute shortage of milk and dairy products is in prospect if conditions do not improve."

Can't Get Help

How is the farmer to improve the condition of agricultural help? In this week's report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture from its county representatives this was a reflection of "conditions" in Halton: "Farm help is urgently required. There are more than 100 applications now on file and the great majority of phone calls and callers are for farm help which appears to be non-existent.".

Haldimand: "Most farmers report heavy crops with little labor available to take the crop off." Peterborough: "Farm labor for haying and harvest is very very scarce." Victoria: "Farm labor is scarce." Renfrew: "Applications for farm help for harvesting continue to pour in, with no help in sight. This is due particularly to the Hydro developments in the county."

In Renfrew, for example, farmers cannot compete in wages with the Hydro in obtaining locally available labor. The element of labor is not the whole story, but it is one of the continuing discouragements in an industry which, across the province, is unable to obtain the help it needs for the job it is expected to do.

Several Cavan township farmers recently admitted that they could not begin to compete with conditions attaching to Hydro construction. One of them, wryly doubting one evidence of socialistic enterprise, said that 42 men lolled around under the trees from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., doing nothing because, as he explained, the boss did not show up to get them started for the afternoon.

"That couldn't happen under private enterprise," he declared. "The boss would have to be there, or else. That incident happened in our neighborhood."

Another man from the same township virtually asked the question—'how are you going to get them back on the farm after they've worked in the big factories."

"What with the wages they get, and the short hours, I guess you can't blame them," said one farmer who is struggling along single handed, and apparently resentful of "conditions".

It would be interesting to get this dairy cattle breeder's answer to the challenge presented by the National Dairy Council.

WINTER BARLEY

For the past three years there has been a decided increase in the acreage planted to Winter Barley in Peterborough County. This increase has been stimulated by the increased yields obtained over the common spring varieties.

"It is difficult to recommend this crop under all conditions," says Ernest McWilliam, "but it has many advantages that merit consideration. Among them it is well to mention a few of the most outstanding ones:

It distributes the grower's farm work more evenly between Spring and Fall.

It has consistently outyielded Spring varieties during the last three years; ensuring the grower a good yield of high carbohydrate feed for his feeding program.

It escapes many of the common diseases which are so injurious to the Spring sown crops, i.e., downey mildew, leaf stripe, ergot.

It ripens early and thereby escapes dangers of an early fall frost."

"Combined with these advantages there are disadvantages that should be mentioned. Some of the most important ones are as follows:

There is the ever present danger of winter killing — although there has been very little of this during the last three years.

The straw strength of the variety presently grown is not too satisfactory if wet weather is encountered.

The awns on this barley are very rough, making the handling somewhat unpleasant.

In summing up the pros and cons on both sides it is felt that the advantages certainly outweigh the disadvantages in normal years so far as this crop is concerned. Particularly in this current year there are excellent stands of Winter Barley throughout the county and in many sections of the province.

The variety presently grown is Tennessee — a tall growing rough awned, high yield variety. It is hoped to have introduced to the county a stronger strawed, awnletted variety that is much more winter hardy, and in this manner overcome some of the disadvantages of the crop at the moment.

It is not improbable that this commonly grown spring crop will give way to the new fall sown varieties; much the same as our fall wheat replaced spring wheat throughout most of the province.

FLOOR ON BUTTER

Dominion government this week placed $1,000,000 in the supplementary estimates to enable the Dairy Products Board to maintain a floor price of 58c, wholesale, under butter. If the butter market remains steady this fund may not have to be used. Present wholesale price of creamery butter is about 66½c. Comparable price in the U.S. is 80½-81c.

WOULD RESHAPE CHEESE

Gordon K. Fraser, M.P., said in the Commons this week he believed cheese factories would benefit by changing from the circular to the rectangular press of their cheese. The rectangular shape was easier to be cut into small pieces for the retail trade.

CALF CLUB MEETING

Murray McRae, assistant agricultural representative, has arranged a meeting of the local calf club for Mon., June 28 at 7.30 p.m. at Glynwood Farm on the north border of Lakefield. Two classes of Ayrshires will be judged at this farm of which Clarence Coon is manager, and if time permits the group will go on to another farm in the district for another class of dairy cattle. Mr. McRae suggests that members south of the city meet at the Department of Agriculture office at 7.15 p.m. "and save some driving as all cars going to the meeting should be filled. Parents are welcome to attend."

REPORT ON CORNELL WHEAT

The new Cornell strain of fall wheat is reported "to be showing excellent results in resistance to loose smut with fields of Dawson's Golden Chaff ranging from 10 to 25 p.c. loose smut." This is indicated particularly in the weekly reports from Ontario, Lambton, York and several other counties.

OMENS OF DISASTER

In ancient times comets were supposed to be omens of sudden death, war, revolution or other dire events in human affairs.

MRS. AGNES CONRAD, 22-year-old wife of Innisfail mail carrier Clinton Conrad, lowers her head as camera catches her leaving Red Deer courthouse in Edmonton, Alta. Charged with the murder of her two-and-one-half-year-old adopted son last April, Mrs. Conrad wages a battle for life.

WHEN THE NAME of Sen. Vandenberg, Michigan, was mentioned by Mrs. Clare Booth Luce in her Republican National Convention speech in Philadelphia, it touched off the first demonstration. Here they are shown chatting together on the speakers' platform. Senator Vandenberg did not campaign actively for nomination.

Man Saves Children In Path Of Fast Express WINS DOW AWARD

CHARLES AUGUSTE LEMAY OF LOUISEVILLE, QUE., rescues boy and girl from railway bridge in nick of time

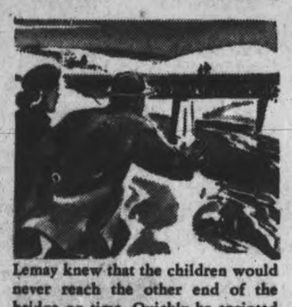
On their way home from an afternoon sports meet, the two Saucier children — Helene, 8 and Roger, 4 — decided to take a short-cut by crossing a 250-foot railway bridge. Chattering gaily about the day's events, and not thinking to look behind, they didn't hear the Montreal-Quebec express approaching in the distance.

LEMAY SEES DANGER

Charles Lemay, walking along the track with a friend, saw the train and the children at the same time. Realizing that the youngsters would not have time to get across, he made a dash for the young pair. He had been about 500 feet from the bridge when he started and by the time he caught up with them they were about half way across.

Without saying a word and barely stopping, he swept 4-year-old Roger into his arms and ran with him to the other end of the bridge. Then, speeding back, he grabbed the girl and repeated the wild dash . . . leaving the bridge just in time. In a matter of seconds the express roared by.

Courage, presence of mind and quick thinking on the part of this young Canadian saved the lives of two children that Sunday afternoon. We are proud to pay tribute to Charles Lemay of Louiseville, Que., through the presentation of The Dow Award.



Lemay knew that the children would never reach the other end of the bridge on time. Quickly he sprinted the 500 feet to the bridge . . . determined to save them at any cost.

Slowing down just long enough to scoop young Roger into his arms, Lemay carried him to safety and then returned at full speed for the girl.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation for outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. Winners are selected by the Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian newspapers.

TITO THROWS OFF RUSSIAN CONTROL

Food Planes Land Every 8 Minutes

US Expects To Use 100 Transports Daily To Break Blockade

BERLIN, June 28— (AP) — United States transport planes are arriving at Tempelhof airport at eight minute intervals today with food and other supplies for this Russian-blockaded city.

A total of 120 planes is expected to fly the corridor over the Russian zone during the day to supply the United States army post in Berlin and fill the most urgent needs of the 2,000,000 Germans in Berlin's three western sectors.

The United States Air Force hopes to send 100 or more planes in daily as long as necessary. But even the 120 planes scheduled today can bring only 300 tons of supplies. For the people of the western sectors, the Western Allies formerly brought in 2,000 tons of food daily by rail.

The action gave one more indication of the determination of the United States, along with Britain and France, to stand fast and resist Russian efforts to block rail, highway and canal transport into the city.

A British foreign office spokesman said Sunday in London that the western powers were considering a direct "approach" to Moscow.

Approach Not Clear

The London spokesman did not make clear what form the "approach" would take, whether in a single note or three similar notes.

However, arguments the three powers have made to date against the Russian actions indicate the approach probably would be based on two major points.

1. They could argue that under agreements made at the end of the war the western powers were accepted by Russia without qualification as joint occupants of the capital of defeated Germany.

Ask King Proclaim Emergency

LONDON, June 28—(CP).—The Government today advised the King to proclaim a state of national emergency to deal with the fast spreading dock strike which enveloped two more of Britain's supply arteries today. Prime Minister Attlee told the Commons today that the royal proclamation has been requested to prevent more serious threat to Britain's food supplies. Such a proclamation, he said, would empower the Government to take all steps necessary to maintain essential food supplies.

Attlee also disclosed that Labor Minister George Isaacs has been recalled from a visit to San Francisco to deal with the work stoppage, which spread today to Liverpool and Birkenhead.

The Prime Minister planned to take the strike issue directly to the country in a broadcast tonight.

Attlee said in a week-end speech that "Communist mischief" was partly responsible for the work stoppage.

The national emergency status called for by Attlee would be the first since the war and also the first since the Labor Government came to power in August, 1945. Custom calls for the King to accept the recommendations of the Government.

Attlee told the Commons "the irresponsible action of a section of the workers was inflicting grave injury on the nation." He added that "full use would be made of further service personnel to maintain the economic life of the people."

The last previous state of emergency was proclaimed in Britain during the general strike in 1926.

The emergency regulations asked for by the Government are like those of war days. They permit the Government to conscript and direct labor at will. But the Government must proclaim that a state of emergency exists. Under the regulations, all registered workers are subject to emergency regulation.

Guards Dodging Bricks In Second Mercer Outbreak

TORONTO, June 28—(CP).—All was quiet at the Mercer Reformatory today, women prisoners resting their pitching arms after a week-end outburst during which they heaved bricks through bars at male guards. The rebellious women, staging their second assault in two days, dislodged bricks from their cells and took aim at dodging guards. The attack petered out Saturday night when no more bricks were available.

To relieve the score of city policy officers stationed at the reformatory since the women rioted for 90 minutes last Friday morning, eight male guards from Guelph and five from Mimico proved elusive targets for the brick heavers.

Twenty ringleaders of the 70 women who attacked police on Friday with baseball bats and chair legs were held responsible for the brick-throwing episode. Police considered removing them to Don Jail but Superintendent Jean Milne said she preferred that they remain at Mercer.

Most of the women have volunteered to return to their regular chores but others continue to throw back their food when it is brought to their cells. Either out of breath or repentant, they have quit shrieking and banging on their bars.

The girls are on rations of weak tea and bread as punishment for continued defiance.

Mr. King Asks Capital Fund

OTTAWA, June 28 —(CP)— Prime Minister Mackenzie King today introduced in the Commons a resolution committing the federal parliament to development of Ottawa as a national capital along the lines of an approved plan.

The resolution, in effect, defined federal policy towards the capital and Mr. King said he thought it" would be preferable to have an assurance from parliament of its intentions."

The plan for Ottawa's development would be beyond the means of any municipality, he said, adding that "the day will come when Canada will hold first place among the countries of the commonwealth."

Mr. King's resolution calls for a special "national capital fund" with annual appropriations by parliament to finance projects recommended by the federal district commission.

He warned that the developments could not be implemented at once and would require federal arppopriations over a period of years. The resolution guaranteed that projects started one year would not be abandoned the next.

Find Plane, No Body

NEW YORK, June 28 — (AP). — A small, private plane which crashed and sank in Gravesend Bay off Brooklyn Sunday night was raised today. Rescue workers found no bodies. A diver who was lowered to the plane at first had reported one body in its cabin. No occupant was found, however, when the plane was pulled to the surface. The plane crashed into the water during a dense fog. Motorists saw it fall.

4th Child Dies After Operation

COLLINGWOOD, June 28 — (CP)—Six-year-old Donald Warren died in hospital her Sunday, 15 hours after he underwent a tonsilectomy. Death was attributed to a hemmorrhage. He was the fourth Ontario child within a month to die following such an operation.

His parents said that, the night before the operation he had come whimpering to their bed and said: "I want to sleep with daddy and mummy, I don't think I'll be with you long."

Dr. W. Maitland, coroner, said he is unable to determine why the hemorrhage could not be stopped and that an inquest will probably be held.

Six days ago, two-year-old Caren Lorraine Pell, of Palrmo, died of circulatory collapse following a similar operation. Nine days earlier, Sheila Butterworth, 4, of Mount Dennis in suburban Toronto died from the same cause. Two weeks prior to that, a 10-months- old Galt girl died on the operating table during a tonsilectomy.

Cominform Demands Yugoslavs Return To Marx-Lenin Line

PRAGUE, June 28—(AP)—The Communist Cominform charged today Yugoslav Communists had departed from the Marx-Lenin line and that their leaders, including Premier Marshal Tito, pursued a hateful policy toward Soviet Russia.

The Cominform called for "either a true return to Marxist policy or a change of Communist leaders in Yugoslavia."

This marked the first break in the ranks of the nine eastern countries which formed the Cominform—the International Communist "Information Bureau"—at a meeting in Poland last fall. Yugoslavs were among the founders and Cominform headquarters were established in Tito's capital, Belgrade.

An official statement today said Yugoslav representatives of the Communist party refused to take part in a session of the Cominform held "the latter part of June" in Romania.

The statement of the Communist Information Bureau was published in "Rude Pravo," official newspaper of the Communist party of Czechoslovakia.

Group Unanimous

The bureau adopted unanimously a statement that Yugoslav Communists had departed from the Marx-Lenin line.

Rumors of the June meeting have floated around the world for the last 10 days. Important Communists professed ignorance of it.

The first paragraph of the resolution, or statement, said "the Cominform asserts that the leadership of the Yugoslav Communist party has been lately undertaking entirely wrong policy on the principal questions of foreign and internal politics which means a retreat from Marxism-Leninism.

"In connection with that, the Cominform accepts the process of the central committee of the all-Communist union of Bolsheviks, which assumed the initiative by unveiling the wrong policy of the central committee of the Communist party of Yugoslavia and especially the wrong policy of comrades Tito, Kardelj, Djilis and Rankovic."

(Edward Kardelj is vice-premier of Yugoslavia, Molovan Djilas is minister for Montenegro, one of the Yugoslav states, and Lt.-Gen. Alexander Rankovic is

REPORT SPLIT

WASHINGTON—Top United States diplomats today interpreted the coniform blast at Yugoslav Communists as meaning that Premier Marshal Tito has already been "taken care of" and is no longer in active leadership at Belgrade. Responsible officials said that there were various ways in which Tito and the others denounced at the same time might have been "taken care of"—they might have been (1) placed under house arrest, (2) thrown in jail, (3) shot, or (4) otherwise "immobilized".

LEONARD B. SMITH is being held by Toronto police in the murder of Mrs. Lila Adams, whose body was found early Sunday in a Toronto garage. He was found asleep beside a foundry where he was employed.

Foundry Worker Remanded In Strangling

TORONTO, June 28 — (CP) — A 25-year -old foundry worker arrested on a charge of murder today stood accused of garrotting Mrs. Leila Adams, 38, with her own silk stocking.

Leonard B. Smith was said by police to have beaten the woman then strangled her, leaving her partly-clothed body in a garage in east-central Toronto. He was remanded today until July 6.

A war veteran who married four months ago and lived with his bride less than a week, Smith was seen with Mrs. Adams Friday night, drinking beer in a tavern.

The body was discovered when Thomas Scott noticed the woman's red-painted toenails protruding from beneath the door of the dilapidated garage. Identity was made through fingerprint files, police said she had a police record here and in Montreal.

Police said there was "some evidence" Mrs. Adams recently underwent an illegal operation. She was married here in 1930 and has been estranged from her husband, a Hamilton roofer, for 11 years.

Definitely Murder

Dr. J. W. O'Hara, coroner, said: "All signs indicate this is definitely murder."

Mrs. Isobel Doole told police she heard the noise of a struggle in the lane at 2 a.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Adams, also known by her maiden name of Godfrey, had been visiting for the last five weeks at the home of a niece, Mrs Vincent Baldasio. Police were told she received several telephone calls in the last two weeks from a man called "Frank."

Smith, native of Napanee, served with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment during the Second World War, taking part in the invasion of Sicily and Italy.

3 Heavy Earthquakes, Fire Wreck Japanese City; Casualties Not Yet Known

Early Japanese Reports Of 5,000 Dead Refuted By US Officials; No Sign Of Any Tidal Wave In Any Area

TOKYO, June 28—(AP).—Three heavy earthquakes followed by fire wrecked the western Honshu city of Fukui late today. Japanese newspapers guessed the total of dead and injured might reach 5,000, but United States occupation authorities said first figures had proved excessive and declined to make an estimate.

The only known casualty figures were 10 dead and 60 injured at Diashoji, coastal village 20 miles northeast of Fukui.

"It is apparently not as bad as we thought it was," said Brig.-Gen. Crawford Sams, head of the occupation army's health and welfare section. "Damage appears to be pretty well localized."

Col. C. C. Carter, adjutant-general of the First Corps, told The Associated Press there were no indications of any tidal wave. Japanese had earlier expressed fears there might be such waves, as they often follow coastal earthquakes.

Fukui, a city of about 85,000 population, is 200 miles west of Tokyo and 10 miles from the Sea of Japan.

Destroyed By Bombs

It was 85 per cent. destroyed by United States superfortresses in July, 1945, but since had been largely rebuilt.

The centre of the earth shocks appeared to be in Fukui, Tokyo and Osaka, the latter 160 miles southeast of the scene, felt the shocks but reported no damage, and there were no disaster reports from points outside the immediate Fukui vicinity.

The first shock hit Fukui at 1.12 a.m. EST. It was followed by two others, with fire resulting almost at once.

Original reports said 900 houses collapsed in the first shock, but this later was scaled down by the army to about 200.

In Fukui, Asahi said 90 per cent. of the town's buildings had collapsed. One seven-storey concrete department store fell in, the newspaper said.

Reports to the United States Army here said that Kanazawa, another west coast city, with a population of 186,000, was aflame.

In Ishikawa, Asahi said police reported 15 were known dead and 50 injured. That figure does not include any Kanazawa city reports.

Mother, Baby Victims In Explosion

BRANTFORD, June 28—(CP)—The death of Florence Hill, 22, in an Ohsweken hospital early today, raised to two the death toll following a fire Sunday in her father's home on the Six Nations Indian reservation near here. Her seven-months-old son, Roger, died Sunday.

The two were victims of a flash fire which swept through the kitchen of the house following an explosion caused when the woman poured coal oil into a wood fire.

Still in hospital are Mrs. Mary Thomas suffering from burns and shock, and Mrs. Emma Curley of Buffalo, who received burns on her left foot.

RCMP investigating the tragedy said it was caused by the mother using coal oil from a five-gallon tin in an effort to start a fire in the wood stove in the kitchen. The baby was sitting on the floor in the middle of the room, Mrs. Curley was setting the dinner table, and Mrs. Thomas was in an adjoining bedroom when the container exploded, showering the room with flaming coal oil.

Flames followed the liquid immediately, and soon were shooting all through the house. While the baby's mother tried to extinguish the flames in her own clothing by rolling in the grass, Mrs. Curley and Mrs. Thomas suffered burns as they tried to rescue the baby. They carried him outside and tried to smother the flames, but he died in hospital an hour later.

Neighbours formed a bucket brigade and saved the house from destruction.

98 Per Cent Of Union Favors Rail Strike

MONTREAL, June 28—(CP).—Frank H. Hall, chairman of a negotiating committee representing the 18 international brotherhoods seeking wage increases from Canadian railways, said today "about 98 per cent. of the members in my union (Brotherhood of Railway Clerks) have voted for a strike."

A mediation board presided over by Mr. Justice J. C. A. Cameron of the Exchequer Court at Ottawa is scheduled to resume sessions Wednesday in an attempt to settle the dispute.

Terror Campaign Rouses Malaya

SINGAPORE, June 28 (Reuters)—Highest British political and military chiefs in Malaya conferred in Kuala Lumpur today to plan new operations against extremists whose terror campaign reached new heights over the week-end.

Malcolm MacDonald, commissioner-general for southeast Asia, Sir Edward Gent, High Commissioner for Malaya, Gen. Sir Neil Ritchie, commander - in - chief, Rear Admiral C. Sanderson, and air force chiefs attended.

Forty armed Chinese Sunday night raided Kuala Krau police station at Mentakab, 55 miles northeast of Kuala Lumpur.

The Malay wife of a policeman was shot and killed and a Malay corporal wounded in the clash.

Oshawa UAW Favors Strike Action At GM

OSHAWA, June 28 (CP)—The United Auto Workers (CIO) Sunday night said strike ballots cast Friday and Saturday by members of Local 222 here showed 86.2 per cent in favor of strike action against the General Motors Company if the firm does not raise its wage offer.

Malcolm Smith, bargaining agent for the local, said the next move appeared to be "some indication from the provincial department of labor as to when a vote of all company employees can be conducted under the Rand formula."

CSU Withdraws Company Charge

TORONTO, June 28.—(CP).—The Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) Sunday night announced withdrawal of charges, now before the court, against Sarnia Steamships and Colonial Steamships.

The union, which accused the shipping companies of unfair labor practices, said it dropped the charges to clear the way for settlement of the Great Lakes shipping dispute over contracts. Its president, Harry Davis, claimed Labor Minister Michell had advised the CSU thta the court proceedingsc were "an obstacle" to any government-sponsored conciliation attempt.

But an authoritative Labor Department source in Ottawa said:

"I am quite sure Mr. Mitchell made no such statement.

Meanwhile, for the third time, Mr. Davis made a threat of a one-day strike on the Great Lakes.

Farmer Kidnapped Driving Pair Home

TORONTO, June 28.—(CP).—Thomas C. Doyle of suburban York township was kidnapped Saturday by two men, who beat him over the head with a bottle, robbed him of $14 and drove him to Brantford and back to Toronto in his own automobile.

Doyle told police that he was held prisoner in his car for six hours. He met the men in a tavern and was supposedly driving them to their homes when they attacked him.

One man, he said, was 22 to 23, stood five feet six inches, weighed 160 pounds and was heavy set with black curly hair and a dark complexion. His nickname was "Blackie." The other, he said, was 20 to 21, stood five feet five inches, weighed 130 pouids, had black hair and a ruddy complexion.

International Quota Plan Urged For Atom Energy

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., June 28 —(CP)— Frederick H. Osborn, United States delegate to the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, Sunday advocated a treaty setting up an international quota system for atomic power.

Osborn in a statement backed up the viewpoint of Gen. A.G.L. McNaughton, Canadian delegate, at the final meeting of the Atomic Commission. Gen. McNaughton said the majority plan, from which Russia and the Ukraine dissented, represents "a bold challenge to the forces of reaction, of ignorance and of timidity to face up to the new conceptions of International organization which recognize the inescapable facts consequent upon our entry into the atomic age."

The American delegate listed the major Russian arguments and his own answers as follows:

1. There must be a treaty prohibiting atomic weapons and the means of making them. The treaty must be put into effect before a treaty for control can be discussed.

"This proposal is tantamount to unilateral disarmament and is wholly unacceptable to any of the nations outside of the Soviet sphere."

2. The proposal of the majority would "extend the United States monopoly through the whole world."

"It is hard to see how any one can make this statement unless he has failed to read the first and, particularly, the second reports of the commission."

3. The International agency would control the economic life of each country.

This is groundless, "especially since agreement was reached on the inclusion in the treaty itself of a quota system which would provide in advance the the proposition of Atomic power that would be available to each nation."

Jews, Arabs Receive Peace Proposals

Bernadotte Plan Not Hard And Fast, Will Welcome Ideas

RHODES, June 28—(AP)—Jews and Arabs received from Count Folke Bernadotte today his proposals for peace in Palestine. Bernadotte is the United Nations mediator who brought about the current four-week armistice.

The suggestions, which the mediator called a "basis for further discussion," were not published.

(Premier Jamil Mardambey of Syria said in Damascus the proposals will "in no way modify our attitude of rejecting partition and a Jewish state in Palestine." Jews are just as insistent that the new state of Israel must continue to exist.)

Bernadotte indicated his proposals are not a hard-and-fast, take-it-or-leave-it peace plan. He said, "both parties have the right to come forward with counter suggestions."

Israeli experts who have talked with Bernadotte on Rhodes are to go back to Tel Aviv with his ideas today, he said.

Wait Information

Arab experts here will not leave until they learn definitely where Arab League delegates are meeting tomorrow, the mediator said.

(The league's secretary general, Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, said Sunday night its political committee will meet tomorrow in Cairo.)

Bernadotte has undertaken negotiations during a four-week truce that ends July 9. He told reporters he could not say whether his discussions "will result in prolongations of the truce."

Bernadotte, said the Egyptian premier has promised a thorough investigation of the incident in which an Egyptian Spitfire shot at a United Nations plane in Palestine last Friday.

Wants Some Answers

He said he has asked Jewish authorities to "answer some questions" on how his truce observers came to be barred from a beach near Natanya when Irgun Zvai Leumi tried to land munitions there last Tuesday over Israeli government opposition.

Meanwhile, Israeli authorities in Tel Aviv Sunday night freed Monroe Fein, 25, Chicago war veteran and captain of the landing ship which tried to unload the munitions. His release was apparently conditional.

The Israeli army began to throw off its secrecy. The army was to swear allegiance to Israel today. High officers took the oath Sunday before Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion. Others were sworn in Jerusalem. The chief of staff was disclosed to be Yaakov Dostrowsky.

MP's Exchange Hot Words On Price Report

OTTAWA, June 28 — (CP). — The Commons stopped a hurried drive toward prorogation Saturday to engage in a verbal slugfest on the report of the Prices committee

Charges and counter-charges were heard and at one point Prime Minister Mackenzie King angrily declared thta John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) was talking "absolute nonsense."

Mr. Diefenbaker charged that the recommendations of the all-party committee had been tailor-made by the government itself.

"I ask the Prime Minister who it was that drafted or handed to certain members of the committee — certain government members of the committee — the recommendations that it was desired the committee should give. . . ."

He said there were by-elections in which the government lost and "pilgrimages" of Liberal members to Mr. King seeking relief from taxation. Mr. King, in turn, had taken Finance Minister Abbott to task for his budget policies.

"Absolute Nonsense."

At this point, Mr. King jumped to his feet.

"That's absolute nonsense," he shouted. "I have never taken the Minister of Finance to task in my life."

While Mr. Diefenbaker drew fire from the government benches, Ralph Maybank (L-Winnipeg South Centre) roused Progressive Conservative members with charges that they wanted the Price committee to bring in a "white-washing report."

The prices debate was on a report tabled Friday. That report contained recommendations urging the removal of excise taxes and import controls imposed in last November's currency conservation program.

Donald Fleming, (P.C.—Toronto-Eglenton), moved that the report be referred back to the committee with five alternative recommendations. These were suggestions that the committee conclude that the high cost of living results from inflationary government policies and recommend that the government consider removing all the austerity excise taxes, exempting family budget items from sales and excise taxes and reducing income taxes.

Out Of Order

The motion was ruled out of order on the ground the Commons could not instruct a committee to bring in specific recommendations. Progressive Conservative members challenged the ruling but deputy speaker Ross Macdonald was upheld by a vote of 98 to 26.

Mr. Maybank, vice-chairman of the committee, said Mr. Fleming had voted against the committee's recommendations, including the one urging removal of excise taxes. He said that Mr. Merritt, the other Progressive Conservative member on the committee, went home before the report was adopted by the committee.

The Progressive Conservative policy is clear, said Mr. Maybank. That party recognized that the labor market now is "tight." It wanted establishment of a labor pool. If such a pool was established then labor would be cheaper and costs would go down.

Bandits Shoot 2 Policemen; Escape Trap

CHICAGO, June 28 — (AP). — Five machine-gun bandits who held up an alleged gambling and handbook spot Saturday and shot two policemen in a running gunbattle appeared today to have eluded the biggest man-trap in Cook county history.

Police believe the gunmen slipped out of a ring of 200 officers on a freight train after they had been surrounded in a nearby stone quarry.

Treasury agents and police said they might have found some telltale evidence, however, in guns, ammunition and the abandoned bandits' automobile.

CHICAGO—One of a band of robbers who eluded the biggest man-trap in Cook county history was traced to his home and captured today, Police Commissioner Stanley Demski of suburban Lyons announced. Demski said Jerry Malleck, 23, of Chicago, made an oral statement that he was one of the four men who held up a gambling joint and shot two policemen in a running gun fight. He said he fired a rifle in the getaway.

About $1,000, bulk of the hold-up loot, also was found.

Police were checking the weapons and car for fingerprints. United States treasury agents were tracing serial numbers on the guns, a carbine, three .45 calibre pistols, a shotgun and a sub-machine-gun.

The chase began as the gunmen left the holdup scene. A child who said she saw the men shoot a lock off the door, informed a nearby filling station operator who called police.

Dropped by Bullets

Sgt. Charles Petersen, 43, of suburban Western Springs police arrived as the bandits emerged from the building. As he stepped from the car he was felled by two bullets in the abdomen.

Petersen crawled back into his car and radioed an alarm. Lt. Joseph Clegg and other suburban Lagrange police took up the chase. They engaged the fleeing car in a gun-battle during which Clegg was slightly wounded in an arm.

The fugitives sped to the quarry and surrounding swampland where they abandoned the car.

A crew member of the passing freight train said he saw three men board it near the quarry about the time the search began. He added that they jumped off, probably with some injury to themselves, in Blue Island, another suburb.

2. They may warn Moscow in stiff terms that Russia has created a powder keg in Berlin and must bear full responsibility for the consequences if she persists in her present course.

Diplomatic speculation on the Russian response to such a note gives high priority to the possibility that the Kremlin may propose a new meeting of the council of foreign ministers to try to iron out the difficulties.

Such a meeting was urged last week by a conference of the eastern bloc countries at Warsaw which Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia attended.

British transport authorities said four flour barges reached here Sunday and 20 more were on the way. They could not explain why Russian inspectors let the barges through.

The Russians fired the German chief of electric utilities in their sector. They accused him of sabotaging their orders to shut off electricity to western Berlin.

This shutoff still cramped service in the western sectors, but western Berlin supplies about half its own power.

Trade union leaders in the Soviet sector voted against trying for a Berlin general strike for fear it would not be fully effective. United States authorities said the Communists were behind the move.

The second paragraph of the resolution charged Yugoslavia with a hateful policy toward Russia and said Soviet representatives were mistreated in Yugoslavia.

Split Over West

The text of the second paragraph:

"The Cominform finds out that the leadership of the Yugoslav Communist party creates a hateful policy in relation to Soviet Russia and to all-Communist union of Bolsheviks. In Yugoslavia an undignified policy of underestimating Soviet military specialists was allowed. Also members of the Soviet arms were discredited. . . ."

On Saturday the London diplomatic correspondent of the Manchester Guardian wrote that reports from southeastern Europe "strongly suggest that a serious political crisis has arisen in Yugoslavia." Qualified Foreign Office sources were inclined at the time to place some credence in the report.

"Marshal Tito's relations with Moscow," the paper said, "are believed to be strained, largely because of conflicting views on relations with the west. Even the question of Tito's whereabouts is being discussed.

Warns Britain Must Drop Appeasement

Churchill Prepared To Back Government On Staying In Berlin

LUTON, Bedfordshire, England, June 28 — (AP). — Winston Churchill Saturday warned Britain to sheer away from appeasement in the Berlin crisis with Russia.

The wartime prime minister said that the tense situation in the German city "raises issues as grave as those we now know were at stake in Munich 10 years ago"—when Britain dickered with Hitler.

"There is no safety in yielding to dictators, whether Nazi or Communist," he cautioned. He charged Russia has made up its mind to drive the western allies out of Berlin.

Just before Churchill spoke, the government officially accused Russia of carrying on a "ruthless attempt" to create "a state of siege" in Berlin and reiterated "the statement that we intend to stay in Berlin holds true."

Backs Government

Churchill addressed a crowd estimated by newspaper men at 100,000 persons who jammed Luton Hoo, historic suburb of Luton, at a Conservative party rally.

He pledged his party's support to the Labor Government if it acts with resolution to stay in Berlin, and asserted that Britain is a united nation, despite party differences, in resistance to "foreign tyranny."

In unity and firmness, he said, lies the only hope of peace.

"We are all naturally anxious about what is happening in Berline," he said. "Last month, on May 4, Mr. Bevin said in parliament, "We are in Berlin as of right. It is our intention to stay there."

"It is certain that he would not have said that without having made sure the United States is equally resolved. On the other hand, there is no doubt that the Communist government of Russia has made up its mind to drive us and France and all the other allies out, and turn the Russian zone into one of the satellite states under the rule of totalitarian terrorism."

Alcoholics Hold First Outing

Alcoholics Anonymous drew members from as far as Peterborough, Kingston and Owen Sound to their first annual picnic Sunday at Midland. Its name and title suggest its purpose, virtually an increasing group of total abstainers coming together in clubs to help each other in an earnest and frontal attack on John Barleycorn. That is frankly what it is.

Reports indicate the picnic was a fine success. Women and other club visitors were not permitted to do any work. There was lunch followed by games for the children, athletic sports, entertainment by Midland Boys' Band, conducted tours of old Huronia, Martyrs' Shrine and Fort Ste. Marie, evening picnic, and finally farewells at 6.30 p.m.

Arrested late Friday in Fort Erie, 30-year-old Nicholas Antonopoulos, Havelock, has been charged with car theft and is now in Cobourg jail awaiting trial.

The theft took place last summer, when a car belonging to Spiro Zakos, Peterborough, was stolen and found later in a badly damaged condition. A diamond ring stolen at the same time was recovered. Antonopoulos is alleged to have been the thief.

Antonopoulos was deported by U.S. immigration officials on Friday, and arrested at the request of provincial police in Peterborough.

Rotary Enjoys Speech On Sheepskins

COBOURG, June 28 (ENS). — The story of a sheepskin from a greasy, matted skin off a South African sheep to the beautiful mouton fur that to all but expert eyes cannot be told from Alaskan seal, was related by Phil Duggan, general manager of a Toronto firm to the weekly luncheon of Cobourg Rotary Club. It was the final meeting over which Stuart Webb was to preside as president of the Club and to mark his close of office he was presented with a past president's pin by Dr. Fred Rockwell.

The address was accompanied by samples of sheepskin showing the various stages of progress, culminating in the finished coat worn by a beautiful model.

The speaker said that mouton was attractive, in great demand, durable and comparatively inexpensive. Most of the sheepskins came from South Africa but some had their origin in Uruguay and the Argentine. It was collected and brought to central shipping points and then sent to the United States, coming in wool lengths of one-quarter to one-half inch, and one half to one and one-half inches. A broker in New York would advise the Toronto firm that a certain cargo of skins had arrived and after acceptance the company would send the broker an irrevocable letter of credit and when the shipment arrived you had to take it, although if the skins were so bad as to be a great loss, some adjustment might be possible. However anything could happen in the market between when the order was sent and the shipment was received, he said.

The skin on arrival was a dirty, greasy, unprepossessing thing. It was first soaked for 24 hours in water which softened it up for the ensuing cleaning processes. A paddling machine with soap and water remeoved dirt and grease. The skins were then tanned and put in drying lofts under constant temperature, with the humidity so adjusted that the skins were not parched or hardened. They were left for two days and emerged somewhat shorter.

Next, a mulling process using wet sawdust between the skins in large bins, softened the skins for a period of two days. The skins then going to a machine which stretched them under the eyes of careful workmen. A buffing machine cleaned all the surplus flesh from the side and combing machine straightened out the wool to ready it for shearing machines which cut the wool to certain lengths. Experienced men then selected and sorted the skins with due attention to length, exture, etc., knowing the ultimate use for which the material would be further processed. Those skins which were not suitable for mouton fur, were dyed in high colours for various purposes and the dyed skins were shown to the audience.

The main purpose of all the processing was to procure the type of sheepskin which would go to make mouton furs to meet the demand for such inexpensive but beautiful coats. After the skins for mouton had been picked out they went through a special bath which converted the wool into hair and it never reverts to wool again, even if it becomes wet from rain. Samples of mouton were passed around for inspection and then the model entered the room and walked around, showing a beautiful specimen of mouton fur. This part of the speaker's program perhaps received the greatest attention.

Newspaper Ads Best Medium

QUEBEC, June 28.—(CP). — Newspaper advertising continues to provide the best media for moving goods off retailers' shelves in quantity, Edgar G. Burton, president of the Robert Simpson Co., Ltd., said in an address to the newspaper advertising executives of America.

'Magazine, radio and even television, have their part to play, but for consistent daily results the newspaper ad 'delivers the goods.'

"A specific article is usually offered at a price, and the reader is told where to get it. He is persuaded to come and buy it today, or at the latest tomorrow. Retailers generally find that kind of appeal more effective than the sort of advertising which suggests you might buy something, sometime, or someplace."

The development of his own company from a small store, Mr. Burton said, would not have been possible without the close co-operation of many Canadian newspapers.

Domestic Problems Hold Canadian Spotlight In Parliamentary Session

OTTAWA, June 28—(CP).—A lengthy list of domestic problems held the limelight during the fourth session of Canada's 20th parliament. In six months of work, the members handled few measures of an international character. But they did hear External Affairs Minister St. Laurent make what many described as Canada's most fortright statement on foreign policy.

He committed this country to active partnership in any "collective security league" which the United States and the other free states of the world may form as a bulwark against war and the tide of Communist expansion.

While members were unanimous in denouncing the activities of Communists, they failed to agree on a private member's bill that would have outlawed the Communist party in Canada.

While declining to accept the measure, the Government did announce that no Communist or Fascist will be allowed to hold positions of trust in the civil service.

Freight Rate Division

Dissatisfaction among Maritime and Western members was widespread after the Government authorized a 21-per-cent increase in freight rates in March. British Columbia members threatened to break with the Government when it was faced with a non-confidence motion as a result of the issue.

However, Prime Minister Mackenzie King called a party caucus and swung wavering supporters into line.

In recent weeks, Ontario, Quebec and some Manitoba Liberals openly expressed their dissatisfaction with the Government's taxation politcies.

The protests arose from Finance Minister Abbott's anti-inflationary budget, which contained no major tax reductions. He lopped about $62,000,000 off the taxpayers' bills, but the reductions were spread thinly.

Mr. Abbott reported a surplus of $670,000,000 for the 1947-48 fiscal year and said he is budgeting for a surplus of $489,000,000 this year.

The Government deliberately decided against major tax reductions so as not to increase the pressure of inflation.

The protests against the Government policies were not confined to the Commons. Elections in the constituencies of Yale, B.C., Ontario and Vancouver Centre elected three CCF members in by-elections.

Mr. King, to retire after the party chooses a new leader at a convention in August, said the CCF victories reflected the "inevitable dislike felt by persons of all classes for high living and costs and privations and restrictions of any kind."

The Prime Minister sponsored the establishment of a committee to investigate the high cost of living, but it was conceded by most members that the body would do little to reduce prices.

Mr. Abbott successfully piloted measures aimed at stopping the drain on reserves of United States dollars.

By a vote of 102 to 92, members approved a bill authorizing the Government to make use of import restructions. The Opposition objected to the measure because it applied the restrictions against the sterling area as well as against the United States.

The members agreed to extend until March 31, 1949, the Government's power to control domestic rents and to keep under price ceilings the few commodities still scarce.

Platform Of U.S. Republican Party

Now that the excitement of the Republican Convention has subsided and Governors Dewey and Warren of New York and California have been named as Presidential and Vice-Presidential candidates, a brief examination of their party's platform may interest our readers. The platform was presented at the convention in Philadelphia last week, but it was overshadowed by the more exciting business of nominating the two men to head the Republican ticket.

• • •

The most important plank in the Republican platform is its unequivocal promise that the bipartisan foreign policy of the United States will be continued. That promise is a message of reassurance to the nations of the world that there is no danger of the United States withdrawing from active international co-operation in the tasks of promoting recovery and preserving the peace. And the promise is worded in terms which leave no room for misinterpretation; if the Republicans are elected to power and the United States subsequently departs from the foreign policy it has followed during the past two years, that departure will be a breach of faith with its supporters.

• • •

One phrase in the promise on foreign policy may be regarded as particularly reassuring. It is an invitation to the Minority Party "to join us under the next Republican Administration in stopping politics at the water's edge". If that offer is sincerely made, and there is no reason to suppose otherwise, then it means that the Republican Party itself will stop politics at the water's edge. That being so, there should be no repetition of the penny-pinching, false economy Congressman John Taber and his supporters attempted to effect in recent weeks, for the water's edge reaches Capitol Hill in such matters as the European Recovery Program and other foreign aid measures.

• • •

There is only one clause in the Republican policy on external affairs which gives cause for international uneasiness. The policy endorses reciprocal trade agreements, which would be a welcome pronouncement indeed for those countries alarmed by the recent action of the U.S. Congress weakening the position of such agreements—if it were not for one thing. The flaw in the endorsement is a phrase which leaves the door open for high tariffs and introduction of a protectionist policy. Apart from that one point—which could eventually have a tremendous effect on world trade—the Republican Party's announced foreign policy could have been drafted by Senator Arthur Vandenberg, whose statesmanship in this field is acknowledged and admired throughout the western world.

• • •

It could also be said that the Republican domestic policy might have been drafted by Senator Robert Taft, for it adheres closely to the beliefs of the gentleman from Ohio. Republican domestic policy, however, is naturally of far less interest than foreign policy to the people of other nations, and it is the great good fortune of these nations that the foreign policy of the Republican Party today is almost diametrically opposed to its policy following the First World War.

In Defence Of Canada

Last Thursday we raised in these columns some anxious questions about the defence of Canada. On Friday in the House of Commons Mr. Claxton gave a factual and reasoned review of our present military situation and set at rest some of our uneasiness.

His figures show that the present recruiting campaign has brought the strength of the armed forces up to 85 per cent. of the present authorized limits of 42,000. He said that the three regular forces will be recruited beyond the present authorized limits. That may be the intention of the Department of National Defence, but will it find the volunteers to accomplish it without some form of compulsory selective service? The Minister said that he was now asking Parliament for moneys for defence purposes beyond the original estimates for the current year. He wisely takes the position that Canada should not and cannot follow the U.S. into what he termed an "appalling armaments race.

We were most comforted by Mr. Claxton's assurance that any sudden 1,000-plane Soviet air attack on Canada would be destroyed "within a very short time". If Mr. Claxton, who is in the inner councils of the three defence arms of this country, and who knows both the military plans and equipment, can feel so confident, others outside these councils should take courage. Further, Mr. Claxton is, by virtue of his position, well-informed about the present international situation. It is therefore comforting to hear him say that such an attack by Soviet Russia "cannot be counted in the realm of active possibility". None the less, it is a good thing to keep one's powder dry and plentiful. Mr. Claxton could be an apologist for his Department and he cannot accurately foresee the future.

Cockroach Extermination

Peterborough's Sanitary Inspector reported last week that he was confident that within a few years roaches will be unknown in this city. That is solemn news.

This great biological change in Peterborough will be possible because of a new insectide known as chlordone which apparently is a sure killer. Presumably other municipalities in Ontario and abroad have hit upon this powder; presumably the cockroach is doomed. We must, we suppose, consider this development as progress towards cleanliness and heaven on earth.

The insects are usually looked upon with disgust, but chiefly, if truth were told, not because they themselves are disgusting but because their presence is a sign of untidiness and uncleanliness. Most species of cockroaches, including our common Blatta orientalis, emit a disagreeable smell, but does not the decomposing matter they find to feed upon in nooks and crannies smell worse? Do not the cockroaches merely refine the odour? The domestic species are omnivorous, though they have a sweet tooth, being especially addicted to starchy or sweetened matter. However, they do not disdain paper, clothing, bones, shoes and dead insects. The extermination enthusiasts probably maintain that roaches make more mess than they consume.

Perhaps a chief reason for gentle people's dislike of cockroaches is that the insects operate after dark and hide during the day. They can therefore be linked with other disgusting things like bats, ghouls, Peeping Toms and grave-robbers. Roaches have not learned to be nocturnal; that is the way they were created. Through no fault of their own they are to be exterminated with the approval of society.

Man has wonderful ways. He is now disturbing the northern heavens by aeroplanes sent out to search for whooping cranes, in order to preserve the species; he deplores that the Labrador Duck has lately become extinct and that specimens are to be found only in museums—44 stuffed ones. Yet he sets out to exterminate an insect which is one of the most ancient inhabitants of this earth, the most primitive of all winged insects and among the oldest of all fossil forms. They were preeminent in the insect world up to Permian times; since then, despite the 1,200 known species of cockroach, they have declined to form now an insignificant part of the world's insects. Soon, if chlordone measures are effectively taken, they may cease to be. Perhaps it would be wise now for some public-spirited citizen to trap one or two for preservation in a museum. Future generations may be eternally grateful for a look at this relic of past civilization.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Everything may come to him who waits, but we suspect that in many cases it will come too late to do much good.

Man can now see a billion light-years into space, but he still seems to be pitifully short-sighted when looking into his own future.

An angler we know complains that during one part of the year it's a crime to catch fish, and during the other part of the year it's a miracle.

"The average person can tell all he knows in two hours", asserts a university professor. The trouble is that some people insist on telling all they believe they know, and that takes much longer —too much longer, in fact.

"Of Cabbages And Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

"ONE of the visitors at Doughty Street that summer (writes Una Pope-Hennessy in her recent biography—Charles Dickens—a Reprint Society Choice) was young George Lewes, 'a miniature Mirabeau' to George Eliot, and 'Ape' Lewes to Carlyle. Dickens had asked him to call as he was pleased with what he had written about Pickwick. It damped Lewes' enthusiasm a little to be set down in a small study with bookshelves containing nothing but three-volume novels and books of travel, all obvious presentation copies. There were no treasures from the bookstall, no pick-ups of any kind. As he observed later, 'I did not expect to find a bookworm nor even a student in the marvellous Boz, but nevertheless the collection of books was a shock.' Presently Dickens burst into the room in great spirits and Lewes confessed himself 'more impressed with Dickens' fullness of life and energy than with any sense of distinction'."

"ONE adventure in printing fills me with a chuckling satisfaction (reminisces "T" of Punch in his fascinating Friends And Adventures) because of the victory of amateur over professional which concluded it.

"I was asked in 1925 to recast the format of the Morning Post. Among other fundamental changes I suggested removing those unnecessary little 'rules' that divide the headlines of the same article from one another. White, I argued, was a better contrast than grey; and a line in a space gives an effect of grey to the eye. 'Impossible,' said the technical men, 'you don't understand. It's just like you amateurs, rushing in to teach us our job.' And they proceeded to overwhelm me with reasons which the sequel, I think, excuses me from reproducing.

"Being a crafty soul I asked Ivor Fraser, the manager, to have a double-page opening of the paper set both with and without these rules. The objectors were called in to the conference with soft guile.

"'T' explained humbly that, of course, he only submitted his ideas subject to the criticism of the technical men, sub-editors, and what not. They knew; he didn't. He could only do his best, as invited by the board. Which of these two arrangements did they prefer?

✧ ✧ ✧

"THE experts looked, peered, knitted their brows, lit cigarettes, put on spectacles, gazed at one another and at 'T', and finally said, 'But we don't see any difference between them!'... Withdrawal of body of experts looking exceeding crestfallen.

"If I've played this kind of trick on 'experts' once, I've done it a dozen times. Nobody who hasn't made a living by minding other people's business can have an idea of the conservatism of the average man in authority.

"The paper came out in due course as I had planned it and I keep and cherish, in the foolish way one does, several cuttings, of various dates, from various sources, describing the re-designed Morning Post as the best-looking paper in England."

✧ ✧ ✧

CANADIAN readers may recall the prolonged though unsuccessful controversy over the authorship of H. G. Wells' Outline of World History. Miss Deeks, a Canadian authoress, went to court and tried to prove that Wells had stolen her idea and capitalized on it. A full account of the proceedings is given by the late Hector Charlesworth in "I'm Telling You". "Justice Riddell was pungent in dealing with Miss Deeks' argument that the speed with which the Outline was written showed that Wells must have had 'a collaborator, though an unwilling one', namely, herself," writes Charlesworth. "He stated that Balzac and some other writers of the past had written at even greater speed than Wells. He had Sir Walter Scott in mind also. Assuming the estimate of sixty or seventy thousand words per month to be fair, he was wholly confident that there were few, if any, judges on the Canadian bench who did not frequently read and surpass that total, 'and this with a careful examination of fact often very puzzling, and of authorities often very conflicting.'"

✧ ✧ ✧

"IT was on April 14, 1879 (writes Henry Seidel Canby in his Walt Whitman), that he delivered for the first time his lecture on Lincoln, repeated frequently, and later made an occasion for laudatory tribute to him, and a substantial increase in his scanty income, by 1886 and 1887 he was realizing as much as six to seven hundred dollars from each reading, with such hearers as Mark Twain, Stedman, John Hay, General Sherman, Andrew Carnegie, and even Lowell. In the late seventies he had become a well-known but still questionable public character, like an old politician on his way to the name of statesman. As Curtis said of him about this time, he was an object of general curiosity. The laity honoured him because he looked as if he should be honoured. The inner circle of his devotees, 'the hot little prophets,' as Bliss Perry called them, felt some divinity in him and did not hesitate to say so. But it cannot be said that either in the 1870's or the 1880's, Whitman's place among the great in poetry had been adequately or even inadequately recognized, and of this the poet was aware."

✧ ✧ ✧

A RATHER unusual reason for writing a book is given by Norman James in his unconventional life story — The Autobiography of a Nobody: he wanted sufficient funds on which to retire. "Even as a young man," he writes, "my greatest hope and ambition has been to retire. In passing I might say that my wish to retire has been shared by a good many people. Some of them have been rude enough to wonder why I didn't retire before I ever got started.

"Naturally, then, I want to get on with the job and get it done as soon as possible and sell as many copies as the public can be persuaded to buy. The more copies they buy, the more permanent will be my retirement."

'TWINKLE, TWINKLE, LITTLE STAR'

Letter To The Editor

THE GREAT NEED OF AN HISTORICAL SOCIETY IN PETERBOROUGH

Sir: Several weeks ago reference was made in your columns to the need of a really strong Historical Society in the City of Peterborough, and since that article was written a short notice in the editorial column appeared expressing the conviction that something should be done towards forming one in this community. There is plenty of talent in the city and district to make such an institution a strong growing concern. The only thing lacking being the impulse and energy to have one started and keep it going. It forms rather a sad commentary on our present leaning in taste that while there is the greatest enthusiasm evidenced in procuring funds for the erection of establishments benefitting the sporting side of our life there is no sign evident towards any movement for objects that will contribute to the more serious cravings of our nature. The truth seems to be that almost every move that has been undertaken towards this end has been commenced by older men and women of the community, who while they did their best soon lost interest in the work that they had begun and left no energetic followers to emulate their example. Surely it is time that we shook off the dalliance that has held us captive so long and strove to take our proper place among the growing and progressive cities of our great Province of Ontario.

There is plenty of talent in the city and district to make a good, workable society. All the material is here and there is nothing to hinder going forward with vim if the right sort of men and women are willing to attempt the task of starting one.

For many years I have been engaged in reading up the story of this district and can claim that I know something of the interesting life that the old makers of our present busy and beautiful city and district helped to create. It is a wonderfully interesting story and now is the time to preserve every record that is possible, while the immediate descendants of the grand old workers of old are with us to tell of the times that their fathers delved and provided the wonderful treasures of farmland and scenery that we enjoy today. There must be documents in many homes throughout the Kawartha country that would be of inestimable value for the purpose of historic compilation. In a few years many of these will have vanished, as many have undoubtedly vanished already. But there must be enough to provide the means of producing as excellent a record of past days as any one would wish to read. It does seem a crying shame that while matters of far less moment are being engineered with eagerness, there are few indeed who feel constrained to speak or write on matters that touch the very nerve centres of this district's existence.

I have been lately looking through a few of the pages of that very interesting work the Peterborough Index compiled by one of the most useful citizens and public men that the city has ever had, the late Mr. Frank Dobbin. I remember very distinctly when that work was issued. It was in 1914. It is really an amazing piece of industry and shows him as a man who had a very great love for Peterborough. Mr. Dobbin compiled other works as well, the history of the Little Lake Cemetery and also a series of short biographies of the doctors of Peterborough are among them. These were published in type-written form and the great trouble is that only three copies of the work were bound. Two of these are in the Public Library and one in the custody of the City Clerk. There is a wonderful amount of information in the book but there is a gap in the narrative of continual happenings since that time. Something has been done in a small way to bring the chief points of local interest up to the year 1920 but what will happen when these volumes, the only records, are worn out? It is to be presumed that the Library Board will see to it that the volume, precious as it is, will be reprinted in a less perishable form and that it will be saved from utter ruin and preserved as a lasting memento to the author. If any one deserves a niche in Peterborough's Temple of Fame, Mr. Dobbin does.
